of Mountstuart and the neighbouring parishes were entertained by bers of the local Gaelic Class at a most enjoyable concert in the National Sechool on Thursday night June 5th Irish and patriotic songs were sung and charmed the audience with both An excellent selection of Irish music was played by Thomas Mulcahy and Joseph Fahey (violin and fife) The highlight of the concert was the production of the plays which were very well received and for which the actors were loudly praised A pleasant feature of the night play which augurs well for the future of Irish drama and incidently reflects great credit on all concerned

The entire casts without exception handled their parts with skill and ease, making the most of many amusing situations which the plays provided and the result was a delightful night's entertainment At the conclusion Mr Joseph Fahey TG who organised the enter-tainment thanked all those who contributed to the success of the concert
