25 years In fact the same De partment will not recognise the fact that Dungarvan is a town—they classify the local post office as sub office only just a fraction sympathy to Deputy Tom Kyne above the standards of a village and the other members of the Department may I point out their mother which sad event that under British rule in Ireland Dungarvan had three postmen serving the town postmen are now expected to cover the whole town of Dungarvan every morning and even-Their rounds are big at least twice as big as those thirty years ago and certainly too big to expect the efficiency in deliveries to which the rate payers are entitled and a third

In Abbeyside the most seriously affected area one man is expected to do the work of expected to do the work of After a lively and thoroughly Superman with the morning enjoyable holiday at home delivery He has to cover all the among the old folk, Bennie Superman with the morning superman with the morning delivery He has to cover all the streets in Abbeyside which is no longer a village, before moving the Old Boro sailed from Cobh on Sunday morning last bound on Sunday morning last bound for the Statue of Liberty, and Shee Frame II, Mr H A Hall Shee Frame II, Mr H A Hall starts this delivery he has to Before his departure a colour-distribute a load of parcels jul send off party was given him around Abbeyside His load has at the home of Mr and Mrs to be carried on the Post Office O Connor Sexton Street Abbeybike hanging from all quarters side which was attended by old making his task even more friends

Without doubt an extra man Is urgently needed in Abbeyside together at one of Jack Pheand steps should be taken in lan's well known saloons where mediately to see that the slavery all the latest news on the old and drudgery of the local post-land will be recalled by the man's lot is replaced by the returned Gael

I reside in Abbeyside and usually my mail is of an urgent nature but by the time it reaches my door half the day is gone thereby allowing me only a few hours to a supply a suppl gone thereby allowing me only a few hours to get a full days work done I quote my own case as one small illustration of

And what of the town s parcel delivery service? Here we are Here we are try was broadcast in 1952 the great atomic age and Dungarvan postmen have to

The best "LOOKED AFTER" men to-day

Ues! The young man who accepts a term of service with the Forces to-day will indeed find that he is well looked after. He has excellent food and well cooked meals, ample holidays during the year with free travel, comfortable recreation rooms in barracks, sports fields and all facilities to play the game of his choice The rates of pay compare favourably with those obtainable in civilian life

Life in the Army or Navy offers many attractions and provides amenities which can scarcely be found in a civilian career

A period of service with the Colours will make a boy a "better man" THE FORCES
