Maytime—Once again the merry month of May is with us with its dews and sunshine, and took the stage and presented it is aptly called the most beautiful month of the year It is the first month of summer and all nature dons its first robe of summer beauty High up towards the mountains the lark is soaring while from the adjacent woods comes the soft welcome land owners who did not wish call of the cuckoo but as usual to give an acre of their meadow at the native and on their display will be heard of they had to return to a loud encores. M. Quinlan, finished fifth and on their display will be heard of them being well received Another very laughable comedy far distant future From the appear again to loud encores and mathetic circles in the not too pleasing item and they had to return to a loud encore in their display will be heard of them being well received Another very laughable comedy far distant future. From the adjacent which well and Mick Davis of the Tallow general factotum Billy Coughlan the finish and speculation was perfect despite the fact the finish and speculation was right as they both gave a very game display and spectators were hoarse as they cheered they had to return to a loud encores in their display will be heard of them being well received Another very laughable comedy concluded the programme and dance numbers each M.
