Poultry-keepers are warned that Day-Old Chicks offered for sale at fairs and markets or by hawkers are usually diseased, most of them die a few days after you buy them, and they often bring disease into your own flock of poultry

These Day-Old Chicks bought at fairs and markets or from hawkers are usually all Cockerel Chicks

The only safe way to buy healthy Day-Old Chicks is to buy them direct from a respectable hatchery, and you can easily ask the Poultry Instructor or the Chief Agricultural Officer of your County Committee of Agriculture for the names and addresses of the most convenient reputable hatcheries in your supply area
