As usual I was there fully equipped with pencil and paper and eager for a "scoop" Having reported the usual proceedings I had the pleasure of meeting the Minister and the privilege of securing an exclusive personal interview

Born in 1868 in Balbriggan and the disturbance was so bad in two privilege and where his father was stationed Mr Higginbotham when only 18 years old entered the Lighthouse service That was in 1886 in Balbriggan and the disturbance was so bad it woke people up all along the street including young children Several people have asked me to put the Spotlight on this terribly annoying affair and in so doing let us hope the long arm of the law grabs these fellows and put an end to such savage-like conduct

In a cosy room with his back to a blazing fire General McEoin answered my questions in a friendly and man-to-man way friendly and man-to-man way There was no beating about the bush there was no off-handed-ness and my interview certainly proved an unexpected pleasure proved an unexpected pleasure as well as a historical moment in Irish provincial journalism

In seeking this interview I had two very important questions prepared the answers of which are of major importance to many of my older readers

Reduction Of Rents At The Abbeyside Housing Scheme Opening the discussion on the need make no apology for the proposed reduction of the Abbey-very small amount that this will side House rents, (other than the 18 dearest ones and the 22 the ratepayers will be able to to be let at an inclusive rent of meet the demand. It is the big 10/-7 Mr. Veale stated that he ratepayers that bear the blunt. moved this proposal at the last meeting of the Council as it was decided at a meeting held in March last that they would make the rents 10'- a week, inleast that they would make the rents 10'- a week, inleast that they would last am not objecting to clusive of rates At that time this The rates too, can be rethey did not know that the valuation of the houses would be as conomy can be practised here high as from £7 to £8 and now too. If we build houses and with the proposed reduction the plants of them for all these with the proposed reduction the plenty of them for all those who rents would not come down to are in such desperate need of 10/- as was hoped but instead them, and if we let them at a and 11/3 However the people will be no need for spending concerned would understand that thousands of pounds on hosand would be very grateful for pitals By the time we are ready the reduction and in general it to go ahead with the Gallowshill would be a great relief in every Scheme we might get a bigger way Mr Veale pointed out grant from the Transition Fund that it would not mean an inthat is expected anyway as the crease in the rates as he would Minister is doing everything

Mr Kyne said that he would Authorities to go ahead with gladly second the proposal, as it such schemes
