Council's Call To Co Manager

Mr T Lannen Chairman presided at a meeting of the Dungarvan Urban District Council held on last Friday night. Messrs. T. Kyne, T. D. Lee, Senator Butler, M. J. Keane, P. O'Dwyer, T. McCarthy, P. Casey and N. Kelly were present. Mr. E. Deery Town Clerk was in attendance.

Manager's Order—'Drastic'

Mr. Kyne referred to the following order by the Co. Manager:

Provisional Drainage Order—Kineen

Report of the Assistant Engineer of the 5th January 1952 that Drainage Order served on Mr. Kineen should be enforced as a serious nuisance was being caused periodically in premises of Mrs. A. O'Flynn.

Petition From Residents Of T. J. Murphy Place

Messrs. P. Ryan, P. Langan, M. O'Connell and Shilly appeared in a deputation before the meeting and Mr. Ryan as spokesman said that they came on behalf of the 74 tenants of T. J. Murphy Place with a petition which they would like the Council to recommend to the Co. Manager concerning the rents of their houses.

Public Lights

With reference to the estimate received from the ESB for the light at Shandon Mr. Kyne said that it would be well if the pole was moved out a bit further and it was decided to change the estimate.

Books Worth Reading

(Selected by Thomas Tobin)

IN BRIEF—

Books that will be enjoyed by most readers are—

"The Falling Leaves" by Rowland Wade (MacDonald at 10/-) A strange story about a strange family that will take the reader along a most unusual path to a bleak and chilling climax leaving an impression in the reader's mind that will never fade.

"Let It Be Told" by P. D. Green (Clongowee & Reynolds at 10/-) A book that will make an ideal gift for a boy of any age and it is one of those books that you will read yourself first with such enjoyment that you will wish to read it again.

"The Blue Goose" by Peter B'ckmore (Ward-Lock at 8/6) is a new novel that will provide a good hearty laugh as you read the goings and undings of a family and its connections that are mostly sensational. Well worth reading.

"A Saint In The Making" by William Goldman (Constellations Books London at 9/6) is a selection of stories that will reach down well into the heart of every reader. They are touching in their deep human interest and yet they present a side of life that is always pleasing to the reader. This is really a most entertaining book and an added bonus that presents a mystery never changed our minds about it and if we made a mistake in it it is our baby but if we wish we needn't go on when the present scheme is finished. Untold hardships had been created by holding up the scheme and in paying three the full grant we have committed ourselves. I don't think the Manager has the right to stop the payments.

Mr Casey—The position is that at the moment the rate-payers are paying more for the houses than the tenants.

Mr Kyne said that it was the obligation of the rate-payers to provide cheap houses for the working class people and he said that in many of the cases it was the Council who drove these people out of their old houses into Murphy Place. They had no option but to go although many of them did not want to do so.

Mr Kyne went on to say that the rate levied for all the Council houses in the town was 2d in the £ and he thought that 2/10 a year was a good cheap investment to keep people out of sanatoria and hospitals.

The Chairman said that all the houses built by the authorities were killing the people as they were damp and the rents were so high that people could not afford proper nourishment for themselves and their families.

Senator Butler—The request of these gentlemen is that we recommend this petition to the Co. Manager and let us recommend O'Dwyer said that the rent and electric light cost takes away almost most of the wages there and there is not much to buy food. Mr. Butler said that he was not in favour of the petition.

Shop Hours Act

After a short discussion on the above which had been adjourned since previous meetings a resolution was passed proposed by Mr. O'Dwyer and seconded by Mr. Casey that there be no restrictions placed on the hours of trading for small shops and that the Minister be asked to abolish the order.

Practices

Trade U.D.C. sent for adoption a resolution requesting the Government to introduce legislation to annul restrictive trading, as it leads to unemployment and emigration.

Senator Butler said that he understood that the Government were investigating the whole position and he said that he was certainly in agreement with the resolution.

Call To County Manager To Pay Housing Grants

The Clerk read out five further applications for supplementary housing grants as follows—Messrs. Liam Hayes, Vincent O'Brien, M. Foley, Dr. M. K. Cusack and Miss M. Mullins.

Call To County Manager To Pay Housing Grants (continued)

The Clerk stated that this brought the total number of applications to 29 and the scheme was for 30 grants.

Mr. Kyne—One to go so I propose that we pass these applications if they are in order as there should be no discrimination.

Call To County Manager To Pay Housing Grants (continued)

Mr. Kyne—What is the position about the payment of the grants at all has any order been made yet?

Clerk—The County Manager has been asked to pay the grants but he has not yet done so.

Call To County Manager To Pay Housing Grants (continued)

Chairman—Three applicants were paid in full, when were the payments made to them?

Clerk—On September 14th last.

Chairman—Well I was looking up some old copies of the local paper and I saw that in August your attention was drawn to the fact that the scheme was not watertight. I think it was wrong to have paid those in September and it is a hardship on the others now if they are not paid similarly.

TALLOW AND ROUND ABOUT

Interesting Lecture—On Friday night a very interesting lecture entitled "The Gaelic League and the Public" was given at the Temperance Hall Tallow by Stamus Mac Fionn. Dungarvan Organising Secretary of the Gaelic League. The lecturer opened by stating that the objects of the Gaelic League was to revive the Irish language throughout the whole of Ireland so that we may be a free Gaelic nation once again.

Non Subsidised Flour

The Department's direction that non-subsidised flour could only be used for bread for school meals has made an additional £67 on the rates. The Clerk informed the members.

Turf Supplies

Mr. Kyne raised a complaint concerning turf supplied from the Council yard and said that he had been told it was being dug wet and there was also an allegation that weights were not correct.

Sympathy

Votes of sympathy were passed with Rev. Fr. D. Byrne C.C. on the death of his father Rev. Bro. Keane on the death of his mother Mrs. Hayes on the death of the late John Healy also with the relatives of the late David Gleeson who died in Boston recently.

Views Of Our Readers

(To The Editor)

Sir—In the Autumn of 1919 you very kindly published a letter under the combined names of Mrs. Ellen O'Farrell and Councilor Potter our Founder Members who continue their active association with us. The letter invited all sufferers of Infantile Paralysis to get in touch with us with a view to the formation of a Fellowship on lines similar to that which has existed for some years in England and America.

Views Of Our Readers (continued)

A very large number of people answered that letter and the I.P.P. (I) was established in the Spring of 1950. Many of those who originally responded have never become members. They are perhaps unaware that the organisation which they helped to initiate has made great progress and conferred considerable benefits to many of the more seriously disabled members.

When the news of his death at the early age of 62 was heard large numbers attended the house of mourning to pay their last respects and to offer sympathy to his widow eight sons and three daughters.
