BALLINCOURTY'S MAIN INDUSTRY THREATENED
In Ballincourtly farmers are today gazing on their large acreage of potatoes—the early potatoes which have made the name of this colourful little village by the sea one of Ireland's best known and they are wondering just what is to become of their valuable crop. There is no export market—the home market is small, the land taken up by the potatoes is urgently needed for other crops. Ballincourtly early crops and so they have to wish this year's extra crop at present they face a loss of thousands of pounds— which unless averted will for many years run the potato growing industry of Ballincourtly.

This week I visited a number of the farmers in the area—they were all busily engaged digging their potatoes—but unlike previous years, many of the potatoes they were working in the heat of a warm sun with heavy nearby because the success of their efforts could never look more dim.

Some time ago the Government in order to encourage the export of potatoes from Ireland to Britain allocated a certain export quota to a number of districts throughout Ireland well known for their early crops. Ballincourtly was given a quota of 100 tons and every step was taken to ensure that this quantity would be ready before the expiration of the licence on June 15th. Weather conditions however interfered and it was not possible to have the crop ready in time—the first time this happened in living memory. The weather was to the extremely bad winter and spring. A special meeting of the growers was called and Mr. T. Kyne, T.D. took the matter in hand. He went to the Department and sought an extension which was readily granted by the Irish Government but the British Minister would not grant the necessary import licence. When this news was conveyed to Mr. Kyne he made further representations to the Irish Government who in turn made them to the British Government but on Thursday last he was officially informed that there is absolutely no hope of getting the import licence as the British Department of Agriculture was determined in this measure in protection of their own home trade. The Department suggested that they should import potatoes which they could in the Irish market.

Mr. A. Kieley, of Ballincourtly said that because of this action they stand to lose thousands not only in the potatoes but in the crops that should be sown, such as cauliflower, cabbage and other vegetables. Seed cost them £20 a ton while manure cost £15 an acre not to mention labour costs which are considerable. They are now getting on the market, up to £40 a ton which as time passed by, dropped down to about £28. This was the price being paid on the home market, as a result of the market, a keen one mainly because of the great British demand. This year it looks as though the position will be quite the contrary, with no British market there will be glut of potatoes, consequently they will not pay unless some immediate steps are taken by the Department of Agriculture to help out. In Ballincourtly the 30 farmers are more than ever before in a fever of growing the early potatoes this year almost doubled their acreage on the encouragement given them by the Government. This means that they will have to hope of selling their early crop on the home market at a paying price.

The farmers in the area point out that the Department should study their position thoroughly and take steps to see to it that it will not happen again because as Gustly Kieley, one of Ballincourtly's best known farmers stated: "If we suffer the freshening loss this year, then it will stand for many years as bad encouragement for producing this all important crop." He pointed out that beet was guaranteed to bring in £5 a ton, and wheat 7/6 but they had no guarantee for their potatoes. In Britain, he said the English farmer was getting a subsidy of £10 for every acre he planted which, of course, safeguarded the farmer and the nation's food supply. In Ireland, he added the home of the potato, they had no guarantee and it should be the duty of the Government to take every step in this direction. He suggested that the Irish Government should also subsidise potato growing and unless it was done following this year's unexpected failure, then only the bare requirements of the country would be grown.

It is of interest to note that almost 100 acres are devoted to potato growing in the Ballincourtly area. In 1949 a total of 75 tons were exported bringing to Ballincourtly a total of £1753. Now the vegetable crop is in danger too and should this be held up all Munster will be affected as Ballincourtly supplies the West of Kerry, Tipperary, Limerick and parts of Cork. Mr. P. Moloney of Clonmel, a retailer in farm produce, who was in Ballincourtly when I visited the area said that from his point of view the position was very serious and deserving of immediate attention from the Department. With a glut of potatoes the retailers stand to lose, too, as well as a shortage of vegetables they will lose also.

As I left Mr. Kieley added: "This surely an awful state of affairs—the Department of Agriculture asks us to produce more and more food—we go to a great deal of trouble and expense to do so—Ballincourtly feeds all Munster as well as a good part of England, and I suppose one could say this is the most industrious place in Ireland, but indeed we are being let down badly—very badly."

When the mv Tyrnallon sprang a leak off Dungarvan Bay on Saturday and rapidly took water and as prospects of saving her were dim, but with the passing of each minute Dungarvan Fire Brigade came to the rescue by sending out a small fire pump in a brigade which was used for the means of keeping the vessel afloat with its pumping power of 180 gallons a minute. The Tyrnallon succeeded in reaching Dungarvan Quay where it was found that the leak was caused by a loose plate.

the means of saving a valuable cargo ship and her cargo. The tarpaulin covering the holds was put over the side on which the leak was suspected and this acted as a temporary patch. The first mate Mr. Denis Kirby also from Arklow told me that it was an entry into Dungarvan Quay by the crew of the vessel, proceeded yard by yard the holds were flooding more and more and it was really touch and go but they made it, and the vessel arrived safely at the Quay early in the afternoon. She was berthed on a high berth and pumping operations were continued until she was pumped almost dry. The vessel has had temporary repairs effected and left Dungarvan on Monday.

Many of the old sailors of Dungarvan who witnessed this remarkable feat achieved by the Tyrnallon, paid great tribute to his knowledge of the harbour and his mastery of navigation and to quote Jack Connors one of Dungarvan's oldest pilots and perhaps one of the most experienced sailors, but for the captain's knowledge of the harbour the Tyrnallon would today be resting on the bottom of Dungarvan Bay. The Tyrnallon carries a crew of seven is registered in Dublin and is 330 tons net tonnage. Other members of the crew are J. Mangin, M. Sinnott, B. Whelan, B. Tyrrell and P. English.

FOR EXPORT ONLY
Following representations made to the Department of Industry & Commerce by Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., on the receipt of a telegram from the Tyrnallon, the Dickens Leather Co. Ltd. Dungarvan in connection with the present hardships which are being experienced by the workers. The Department have informed him that a licence for the export of 1,000 dozen tanned sheepskin leather has been issued to the company.

The management recently informed the workers that because of the falling off in demand for light leather, by boot and shoe manufacturers, the company was forced to cut down production. Large stocks of finished leather were on hand, they stated, and there was no demand at present. A number of workers got notice and grave dissatisfaction was expressed by the workers generally when they were placed on a five day week. The management pointed out that if they did not adopt this arrangement the number of employees to go would be much greater.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Kyne said that he had had some afternoon received from the Department of Industry & Commerce the following letter: "I am directed by the Minister to refer to your representations in connection with the application by the Dickens Leather Co. for a licence for the export of finished leather and to inform you that a licence for the export of 1,000 dozen tanned sheepskin leather has been issued to the company, signed, T. Campbell, Dep. Sec."

This news will be received in Dungarvan with pleasure as the licence will ease a serious situation which had developed for the workers. I understand that through the efforts of Mr. Kyne the Company will be enabled to reopen a good export trade in finished leather when the workers will be then safeguarded against unemployment.

KERRY'S DOUBLE AT WATERFORD
S.F.—Kerry, 5-6; Waterford 1-1
M.F.—Kerry, 2-12; Waterford 1-2.
Kerry qualified for the Munster Senior and Minor Football Championship Finals in convincing fashion at Waterford on Sunday last by readily disposing of the home county's best in two games that provided disappointing entertainment for some five thousand spectators. In both cases the holders' traditional high fielding and long kicking subdued the rugged close tackling style adopted by the Waterford fifteen. The foundation for their wins was laid in the opening minutes of the first half when they built up substantial leads without reply from the opposition.

In the senior match, Kerry got off to a flying start, they were in the first minute and after afterwards looked back. They had a strong sun to their backs and with tall-fair-haired D. Hanahan catching great balls mid-field, and troubling the home defence with raking centres the holders soon got under way. The first half yielded 3-2 but none of the scores came very easily. Waterford had a fine defence and even though often bested in the air, close marking foiled the winners forwards on numerous occasions and two fifths which provided exciting melees in the place with the holders' backs from which a little luck, a score might have been forthcoming granted the losers defenders about the only relief they had in this half. Considering this the Tyrnallon's great tribute to his knowledge of the harbour and his mastery of navigation and to quote Jack Connors one of Dungarvan's oldest pilots and perhaps one of the most experienced sailors, but for the captain's knowledge of the harbour the Tyrnallon would today be resting on the bottom of Dungarvan Bay.

The New Mayor Calls On His Lordship. The Bishop—The newly-elected Mayor Alderman Theodorus Lynch wearing his official robes and chain of office (accompanied by Mr. Liam Raft's City Manager) paid the customary courtesy call to his Lordship the Bishop Most Rev. Thaddeus Lynch wearing his official robes and chain of office (accompanied by Mr. Liam Raft's City Manager) on Monday, July 2nd and received a very cordial reception. The visitors spent a considerable time discussing with his Lordship many aspects of municipal administration.

Will's Road Show Enlivens. There was a huge crowd of visitors in Tramore on Sunday July 1st, from all parts of the South of Ireland. A record number of Waterford City people went to the seaside in the afternoon which was beautifully fine. I paid a visit to the town of the "Big Strand" after tea and spent a few enjoyable hours there. The most elaborate and lively forms of entertainment that I have seen for years are included in Will's Road Show. Tramore I thought would be rather dull without Will's Amusements.

Members Of Old Waterford Society Visit Jerpoint Abbey. Members of the Old Waterford Society participated in the outing to Jerpoint Abbey County Kilkenny, on Sunday July 1st when a most interesting lecture on the Old Cistercian Abbey was delivered by Mr. J. Hughes. The finest specimen of monumental sculpture in Ireland are to be seen in the precincts of the Church ruins particularly the artistic carving of the figures of the twelve Apostles on the tomb under the belfry.

A cordial vote of thanks was passed to the lecturer, on the proposition of Rev. Fr. Declan O'P. M. (Guardian) Waterford, seconded by Mr. P. Conroy, Inspector of Schools.

Students Call In The Teeth. To mark the end of the academic year 1950-51 a cell or "teeth" was held in the Central Technical Institute on Wednesday night June 27th, from 8 p.m. to 11.30 p.m. The annual event which is most successful and enjoyable and was generally voted the gayest on record.

On behalf of all his friends and colleagues of the football club we send to him across the sea a message of goodwill and pray and trust that he may enjoy prosperity and health.

Arrival In The Old Home Town. At the beginning of the present week an old friend of all in this area has returned in the person of Mr. John Eddie Curran together with his wife and a friend. Mr. Curran was here on holidays some few years ago, but since his arrival back in the U.S.A. he has travelled widely and it is not so long since his name appeared in the columns of the "Leader" concerning his meeting with Tom Hartly in far away Hong Kong. We wish him and his charming wife a happy holiday.

ARDMORE GOSSIP

Rural Electrification—St. Declan's Hall, Ardmore, was filled to capacity on Monday evening, June 2nd, to discuss the proposed Rural Electrification Scheme in the Ardmore-Grange area. Rev. Fr. Walsh, C.C. Chairman, explained the purpose of the meeting, and spoke in favour of the scheme, discussing its many advantages in the rural areas.

Mr. F. Nugent, explained in detail the proposed area. The extension contemplated is through Old Parish to Grange Cross, and on to Youghal Bridge.

Mr. Cashman N.T. spoke in support of the scheme and gave facts and figures in very convincing style to prove the economy of the scheme.

Mr. Quinn also spoke and gave several examples of costings etc.

Mr. T. Flynn proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. Chairman. He also spoke of the efforts made by Messrs. Nugent, Cashman and Quinn in contacting the E.S.B. and the amount of work they had done to get the scheme through.

Continuing, Mr. Flynn said since the introduction of electricity in 1880 by Thomas A. Edison, the mode of living of millions had become better. The greatness of America lies not only in her natural wealth but in the application of electricity in her industries. He would give all support possible to the scheme, and knew of its wonderful benefits to the rural community.

Mr. J. Mansfield, M.C. seconded the vote of thanks and also spoke in favour of the scheme as benefiting the country financially. He said by reducing our imports of coal and oil and using our native power we are strengthening our economy.

We understand that the outlook in the area is very favourable. It is estimated that the rate to be 100 per cent, so we hope to see the poles soon erected and this wonderful invisible power soon installed in all the houses in Ardmore and Grange.

Departure of Popular Young Man—During the end of last week one of our most popular young men took his departure from the old home town in the person of Mr. John Bourke. John was a great favourite with all classes, a keen sportsman and an ardent playing member of the G.A.A. He was a most prominent member of the Ardmore team which did so amazingly well in last year's championships, and as he said before his departure he would always remember Old Ardmore. He has gone to Cardiff to take up a lucrative position in a coach building and caravan manufacturing company. John is only the son of Mr. John Bourke of the staff of Mr. Quain Builder and Contractor, Ardmore, and nephew of Mr. Patrick Bourke, late teacher of the Vocational Staff of Dundalk Technical Schools.

Mr. Dowling (Co. Secretary) replied that they had not received these opinions although this had been agreed on. Up to the time of the meeting the Commissioners' legal opinions were not forthcoming.

WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL

Tramore Commissioners Object To Striking Of County Rate. At a special meeting of Waterford Co. Council, held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Tuesday last Mr. D. Leahy, Chairman, presided. Also present were Messrs. D. Heskin, M. Hartly, J. Quirk, J. Fahey, L. Morrissey, J. Campton, T. A. Kyne, T.D., Sean Ormonde T.D., T. Power, M. Morrissey, E. Power, F. Roche, W. Kenneally, and J. Mansfield.

In attendance were the Co. Manager, Mr. S. J. Moylan, Mr. J. G. Dowling Co. Secretary, and Mr. M. M. Hally, Council's Solicitor.

Resolution To Striking Of Rate. Tramore Town Commissioners wrote to state that at a special meeting of the Commissioners held on June 30th it was decided to refer to the notice of deposit of rate books for inspection and of intention to make rates dated June 15th 1951 published by the Waterford Co. Council, pursuant to the provisions of the Public Bodies (Ireland) Act 1949 and Article 61 of the Public Bodies Order 1946.

The letter stated that the Tramore Town Commissioners objected to the making of a rate for the Separate Charge No. 14 in the said notice for the purpose of Tramore Water Works at the rate of 19 1/2 pence in the £1, and that the rate should be raised and defrayed by means of the said rate are general expenses within the meaning and for the purpose of the Local Government (Sanitary Services) Act, 1949 Section 55.

Mr. Hally stated that in view of that the only thing they could do was to wait and then they would get the Commissioner's Council's opinion that they should submit it with their letter to the Senior Counsel Mr. Ryan, who is a Professor of Law.

Mr. Hally asked Mr. Power whether it was his opinion that the Council could not give the opinion they wanted on the rates as struck over the past few years.

Mr. Power replied that they must concentrate on this year's rates.

Mr. Hally said that if the matter drifts into litigation they will have to come together and decide the form of litigation they will enter into. He said it might be possible that they could have a collusive action rather than a blown litigation which would be in the long run more economical and cheaper.

Mr. Kenneally suggested that they should strike a case where a factory worker built his own house and had a solicitor engaged to ensure that everything would be in order when taking over the land and deeds. He so happened to have the Tramore Town Commissioners' opinion and until it has been discussed and considered by their own Council.

A special meeting will be called with the matter as soon as possible.

Youghal Bridge. Mr. M. Hartly asked if the Council could say what steps were being taken with a view to building a new Youghal Bridge. He said that the position had not been reached but that the Tramore Town Commissioners have threatened litigation.

Mr. Quirk referred to an agreement that the legal opinion of both sides be exchanged for examination. He said that as far as he knew the Co. Council had given the Commissioners their views on the matter, but he would like to know had they yet received the opinions as held by the Commissioners.

Mr. Dowling (Co. Secretary) replied that they had not received these opinions although this had been agreed on. Up to the time of the meeting the Commissioners' legal opinions were not forthcoming.

Small Dwellings Act. The manner in which the scheme of grants under the Small Dwellings Acts, is being administered in Co. Waterford amounts to nothing more than nonsense and should appoint an officer of the Council to deal with this scheme only and try to render the service and satisfaction it was originally designed for. This was stated by Mr. A. Kyne T.D. following the appearance before the meeting of County Health District Mr. Power continuing that he had sent the notice of intention to strike the rates to their Council together with his original opinion as he could advise them only on the manner in which this year's rate is struck. Greyhound Racing At Youghal

Punters had the best of the arguments on Tuesday evening June 28th and we had a few very good races.

In the first heat of the Quick Result Sweepstake, Darcel Smartly broke in front and got clear at the bend going down the back straight, however Fast Spinner came on the outside and beat her home with only a neck to spare.

The second race was slightly better, The Earl broke in front and looked all set he has however an unfortunate habit of coming down the back bends and in this case it proved fatal as Scubaire came up on the inside snatched the lead from him and beat him home.

The third race was a 550 and again it was demonstrated what a fine feature this distance race is on this track.

The fourth race the betting was a bit once but I think the balance was in favour of the ultimate winner Progressive Rake.

In the fifth race a sprint Micnac broke in front but Rieghter Hero and White Doc came to him at the bend.

The sixth was a high class sprint in which considerable speculation was indulged in as to whether the Elm Tree Cup winner, Kiloera Major would show top pace over the sprint distance.

The final of the Quick Result was a rehearsal of the second heat. The Earl got away again and gave his race away by running out. Scubaire came from behind to win by three lengths with Purple Biddy another length away third.

On Friday night June 29th there was a record attendance for this year. It was of course a holiday night on which the country folks have a completely free day and they were prepared to devote a couple of hours to the dogs.

TALLOW AND ROUND ABOUT

Get Ready - Get Set - Go

The stage is set for the holding of the County Waterford Championship sports at Tallow on Sunday next and all indications point to a very successful meeting.

An unusually large number of entries have been received from athletes all over the County, every club being represented, hence keen competition will be the order in every event.

Twelve championship events will be decided - running, jumping, cycling, weight-throwing and 16lb shot, thus every form of athletics is being catered for and with the holders all out to retain their championship titles a grand sports meeting is assured.

The energetic committee of Tallow A.C. have left nothing undone to ensure the success of the meeting, the track has been specially prepared and complete facilities will be provided for none in the county.

It is (as far as the writer knows) the first time the County Championships have been held in Tallow, thus all local supporters will have the opportunity of seeing the leading county athletes in action and granted favourable weather the attendance should reach record proportions.

The programme which will open with the girls and boys races will conclude with the tug-of-war competition, which is open to all teams and should provide a fitting finale to a grand day's sport.

Ample provision will be made in the capable hands of J. K. O'Connor Thurlies, who needs no introduction as past records speak for themselves and to his credit he has been very active in his running commentary of all events.

It is hardly necessary to stress the efforts being made by the Tallow Athletic Club to foster and encourage athletics in the County, and to appeal to the public to show their appreciation by supporting Sunday's fixture.

It isn't often an opportunity like this comes your way the athletic club are doing their part as you are doing yours.

Everything is in perfect order for Sunday - all that is needed is a few spectators to show Mr Weatherman will be in amicable mood and thus add the finishing touch to Tallow's "big day" in athletic circles.

Sunday July 15th in the glamour and excitement of the County Championships one is apt to forget the Inter Schools Sports scheduled for Tallow on Sunday July 15th.

These sports, which include the children of Kiltwater, Moy Parish School in addition to the children of the Tallow parish schools and with monster prizes (including a boys and girls bicycle) for the best at the end of the day.

Grand Dance on Sunday Night - As can be seen from the advertisement in this issue a grand dance will be held at Lisnabrin Ballroom on Sunday night next.

A very successful indoor fete was held at the Tallow Branch of the Gaelic League was held at the Regal Cinema, Tallow, on June 27th and attracted a large attendance.

On the farm - The hum of the mowing machine is now the only sound heard and continuing the present favourable weather will help to save the hay as speedily as possible.

Chairman And Vice-Chairman Re-Elected

Letters From Garda Superintendent and Co. Medical Officer

At the annual meeting of the Dungarvan Urban District Council held at 12 noon on Saturday last, Mr. T. Lapsley (outgoing) Chairman presided.

There was a full attendance of members and Mr. E. Deery, Town Clerk, was also in attendance.

Proposing the re-election of the Chairman, Mr. Lapsley conducted the affairs of the Council during the past 12 months in a very impartial manner and with decorum and dignity.

Mr. M. J. Keane seconding said that every member of the Council must feel more than satisfied that the Chairman had given every person the best of the whip.

Mr. Kelly supported the proposal and Mr. Keane said that the Labour Party had no intention of contesting the Chairman.

Senator Butler said that the Chairman's re-election appeared to be unanimous and he was glad that the Council had elected Mr. Lapsley on the work he had done and the impartial manner he had conducted the affairs of the Council.

The Chairman thanked the members said that perhaps at times during the past year he had differed with some members but he did so only in the interests of the town and he said he would do his best to help everyone in the coming year.

Mr. Kelly was then re-elected unanimously as Vice-Chairman and thanked the Council for the honour.

Town Hall - Letters From Superintendent and Co. M.O. When the Council came to discuss the Town Hall improvement scheme the Town Clerk read letters from Supt. O'Mahony and Dr. M. O'Farrell, Co. M.O.

In the course of his letter Supt. O'Mahony stated that no useful purpose would be served by this Council as their present meeting. He said the district Court has already decided in effect that the Town Hall is unsuitable for late dances in its present condition.

The Chairman said that from the one of the letters it appeared that the Council had been given back to local Councils to deal with matters like the Town Hall the better instead of having to deal with officials who are setting themselves up as dictators.

Mr. Keane endorsing the Chairman's remarks said that some time ago he referred to the creeping in of dictatorship in this country and now he said it definitely was and the attitude of these two officials instrumental in closing down the Town Hall for dancing for trivial reasons deserved the Council's disapproval.

The Chairman said that the Council should stand together as a body against the attitude of the officials in this matter.

Senator Butler said that he also stood for the restoration of power to the local Councils but new legislation was needed to bring it back and if anyone proposed it he would support it.

Mr. Keane - Would you not think that these officials would have the ordinary common decency to help us instead of objecting to us opening up our Town Hall for the people of the town.

Chairman - I feel there was a higher authority we should have appealed to and we didn't do it. Mr. Keane said that in that respect the Council's hands were tied again as the institution of law proceedings was a managerial function.

Mr. Keane - Well the Manager has done all he can for us and I think we should appeal to him again.

POTATO BLIGHT

Bad weather delayed the planting of potatoes this season.

If late and backward crops are attacked by blight the result may be total failure. Do not take unnecessary risks. Ensure a good crop by early and thorough spraying. Do not delay spraying because the stalks are not fully developed.

Potato blight will not spare small and backward stalks.

SPRAY NOW

Spray again in two to three weeks. Spray a third time if possible.

BOOKS WORTH READING (Selected by Thomas Tobin)

"The Eagle and the Sun" - Messrs John Murray Ltd. (Publishers) London have scored an outstanding success in the publication of "THE EAGLE AND THE SUN" by Lord Bellhaven (at 9/-) which is now on sale.

It is a story with a difference to the popular historical novel in that it presents a dramatic and colourful picture of an age which has been to the average reader always a period shrouded in a mist of curiosity.

The contemporary historian Strabo recorded many of the day-to-day events in considerable detail. From these and other sources and from personal experience of the desert the author tells with vivid simplicity the story of the Legion and portrays, as if from an eyewitness account, the personal relationships of men committed to a hazardous enterprise, the devotion of Antonius Valens to his commander the treachery of Syllaeus the cross currents of the intrigue between the rulers of the Arabian Kingdoms in their selfish and half-hearted defence against the Romans, and most vividly the character of Callus upon whose decision, against the odds, the survival of the Legion depended in a land where life hung upon a tenuous and unknown string of wells.

The story is indeed, one that will fascinate all readers before the book is completed and excuse will be accepted from members who fail to turn out for the Field Days. If there are any such members others will have to be found who are willing to attend the training. It is up to each man to win his part so when the final results are made known.

Training in Youghal - Training commenced at Youghal Camp for Privates and will continue until September next. As many as possible should avail of the opportunity of going to Camp and getting some good training. If members are unable to get away from their private occupations during this period training will be continued at Collins Barracks, Cork, as from October 1st. This should be every member's chance to get to either Camp or Barracks during the remainder of the year. Members who intend going to training should remember the position regarding the payment of gratuities. You have been repeatedly reminded that there is a minimum number of hours training laid down for each member before he becomes entitled to his grant. On enquiry at Battalion Headquarters any member who so desires will be informed of the number of parades he has attended since January 1st.

Battalion Headquarters - For the information of all members it is pointed out that as from July 1st Battalion Headquarters have been located at the F.C.A. premises, Youghal Road, Dungarvan.

Glennora Centre - This Centre has after several months, got new accommodation for training purposes. Lt. C. Curran made great efforts to find a suitable place and succeeded in doing so for which his Unit should be very grateful. The Battalion Staff sincerely hope that all will use now made of these premises and that the parades will reach a very high standard of attendance in future.

Leary's Success - Mr. J. Leary has succeeded in becoming a Marksman on the Open Range recently. This was his first year to fire Open Range Practices. Pte. Paddy Foley of Dungarvan also achieved the same success.

Members of Ring Centre are still keeping up their fine record of Parade attendances.
