CHRISTMASTIDE

(M.C.N.)

et peaceful, but very busy Christmas was spent by the majority of the people in the town and the surrounding district. I came to town on the Eve the weather was very wet and it was sloppy but that in no way did it detract from the Festive Spirit which was very evident. The usual rush to the shops and the excitement as shoppers bustled here and there to complete their purchases before the establishments closed for the night. The age-old greeting—"Merry Christmas"—was on the lips and it was really felt to feel the strong spirit which prevailed. I met Pat and Mary and the wives helped each other to buy in the Christmas spirit. The outside world with its mad time being and the war was forgotten and the hearts of good people were turned to the Feast of the Nativity. It was unfortunate that the night was so wet and as far as the weather was concerned, but despite the drizzle that fell there was a big number out of doors. The "pubs" were busy. There were many merry and orderly drunks to be seen who were bent on celebrating the holiday with the Guinness & Co., Paddy Sean and the boys, and the midnight hour approached, some from each family prepared to go to Mass. I there is nothing so inspiring as the first strains of the lovely Christmas hymn "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" ring out on the air. It brings to the mind a thought of things past, friends and happy memories and it inspires a prayer for the Christ-child who has just been born in the manger in Bethlehem for all the favours he has received. After Mass all went to their homes, where the children were prepared for the coming of the Christmas Claus. Christmas Day was a lovely day and a great many people took the opportunity for a stroll before settling down to the Annual Treat—the Dinner. The usual traditional fare—turkey, ham, spiced plum pudding, jellies, etc.—was well to the fore and again with plenty of such good things there was an enjoyable time for all. For all the parties occupied most of the night, when games, dancing and individual by those present, provided amusement. However or other there seems to be a dearth of Wren Boys here and those who did go to bury the Wren did not have the same persistence as the colleagues of previous years. On the whole St Stephen's Day, which was a drizzly day, was a quiet one. That night, however, the dance halls in all districts were packed by merry dancers, all out for a time. I am sure that from this time all succeeded. The Christmas ties proper, although Sunday and Monday were still numbing among the holidays, and on Monday saw all back to work again.

POST OFFICE OFFICIALS HARD WORKED

The Dungarvan Post Office was a busy hum for days with Xmas with incoming and outgoing mails. The staff were worked but accounted for themselves without one hitch. The amount of money paid out during the week in Money Orders was £100. The bulk of this large sum came from England as the Christmas Mail has just arrived. The number of small packets sent this year showed a considerable increase and there was no falling off in the number of parcels received and dispatched. The postal authorities were considerably facilitated by the co-operation of the public in posting early.

THE NEW YEAR
And we face 1943 with mixed hopes. It is hard to visualise what it will bring, but let us trust that when we come to write its obituary we can say as many kindly things about it as of 1942.

Moorehill Notes.

CHRISTMASTIDE—

The feast of the Nativity was observed in this area with customary dignity and solemnity. The early morning Masses being attended by large congregations, numbers of which approached the Holy Table to receive Holy Communion. In this parish as elsewhere all over the country, people were mindful of the sufferings that are being endured by millions in other lands and so from every Altar on Christmas morning prayers were offered for the Prince of Peace, for the safe deliverance of our Emerald Isle, and for the blessing of Peace to a war torn world. The weather was very mild on Christmas day.

Christmas is a time of family re-unions, at no other time during the year, except Christmas, do young and old strive if at all possible to spend the day under the family roof tree. During Christmas week an appreciable business was done by traders in town and country and on all sides could be heard the wishing of seasonable greetings.

ST STEPHEN'S DAY—

St Stephen's morning (despite wretched weather conditions) saw the usual number of "wren boys" on parade, and from an early hour (much to the dismay of late sleepers) the roads resounded by the voices of the youngsters singing the virtues of the king of all birds. A meet of the hounds was held in the vicinity when a large crowd of hunting enthusiasts braved the inclement weather, a good fox was soon found and some excellent sport was witnessed in the adjacent country side during the evening. At night large numbers from those parts attended the all night dance at the Cinema Hall, Tallow, which was much enjoyed by the large attendance.

CONDOLANCE—

At a recent meeting of the Moorehill hurling club, a vote of condolence was proposed and seconded as follows: "That we the members of the Moorehill hurling club, tender our deep sympathy to Mr D O'Callaghan (the popular Inch GAA Secretary) on his recent sad bereavement occasioned by the death of his wife."

ANNUAL 45 DRIVE—

The Annual 45 Drive under the auspices of the Knockanore Church debt fund was held at Knockanore School on Sunday night week, at which a large crowd attended. The weather was very inclement, and this militated against the attendance as people from outside districts found it impossible to travel. During the night some very keen and closely contested games were witnessed and at the end the last six divided the prize money. The playing of the hamper was postponed to a later date.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT WEEK—

On Jan 6th next the annual Ceilidhe under the auspices of the Republican Memorial Committee will be held at the Cinema Hall, Tallow, and a record attendance is expected and a gala night is assured. The music will be supplied by the "Erin Go Brath" dance band. Fernoy Come in your thousands and help a worthy cause.

GREETINGS—

To all our friends, we wish a Happy Prosperous and Peaceful New Year.

Ballyduff Notes

1943—

When this issue of the "Leader" appears a New Year will have come. May it be to all a peaceful and successful one.

CHRISTMAS 1942—
A few short weeks ago our thoughts were on Christmas to come, now it has come and gone and is one more memory added to our growing collection of memories. It was a quiet Christmas and thank God for that.

The Churches were crowded, cribs and lights were as ever. One never gets tired of these familiar sights, nor does one ever tire of the Christmas hymns. Very few can hear the ever-beautiful "Adeste Fideles" or "Holy Night" without emotion. Christmas is always a happy time here. All those whose lives and vocations lie apart during the year meet on holidays at Christmas. A few familiar faces have gone, however that must be faces change but the spirit of Christmas lives on.

THE "WRAN" BOYS—

This year the "Wren" Boys were like the bombers they came in waves some were musical, some were not, and some were dumb. The musical boys played well, but why sing about "Moonlight in Mayo" when there is plenty of moonlight in Waterford, to sing about. Let these musical gentlemen get their heads together and give us a song with plenty of local colour next year.

LATE MR. P. MURPHY—

The death took place early in Christmas week of Mr Patrick Murphy. Deceased was in the prime of life and will be sadly missed by all. He was extremely musical, and for many years was a member of the local band. His remains were removed to St Michael's Church on Wednesday 23rd Dec. and on Thursday following, his remains were interred under the shadow of the Church so dear to us all. May he rest in peace.

LONGER NOTES WANTED—

Many have complained that the Ballyduff Notes are too short. The Editor of the "Leader" will hardly think so. Perhaps if all the members of the Red Cross L.D.F. L.S.F. and Parish Council stormed the "Leader" Office extra space may be granted. Will the members of the above kindly think the matter over. Editors are notoriously hard-hearted, and unsympathetic. Whether this applies to the Editor of the "Leader" or not only the future will show.

CARRICK NEWS

THE LATE MRS K FARRELL, NEW ROSS—

HER WORK FOR THE NATIONAL CAUSE—

The late Mrs Kitty Farrell wife of Mr P Farrell Chemist, New Ross was the sister of Mr Michael Arrigan, Secondary teacher at St Augustine's Seminary, Dungarvan. Among the large gathering of mourners at her graveside at Carrickbeg, (Carrick-on-Suir) Parish Church cemetery on Christmas-day were many who in the national fight in 1918-22 found shelter, hospitality and security at her parents home at Deerpark, Carrick-on-Suir.

She was a trusted messenger of the Irish Volunteers and Cumann na mBan and was known all over Counties Waterford, Tipperary and Kilkenny for her national activities in the dangerous and important missions she undertook in the national cause. Her parents house at Deerpark was the centre of important national activities and was visited by most of the national leaders between 1918 and 1922. She was a cousin of Rev Dr P Browne, M.A., Maynooth College and Rev Maurice Browne, C.C. Bray. Deep sympathy is felt for her bereaved husband, mother, sisters, brothers and other relatives.

Death Of Miss A. McGrath, Cappoquin

Death at any time is an unwelcome visitor to any family but coming almost in the midst of the Xmas Festivities, it is attended with unusual sadness, so that the deepest regret was felt in Cappoquin over the premature death of Miss Agnes ("Aggie") McGrath, which occurred at her mother's residence in Lower Main Street on Tuesday week, Dec. 22nd, and whose funeral therefore, took place on Xmas Eve.

The late Miss McGrath, belonged to a highly-respectable family which originally lived at Mount Rivers, near Cappoquin, but several members of which are now resident at various addresses in the locality, while two of her brothers are in Youghal, and two sisters in England.

A young lady of most attractive appearance and an amiable and charming manner, she went to Edinburgh, Scotland, while quite a young girl, and filled a good position there for about 20 years, but owing to the illness of her brother, "Rhody" in Youghal, she returned home about 24 years ago to nurse him, which was a rare display of devotion on the part of an absent sister. Unfortunately, the brother died soon afterwards, and before she could have returned to Scotland her own health broke down, and about six months ago she and her aged mother came to reside in Cappoquin where it was hoped the change of air might improve her health.

But this was not to be, as God had willed otherwise and after a brave and prolonged struggle, her death came peacefully on Tuesday week, while still in her early forties, and her respected mother, brothers and sisters, and other relatives, whether in Elre or England have now the deepest sympathy of the people of Cappoquin and Affane district in their sad bereavement which has brought them so much gloom within a few days of Xmas.

On Wednesday evening week her remains were removed to St Mary's Catholic Church and were followed by a large number of the leading people of the town which proved a fitting mark of respect to the memory of a most esteemed and popular lady.

The coffin was received at the Church by Rev T Dunphy, C.C., and after two Requiem Masses for the repose of her soul next morning, the funeral took place to the family burial plot in Kilmolash cemetery, when there was a general large attendance of the general public from the town and most of the surrounding districts.

Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., and Rev. P. J. Flavin, headed the cortege and read the final prayers at the graveside, after which all that was mortal of a devoted and loving sister was laid to rest beside her brother, "Rhody" whom she had so vainly but valiantly tried to nurse back to health 24 years ago.

The other mourners included: Mrs. McGrath, Cappoquin, (mother); James, Thomas, and Jack, and William McGrath, (brothers); the Misses Eileen and Madge McGrath (sisters); Mrs. James, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. John and Mrs. William McGrath (sisters-in-law); Patrick, Thomas, James, Michael, William, and Frank McGrath, Lefanta, Paddy and Thomas McGrath, Youghal; Paddy, John, Con, and Liam McGrath, Carrigeen, (nephews); the Misses Peggy and Nan McGrath, Lefanta, and the Misses Nancy, Maura, Margaret, Cona, Gabriel, and Eileen McGrath, Youghal, (nieces), etc.

Wreaths and Mass cards were sent as follows:

"In loving remembrance, from her heart-broken mother, from Marie, William and family, from Maggie, Jim and family, from Mrs. J. Crotty and family, from Mrs. M. B. Lincoln and family, from the O'Connor family, Carrigeen, from the Hartley family, Lefanta; from Joe Barron, Cappoquin, from Willie Hally, Carrigeen, etc."

The funeral arrangements were very satisfactorily carried out by Mr. E. J. Fraher, Undertaker, Cappoquin.

Catholic Scout Notes

4th WATERFORD TROOP

CBSI (St Joseph's Abbeyside)

Xmas—Our Parade to Midnight Mass was a good one to which all the Scouts turned up but as seems to be the customary practice now a number of the Knight Clan let down the team. We hope some of these chaps have made New Year Resolutions "Scouts without Prayer Books step forward"; this was the order before leaving the Den and when some who thought they were getting Christmas presents were put back all the absent-minded chaps got the loan of a prayer book each. We'll have the same order at the next Parade but maybe this time at the rate of a penny per book! The morning of St Stephen's Day was a noisy time and it would be a better idea if these "singers" would sail round the night before and get something for a promise not to "sing" at the door in the morning. However more than one Scout earned this

Troop Meeting—The last meeting of 1942 was held on Wednesday night and began with a little Drill so that all Scouts would "step together" into 1943.
A Knotting Relay Race was won by the Panther Patrol, even though some of them were as giddy as girls. Next came the special item on the programme the Trial by Jury of a Scout who was charged with being a "drawing-room Scout". The prisoner was picked by the Spot Prize method and turned out to be Harry Shine (by no means a Drawing-room Scout). Troop Leader J.
Regan acted as prosecutor, and P.L. Paddy Straine, was Counsel for the defence while the A.S.M. was Judge. P.L. J. Fraher was foreman of a Jury of 9 Scouts.

The prosecutor showed all the opportunities missed during 1942 for hikes, camps and outdoor activity. The Counsel for defence said that considering all the schoolwork, home duties, and bad weather the prisoner did a good share of outdoor scouting that it was his (P.L.'s) fault if more hikes were not organised and that if the jury found him guilty, then they were guilty themselves as they did no better. When the Judge settled a few arguments between the prosecution and defence Counsel the jury retired to the coal-house for a minute and returned with a verdict of "Not Guilty" so "Tiny" as we knew already is not a "Drawing-room Scout".

Looking Back—A.P.L. Garrett Morrissey brought with him to the Troop Meeting a cutting from a paper of 1930 describing the Investiture Ceremony in the Church on 2nd October of that year of the first sixteen Scouts of the 4th Waterford Troop.
Most of those who listened to the description were little babies at that time (Tom McHugh calculates that he was two years old and a fine baby!) and no doubt felt glad that P.L.'s and Scouts kept the

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

THE calendars for 1942 have now all been taken down and new ones ready to mark the progress of its successor 1943 hang in their places. On Thursday night many people kept vigil and watched the Old Year die away. It is always a lonely watch as it rouses memories of all the things that happened during the past year. Thoughts of loved ones absent of happy times, and of the many little kindnesses that make life easier troop into the mind. But with the last stroke of midnight a new hope is born. A new vigorous year has commenced and one wonders what strange happenings it has hidden from our veiled gaze.

The past year which has been so momentous for nine-tenths of the world at war has also been eventful for us here in Ireland. We have, thank God, been spared the rigours of belligerency but none the less we have had to suffer some consequences. These are mainly in the matter of supplies. Commodities have become scarcer and dearer. It is indeed only to be expected that there should be a scarcity of that certain foodstuff which could have had their prices increased also is not right. The poor and the hard-pressed baker are the ones that suffer from these increases. Shopkeepers and merchants who insist on raising prices like this when there is no need for it would be ashamed of themselves and should realise their duty against the community. We hope that for 1943 a more cooperative spirit will prevail between retailers and purchasers.

It is our duty to record also the warmest congratulations to the farmers of the county on the magnificent crop harvested by them in 1942. Thanks to them and then kindly the other counties the prospect of the coming years food supply has brightened and the fear of famine which faced us last year, has been averted. We urge them on to still greater efforts this year and hope that next harvest will be not better but just as good as that of 1942.

But now as we have said, 1942 is but a memory and has already been shelved and we stand on the threshold of a New Year. If we could peer into the future what would we see ahead—we wonder. But not being able to do this let us hope that it will bring happiness, peace and security to each and every one of us and that before it comes to an end that the wish which we now extend to all our readers at home and abroad—A HAPPY NEW YEAR—will have been realised in full.

CAPPOQUIN NEWS

A QUIET AND ORDERLY XMAS

The above heading would be certainly misleading if it were meant to refer to the business aspect of Xmas but it is a perfectly proper description to apply to the general manner in which the Festival was celebrated in the town.

It may seem paradoxical to state that although this was the fourth war Xmas when one would expect everything to be "topsy-turvy," business in Cappoquin last week was the best experienced for years, and there was not a shopkeeper in the town who hadn't a broad smile of satisfaction on his or her face as they delightedly surveyed their empty shops and windows on Xmas Eve, which was the most convincing evidence of the wonderful business they had done during the Xmas rush.

It is strange that while the lack of bus and motor services is having an injurious effect in several respects, this was the very cause of the greatly-increased trade in Cappoquin this year.

In previous years when the people in the country districts around here could travel by bus and motor to almost anywhere many of them travelled to Cork Waterford or Dungarvan for their Xmas shopping but as they were practically marooned in this respect on the present occasion, they had perforce, to concentrate their patronage on this town, with the result that it was an easy task to write a description of the contents of any of the leading shops as early as 5 o'clock on Xmas Eve.

So bare and deserted did one well-known shop look at this hour, that its owner reversed the now too-familiar cardboard sign "No Cigarettes" and printed in large letters on the back "Empty is the cradle, baby's gone" and the same remark would have applied to all the leading houses in Main Street and Barrack Street just as well.

Referring to the general behaviour of the people during a hectic week, we must in fairness say that it was most creditable and edifying.

While there was an undoubted spirit of festivity in the air, and most of the male sex appeared to be seasonably jolly, there were no scenes of disorder or rowdiness worth writing about, and with the exception of a couple of regrettable incidents which we do not wish to labour, the Festival passed off in a really becoming manner from every point of view.

It was the first Xmas for years during which compulsory sobriety was enforced on certain sections of the public because there was almost a famine in stout and porter in some "pubs" on Xmas Eve and it was almost pathetic to hear some thirsty sufferers asking plaintively as they went into a "pub" "Have you either a pint, or a bottle of stout you can sell me?"

Those who were not drinkers of stout or porter, but who preferred the "hard stuff," were not too badly off, as the supplies of whiskey and brandy stood up to the strain well for which we congratulate the various Distilleries concerned.

The religious side of the Festival was faithfully observed, because in addition to Midnight Mass in Mount Melleray, there was also a Midnight Mass in the pretty chapel of the Convent of Mercy at Shanbally which was celebrated by Rev P J Flavin and attended by all the members of the Community, and several of the faithful Catholics in the town. There were four Masses on Xmas Day, all of which were largely attended while large numbers visited the pretty Crib and prayed there during the afternoon.

Business in the Post Office, although not quite so brisk as in previous years, was still very heavy, but everything was carried out in the smoothest and most expeditious manner by Mrs J Kelleher, the courteous and efficient Postmistress and her equally-capable staff, including Miss Moran and Miss E Gambon while the various postmen both town and rural, also performed their responsible work with their usual speed accuracy and good humour, and everything passed off without a hitch.

On St Stephen's Night a Cinderella Dance was held in the Boathouse Hall until midnight, and was largely attended but at the Annual Xmas All-Night Dance on Sunday night there was a wonderfully large attendance from the town, and also from Clashmore, Aglish, Villiers-town, Dromore, Dungarvan, Ballinacourty, Cappagh, Balinacoola and other distant parts so that the event proved a great social and financial success.

The Blackwater Serenaders Dance Band Cappoquin performed a delightful programme of music, under the able conductorship of Mr James Glasse, while the general arrangements were admirably carried out by Mr M J Sargent Vice-President of the Rowing Club, and Mr John Regan, senr so that it proved one of the best-conducted and most enjoyable dances held for a long time and provided a happy finale to the Xmas Celebrations in Cappoquin for 1942.

Patrons of this popular Dance Hall will be glad to hear that a great Cinderella Dance will be held there on next Sunday night Jan 3rd, which should attract another large attendance as New Year's Night will be a "Blank Night" so far as dancing is concerned so that everybody should be fit and fresh for Sunday night.

FINAL OF BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

On last Monday night week the finals in the Badminton Tournament which had been in progress for some weeks previously, were played off in the Boathouse Hall before a large attendance practically every member of the Club being present.

Mr Fred Anderson Capt of the Badminton Club Mr Sean Bell Treasurer and Mr J McCarthy B A Hon Sec, were in charge of all the arrangements and everything was carried out in the smoothest and most expeditious manner.

The games were divided into sections and the various winners were declared as follows — 1st section—Miss M Cahill and Mr Jas Ahearne, 2nd section—Mrs F Anderson and Mr J O'Donnell 3rd section—Miss Berry Sargent and Mr J Regan Senr. 4th section—Miss B Sweeney and Mr Jas Lacey.

First Semi-Final—Miss M Cahill and Mr J Ahearne beat Mrs Anderson and Mr J O'Donnell.

Second Semi-Final—Miss B Sargent and Mr J Regan beat Miss B Sweeney and Mr J Lacey.

Final—Miss M Cahill and Mr J Ahearne beat Miss B Sargent and Mr J Regan.

A big supper was then given to all present after which an enjoyable dance was held, and this was followed by a high-class concert and an interesting Question-Time Contest.

In the Ladies' section Miss M Cahill and Miss R Ebrill tied for 1st place, and the prize was divided between them.

In the Gents section the winner was Mr M J Sargent Junr who was warmly applauded on his success.

A Burlesque or Fancy Dress Badminton game was then played after which a further short dance was held, at the close of which the prizes were gracefully presented to the various winners by Mrs M J Sargent amidst loud applause.

Those who sang at the Concert included Miss M Cahill, Miss Eleanor Crowe, Mr W J Sargent Mr J McCarthy, Mr J Ahearne Mr M J Sargent, Junr, Sergt Reddin, Defence Forces, etc, while the music for the dance was provided by Mr John Regan (Junr), Piano, and Sergt Dyer Defence Forces Violin, who also accompanied the artists during the Concert.

At the close of the proceedings, speeches of congratulation were delivered by Mr J McCarthy, Hon Sec, and Mr M J Sargent Senr which concluded one of the most varied and enjoyable social functions ever held under the auspices of the Badminton Club.

FOOTBALL MATCH ON LAST SUNDAY

On last Sunday a friendly challenge football match was played in the Sportsfield between a military team from the Motor Squad and a mixed team from Knockanore, but owing to the soft and greasy condition of the pitch, high-class play was out of the question while due to the damp and unpleasant weather conditions prevailing there were only a few dozen spectators present.

The game proved fairly fast and robust under such adverse conditions, but the military seemed to like the "heavy going" best, and won by a substantial score which was mainly due to the fine play of Corporal Whelan and Trooper Harpur.

Mr James Ahearne, proved a most capable referee.

Just before writing these "Notes" we have been informed by a leading player on the Cappoquin hurling team that a challenge hurling match will be played on next Sunday between Knockanore and Cappoquin JH teams.

Personally, we find it very difficult to grow enthusiastic about G.A.A. games while the ground is in such an unsuitable condition and the weather so unfavourable from a spectators point of view, but should the weather hold good and the ground dry up considerably in the meantime then we hope the game will be played without fail as it will provide a useful bit of practice for both teams and they can all attend the Cinderella Dance in the Boathouse Hall on that night.

Pretty And Stylish "Xmas Wedding" In Cappoquin

DAUGHTER OF MR M F WALSH, P.C., AUCTIONEER, MARRIES A WELLKNOWN CORK GENTLEMAN

A very pretty and stylish wedding of great local interest took place in St Mary's Catholic Church Cappoquin on St Stephen's morning when Mr Joseph ("Joe") Burns eldest son of the late Mr Michael Burns ex-Sergeant R I C Cork, and the late Miss Burns, do was married to Miss Gretta Walsh second daughter of Mr M F Walsh P C Auctioneer, Cappoquin, and Miss Josephine Walsh do.

The bridegroom, who is a fully-qualified Pharmacist and Chemist was on the staff of the Cork Chemical and Drug Co, Cork, for several years, and was later on the staff of Hanrahan's Pharmacy Lismore, for some years during which his refined and gentlemanly manner and his unvarying courtesy towards the public won for him the respect and esteem of all classes of the townspeople there. Having resigned from his position in Lismore over a year and a half ago, he went to England shortly afterwards where his high qualifications were quickly recognised and he was appointed to the important technical position of Assistant Metallurgist in the Laboratory of Messrs Henry Ford and Sons extensive factory at Leamington Spa, England, where his strict probity and great efficiency have been greatly appreciated by the Manager and the members of the staff who gladly granted him special leave to return to Eire for his marriage during the Xmas holidays.

The bride is a member of one of the oldest and most respected families in Cappoquin, whose widespread popularity was proved when her father, Mr M F Walsh headed the poll for the Lismore Area at the County Council Elections last August, and who is now a prominent and able member of all the Public Bodies and Committees in the County Waterford.

As Miss Gretta Walsh she was one of the most charming and esteemed young ladies in West Waterford for many years and was a popular and highly-skilful member of the Nursing Profession having been trained in the City and County Infirmary, Waterford where she took out her final degrees some 7 or 8 years ago.

She later spent a year in the Western Hospital Fulham London and afterwards served as a Nurse in Croydon, but she resigned from this position 5 1/2 years ago in order to return home to take up the position of Permanent Nurse in the Fever Hospital, Lismore, from which she resigned only a week before her marriage.

During her long and honourable connection with Lismore Fever Hospital her high qualifications and wide experience as a Nurse were greatly appreciated by all and more particularly her kind and humane treatment of the patients under her charge many of whom have since sent her glowing testimonials as to her efficiency and kindness after their complete recovery under her skilful care and attention and her severance from the Institution has now caused much regret amongst the Nursing Staff the patients, and the general public in Lismore.

The marriage (with Nuptial Mass) was solemnised by Rev P J Flavin St John's College, Waterford (a native of Cappoquin), while the Server at the Mass was Mr Stephen Brennan, Cappoquin, a grand-nephew of the late Rev Father Louis Carew a distinguished member of the Cistercian Order Mount Melleray whose grand-nephew is now worthily following in his footsteps as he is now completing his studies in All Hallows College Dublin in preparation for his ordination to the Priesthood next year.

The bride looked lovely in a smart two-piece outfit of Ice-Blue with navy accessories, and was given away by her father being attended by her cousin, Miss Carmel Walsh who also looked most attractive in Air-Force Blue while Mr Michael Burns (brother of the bridegroom) was best man.

At the conclusion of the impressive ceremony, a reception was held in Conways Hotel Cappoquin where the wedding breakfast was served in excellent style under the able and courteous personal supervision of Mrs J V Conway the guests numbering over 20 included Rev P J Flavin and Rev T Dunphy C.C. Cappoquin and a number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties from Cork and Cappoquin.

A very happy time was spent by all, in the course of which songs and felicitous speeches largely figured, during which Father Flavin paid some high tributes to the many estimable qualities of the bride and also specially thanked Miss Conway for the admirable manner in which she had carried out the catering arrangements for the wedding breakfast.

Later in the day the happy couple left by motor for Cork and Dublin for the honeymoon amidst the heartiest congratulations and best wishes of all for their future happiness and prosperity in the years to come.

An unusually large number of costly and valuable wedding presents were received by the bridegroom and bride.

'Song shall declare a way
How to drive care away
Pain and despair away
Hunting the joy'

—R E Egerton-Warburton

The bye-day at Kereen on 8th December may be dismissed without comment. The sc have not yet thickened enough to hold a fox. A few really keen followers turned up but were obliged to return home after an hour or so as there was a rough gale and incessant rain.

Things took a brighter turn on the following Sunday when hounds kept the Aglish appointment. In the early morning hunting prospects were very remote, but by 2 p.m. the gale calmed considerably and a nice sized field turned up.

A Dromore fox took hounds at a slow pace on a poorish scent as far as the quarries near the quay. Swinging right-handed hounds went on for Hallaghan's hugging the bank of the river, the first-season "babblers" sportsman in front. Going at pace over good country they went as far as Doocey's of Ballingown. Keeping to the road for a short distance they took to the field short of Halls. Running over trappy country as far as the bridge at the bottom of Dromore they crossed the Villierstown road where the fox was viewed. Short of Quinn's bog, they circled right-handed back to Dromore. When they got as far as the hill opposite Hall's hounds were taken from their noses as their fox was "dead cold" and they were very close on him. Although foxes are more plentiful this year it is the order of the day so far this season not to kill any.

Those mounted were—Mr M Doocey M H Mr Walter Terry, and Mr R O'Keeffe Whippers-in Mr M Terry, Mr W. Tobin, Master G Walsh Mr T Walsh, Cappoquin Master M O'Connor do, Mr Joseph Power, Dungarvan Mr Sean Quealy do, Mr John O'Brien Mr J Curran Mr N Donovan Mr Daniel O'Sullivan Mr T Power.

Five followers turned up for the meet at Geesh but heavy rain and a biting wind put all hunting out of the question, and the faithful followers returned home soaked and disappointed.

Come along and enjoy yourselves by indulging in the "Sport of Kings" with the Aglish Harriers. If you have any quite old nag, bring it along and don't mind if it is clipped or not. A day's hunting will only make it fit. Shoe iron should not prove an unsurmountable difficulty. Somebody turned up at forge in the Midlands recently with a part of an old bed to be made into two fore shoes while old gates, etc, are quite common old gates, etc, are quite commonly used in these parts! A for a saddle, well one of our followers this year uses a bag with stirrups attached and judging by his countenance, I doubt if he would exchange it for the famous Whippy make a saddle used by some of the other followers. So come along, we will be looking out for you.
