£500,000 Red Cross Drive— The Courthouse Lismore was hronged to capacity on Sunday night last it being the occasion of a public meeting to further he great National Drive for £500 000 being launched by the Irish Red Cross Society

Principal speaker of the evening was Mr S J Moynihan (Co Manager) Co Chairman of the Society who outlined the great work already accomplished by the Society and gave us in a most comprehensive survey the reasons facts and figures for the present Drive

During his speech Mr Moynihan stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of maugurating a campaign to collect £500 000 for the Society Portion of that money would bring much-needed relief to distressed areas in Europe It was a lot of money he said but the cause was great and merited the peoples whole-hearted support Millions of pounds will have to be poured into those diseasestricken areas if there is to be any perceptible effect. To send a cargo of 1 000 tons of potatoes —our cheapest food— to any European country would cost £10 000 to £15 000

Mr Gallagher next addressed the meeting and stated that TB was both curable and preventable was both curable and preventable if enough money could be found to spend on it. We know how to prevent it we know how to cure it. The only thing that prevents us from doing so is lack of money There are hundreds of coctors willing to lend their skill who are debarred from doing so by lack of facilities due to lack of money They needed it to pay for doctors and nurses and also for an abundance of X-Ray and other apparatus but especially to provide and maintain beds of which from two to three thousand more

Mr Sean Goulding said that the greatest test would come after the war when a sad picture of desolation would be revealed at which we would all stand appalled and their Society and people would feel some of the burdens of rehabila-tion of some of the peoples of Europe and other parts of the world £400 was needed in this district and he knew that the facts and figures presented to the people would cause them to give generously and regularly

Tallow & Moorehill Notes

Obituary—It is with deep re-ret we announce the death of ir Jeremiah O Keeffe Templevalley Tallow which sad event occurred at Fermoy Hospital, as a result of an accident which occured in the farmyard of his employer Deceased was very popular with all classes as his quite and unassuming ways made him hosts of friends who now regret his passing and to his bereaved parents sister and other relatives the deep sympathy of the entire community is extended in their sorrow and loss (The very sad feature of this bereavement is that about two months ago in these columns was published the tragic death of deceased s sister in religion Sister Mary St Agne who was one of the nineteen members of the Little Sisters of the Poor killed in the air raid on Marino Rome)
The remains of the late Mr

O Keeffe were removed to Ballynoc Church on Saturday even ing accompanied by a very large and representative cortege Requiem Masses were offered up for the happy repose of his soul and the funeral took place to Ballynoe cemetery where all that was mortal of deceased was reverently laid to rest in the presence of a very large gathering of relatives friends and sym-pathisers from all over East Cork and West Waterford and amid many manifestations of

Stradbally v. Army

Stradbally, 1-5, Army, 0-4

At their home venue on Sun day last Stradbally had a win of 4 points over the 3rd Batt Army in the Senior Football Co Championship Stradbally fielded a full cham pionship team with the exception of Mick Keane who is on the injured list His place was taken by John Kiely a newcomer who certainly acquitted himself with distinction. Andy Fleming was up from Waterford and John and Tom Veale who are at present working in the building of the Augustinian Church in Gork, were also home for the occasion

The Army team also travelled at full strength except for Peter O Gorman their right full-back, whose place was filled by Thos

Murphy The high wind and heavy rain just at the start of the game upset what would have been a firstclass football game got very greasy and accurate kicking and high fetching was out of the question

For about fifteen minutes of the first half neither side raised a flag The Army then had two points in succession per Sullivan and Fanning mage at the Army goal Strad bally scored a goal and soon flying colours and they held on to their lead despite the repeated attacks by the Army forwards

The wind favoured Stradbally the Army back-line were a tower of strength and they put a point and John Orpen had a like score to put Stradbally well ahead Stradbally followed up and scored a goal but it was disallowed

The Army never daunted were again on the offensive and Sergt Fanning fielding a high ball, sent the forwards going but one of the Stradbally backs. fouled and Capt O'Brien regis-tered a point off the free Soon afterwards Patrick Sullivan (Army) had another point off a free and Mick Connor had the last score of the match when he last score of the match when he pointed for Stradbally The final score was in his power to forward their interests irrespective of party or class While he could not promise to work impossibilities anything he could do for his native Brideside town he would do with a heart and a half and do w

Cappoquin Rowing Club HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL "SCRATCH RACES"

The 'Scratch Races" organised by the Cappoquin Rowing Club were held on the river Blackwater on last Sunday evening and provided a series of the best-contested and most exciting Boat Races seen for a long time weather unfortunately was not a bit June-like as it was damp and cold with a piercing breeze blowing from the northwest which made the conditions extremely unpleasant for all pre-

In face of such depressing weather conditions it was surprising to see such a large crowd present as the pretty grounds of the Rowing Club and the Bridge overlooking the finishing post were crowded with a big gathering of both sexes all of whom seemed to forget their discomfort owing to the exciting sport witnessed during the evening Their presence showed the Ireland while the great enthusthis season

The fact that no less than eight 4-oared crews had entered for the Cappoquin Rowing Club Shield and Presentation Prizes was very encouraging in view of the fact that Rowing had been practically dead in Cappoquin since the war started and this remarkable evidence of newly-awakened interest on the part of the oarsmen of the town was due in great measure to the action and initiative of Mr M J Sargent Vice-President and Treasurer of the Rowing Club who had organised the 'Scratch Races,' with the able assistance and co-operation of all the other officers and members of the Rowing Club Committee

In this respect special mention must be made of Mr L D Dunne Vice-Captain and Mr W H Doyle Hon Sec., two leading oarsmen who gave very active and practical assistance to Mr Sargent in carrying out the programme while all the members of the Committee were unsparing in their efforts to make the event the wonderful success which it proved to be

Sam Hick proved a patient and most satisfactory

With eight crews competing for the CRC Shield, as stated the event had to be run off in three heats with three crews in tne first two heats and two crews in the third so with the the first two heats and two clews in the third so with the final heat added this meant event and the prizes were prefour distinct races while an insented to the winning crews at the Press The only meeting of the grand dance held in the which the "Irish Press' could the grand dance held in the press the press' could the grand dance held in the which the "Irish Press' could der whose constant and skilfful der who tween an Army and a Rowing Club crew made five races in all which constituted an unusually interesting programme

Mr M J Sargent and the officials already named were in charge of all the arrangements which were carried out without a hitch so that the interest of tained from start to finish

The proceedings were greatly enlivened by the presence of the Boys Brass and Reed Band on the Balcony of the Boathouse which rendered a choice and high-class programme of music throughout the proceedings which delighted all present and won for the youthful musicians rounds of grateful applause from all their programme concluding with the National Anthem after the last race

First Heat

June (3) Arthur Crotty (stk) J Regan Senr (cox)

Arthur Crotty's crew had hard luck because when leading at the start one of his crew 'crabbed' and they had to stop rowing but later paddled slowly between Sargent's and Daly's crews with the former having a crews with the former having a slight lead coming through the most thrilling race of the evening by a bare half-canvas

No 3 Station-Austin Walsh (bow) J Browne (2) J Mc-Carthy (3) Martin Daly (stk.) J Regan Senr (cox)

This had promised to be the most interesting race on the programme between the winners of the three heats but unfortunkeen interest still being taken in the grand sport of Rowing in Cappoquin once the home of some of the finest oarsmen in Ireland while the great enthus lay between Landers' and Dalys and forwarding a gulture which Ireland while the great chartes asm of the crews themselves crews They raced dead-level for gave every hope of a successful most of the journey until Daly's crew forged slightly ahead but crew forged slightly ahead but Landers' crew stuck on grimly and it looked like ending in a dead-heat as the two boats shot through the bridge, practically

With only a short distance to go, excitement was intense but then Daly brought his crew slightly to the front with his favourite long swinging stroke and he managed to cross the

That we lost a few hundred votes signifles nothing to us or those who grasp the true meaning of this national resurgence Our defeat can be traced to the following causes (a) That many who believe in our policy hesitated to give us No 1 and voted Fianna give us No 1 and voted Flanna Fáil rather than see the nation thrown into chaos by conflicting parties who could not agree thus leaving the country a prey to the invader as in 1169, as Flanna Fáil had clearly indicated that they would co-operate with nobody and desired a clear majority Therefore many voted Flanna Fáil this time betheir fear for her safety and not because they believed in any of the party politicans

Had Aiseirighe been able to put forward a sufficient number of candidates to form a Government the result would be much different

(b) Not a few who voted Alseirighe last year are now toiling in the sweat-shops of England (c) Many in this election who should have a vote were denied

A GRAND ROWING CLUB The dance held in the Boat-house Hall on last Sunday night after the Scratch Racse one of the most enjoyable and successful social functions held in the same popular Hall for years

Most of the big crowd which had attended at the "Scratch Races" remained over for the dance so that the attendance reached the largest proportions seen in the Boathouse Hall for years Hall was beautifully decorated with orange-blossoms and roses, while the floor was in the best condition for years thanks to the great work per-formed by Mr Poddy Dineen caretaker

The music was provided by the Tallow Brideside Serenaders Band Tallow, which gave one of the grandest selections of de-lightful dance music heard for a long time, under the capable conductorship of Mr D Doyle The catering arrangements were carried out by Miss B Colbert Knockalara whose first appearance it was in Cappoquin as a caterer and the excellent manner in which she carried out her work on the occasion and the splendid supper which she served to all will long be remembered, and will guarantee for Miss Colbert a very generous measure of patronage when she nexts comes to Cappoquin

DRIFTING BALLOON-

Across a beautiful azure sky strange dark mass was seen slowly drifting on Thursday night week, June 1st, at about

A number of sportsmen in-cluding the writer, were sitting on the window-sill outside the house of Mr Ned Lonergan tailor in Upper Main Street, the mecca of all the GAA men in Cappoquin when a dark object was seen drifting from a northwesterly direction and crossing cowards the sou east some short distance to the south of the town A big crowd soon collected and as the night was fairly calm with only a faint summer zephyr sighing softly through the trees we watched facinated the big dark mass boldly silhouetted against the clear blue sky above

As it drew nearer we discovered that it was a 'Barrage Balloon" which had apparently, broken away from its moorings somewhere far away from Cap poquin and as we knew that such balloons usually carried long cables with them we expected that this one was likely to cause some trouble if its 'trailer should strike any of the electric wires in the district Our fears in this respect were soon justified, because minutes later, the electric lights in all the houses in the town went out and there was a sudden demand for the once-despised candles which how-ever could not be got so that most of the townspeople had to go to bed by the light of the silver moonbeams shining through their windows, unless they had some 'Glow-Worms' in reserve We were informed next reserve We were informed next day that the trailing cable of the balloon had fouled the main electric cable supplying the town near the farm of Mr Paddy Meaney at Tourin, which was the cause of the current being cut off in Cappoquin.

Expert mechanics from the ESB were early on the scene the next morning and quickly repaired the damage so that the housewives equipped with electric light found it unnecessary to fall back on either the elusive candles or "Glow-Worms" to light them to bed on Friday

Objection
Fourmilewater club objected to Collins (Army) club being awarded the junior hurling Green Cross Tournament final played in March 1944 The objection was read also further additions to same received by the Secretary some time after the seven days allowed for an objection had expired The Chairman ruled that only the original objection could be discussed The objection stated that the

Collins team was illegal as they violated rules 94 14 and 15 and rules 16 17 18 of Official Guide Capt Boyle held that this was not sufficient to form an objection as the full grounds should have been stated to permit his ciub to prepare their defence The Chairman asked the Secre tary to read the rules quoted

The Chairman then ruled that the objection was in order as the rules explained themselves delegate gave evidence that the list of players (handed in) given to their club by the referee con tained the names of Geo Fitzgerald James Higgins, and John Curran who were not on Collins Club register Also the player Michael Thornton

After the register was examin ed the names of Curan and Higgins were withdrawn

Capt Boyle said he would be surprised if the players were not registered. These were regular members of the team. He drew attention to the fact that a Mayrica Thornton and a George. of mourning relatives and friends the officiating Clergy at the graveside being Father Maurice Thornton and a George Fitzgerald were registered The reason why the christian name (sister) T Fahy (brother-in-law) Mrs M Ducey Rockfield, of Fitzgerald was given as Geo on players list was that he was known as Geo to distinguish him from another John Fitzfamily do Miss Mary Hodnett Ballyhane Edmond and Mrs Hodnett do Michael Hodnett gerald In Thornton's case the christian name was given as mas at Stradbally of Ref to be selected only one Thornton in the Comdo and several other cousins and his name A large number of wreaths
