THE TOWN HALL PROBLEM

Here in Dungarvan the Urban Council which is regarded as the greatest problem of the history of local authority in Waterford—the problem of winning back the right to let the Town Hall for dancing. The problem is by no means new one. It is a very old one as the matter has been under discussion for the past two years.

The position is that the Superintendent of the Garda Síochána raised a number of objections in the Court when the Council applied for a renewal of the licence for the hall over 18 months ago. It was made very clear that any renovations would have to be carried out before the licence would be granted and these would have to be done to meet the approval of the County Medical Officer. The Council in order to carry out the work as required by the Medical Officer it would mean taking over a room on the ground floor of the hall at present occupied by poultry dealer Joe Foley which in turn would mean what the Council term eviction for the proprietor and the members would not vote in favour of this move because of the fact that Mr. Foley has been doing business there all his life and his father did so before him.

Now without the room they cannot put the hall into proper repair and although a number of suggestions which would enable them to comply with the wishes of the Medical Officer and Superintendent returned to the Council have been put on to paper and even hammered into the form of a scheme to cost around £6,000 the Department of Local Government stepped in and said they would not approve of the scheme that would permit Mr. Foley to continue using portion of the Town Hall for his business. A number of Department officials visited the hall, including the Department's Chief Engineer, Mr. Bloomer, but still the answer remained "No Can Do". The Council met discussed the whole matter dug up all the material in connection with the case over the past two years and finally decided to go and see the Minister about the question. A well planned campaign was prepared and sent off to the Department to arrange a date and hour to meet the Minister—that was about five weeks ago.

Now the Minister has notified the Dungarvan Town Council that he will not receive a deputation in connection with this matter and the Council members are faced with a situation that will take much time and effort to resolve. The members have a difficult decision to reach—they must either eject the poultry dealer and reconstruct the entire hall premises at a cost of anything from £25,000 up to £50,000. What that decision will be no one can even guess.

And so the future of Dungarvan Town Hall is shrouded in mystery—a costly mystery as far as the ratepayers of the town are concerned for to them this hold-up means a loss of a minimum of £1,000 per year in revenue.

WHAT A VISITOR HAD TO SAY ABOUT DUNGARVAN TOWN HALL

It seems that Dungarvan Town Hall is in the news everywhere today. It is undoubtedly the most interesting subject one given to me Wednesday by a visitor to the area.

He said that sometime ago he read in one of Ireland's leading newspapers where an American had died and in her will left £50,000 for the setting up of a home for the care of expectant cat mothers. The visitor pointed out that she must not have been a true lover of animals when she made no provision for the cat fathers. Be that as it may the point driven home by my outside observer was that it would be of great benefit to Dungarvan should some nice old lady in the States make provision in her will for a similar amount to be used for the setting up of a special home in Dungarvan for the care of cats so as to enable Dungarvan Urban Council get on with their major problem of putting the hall into the required condition.

Believe me, this comment came from an Irishman who has spent over quarter of a century in England, and who made it very clear that when it came to the question of Dungarvan Town Hall it made him feel ashamed to say that he was a Dungarvan man. From the exiles point of view, it is very serious matter and I gathered that the view was that it was a shocking state of affairs where a fowl rove was the cause of holding up the path of progress

TWO STORIES WITH A MORAL

The names Frank and Myra Ryan Talow are well known and highly distinguished in the world of entertainment. Frank is a tenor of world repute who has sung as soprano with a bright future. Not so long ago I appealed for books etc. for the patients of hospitals throughout the county and the response everywhere was most generous. Myra Ryan Talow is a soprano who has sung as soprano with a bright future. Not so long ago I appealed for books etc. for the patients of hospitals throughout the county and the response everywhere was most generous.

Story number two concerns a reader in the USA who likes to be referred to as P. He too is a regular reader of this paper and on seeing my appeal immediately set to work collecting every type of reading matter within his reach. He made up a number of bundles and just now they are on their way to this country.

In his letter to me he states "I could not leave unnoticed your appeal for this month's worthy cause. I feel sure that your good people of County and surrounding districts will also contribute most generously. I am sure the books which you send you, will be read with joy and pleasure hours if not days of joyful reading and happiness into the lives of those unfortunate 'Shut-ins' (this is a new one in my vocabulary and is worth noting). I will continue to send some each week."

Concluding P. J. wished our efforts every success and suggested that I cater for the young people who will be pleased to start the ball rolling with a few bundles of "funnies". It is only fitting that special thanks be conveyed to this firm friend of the Old Country and there is no doubt but that these thoughtful letters will not be forgotten by so many.

Within the next week or so I hope to be able to provide space to one or two of those who have received some books and magazines to express in their own words their appreciation of what our readers' thoughtful letters mean to me. I am making arrangements to look out for the younger folk and all comes and children's books will find a place in the hearts of some young boy or girl.

A BIG DAY

Sunday last was indeed a great day for Dungarvan when about 5,000 people packed the Gaelic Field to see Waterford meet Cork in the National Hurling game which resulted in a surprise defeat for the home-owners. We were lost in a thrilling effort all I will say is Waterford went down fighting to the last and there was nothing they should be ashamed of.

It was indeed a most enjoyable day for all the many spectators as weather conditions were just could not have been better and arrangements in the field were as good as one could ask for. Believe it or not but we had a comfortable seat too.

The Abbeyside Band was there to provide the music under the baton of John Hayes who is once again back in the front-line. We have taken to leading the Villa Band on parade. After the game he led the band home to Abbeyside and when the players were about to feel grateful they were approaching the home of the band. They were right up to J. Murphy's place to provide the inhabitants with a fitting taste of the day's gaiety.

G.A.A.—Hurling

National Hurling League

Waterford Lose Points To Cork

Cork, 3-6, Waterford, 1-9

Cork had a surprising win over Waterford senior hurlers when they met on Sunday last in the National League match at Dungarvan Gaelic Field, on the score 3-6 to 1-9. From the throw-in of the ball to the final whistle, it was a game of thrills and excitement, with both teams fighting every inch of the way score by score.

The Cork side had what may be called an unexpected win, having been held down for 60 minutes of the game by a strong Waterford side. In the closing minutes a hard-won goal out of a desperate Waterford goalmouth, brought the Cork men the honours of the day, much to the admiration of their many supporters.

In the words of a well-known "Tow" Gael as we left the field "It will be hard to describe the last few minutes of such a great game." It is quite true, but things did happen and happen so fast that some of the Waterford team and supporters were terribly disappointed when the final whistle sounded.

P. O'Leary, for Cork, proved his class all through that was held for Waterford's best to match. For the losers Johnny Kiely was without doubt the hero of the day and he certainly added further honours to his already good record. Jackie Goode and Phil Grimes could not have done better and the scoring tells in its own way the story of what can be done by good combination.

After their fine win over Killenny Waterford fielded out favourites, and were determined to win their second round of the League, but Cork too, came prepared and after a struggle that clearly showed the greatest determination and enthusiasm, their efforts were well rewarded by a very sweet victory that puts the Reel County back on the winning road.

There was no question about it but the absence of Christy Ring was greatly felt from the start and few thought that Cork would make it. Their forward line did not do as well as they should and the backs too, did not seem happy.

Trainer Jim Barry having watched his experimental players in action for some time made a number of changes which in the latter stages of the game meant victory for Cork.

A notable feature of the game was the excellent play and teamwork between the two goalies T. Cashman for Cork and J. O'Regan, for Waterford. It was perhaps the greatest series of displays of goal-keeping at its best ever before seen on any playing pitch.

The attendance was at the 5,000 mark and all arrangements proved successful. Gate receipts were £244 and the new wire railing cutting off the side-line from the playing pitch, there was not a hitch of any kind.

Weather conditions were perfect and the large attendance was treated to a game that was really hurling as it should be played—clean, fast, exciting and fought out in the best sporting spirit.

While Cork won, it should be recorded that Waterford played a really grand game, and it may be said that their defeat was due to the shifting from the back line of Jackie Goode, as his move in this position would have helped greatly to hold the Cork half-forwards, as he had done all through the game up to the time he was shifted.

Following the parade of the teams headed by the Abbeyside Scouts Pipe Band, and the playing of Fath-O' Our Fathers and the National Anthem, the ball was thrown in by referee J. Phelan, Killenny and Cork made the breakthrough which resulted in a wide Waterford continued to attack and Kiely was on the mark twice in succession when he drove over the bar to put Waterford in the lead. Waterford continued to attack and Kiely was on the mark twice in succession when he drove over the bar to put Waterford in the lead. Waterford continued to attack and Kiely was on the mark twice in succession when he drove over the bar to put Waterford in the lead.

WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL

Tramore Shelter Causes Heated Discussion

Grants For Houses And Sewerage and Water Schemes Discussed

Mr D. Leahy Chairman presided at a special meeting of Waterford Co. Council held in Dungarvan, on Monday last. Members present were—Messrs N. Walsh, M. McGrath, M. Hartly, J. Fahey, E. Power, J. Campion, T. A. Kyne, T. D. F. Roche, M. Morrissey, W. Kenneally, S. Ormonde, T. D. M. Mansfield, R. Barron, L. Morrissey, T. Power, D. Heskin, and N. Kelly.

In attendance were—Mr S. Deegan Deputy Manager, Mr J. Dowling Co. Secretary, Mr D. Sheehy B. E. Co. Engineer, Mr J. Ormonde B. E. Assistant Co. Engineer and Mr Doyle, B. E. Housing Engineer.

Shelter For Tramore
Another Tramore problem was solved to the satisfaction of the Tramore representatives when it was decided on a division of 11 to 6 against to provide a shelter for Tramore at a cost of £200.

There was a long and heated discussion in the matter when it was pointed out that if the sum was to be levied over one year on the rates it would mean an additional 3d in the £1.

It was stated by Mr Kyne that it had been recognized that Tramore was a great asset to the County. Thousands of visitors were coming every year and its many outstanding advantages were widely recognised with the result the County was being kept well on the map.

Mr Walsh said that it would be a burden on the ratepayers. They had pulled the wool over the Council's eyes before in the case of the Separate Charges. But it should be seen to now that this would not happen again.

Mr E. Power (Chairman of the Tramore Town Commissioners) strongly objected to that statement.

Mr M. Morrissey—We did not put the wool over the Council's eyes and you must admit it.

Mr Walsh—It was the Minister that had put the wool over the Council's eyes.

Mr Morrissey—On the return of rates it has been shown that Tramore is paying as fine a rate per head as the best in the County.

Continuing Mr Morrissey went on to say that not so long ago from 4 to 500 children had to stand in the station out of their clothes during their days outing. They had no place else to take shelter and having spent up to 4 hours there they were saturated and had to soak it for all that time. Then we had a shelter for the young against TB. Is that the way we should do it?

Mr Morrissey then proposed they provide the shelter and was seconded by Mr Ormonde T. D. F. Mr Walsh proposed an amendment that the do not provide the shelter and was seconded by the Chairman Mr Leahy.

Before the issue went to a vote, Senator Butler stated that he would like to see Tramore getting anything that was needed for its further development. While he was not against them but it was a separate charge, and as this was not possible and they would have to get the shelter as a county at large charge he would in view of his long stand in the past dissent from their voting.

Mr Hartly stated that there were no shelters throughout the county and no shelter for the farmer at work on the mountain. He was against this because if they start off a shelter with their many schemes for water, sewerage and housing, he could not visualise where they would end. He would like to see a separate charge as it would be up to the Minister in this case.

Mr E. Power arose and stated that during the course of the meeting it had been stated that was played and Waterford took up the attack again, but failed after several good chances. Cork had a number of free but without result and then came the Kiely drive into the square, the forwards rushed in and a desperate tussle wound up with the ball in the net for a goal to give them the lead. Waterford tried might and main in a last minute endeavour to pull the game out of the fire, but the Cork backs led by Con Murphy held fast and the final whistle sounded leaving the score—Cork 3, Waterford 1-9.

Cork—T. Cashman, goal; T. O'Keefe, C. Murphy, T. Hayes, T. Bowman, O'Grady, M. Foyhy, P. O'Leary, V. Fahey, M. Finn, G. Murphy, P. O'Sullivan, T. Griffin, P. Ahearne, T. Croft.

Waterford—J. O'Regan (goal); P. Fives, D. Walsh, M. Hayes, M. Gneally, P. Grimes, J. Goode, J. Kiely, Fives, M. Frimally, W. Lee, M. O'Connor, M. McElroy, T. Galvin, M. Lonergan.

Tramore had got away with something. He would like to make it very clear that Tramore got away with nothing. It got what every other county in Ireland got years ago and had Tramore got it then it would be today in a much happier position as would the County Waterford at large as a result. He said that they had adopted a rate for the promotion of tourism in the county, yet here they had a very necessary item in the provision of shelters for the attraction of tourists and the Council members were objecting. It had been estimated at £200 and it had been stated that it would be levied on the rates over 12 months at 2d extra on the rates. This was not so, it would be spread over a number of years according to the loan charges. The Council appeared to be issuing an incentive to tourism on one hand and opposition to it on the other and he appealed for consistency. The necessity for them was there, he added, the shelter was necessary as was in other places for water etc. They would not take the local view in this matter as some of the members were doing as far as their own areas were concerned and oppose something that would be advantageous to another area. That type of spirit was wrong and would not get anyone anywhere.

Mr Barron spoke in support of Mr Power and said that the shelters would not be just for the people for Tramore but for people all over the county and from all over the county. He said it was an awful state of affairs to see as he had seen people coming into Tramore on a fine morning and then suddenly the rain came and people were running in search of shelter that was not there. This could not be allowed if they were to encourage tourism and it was a well known fact that Tramore was regarded as one of the finest strands in the Irish Isles and it was up to them to make it even better.

When the matter went to a vote 11 voted for the shelters and 6 for Mr Walsh's amendment.

The Chairman declared Mr Morrissey's proposal carried.

Rates Books Signed
The rates books and rate collectors warrants for 1951-52, signed March, 1952, were next duly signed.

Additional Half-Acre
Mr Kyne's proposal of motion that the additional half-acre be provided for the ratepayers who are willing to accept same at a weekly rent of 1/- per week exclusive of rates and who at present have only a half-acre with their cottages was unanimously passed.

Water And Sewerage Schemes
Dealing with water and sewerage schemes Mr Sheehy, Co. Engineer reported on the present position as far as the following schemes were concerned—Stradbally, Villierstown, Fourmillwater, Knocknagrangagh, Dungarvan, Boola, Glendine.

Referring to the Stradbally water scheme Mr Sheehy said that the contractor had been appointed and had been instructed to go ahead with the work. He was at present waiting for material.

Mr Kyne requested that the contractor be asked to go ahead with the preliminary work immediately pointing out that this would give employment to 20 to 30 men, and he saw no reason why this work could not be proceeded with immediately. He said that the position in Stradbally as far as employment was concerned at the moment was very serious and this scheme will be the means of providing much needed employment.

Mr Sheehy stated that he would convey Mr Kyne's remarks to the contractor without delay.

In connection with the Stradbally sewerage scheme, Mr Sheehy said that this was yet ready to put into operation and was being dealt with by the Consulting Engineer.

Dealing with the proposed Villierstown water scheme it was agreed to proceed with a scheme that will serve a big number of the people in the area instead of a small scheme as had been suggested.

Mr Kyne stated that it was his opinion that such a big scheme was what the people wanted in the area, and he felt that many of them would gladly avail of it when they had water just outside their doors.

Mr Walsh agreed and said that if Villierstown was getting a water scheme it should at least get a good one.

Dealing with the Fourmillwater sewerage scheme, Mr Sheehy reported that the scheme was made up of a number of small ones to serve a total of 240 people, and 600 cattle and would provide about 15,000 gallons a day at an estimated cost of £10,000.

Mr Fahey said that there was a crying need in the area for water.

Mr Sheehy pointed out that the only difficulty was that the expense per head would be rather high, and he suggested that they should submit the scheme to the Department for consideration to see if they would get a grant.

A copy of the Engineer's report is to be circulated to all members and the matter will be discussed again at the next meeting of the Council.

In reply to a question raised

THE NATURAL FRUIT WITH HEADS OF SUGAR AND CLEAR CRYSTAL SPRING WATERS ALL HELP TO MAKE POWER ORANGE GOOD FOR YOU

by Mr. Fahey the Co. Engineer pointed out that the Ballymacarbery area would be better served by an independent supply.

With reference to the Knocknagrangagh, Dungarvan supply it had been decided to lay the extension from Ballinroad at a cost of £700 subject to the sanction of the Council members.

When a number of questions were raised it was agreed to adjourn the matter to the next meeting to enable the engineers provide further information.

Mr Sheehy reported that the Boola Glendine was approved.

Questions dealing with the Ballinameela Klossera and Helvic schemes were raised and it was stated that these were being at present dealt with the Franchise of Scholarship Form.

Mr Heskin referred to a case in Headboro Lismore where a school girl named Lenihan had been debarred from availing of a scholarship because of the fact that her father had been incorrectly filled up. He said that the error arose over the conditions governing the schools which the girl had previously been awarded as a girl who was very deserving. He urged that the Council do whatever they could to give her the opportunity she deserved.

Mr Kyne spoke at length in support of Mr Walsh's amendment. Mr Heskin, pointing out that he was well acquainted with the case.

Mr Heskin suggested that the Secretary should write to the Department and inform them that the Council unanimously held that this girl should get a scholarship and they would like to have the Department's advice as to what they could do about it.

This was decided unanimously "Like Black Hole".

It is like the Black Hole of Calcutta at present said Mr Kyne when he mentioned from 58 householders in Stradbally was considered urging that public lighting be installed in the village, and it was stated that all that was to be done there at all at present.

It was decided to ask the ESB for a quotation.

Dodging Responsibility
Dealing with Supplementary Hours but he was at present that he would not agree with the opinion of the Council's legal advisor that the recipients were entitled to a remission of rates over seven years with a reduced rate for the first year. The Department should be asked to give their interpretation of the Act concerned in view of the fact that other local bodies held a different view to that expressed at this meeting. He said that all local authorities should be moving in the same direction instead, as a result of the Department's attitude, they were pulling in opposite directions.

The Secretary pointed out that the Department will not give their interpretation of the Act.

Mr Kyne—Any Government that will not do this is dodging its responsibilities. I have a very good idea that the Act was never meant for the interpretation given here today as I was directly connected with the preparation of it.

Finally, it was unanimously agreed on the proposition of Mr M. Morrissey, that the grants be allowed remain as they are.

Mr Kyne seconded the proposal.

Asked To Reconsider Resignation
A letter from Mr Walter Norris tendering his resignation as a member of the Council was read. The letter stated that owing to pressure of work it would not be fair to the other members that he should not be able to attend regularly.

All members agreed with Mr Leahy when he suggested that Mr Norris be requested to reconsider his decision.

Trespass At Ardmore
Further in the allegations of trespassing in the Ardmore area the Co. Engineer reported that he visited the place and having carried out an inspection he was satisfied that people had been taking sand from the sea-shore along the particular entrance for years back. The complainant had repaired a small portion of the entrance, but it so happened that the portion repaired by him crossed the public right of way.

In reply to Mr Kyne, The Co. Engineer said that there was nothing the Council could do in the matter. If the complainant wanted to stake his claim he would have to do so through the law courts. Mr Kyne—So the people are entitled to use this road after all and my advice to them is if they find a gate of any kind set up there again dump it into the sea nearby.

Houses At Lismore
Further to a suggestion that a number of houses in Lismore be reconstructed the Housing Engineer Mr Doyle reported that to do so would be too costly and would be money wasted as the houses could never be brought up to the required standard. He said that it would in his opinion be much cheaper to build new houses to replace them.

Mr Campion spoke at length on the housing needs of the area and asked would the Council go ahead and build new houses pointing out that there were very good sites available in the town. He referred to the old Show Field stating that when they were getting it long ago the Government considered that the Show Committee were more entitled to it than the health of the people.

The matter is being looked into and will be reported on at a future meeting.

Dungarvan U. D. C. Crux Over Supplementary Housing Grants Result Of Housing Survey

Chairman - In view of the restrictions in numbers placed by the Fire Officer on other halls and the same for the Town Hall I wonder would it be worth spending more money?

Mr T Lannen, Chairman, presided at a meeting of the Dungarvan Urban District Council, held in the Town Hall on last Friday night

Mr Keane - Isn't it awfully automatic of the Department to adopt the result of the survey as the basis of their decision?

Mr O'Dwyer - This matter is one for the Manager and why is it put on the agenda for our meeting?

Mr O'Dwyer - The only way out for us is to become balliffs and put out Mr Foley, but I for one won't do that

Mr O'Dwyer - Well I suppose the Manager went as far as he could

Mr O'Dwyer - The hidden hand was there

Mr O'Dwyer - That's the mystery

Mr Keane - You'll agree it was wrong not to receive the deputation?

Mr Keane - Yes
