SPOTLIGHT ON THE UNKNOWN

By THOMAS TOBIN

OUR EFFORTS APPRECIATED
Dungarvan Urban Council on the lead given by Mr. M. J. Keane congratulated this column on its outspoken and excellent article—GET IT DONE LOCALLY, which appeared recently.

While appreciating the fact that the efforts of this column are not in vain and are proving of such good service to the widening readership we try to represent I feel it only right and proper to say that a reminder to the public to buy locally should not be necessary. As Mr. Keane stated—when people buy outside their own town what they get just as good inside it then they are standing in their own light by depriving locals of much-needed employment.

Every member of the Council gave his views on the article. The views expressed were sound and well spoken and a result of calling on the public to support local industry was unanimously passed which in my opinion was a good night's work.

From where I sat in the Council chamber I listened with feelings of real satisfaction mixed with loads of amazement for it was the first time on record that our local authority had something nice to say about yours faithfully.

Congratulate Councillor Keane on the business-like way he handled the matter—the resolution will certainly mean much to Dungarvan.

YOU CAN'T KEEP A GOOD MAN DOWN
It is once again a great pleasure for me to congratulate Dungarvan's great sportsman and Ireland's welterweight champion boxer, Mr. Peter Crotty—('Petec') to you of course) on his outstanding victory at Cork on last Sunday night when in a return fight he defeated J. Moloney of the R.A.F. and thereby registering his feelings for the raw deal he received two nights previously in Dublin.

Most of us know only too well by now the story of Pete's efforts in Dublin on Friday night, Feb. 8th when he suffered one of the greatest injustices any sportsman could take. Fighting on the Irish team against England his opponent was Moloney of the R.A.F. and having virtually plastered the Englishman, Pete was stumped to find the decision was in favour of the visitor.

Readers will recall what I said last week which I now endorse with the addition that the argument being handed out to this great and game boxer is below all standards of sportsmanship and the time has come when a strong protest is the only way to hit back at the R.A.F. sportsman in every sense of the word. His journey to Dublin on last Friday night, following the manner in which he was originally ignored, his superb display in the ring and the simple way in which he accepted the decision of the fight, all go to show the veracity of my statement.

Radio Eireann paid tribute to the fight he made and to the decision which he was deprived of by the judges. So far as to state openly and without fear of contradiction that there has been and still is a strong feeling against our own fighting hero in official boxing circles in the Capital. The boy from the county (as they titled him) whose lead to the City has been too big to follow but it has been proved by Pete's own admission that he kept a good one down.

The following comments from a daily Press of Saturday last like home a point and pose the same question—WHY?

Cork Examiner—Crowd demonstrate—Peter Crotty, the Munster boxer on the Irish team showed all his old fire and power in outpunching the English welterweight A. C. J. F. Moloney yet the judges awarded the decision to the Englishman. The decision was as popular as it was surprising and pandemonium broke out as the crowd demonstrated their disapproval. For minutes nothing could be heard with the din of whistling, jeering and boos and long after the next fight began the demonstration continued. So severely had Crotty mauled his man that the last round looked as if the Clonmel boy would score a knockout. From first to last Crotty bore in staggered the Englishman. The latter was skilful and used the ring well and he occasionally tapped Crotty with a straight left. Crotty's superiority was evident in the last round as he pushed the Englishman down ever so often but the judges thought differently to everybody else and the result again left the teams level with three decisions each.

Irish Press by Paddy Hughes who from first to last wrote held seven Irish titles and a Taitelaine Games title.

The outstanding feature of last night's tournament to my mind was the number of hard decisions that were given. Outstanding among these was that in which Maloney was adjudged the winner over Peter Crotty.

Crotty spent the first round exploring his opponent but he did not punch him round and thereafter punched his way to victory. I thought should have been a clear victory—as clear a victory as I have ever seen.

Irish Times said—After an exciting punching bout between two strong lads J. P. Moloney got a rather lucky verdict over P. Crotty in the welter-weight and this brought the R.A.F. to terms with the Irishman. The Irishman appeared to have done sufficient by sheer weight of attack to have secured the verdict. In the last round especially Crotty seemed to have Maloney on the ropes. In a final flurry the Englishman scored with a succession of rights and lefts to the face but even that hardly seemed to suffice to gain him the decision.

As usual the referee's absurd decision—It was a pity that the evening should have been marred by such a thoroughly bad decision as that which gave the fight to J. P. Moloney in the welter contest against P. Crotty.

To my mind the crowd were quite justified in the demonstration which they made and which prevented any announcement being made. The next contest was the one between J. P. Moloney and the Englishman. By the simple process of walking in and whaling away with both hands Crotty landed twice as many punches as Maloney and even though the latter was hit by a left hand and possibly more cleverly he was not moving fast enough to get away from Crotty's incessant attacks and for the life of me I cannot see how the Englishman could have been deemed the winner.

It would seem that at least two of the judges must have been working on the formula that three body punches do not equal one straight left.

As usual the referee returned to his hometown but I would really like to know how the decision of the fight, all go to show the veracity of my statement.

continue Crotty tore after him as he got up but the bell saved Maloney. Straight from his corner in a flash came Crotty for the last round Maloney was strong and he was game but he could not hold off the furious Irishman. Twice Crotty dropped him and then he put him through the ropes and the referee counted as far as six and then stopped the fight to award the verdict to Crotty.

And again this column says—Well done Pete and here's wishing you every success both in the ring and outside it.

FISHING INDUSTRY STILL BOOMING

In the Dungarvan area the fishing industry is still making news. Big catches are being landed nightly on the local quays for transport to the cities and the scenes presented are lively and full of interest. During the week-end there was considerable excitement on the quay when it was made known that one of the modern fishing vessels, the 'Kittyhawk' had netted a monster Skate. Few got the chance however of viewing the monster as within a short time after arrival the fish was loaded onto a waiting lorry bound for Dublin.

The sleek modern vessels owned by the Thompson Brothers are at present using Dungarvan as their main depot. In the early hours of Monday they again put to sea. Equipped with radio telephone and many other modern devices these vessels cover the Irish coastline from north to south and east to west on a purely scientific basis and think nothing of fishing off the coast in the early part of the day and off Cork that same night.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END

Dungarvan's three years old major problem—how to put the Town Hall in proper repair without evicting an old tenant who occupies portion of the ground floor—has at last approached a satisfactory solution. This was announced over the week-end by the Town Clerk Mr. E. Deery, when he stated that the final plan suggested by the Urban Council had been approved by the Department of Local Government. This plan will mean that the minimum repairs to put the hall into the required standard as set by the Co. Medical Officer of Health will be carried out within the next few months on the understanding that the Council will take over the poultry store and provide suitable alternative accommodation for the tenant elsewhere in a business centre of the town.

The Town Hall has been without an all-night dance licence for some years. Because the required repairs could not be carried out without removing the tenant Mr. Joe Foley the Council members would not agree to the plan submitted by the architects. The matter went on for three years and finally plan number four was submitted and was approved. By this time it had been made very clear to the local Council that if they did not agree to take over the entire hall in their scheme of renovations then they would not receive Government approval. Resigned to this the Council members interviewed Mr. Foley who agreed to vacate the Town Hall if suitable accommodation could be found for him elsewhere in a business centre of the town.

It is now hoped to have the repairs carried out during Lent. These will include a new ballroom floor a number of treproof stairs and better facilities generally for catering for the large crowds frequenting the hall. It is estimated that the scheme will cost around £5,450.

In Dungarvan and district the matter is of great importance to the public as for almost three years it has not been possible to hold all-night dances in the hall and fans have been compelled to travel miles outside the town for their dancing.

WHAT IS THIS?

It's to remind you that the Knockmeal Co-Op. Staff Dance will be held in the Happydrome Ballroom, Lismore on Easter Sunday Night.

WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL

Co-Option Of Member Leads To Political Issues Lengthy Meeting Discusses Many Matters

Mr. D. Leahy Chairman, presiding at the quarterly meeting of the Waterford County Council on Monday last. Present were Messrs J. Quirk, N. Walsh, M. McGeath, R. Barron, Wm. Kennedy, D. Heskin, M. Morrissey, S. Ormonde, T. J. Campion, E. Power, J. Fahey, T. Kirwan, J. Mansfield, T. A. Kyne, T. D. M. Harty, L. Morrissey, T. Power, F. Roche, P. Butler, N. Kelly and Senator Butler.

Mr. S. J. Moynihan Co. Secretary, Mr. J. G. Dowling Co. Engineer, Mr. D. Sheehy and the Chief Assistant Engineer Mr. J. Ormonde were in attendance.

Election of New Member
Not during the past fifty years was a contest so closely fought out as that which took place at last Monday's quarterly meeting during the election of a member to the County Council. The resignation of Mr. Walter Norris (Independent Farmer) was the subject of the Council's attention. The Council spent an hour and a quarter discussing the question of whether Mr. Norris was a member of the Co-Opted party or not. It was maintained by several members that the Council should abide by the old practice of co-opting a member from the party represented by the member whose resignation was before them and with this in mind Mr. D. Heskin moved the co-option of Mr. M. Murphy Ballynae, Carrick-on-Suir.

Mr. Ormonde held that Mr. Norris was not a member of a recognised party pointing out that at the last local election he had declared he was standing as an independent candidate and that he had not been a member of the Fianna Fail Party. The matter went to a vote resulting in eleven votes for each candidate.

Mr. D. Leahy then gave his casting vote in favour of Mr. Murphy who was declared elected.

At the outset Mr. Heskin stated that it had always been the recognised practice to co-opt a member of the party represented by the resignation of a member was there. It had always been strongly adhered to. Mr. Quirk suggested that they might come to some settlement without a vote but added that if it did go to vote he would support his party—the Fianna Fail Party.

Mr. N. Walsh—To say that I am surprised at this situation would be putting it mildly. The members of the Fianna Fail Party have been quibbling with words for the past hour with one view of taking a political advantage. Indeed I must state that they are taking the word of their Chairman very lightly. He has just refreshed their memories. I will recall to them when they come into the Council room they leave outside their political mantles and play their part in the representation of the ratepayers.

Mr. Morrissey at this stage said that he would second Mr. Heskin's proposal.

Mr. Kyne—Defer this entire matter until the appointment of rate collectors—that is if you do not mind. I will have a whole thing. We all know that there lies the kernel of the whole trouble.

Mr. Quirk suggested that Mr. Norris should appoint someone to do the job.

Mr. Heskin and Mr. Barron appealed to Mr. Ormonde to withdraw his proposal but Mr. Ormonde refused to do so.

Mr. Morrissey—If this question is not settled here we will mark my words we will have a political issue made out of everything raised in the Council. The coming appointment of the Rate Collectors will be one of the biggest political issues ever to hit this county and inside here it will be politics straight from the word 'go'. Because of this I appeal to you to leave out politics altogether.

The Co. Engineer replied that Mr. Ormonde made a last appeal to Mr. Leahy to withdraw his proposal. Mr. Leahy said that he was sorry the matter had arisen as he did not like to vote against any of the two candidates but he would strongly support his own party Fianna Fail.

Messrs P. Butler, M. McGrath (oldest member of the Council, elected in 1910), and Mr. Harty, also expressed their views on the matter and finally they agreed to a division which resulted as set out at the outset.

Voting went as follows—
For Mr. Murphy—Senator Butler, Messrs Harty, Kyne, L. Morrissey, P. Butler, J. Campion, D. Heskin, N. Walsh, R. Barron, M. Morrissey, Power (11).
For Mr. Walsh—Messrs N. Walsh, M. McGrath, J. Fahey, S. Ormonde, F. Roche, J. Quirk, W. Kennedy, T. Kirwan, E. Power, and the Chairman (D. Leahy)—(11).

The Chairman then gave his casting vote in favour of Mr. Morrissey.

contest as he was confident the Council would respect an old agreement. On the condition that he would be no contest Mr. Murphy agreed to go forward and in view of this he could not see his way to second Mr. Heskin's proposal but he certainly would support his selection to the issue.

Mr. M. Morrissey (Solr)—I think that it is a terrific pity that this Council have now gone over to political issues for the first time during my membership. I regret that there is to be a political division and I must state that I strongly feel there should not be. I have been sitting in the Fianna Fail benches always but I never realised it really until today. I am ashamed to state that the old political fuss of the past is once again coming up here amongst us to disrupt the still water of a Council that has done so well to date.

Mr. Ormonde had made a political issue out of the matter when he stated—We of the Fianna Fail Party.

Mr. Ormonde had no intention whatever of making a political issue out of this. I would be satisfied to abide by the old Council practice if Mr. Norris was a member of a recognised party but I am not satisfied that he is and therefore I do not intend to abide by it. I do not want to introduce politics here. God knows we have enough of them outside but I will maintain that no party can claim Mr. Norris. Mr. Barron said that he represented a small group who stood firm in their cause and it was only too well that Mr. Ormonde and others knew of that cause.

Mr. Kyne stated that they of the Labour Party accepted the resignation of Mr. Norris as a member of a party. Indeed he added too well we can recall how clearly Mr. Norris made that known to us especially those of the Labour Party. Mr. Kyne said that Mr. Murphy would have their full support.

Senator Butler said that he regretted very much that Mr. Norris resigned because he had been a great man in the past. He stood for and no one could deny that he was representative of the farmers. He said that he was utterly amazed to hear it stated or suggested that there was no farmer party in the County. He would like to remind the members who thought so that there was and still is, and Mr. Norris was one of its principal members who even stood for the County Council. He stated that he was a member of the County Council for the past 31 years and while the old practice of co-opting a member of the party to replace a resigning member of a member was there it had always been strongly adhered to. Mr. Quirk suggested that they might come to some settlement without a vote but added that if it did go to vote he would support his party—the Fianna Fail Party.

Mr. N. Walsh—To say that I am surprised at this situation would be putting it mildly. The members of the Fianna Fail Party have been quibbling with words for the past hour with one view of taking a political advantage. Indeed I must state that they are taking the word of their Chairman very lightly. He has just refreshed their memories. I will recall to them when they come into the Council room they leave outside their political mantles and play their part in the representation of the ratepayers.

Mr. Morrissey at this stage said that he would second Mr. Heskin's proposal.

Mr. Quirk suggested that Mr. Norris should appoint someone to do the job.

Mr. Heskin and Mr. Barron appealed to Mr. Ormonde to withdraw his proposal but Mr. Ormonde refused to do so.

POWER'S LEMONADE IS A NICER DRINK

ESB Agent For Tallow
A resolution calling on the ESB to immediately appoint a local agent in Tallow to deal with the tallow issue was passed unanimously.

Mr. Quirk stated that it was very unfair to the people of Tallow to say that they had been left without a local agent for the past three years. If they have a breakdown as has been the case quite often in the past with very serious results to the business people of the area as well as to the ordinary man in the street they may have to wait as long as six hours before the repairs are carried out. The position at present is he stated that they have to go into Lismore for a man to do the repairs and this is not at all times an easy matter.

Mr. Quirk stated that they of the Labour Party accepted the resignation of Mr. Norris as a member of a party. Indeed he added too well we can recall how clearly Mr. Norris made that known to us especially those of the Labour Party. Mr. Kyne said that Mr. Murphy would have their full support.

by the Department. In reply to the same member the Co. Engineer stated that with reference to the resolution passed about twelve months ago authorising the Council to buy in certain much needed materials they were still awaiting delivery.

Mr. Campion raised a question in connection with a water supply at Ballysaggart which he stated was not completed before the Council staff went away.

Mr. Ormonde Chief Assistant Engineer stated that the men were taken off the job on the instructions of the Council to carry out a very urgent job in the Eastern end of the county. They would return to Ballysaggart when this work was completed.

Appointments

On a vote which resulted 11 to 9 Mr. Kyne was elected a member of the Waterford Mental Hospital Committee.

Mr. P. Butler was unanimously elected member of the Co. Committee of Agriculture.

Mr. T. Morrissey was unanimously elected member of the County Old Age Pensions Committee.

Recent Storm Victims

Following a resolution passed at a previous meeting calling on the Irish Red Cross to aid the victims of a storm which swept over the Ballygaur area, Dungarvan, on November 4th, a grant of £30 was made to Miss M. M. Healy for the purchase of household requirements.

This was stated by the Secretary who also stated that a cheque for two guineas had been received from a Wexford man to be given to the victims.

The Secretary placed a report of the Council Engineers on the damage done before the meeting also a report from the Superintendent Public Assistance Officer Mr. Phelan which stated that neither party would Home Assistance or would accept it. On account of the terrible damage done to their dwellings and the fact that some of their outhouses had been completely wiped out some source was badly needed.

The case of Miss Healy was particularly pathetic since she has no home now and had been given refuge with Mr. Fraher and his sister (who were the other victims) who have restored the roof of their homes.

Mr. W. Leahy her relative is also staying with neighbours Mr. Phelan went on to say that the roof of her home had been stripped completely furniture destroyed and her clothing and wearing apparel ruined. He suggested that she was in serious need of immediate aid.

A letter from the Department of Local Government stated that Reconstruction Grants had been applied for in November last. £76 had been allocated to Mr. Fraher (maximum being £80). In the case of Miss Healy the Department was notified that she did not wish to resume occupation of her former home but desired to have another house reconstructed. This house has been found unfit for reconstruction and Miss Healy has been informed of the fact. She was sent application forms for State Assistance but so far they have not been received. With regard to the damage to the out-houses on Mr. Fraher's farm he was told of the Agricultural Grants but did not wish to avail of the provisions of the scheme but applied for a grant for the erection of a new store.

Mr. M. Morrissey (Solr)—I think that it is a terrific pity that this Council have now gone over to political issues for the first time during my membership. I regret that there is to be a political division and I must state that I strongly feel there should not be. I have been sitting in the Fianna Fail benches always but I never realised it really until today. I am ashamed to state that the old political fuss of the past is once again coming up here amongst us to disrupt the still water of a Council that has done so well to date.

Mr. Ormonde had made a political issue out of the matter when he stated—We of the Fianna Fail Party.

Mr. Ormonde had no intention whatever of making a political issue out of this. I would be satisfied to abide by the old Council practice if Mr. Norris was a member of a recognised party but I am not satisfied that he is and therefore I do not intend to abide by it. I do not want to introduce politics here. God knows we have enough of them outside but I will maintain that no party can claim Mr. Norris. Mr. Barron said that he represented a small group who stood firm in their cause and it was only too well that Mr. Ormonde and others knew of that cause.

Mr. Kyne stated that they of the Labour Party accepted the resignation of Mr. Norris as a member of a party. Indeed he added too well we can recall how clearly Mr. Norris made that known to us especially those of the Labour Party. Mr. Kyne said that Mr. Murphy would have their full support.

Senator Butler said that he regretted very much that Mr. Norris resigned because he had been a great man in the past. He stood for and no one could deny that he was representative of the farmers. He said that he was utterly amazed to hear it stated or suggested that there was no farmer party in the County. He would like to remind the members who thought so that there was and still is, and Mr. Norris was one of its principal members who even stood for the County Council. He stated that he was a member of the County Council for the past 31 years and while the old practice of co-opting a member of the party to replace a resigning member of a member was there it had always been strongly adhered to. Mr. Quirk suggested that they might come to some settlement without a vote but added that if it did go to vote he would support his party—the Fianna Fail Party.

Mr. N. Walsh—To say that I am surprised at this situation would be putting it mildly. The members of the Fianna Fail Party have been quibbling with words for the past hour with one view of taking a political advantage. Indeed I must state that they are taking the word of their Chairman very lightly. He has just refreshed their memories. I will recall to them when they come into the Council room they leave outside their political mantles and play their part in the representation of the ratepayers.

Mr. Morrissey at this stage said that he would second Mr. Heskin's proposal.

Mr. Kyne—Defer this entire matter until the appointment of rate collectors—that is if you do not mind. I will have a whole thing. We all know that there lies the kernel of the whole trouble.

Mr. Quirk suggested that Mr. Norris should appoint someone to do the job.

Mr. Heskin and Mr. Barron appealed to Mr. Ormonde to withdraw his proposal but Mr. Ormonde refused to do so.

Mr. Morrissey—If this question is not settled here we will mark my words we will have a political issue made out of everything raised in the Council. The coming appointment of the Rate Collectors will be one of the biggest political issues ever to hit this county and inside here it will be politics straight from the word 'go'. Because of this I appeal to you to leave out politics altogether.

The Co. Engineer replied that Mr. Ormonde made a last appeal to Mr. Leahy to withdraw his proposal. Mr. Leahy said that he was sorry the matter had arisen as he did not like to vote against any of the two candidates but he would strongly support his own party Fianna Fail.

Messrs P. Butler, M. McGrath (oldest member of the Council, elected in 1910), and Mr. Harty, also expressed their views on the matter and finally they agreed to a division which resulted as set out at the outset.

Voting went as follows—
For Mr. Murphy—Senator Butler, Messrs Harty, Kyne, L. Morrissey, P. Butler, J. Campion, D. Heskin, N. Walsh, R. Barron, M. Morrissey, Power (11).
For Mr. Walsh—Messrs N. Walsh, M. McGrath, J. Fahey, S. Ormonde, F. Roche, J. Quirk, W. Kennedy, T. Kirwan, E. Power, and the Chairman (D. Leahy)—(11).

The Chairman then gave his casting vote in favour of Mr. Morrissey.

by the Department. In reply to the same member the Co. Engineer stated that with reference to the resolution passed about twelve months ago authorising the Council to buy in certain much needed materials they were still awaiting delivery.

Mr. Campion raised a question in connection with a water supply at Ballysaggart which he stated was not completed before the Council staff went away.

Mr. Ormonde Chief Assistant Engineer stated that the men were taken off the job on the instructions of the Council to carry out a very urgent job in the Eastern end of the county. They would return to Ballysaggart when this work was completed.

Readers will recall what I said last week which I now endorse with the addition that the argument being handed out to this great and game boxer is below all standards of sportsmanship and the time has come when a strong protest is the only way to hit back at the R.A.F. sportsman in every sense of the word. His journey to Dublin on last Friday night, following the manner in which he was originally ignored, his superb display in the ring and the simple way in which he accepted the decision of the fight, all go to show the veracity of my statement.

Radio Eireann paid tribute to the fight he made and to the decision which he was deprived of by the judges. So far as to state openly and without fear of contradiction that there has been and still is a strong feeling against our own fighting hero in official boxing circles in the Capital. The boy from the county (as they titled him) whose lead to the City has been too big to follow but it has been proved by Pete's own admission that he kept a good one down.

The following comments from a daily Press of Saturday last like home a point and pose the same question—WHY?

Cork Examiner—Crowd demonstrate—Peter Crotty, the Munster boxer on the Irish team showed all his old fire and power in outpunching the English welterweight A. C. J. F. Moloney yet the judges awarded the decision to the Englishman. The decision was as popular as it was surprising and pandemonium broke out as the contest as he was confident the Council would respect an old agreement. On the condition that he would be no contest Mr. Murphy agreed to go forward and in view of this he could not see his way to second Mr. Heskin's proposal but he certainly would support his selection to the issue.

Mr. M. Morrissey (Solr)—I think that it is a terrific pity that this Council have now gone over to political issues for the first time during my membership. I regret that there is to be a political division and I must state that I strongly feel there should not be. GUN CLUB NOTES—The Committee are in full strength at their February Meeting held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel on Monday night 11th.

The Chairman Mr Tobin had a heavy agenda before him. The Secretary read the Order recently made by the Minister for Justice under Sub Section (1) of Section 15 of the Game Preservation Act 1930 declaring the Dungarvan Gun Club to be an Association within the meaning of the said Section.

The question of the quality and quantity of adult birds and hats during the coming Season was enthusiastically discussed and also the best areas wherein to release the birds. The Secretary was directed to proceed at once with the releases. There is a very important factor associated with the release of pheasants. These birds are reared in captivity consequently they are practically tame and will remain so for a few weeks after release. In this way they may fly into farmers yards, etc. in search of food until such time as they learn to fend for themselves. The protection of those birds will be a very important factor and the club exhort the public at large to do their part to help the efforts of the Club to restock game. The Council decided to make an award of £10 to the body responsible for bringing to justice anyone found destroying a pheasant over the lands preserved by the Club.

It was further decided that the Club start its vermin destruction scheme on Sunday 2nd March.

With regard to the Clubs dance in Clonca on Sunday night all arrangements were decided upon with a view to making the dance an enjoyable success.

Brief History Of The Presentation Order

(Continued From Last Issue) Under the guidance of their Foundress and first Superioress Mother Nano Nagle the newly associated Congregation of Presentation Sisters applied themselves with unremitting zeal to the education of the poor and to visiting and caring for the needy sick and the aged. Their lives posited the daily conquest of human desires however small and the humbling contradictions which could only be met as they were by lives of inner sanctity. This blessed union of the active and contemplative spirit bore fruit in abundance. The Presentation Order was a new vocation was attracted to their ranks and in a few years they were making preparations for the establishment of their Sisters in Kerry and Dublin at the request of the respective Bishops. But Mother Nagle's span on earth was drawing to a close and on the 26th April 1784 her holy foundations in Cork mourned the loss of their beloved Foundress. She was buried in the Ursuline cemetery. Mother Nagle's heroic life on earth was over. In an Ireland congealed with indifferism towards the misery degradation and illiteracy of the poor she had spent herself in the service of the underprivileged. But though dead to the world in body her inspiration and sanctity were not dead. Her Congregation which she had founded for the perpetuation of her life's work and the greater glory of God in 1780 she had one Congregation and six Sisters. Today her Congregation are numbered in their hundreds and her Sisters in thousands all over the world.

Pioneer of Convent Education in this Country Mother Nagle was also the initiator of a worldwide apostolate of Christian Education and Charity for the sake of the world which she directly established in the Ursuline and Presentation Foundations her influence and idealism inspired a host of devoted souls to devote themselves to works of mercy and education among the poor. Of the many such two are of particular interest in that the Orders they founded inspired a foundress well known to their countrymen—the people of Dungarvan.

Three years after Nano Nagle's death another heroic lady, Catherine Elizabeth McKeown, was born in Dungarvan. Nano Nagle she belonged to the realms of wealth and high society and expended her fortune and her life in the uplifting and betterment of Christ's poor. To her credit it may be said that she kept up the good work now and then and was ready for the championship.

Departure of Miss Betty Nolan—During the week another point of Cappoquin was the person of Miss Betty Nolan left Cappoquin to take up a position as teacher in the National School at Borris Co. Carlow. Miss Nolan is second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan and we join with Betty's many friends and admirers in wishing her every success and happiness in her new surroundings at Borris.

Lecture—A lecture on increased food production will be given at Mount Mellary National School by Mr. David Walsh Agricultural Instructor on Wednesday 19th Feb. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

At The Desmond—On Sunday night Feb 17th John Payne Gull Russell with Lon O'Connell and Mrs. Wines Captain China will be seen in their new production. The Irish Eyes Are Smiling. If you want to hear some lovely songs you should surely see this grand musical picture, and you will be entertained from start to finish in technicolor. It is really worth seeing. As a round up laugh and Hardy will make you laugh to your heart's content in Me And My Pal.

Transmouset Express—Is it not difficult to believe that 600 men had been paid off when one considered that in the Ballymacarbery area alone 56 men had been paid off?

The Co. Engineer stated that he had been informed by Mr. Costello one of the Council Engineers that all of these men were not regulars.

Mr. Kynne—Well not altogether. I want to put it that way. It is not a fact that the only time they were regular was during the three years of the Inter-Party Government.

When a suggestion was made that work could be gone ahead with while they were waiting for the grants in respect of next year's estimate it was pointed out that this would not be possible.

Mr. Kynne—What about the footpaths which are being laid down in O'Connell Street? They are provided for in the 1952-1953 estimate yet they are being dealt with now. The same could be done in other cases.

In the course of further discussion Senator Butler and Mr. Kynne made it clear that they were anxious to see to it that the 600 men referred to would be re-employed before the end of March.

Repair To Bridge—Mr. L. Morrissey referred to a bridge near Brown's Bridge on the Waterford-Cappoquin-Clonmel road stating that it was in need of early attention and should be looked after immediately. Enough money was available.

It was pointed out that the matter was at present receiving attention.

"Bulloney and Bluff"—Mr. Kynne asked why it was that Mr. Walsh had suggested that the meeting when other engineers were present.

The Manager replied that he did not think every engineer was needed at the meeting as whatever reports they would

There was a good deal of discussion on the matter during which some members voiced their dissatisfaction with the manner in which the Department had treated both cases.

Mr. Mansfield said that he could not stand by their own people as they should. He thought it odd that a person in Wexford could realise how badly off these Ballygurry people were.

Finally it was agreed that Messrs M. Hartly M. McGrath and J. Mansfield should meet the victims and discuss the whole position with them and report their findings to the Council.

Road Taken Over—It was agreed that the road from Ballyduff to Tournage road be taken over by the Co. Council and that the sum of £250 be spent on putting it into good condition.

The Chairman and Mr. Kynne stated that there would be a meeting in taking over the road if they did not make a good job of it for the people so dependent on it.

Mr. Quirke moved the proposal.

Road Grants—No Information—When the consideration of road works schemes came before the meeting the Co. Secretary reported that up to date they had not received details regarding forthcoming grants from the Department.

Mr. Kynne stated that in view of this he considered it a waste of public money to the extent of about £100 in calling the agenda as the other items on the agenda could be dealt with at any time. He strongly protested against the delay stating that during the term of the Inter-Party Government the members of the Council kept on protesting that they could not make up their minds about the grants. Now he felt that it was going to get the grants and Mr. Ormonde replied stating that he would like to make it very clear that the position as he understood it was that the Minister is at present considering the matter and that the grants were cut by the Coalition Government.

Mr. Kynne—Can we quote Mr. Ormonde on this statement?

Mr. Ormonde—Yes why it was that the copies of the provisional road works scheme had been printed in Clonmel instead of within the county to which the Secretary referred. The copies had been no tenders from any of the Co. Waterford printers.

Mr. Power said that if this was the case it spoke very badly for the Waterford printers.

Mr. Heston suggested that the Council should head with the Co. Roads Scheme and try to keep men employed otherwise while they would be waiting for the grants allocation money would have to be paid.

Mr. Kynne pointed out that they could not do this unless they had enough money and the position was that they did not have enough money. He asked if it was that 600 Council workers had been paid off and was told by the Co. Engineer that they had not enough money to carry on the road works Mr. Sheedy added that he did not think the number of men on the 600 seemed very high but in reply to further questions by Mr. Kynne he could not deny the statement.

Mr. Kynne went on to say that it would not be difficult to believe that 600 men had been paid off when one considered that in the Ballymacarbery area alone 56 men had been paid off.
