Good News-Owing to the curtailment of the amount allowed by the British Government to tourists going abroad the Irish resorts should have greatly enhanced patronage during the coming season. That being the case the Youghal hoteliers alive to their own interests have de cided to meet with as little delay as possible and devise ways and means to better their own interests and incidentally make the lot of the visitor a happier

This is a happy thought on the part of the hoteliers and with all united for the common good they are bound to benefit and so will the tourist
