Mick O'Learys fight for the reduction of rents at the Abbeyside housing scheme is an episode never to be forgotten. He fought to bring the luxury of decent living in modern homes to families whose only hope for such was before, but a wild dream. As a man of the people Mick could speak with authority and the case he made received.

Speaking on the proposal to create a permanent post of Instructor in Agriculture, Mr. Heskin opposing the proposal to create a permanent post of Instructor in Agriculture, had approved the temporary appointment of such an instructor at the last meeting. He then referred to the Parish Plan as proposed by the Minister for Agriculture according to which every three parishes would have an Figure 1 of the main building extends that the Beat would give the sport of the main building extends the support of the main building extends the support of the support o which is rapidly proceeding to completion we are pleased to refer this week to two other very important works being done by Co Council workers, one of which has been completed in a very solid and excellent manner. The other one is in the course of construction in the immediate neighbourhood of Ardmore The first mentioned job is Drumslig bridge leading to Mr Casey's residence. The construction of this bridge was a very big undertaking and was carried out by Direct Labour under the supervision of Mr John Ryan.
