the sacrament of Baptism The Catechism tells us that Baptism from original sin makes us Christians and children of God and heirs to the kingdom of heaven Our share in these baptismal effects began on the day when, as tiny children our Catholic parents had us taken to our parish Church and the priest as he poured on us a little water pronounced the divinely operative words "I baptise thee in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost" And there and then we became Christians and Catholics and re-teaching and to make known his revealed doctrine to all nations and to all generations. And he promised that he would be with the Church to enable it to teach exactly and correctly what he had taught so that the Church should be the living and divinely assisted continuation of the gift made by God to us men in the Incarnation.

When we received the grace purchased for us on Calvary. St. Paul compares the union with Jesus Christ and the Faithful to the union between the head and members of the body assisted continuation of the gift made by God to us men in the Body of which Christ is the Head and about the relations of Incarnation

The Church however has other functions besides that of teaching We may say that she was instituted by her Founder to lead men in the Way of life everlasting.

And to do this the Head of the leasting.

And to do this the life were the leasting. lead men in the Way of life ever-lasting. And to do this the Church has not only authority to teach but also power to sanc-tify Our Lord affirmed that He had come not only to bear testi-mony to the truth, but also that we might have life and have it more abundantly. Catholic Church? Whether we think of the Vine and the Branches or of the human body with its Head and Members the lesson suggested is that the union of Jesus Christ and the raithful in the Church is to be conceived after the manner of again Mr Pdionseas o Tighear-naigh was the capable and efficient M C New T D At Lismore—Despite the wretched conditions which prevailed a large crowd turned up at the Monument on Thursday night to give a rousing reception to our new TD, Mr

Thomas A Kyne, Dungarvan
The rain, which partly marred the proposed celebrations did not chill the ardour of the crowd who gathered for over an hour before Mr Kyne's arrival As he stepped on to the platform Mr Kyne was given a tremendous ovation and he was the recipient of many warm handshakes from his enthusiastic supporters

In a brief speech the new TD thanked all those who had elected him. He gave a brief resume of Labour's Policy and promised to do all in his power for the betterment of conditions among the labouring classes His spec ial energy he said would be devoted to the relief of distress among the poor and afflicted At the close of his address he paid a special tribute to the Gardai Stochana for their courtesy towards him during the election T

POTATOES

A regrettable feature in our tillage during the emergency was the absence of any material increase in the potato crop

The present improved fertiliser supplies should enable us to overcome the greatest obstacle to potato production

Potatoes are of great importance, both as human food and feeding for animals They provide a reserve store of food and are our second line of defence against The new production scheme will greatly increase the value of poultry on the farm Pig and cattle production also offers good potatoes are a valuable and easily produced feeding stuff There will also be an export market for any potatoes which are produced in excess returns For all these classes of stock, of our requirements Every farmer should, therefore, take steps to increase his production of potatoes this year.

The sprouting of an adequate supply of tubers should be put in hands at once for early planting The planting of whole sprouted certified seed as early as the season permits will contribute towards greater production, but to provide a substantially increased output a considerable extension in the area under potatoes is required
