BYE-ELECTION CAMPAIGN OPENS

Single And Very Clear Issue—Says Mr. Costello

Mr Costello speaking in Dungarvan last Sunday before a very large crowd said that in the bye-election there is a single and very clear issue whether the people are satis-fied to face the Budget burdens or whether, being con-vinced that neither the circum-stances of the time nor the country's financial or economic conditions require or justify those burdens they will make it those burdens they will make it clear that the Government have neither authority nor justification for the unjust and unnecessary hardships which they propose

Mr Costello are framed on the assumption that incomes have advanced beyond the cost of additional sterling assets the continued rise in volume and value of our exports as the figures for our exports for the first four months of this year they will observe the rate of the first four months of this year they will observe the rate of the first four months of this year they will observe the will observe they will observe the will observe the

They profess belief in the necessity for capital development and its finance by current savings, but failed to take adpeople's capacity to save

Mr Costello said that the minded all of what the cost of Budget's true aim was to main-living would be like after July tain our foreign investments 4th and pointed out this was For this purpose the people's in-tion that we are living beyond our means, and that the nation like a prodigal person was run-

We have been told that money 2 Fine Gael. spent at home but nothing has spoke been said about the immense external disinvestments was invested at home in projects of ing spent on financing a budgetary

Another of their catch-phrases is to say that the country was on a spree If it was, then it on a spree If it was, then it was a spree of expenditure conceived in the best interests of the Irish people and benefiting, above all, the poorest classes, and catering for our most urgent needs It was a spree which we could well because cause no community other European mands such external resources

If the spree is ended that has been left in the hands of the foreign borrower, for him to waste in the future and play the prodigal with it in the same fashion as he has done by depreciation and devaluation in the past while home production stagnates and unemployment mounts

The true economic policy is a policy of high investment particularly in agriculture where any expansion will produce good results in export

MR DILLON TESTS THE TWO POLICIES

Mi Kyne-No one wants the say what the Press should or private affairs of people made should not publish all meetings of public boards if public or committee cessible Senator Butler—We re handi-Charman—I regiet as much capped before we start at all as as you do that we have to hold we don't know all the applithis meeting in committee

Mr Kyne—Will the Press be he meeting

Manager-Yes Senator Butler-What is the business of this meeting is it let houses before they passed it to discuss the names we got or on to the Rent Collector and We were only given a list now of 60 names and those are the Judgment on those who selectpeople selected for the houses of all the applicants and did not get that and if we are not going said that he resented the inferto get that list there's nothing ence in Mr to discuss

Manager—There was a big number of applicants and the list is available here now if it is was to report on and recomwanted The list of recommend- riend on the housing conditions ed applicants was the only list of the people and that was all Council and how are we to know who know the Letting Regulations applied for houses if we have too and in Cork where the same not got the full list regulations are in force the

from the meeting we had when Manager have regard to the re-Abbeyside houses? Chairman—I m not sure but don't think so Manager—If the meeting is held in Committee the names of people can be mentioned freely draw his remark given to the points raised to make it No 1 Labour and No know the full list of applicants want is co-operation from the and they can't say in the absence of that who would be more entitled to houses than those on the selected list A monster meeting was also Manager—It's not a matter tion but we are natives of ddressed in Waterford on for the Council to adjudicate town and know the people we have been sadly neglected. Mr Kyne-The position is so

> Manager—Every case was scrutinized and examined by Mr Kyne—I can prove four cases that are more entitled to did not mind as he had got all houses than some on the list he wanted houses than some on the list not saying of course that al those on the list are entitled to houses, but these people are more entitled

Ground Limestone for Pastures

Most GRASSLANDS benefit greatly in both increased yields and improved quality of herbage from the application of CROUND LIMESTONE These improvements are reflected in increased thrifimess and health of stock

SUMMER when the land is dry, is the most convenient time to apply ground limestone to grasslands. It does not injure the stock or the herbage. A few showers wash it into the soil

GROUND LIMESTONE is available at an attractive price and is transported free of charge to
