Mr. Clancy—We have only a small one of about £800... Mr. Clancy—Well that point is explained.

Mr. Butler—Everyone in town must get an opportunity of having a night's dancing... Mr. Veale said that he thought the Council should provide more work.

Mr. Clancy said that he wished to refuse that statement and he'd that with the new roof the hall would be no more fire proof than it was before.

Mr. Clancy said that he did not think that the Ratepayers' Association should be asked to put up a panel of representatives at the next elections and that is only right.

Mr. Butler—The Urban Council has nothing to do with the spending of money and I think that statement is a terrible aspersion on the officials.
