SPOTLIGHT ON THE UNKNOWN

By THOMAS TOBIN

WATERFORD OF THE PAST SLEEPLY CASTLE AND ITS TRAGEDY
 The officers attempted to seize their words, but the banditti rushing forward overpowered and disarmed them and forced them back into their chairs, and held pistols to their heads. Amid the angry ejaculations of the officers, the cries and threats of the robbers, and the screams of the terrified girls the widow recognised Green of whom she had so often heard, and she flung herself on her knees before him exclaiming, "Oh Mr Green, I know you and I know your purpose, but I do not ask you to desert—I do not ask you to spare my property—take all money, plate, jewels—all the silver plate, from turret to foundation if you will—I only make one prayer to you—oh for the love of heaven! harm not my daughters."

light and disappeared they cried after the retreating banditti to act humanely towards their prisoners—crowding steps they heard descending, the stairs and tramping heavily without. The sisters hurried breathlessly up the stone stairs to their tower and out on the top to look down below through the night gloom they saw a dark compact mass crossing the draw-bridge, there was a halt when it had crossed, they heard the grating sound of a sledge or sliding-car there was some struggle, some altercation it became evident that the outlaws were forcibly placing their prisoners on the car and binding them upon it—the struggle ceases the grating sound was again heard, and the heavy retreating steps, the close black mass was seen moving rapidly in the direction of the Sleepy Rock and soon utterly lost in the darkness.

"Madam," replied the outlaw "you are worthy to have a request granted if you bear a good name you have been good to the poor and kind to your tenants and it shall be granted if your guests here remain quiet and give me trouble but not else. Hark ye, boys I (turning to the gang and holding out a pistol) if the best and bravest among you, or even my own son dares lay a hand on the least of these soldiers as quiet he shall receive the contents of this through his brains.

It was a miserable night at Sledy, they thought day would never dawn. At the first gleam of light the officers' servants milled and galloped back to Clonmel to report their masters' misfortune to the corps. The strictest searches were instantly made by both civil and military authorities to discover the robbers and their prisoners, but the former had abandoned the Sleepy Rock and the "Lios" and could not be traced and no ingenuity nor activity not even the reputation of a very large reward availed to procure the least clue of the fate of the illustrious officers.

And where it will be asked, was Pierce McGrath the while? Tradition says that he was present during the whole scene but does not state that he was noticed in any way by the robbers, or that he took any active part or even offered any remonstrance (which, however, would have been useless) and his neutrality proved injurious to himself and the cause.

For some time the sorrowing sisters tried to hope that their loved ones were not safe, that Green had only confined them in some remote and secret nook till he could release them without danger to himself or his band. Though Sledy Castle had been pillaged to an extent that some-what injured the family, they disregarded their loss in their anxiety for their absent friends. For hours those young ladies sat watching on the turret-top their hearts beat with the hope of a passing stranger—was it some coming to treat for ransom? They started at every horse tramp—was it the lost returning? They were in that state of imaginative dreamy hope so well described by Miss Baillie in her beautiful drama of "The Beacon"—

"Wish'd for gales the light vans veering
 Better dreams the dull night cheering
 Lighter heart the morning greeting
 Things of better omen meeting
 Eyes each passing stranger watching,
 Ears each feeble rumour catching
 Say he existeth still on earth,
 The absent will return, the long long-lost be forthwith.

THE HARP THAT ONCE
 The harp that once through Tara's halls
 The soul of music shed,
 Now hangs as mute on Tara's walls,
 As if that soul were fled
 So sleeps the pride of former days
 So glory's thrill is o'er,
 And hearts that once beat high for praise,
 Now feel that pulse no more
 No more to chiefs and ladies bright
 The harp of Tara swells,
 The chord alone that breaks at night,
 Tale of ruin tells
 Thus waken now so seldom wakes,
 The only thrub she gives,
 Is when some heart indignantly breaks,
 To show that still she lives

DUNGARVAN DRAW WITH KILOSSANTY

EXCITING FINISH TO HARD FOUGHT GAME

Killorossanty 1-4
 Dungarvan 1-4

At the Gaelic field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last in glorious weather and before a good attendance the Senior Football semi-final match was played between the champions—Killorossanty and Dungarvan.

The game proved a very thrilling and exciting encounter and it gave the champions all they could do to hold back the robust and at times temperamental men in the closing stages of the game. As a matter of fact many keen judges of the big ball code were heard to express the view that the Dungarvan men deserved to be on top when the final whistle sounded. Be that as it may the Comeragh men fought out the issue in a dour fashion and held out, thus making it another meeting for the two teams.

The match was played in a good sporting spirit, and if hard knocks were given, they were taken in a good manly spirit. Due to close marking exchanges were not frequent and at times tempers became frayed but the game went on until in the closing seconds, with both sides on level terms, a fisticuff brought the game to an end. The full-time whistle blew the full-time whistle.

The game opened very tamely with Killorossanty having the better of the exchanges. Dungarvan did not seem to put much into their play and Killorossanty attacked and had three wides in succession. They certainly lost scores at this period of the game, as the Dungarvan backs were not properly set down. Killorossanty had the fourth wide before Jimmy Power from a close-in free opened the score sheet for Killorossanty when he drove over the bar.

Frequent fouls marred the continuity of the game at this stage, but as the minutes flew by the Dungarvan men were finding their feet. "Cheasty" Lonergan put Killorossanty attacking but McGrath, Dalton and McHugh proved sound in the Dungarvan defence and turned play. Dungarvan had two frees in succession and Mansfield drove over the second one to level the scores after fifteen minutes play. Dungarvan then got going and in a nice wing movement Cunningham sent in a high ball, Jackie Goode, raced in and getting possession banged home a grand free to give Dungarvan the lead (1-1) to 0.

Dungarvan playing much better now had the champions all but rattled. Forcing the play back into their play, Dalton worried but R. Maguire, Pendergast and Kirwan were prominent for the champions. With Killorossanty again on the attack Power was fouled and the Killorossanty marksmen, "Cheasty" sent over a point. Play became rough at this period and both teams were mixed the give and take of the fray. Billy Kirwan was playing a grand game for Killorossanty and put his forwards in possession several times, but the Dungarvan full-back line led by McHugh stood up well to the attacks. When Killorossanty pressed again, Goode cleared well down the field. Dungarvan then attacked and Goode sent in a grand cross shot, but the ball went wide. From the kick out, Killorossanty pressed and from a free Jimmy Power kicked over to level the scores at 1-1 to 0-4. This score put Killorossanty on the go and in a twinkling Jimmy Power put the Killorossanty forwards attacking and a lightening goal resulted when Monica Maguire drove a masher to the net, to give the champions the lead in the closing stages of the first half. Killorossanty were now putting all they had into the game and had the Dungarvan men non-plussed. Billy Kirwan in a solo run travelled almost seventy yards of the field and in a grand effort had hard luck for a goal as Billy McGrath the Dungarvan back covered up well and cleared. When Killorossanty pressed again McHugh was to the fore. He was fouled in possession and the resultant free relieved pressure. With play at midfield the shot was taken and leaving the scores Killorossanty, 1-4, Dungarvan 1-1.

Playing with the wind and sun in the second half, Dungarvan were first to attack and Moss Queally who was playing lovely football, sent a nice pass to Jackie Goode who drove over for a point. Dungarvan Killorossanty returned the play and from a free wided Queally, Phelan, and Tobin, combined in a dangerous attack, but when all but through, Tobin was fouled and the shot for free was kicked low and blocked down by Cheasty Lonergan. Killorossanty then attacked and Billy Kirwan was again a victim of his feature solo runs. He went inside the sixty yards being brought down. The free was had by McHugh, but no sooner was the ball out when Jimmy Power repeated Kirwan's run and he was also fouled. The shot for free was free from a difficult angle was kicked accurately between the posts by Cheasty.

With play entering the last quarter, Dungarvan attacked and Queally getting possession took the field by storm and in a grand solo run finished up by kicking a grand point for Dungarvan. Shortly afterwards Tom Cunningham scored another point for Dungarvan. Dungarvan were now playing in grand style and when Moss Queally fielded a high ball, put Cunningham in possession to the latter scoring a grand point to bring the Dungarvan men well into the picture. Following some exchanges play slowed up somewhat, and when Killorossanty attacked again Cheasty Lonergan was again on the mark when he drove over a free kick. Dungarvan then in hard luck when Cunningham wided for free. At this stage of the game E. Power (Dungarvan) retired and Paul Lannen came on as sub. Paul received a great clap as he took the field. Following some hard play, Dungarvan were coming out on top and the Killorossanty backs had to concede a "fifty" under pressure. The free was driven wide, and following the kick out, Dungarvan lost several likely chances. It was at this stage that the Old Boro' lads lost their chance of victory as they threw away several good openings in strong minutes. The Killorossanty backs were neverly pressed, and when Tom Cunningham sent over the equaliser a great cheer went up from the Dungarvan supporters. With time practically up Killorossanty made one more attempt at an effort and forcing play to the Dungarvan end tried every trick of the game to break through. The Dungarvan backs with McGrath and McHugh bearing the brunt of the attack held their fort, and in close robust play a fisticuff resulted, and the referee blew the full-time whistle and the game ended in a draw, the full-time scores being—Killorossanty, 1-6 Dungarvan, 1-6.

500 COUNTY COUNCIL WORKERS TO STRIKE
 Sequel To Wage Increase Demands
 Five hundred Waterford County Council road and yard workers have decided to take strike action in support of their demand for increased wages and better working conditions.

The strike was announced by Dungarvan last Sunday night by Mr P. Breen Branch Secretary Amalgamated Transport and General Workers Union following a conference of workers from all over the County.

On the 21st May last, the Union on behalf of the men applied for 20% per week increase in wages for road workers and lorry drivers. The Co. Manager, Mr S. J. Moynihan, replied stating that no provision had been made for increased wages under the road works scheme for 1952/53 and he was therefore recommending only a 6% increase to be paid from that date. It was understood by all that this recommendation would be sent to the Department of Local Government for sanction, immediately. The matter was questioned at a meeting of the Council last week and it was stated by the Co. Secretary, Mr G. Dowling that the Manager had recommended only six shillings per week increase and nothing extra for carters. The recommendation had only been sent to the Department for sanction two weeks previous to the meeting, stated the County Secretary.

Mr Breen stated that his Union applied for an increase of 20% per week for Yardmen last July and since then the Union had heard nothing from the Co. Manager, on the matter. At a meeting of the Yardmen they voted for immediate strike action.

A conference of the Roadworkers and carters was called and was attended by delegates from every district in the County. They agreed to take immediate strike action and decided to serve notice in support of their demands which are as follows:

A minimum of 9% per week increase in wages for roadworkers. A minimum of 15% per week increase in wages for carters as recommended by the Co. Council.

All manual workers of the Co. Council to be members of a Trade Union. Twelve days holiday for all manual workers.

Carters to be paid at full rates of pay for Church and annual holidays.

Trade Union regulations of last in and first out to be applied to Council workers.

All wages increases in this case to date from June, 30th last.

A total of 500 workers are involved in the dispute.

Strike action is also being served on Dungarvan Urban District Council for the same demands in respect of yardmen employed by the Council.

Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture

Increased Demand On Co. Council

Western Bay Scheme—A Cold War

Waterford Co. Committee of Agriculture at their usual monthly meeting in Dungarvan on Friday, Sept 12th spent almost four hours examining the estimates for the various agricultural schemes of 1952/53 in the hope of effecting a reduction of Mr P. R. Power Chairman's proposals.

The total amount of the schemes was £15,934 while the actual amount available was £13,320 leaving a deficit of £2,614. This deficit was reduced through various cuts in the schemes to £1,600 and the Committee decided that there was no alternative but to go to the County Council for a further 1½d in the rates bringing their total demand up to 6½d under the maximum demand allowed.

Discussions all through the matter were of wide interest. Mr R. Day, Department Inspector was in attendance and dealt very fully with all items in the Estimate. He stated at the outset that while the cost of the schemes for the coming year was not greater than the previous one the amount of money available was much less. They would have to cut down on the schemes or go to the Co. Council for more money and this meant increasing the rate. Most counties throughout the country had already reached their maximum demand of 7d and the demand in Waterford at 5½d they were working on a very conservative amount considering the very great value of the schemes and their service to so many.

Mr L. Morrissey held that the whole trouble was in the fact that they were not getting enough of a grant from the Government and he was of the opinion that the rate would be increased from 50% to 75%.

The Inspector stated that he did not think this was possible pointing out that if it was done for one county it would become a precedent for all counties. Mr Morrissey then went on to refer to the price of milk stating that 1/4 would not pay a farmer today. He said that he could not see why they could not get 2/2 a gallon in view of all the big profits being made by the Co-Op creameries.

Mr M. Hartly speaking in support said that it was extraordinary that they should be asked to pay for the Government when they are offered no encouragement whatever to do so from the Department.

Mr Day replied that the answer to this argument was well known to all farmers. No one could stand up at the present time and say that the production of milk costs were and until this is possible there would be no grant.

Mr O'Faolain said that Miss Kelleher had been a most efficient Instructress and he wished her well in her new appointment.

The C.E.O. joined in the tributes to Miss Kelleher who he said had always been an excellent member of the staff.

The resignation was regretfully accepted.

For the filling of the position, there were three applicants—Miss Eileen McCallagh, Limerick; Eileen McCarthy, Ballina, and Mrs. Beresford, Coolinagour, Dungarvan.

All three were qualified and Mr Kelly proposed that Miss Beresford be appointed.

Senator Butler said that it was the custom that all other things being equal that preference be given to people from the County and Miss Beresford was the only County Waterford applicant.

Mr Hartly seconded Mr Kelly and Miss Beresford was unanimously appointed to the position.

Domestic Economy Instructress
 Miss M. (Peg) Kelleher, Domestic Economy Instructress, wrote stating that as she had been appointed Organiser under the Co. Cork Committee she wished to tender her resignation.

Senator Butler said that he had heard that Miss Kelleher was a very charming lady who had been a good teacher and given great satisfaction. Although they were losing her he was glad that she was going to a bigger position.

ours in circulation to the effect that they were being done in certain areas only and if possible he wanted to point out that this was not true.

Mr Morrissey suggested that the money spent on experiments could be put to better use.

The estimate for this item was £600 and a proposal to cut it by £200 was successfully carried.

Mr Hartly stated that he had gained more by a visit to Johnstown Castle than he could hope to get from all the years of these experiments.

Mr P. Conroy C.A.O. said that it would be worth the members who wish their experimental plots and see just what they mean to the farmers of the county. Only on these could they hope to gain the knowledge that was benefiting the county locally and foreign experts who had seen them could not praise them too highly.

The Inspector pointed out that Mr Hartly's trials he had seen in Johnstown Castle would not always apply to conditions in Waterford and the only way they can hope to find out these things was by trying them themselves.

Discussing the allocation of £500 for Orchard Plots, Mr Leamy supported by Mr Morrissey proposed that it be reduced by making the grants £10 for the first acre and £5 for every additional acre up to 15 acres. Several members held that this would kill all hopes of making the farmers of the county apple muddled.

Mr Walsh asked the Instructress Mr O'Shea if he could consider the farmers were becoming apple-minded to which he replied that he did not think so. He referred to the new apple-marketing and packing station in Dungarvan pointing out that it was an industry of its infancy deserving of every possible support. They had gone to great trouble to secure the industry for the county and neighbouring counties and they should stand by it. He felt that the trouble with the Irish farmer generally was that they lack courage—they have no clear cut thinking, no initiative and no driving force. They had in front of them an industry that would benefit them greatly not only in Waterford but far outside it in a few years yet they were not keen on supporting it in its infancy.

Mr Morrissey said that they would be shattered beyond all repair.

Mr Quirk said that the trouble was they felt the waiting period too long. The development of an orchard has something that took at least five years and some people considered that too long—which was their great mistake.

Mr T. Morrissey held that farmers planting orchards should get an exemption of rates for the land planted until such time as the trees bore fruit.

Heskin said that if the people become apple-minded it would prove a great boon to the country. They had done a great amount of work to get the factory in Co. Waterford and now they should support it. They were wise they would lose it and its many advantages. They of the Committee should do all they could to encourage apple growing. If the position was allowed remain stagnant the venture would never become a success and those shouldering the debt of £100,000 to the Government would be paying it off for years and making nothing out of it. Mr Heskin added that it cost £18 to plant an acre of apple trees and it would be five years before the grower would have anything out of it, so they should stand by them in this coming powerful Irish industry.

Mr Morrissey held that if a farmer wanted to grow apples or anything else he would do so on his own without support if

There was considerable argument on show subsidies with several members calling for cuts. After both sides had been heard the balance of power favoured a "no cut" decision.

During the discussion on Instruction on Agriculture (experiments), Mr Leamy asked for a report as to where experiments are being carried out. He said that he had heard rum-

Here's one FUTURE you can control. Whatever good fortune your future may hold—the simple comfort of a cheerful fire is all-important. The exercise of a little foresight now will assure you of this in the coming winter. Turf is plentiful at present, but heavy demands will have to be met in the next few months. It lies in your own hands to make certain that you will have sufficient fuel for the cold months ahead. Do not delay in arranging with your merchant for your needs — act NOW!

MAKE SURE NOW OF NEXT WINTER'S TURF. Guards came to him. The Superintendent said that the statement he had not agreed with what Mr. O'Connor had said. This stated that both had been drinking on the Saturday night and the barmaid was looking for the change of a note when Mr. O'Connor gave her five single pounds and took the 25 note on which the barmaid wrote the date with a biro pen. He put it in the pocket of his good coat which he had on at the time. The following morning he went to work early and had on his working clothes but later in the evening he put on his good clothes again and met defendant at 2.30 p.m. who said nothing to him about the money. Subsequently he missed the money and reported the matter to the Garda. Garda Farrell investigated the case and traced the 25 note to a shop and later questioned defendant who said that he had bought some things with it and had 24 10s change. The full 25 had been refunded. The Justice stated that this had been a mean kind of theft sentenced the defendant to one month in jail without parole.

Dungarvan Need A G.A.A. Pitch. Dungarvan has the unenviable distinction of being the only important town in Ireland which has not got a properly equipped Gaelic playing field. What is the reason for this very unsatisfactory state of affairs? About a year ago hopes were high that the local Gaelic Field would be purchased by the G.A.A. and properly developed and equipped by them. Since then nothing has been heard about the matter. It would appear that the value of the field to the town is not fully appreciated. It is estimated that each year no less than 230,000 is spent in Dungarvan by people who attend matches in the Gaelic Field. If the arena was properly equipped this sum would probably be doubled as many important inter-county games would be played here. What are the prospects for the future? Nobody knows but it is rumored that the County Board may again make a move to acquire the field amongst the people of Dungarvan. It is hoped that if this effort is made it will meet with the success it deserves. We feel that it is the duty of every citizen to lend support to a move to supply the town's long felt want.

4th WATERFORD TROOP
 (St Joseph's Abbeyside)

Troop Meeting—We are back to Sundays again for Troop Meetings and last Sunday we gathered after devotions. We missed a few fellows—PLs too. A number of the boys were sanctioned a further increase in the price of bread to take effect next week. It is a matter which raises questions of grave public concern. Any increase in the price of bread will affect every household but will cause very hard hardship in every working class home, in many homes especially in those of the increasing numbers who are unemployed. At least the children will be deprived of their basic essential food which is the mainstay of their diet.

The Standing Committee of Clann na Poblachta calls for an immediate suspension of the Order made behind closed doors by the Minister for Industry and Commerce pending a full public investigation, and in particular the publication of the following information.

The total amount which the proposed increases will bring into the bread manufacturers.

2 The publication of the gross and net profits of the three leading Bakers for each of the last three years.

3 The amount of the proposed increase in the price of bread which will go to provide increased profits for the bread manufacturers when trade unions and professional organisations are being criticised by the Government for seeking increases in wages to meet the ever increasing cost of living.

4 The deliberate economic policy, no further increase in the price of essential commodities should be permitted without the fullest public investigation. At least the claims of the trade unions and professional organisations are submitted to close public scrutiny before the Labour Court, why should the claims of the bread manufacturers be examined in secrecy and granted by Ministerial Order?

Whether the proposed increase in the price of bread is justified or not public uneasiness will be caused by the lack of public information made available to justify the increase. The fact that certain leading Master Bakers are not without in sympathy with the Bakers' Party and the record of their present administration in regard to the removal of the Defence Tax render it particularly desirable that full information be made available to the public.

Already the deleterious economic policy of the Government has caused an unprecedented rise in the cost of living, disrupted the economic relations between employers and employees and caused a large increase in unemployment and emigration. The time has now reached when public opinion must assert itself and put a halt to a policy which is causing so much hardship to the people. It is a duty of the State to disrupt the economic life of the country.

Death of Mrs. Margaret Moloney, Skeachrine, Dungarvan

It is with deep and sincere regret that we record the death of Mrs. Margaret Moloney, Skeachrine, Dungarvan, who died after a long illness, at an advanced age at her home on Saturday, September 20th.

Relict of Michael Moloney, a well-known member of the farming community who predeceased her by a few years, the late Mrs Moloney was a kindly, genial lady. A member of one of the best-known families in West Waterford, she commanded the esteem and respect of all those whose pleasure it was to know her and her death even now in the fulness of years, is deeply regretted.

At the removal of the remains to Abbeyside Parish Church, on Sunday evening there was a very large and most representative cortege present.

On Monday morning Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated in the church and the soul of the deceased being given to St Augustine's with Rev N P Duffin, O.S.A., and Rev M. Power, C.C., Abbeyside as Celebrant and Rev. P. Farrel, O.S.A., as Officiant.

Subsequently the funeral left for Touraneam, accompanied by a very large cortege, where the interment took place.

We join in extending to the bereaved family and relatives our deepest sympathy.

(Funeral arrangements were carried out by J. Kely & Sons, Undertakers, Dungarvan.) (—)

he knew it was going to be a paying proposition. Mr. Heskin stated he knew of a man who many years ago planted 21 acres of apple trees people laughed at him then but today that man was reaping up to £2000 a year out of his venture.

Mr. Heskin replied to Mr. Morrissey that his orchard was planted 30 years ago and the man received no support in so doing.

Mr. L. Morrissey—That's my point. Mr. O'Shea said that they should bear in mind that every year they were exporting young men and women who were going to outside industries for the purpose of picking, grading and packing apples for shipment to places like Ireland. Not so long ago they in this country imported around £1 million worth of apples and now they have the opportunity of keeping that £1 million within the country thanks to the far seeing former Minister for Agriculture, Mr. J. Dillon but they are throwing their chance away. Mr. O'Shea applied to the farmers to wake up to the possibilities in this industry and to support it in every way.

Finally, on this point the Committee voted against the provision of £500 for the orchard this year and it was reduced to £300.

Mr. Heskin Mr. Quirk and Mr. O'Shea, Instructor held that this would seriously injure their hopes of making the people in the area contented and the hopes of making the new industry a success.

On the question of maintaining the Manual Trials (Orchards) allocation of £400, the Committee again voted against it and a reduction of £100 was made despite the many points raised by the Inspector. It was pointed out that in Kilkenny where they have an instructor on a part-time basis only they provided £300 for this year yet in Waterford they have three of these men and had them for £400 in the past. Without enough money they could not be kept on at all which would mean the loss of an immense value and he felt that this move would mean that one of them would have to go. The main point was he said that these men were being paid by the Department as a condition of the Committee around £2000 if employed in the ordinary way, yet they were having their services for the £400 they provided for the carrying out of the trials.

Seed potato Subsidy scheme was ruled out and special fruit trees scheme was cut by 50%, a reduction of £50.

Despite all cuts it was still found that there was a deficit and consequently it would be necessary to ask the Co. Council for a further £1k in the rates. This proposal was made by Mr. Heskin, who said that unfortunately they had no alternative. He added that agriculturists who were not going to drain the bog and they could not kill the goats that lays the golden egg for if they did there would be no rates there for anyone to carry on.

Mr. J. Fahey seconded the proposal stating that they would like very much to foster all Government schemes but they were up against a stone wall as far as the ratepayers of the county were concerned.

Mr. O'Day suitably replied. The Western Bay, Dungarvan, Committee had before them a letter from the Department of Agriculture which stated it was not yet possible to make available a copy of the Dutch Engineers report on the proposed reclamation of the Western Bay, Dungarvan. The letter further stated that before such a report could be made available an amount of technical data would have to be secured by the Department.

BREAD PRICE INCREASES

To the Editor,

The following statement has been issued by the Standing Committee of Clann na Poblachta.

The announcement that the Minister for Industry and Commerce has behind closed doors sanctioned a further increase in the price of bread to take effect next week is a matter which raises questions of grave public concern. Any increase in the price of bread will affect every household but will cause very hard hardship in every working class home, in many homes especially in those of the increasing numbers who are unemployed. The Standing Committee of Clann na Poblachta calls for an immediate suspension of the Order made behind closed doors by the Minister for Industry and Commerce pending a full public investigation, and in particular the publication of the following information.

The total amount which the proposed increases will bring into the bread manufacturers.

2 The publication of the gross and net profits of the three leading Bakers for each of the last three years.

3 The amount of the proposed increase in the price of bread which will go to provide increased profits for the bread manufacturers when trade unions and professional organisations are being criticised by the Government for seeking increases in wages to meet the ever increasing cost of living.

4 The deliberate economic policy, no further increase in the price of essential commodities should be permitted without the fullest public investigation. At least the claims of the trade unions and professional organisations are submitted to close public scrutiny before the Labour Court, why should the claims of the bread manufacturers be examined in secrecy and granted by Ministerial Order?

Whether the proposed increase in the price of bread is justified or not public uneasiness will be caused by the lack of public information made available to justify the increase. The fact that certain leading Master Bakers are not without in sympathy with the Bakers' Party and the record of their present administration in regard to the removal of the Defence Tax render it particularly desirable that full information be made available to the public.

Already the deleterious economic policy of the Government has caused an unprecedented rise in the cost of living, disrupted the economic relations between employers and employees and caused a large increase in unemployment and emigration. The time has now reached when public opinion must assert itself and put a halt to a policy which is causing so much hardship to the people. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING "A MOST SUCCESSFUL PAST SEASON" - SAYS CHAIRMAN

The Eleventh Annual General Meeting of the Dungarvan Dramatic Club was held at the Club Rooms on Friday evening, 12th September. In his address to the meeting the Chairman, Mr M H O'Hara expressed satisfaction at what must be considered, he said as a most successful past season. "We are now," said the Chairman in our eleventh year and it is most gratifying to note that we are on such a solid footing. Two plays 'Love From A Stranger' and 'Peg O' My Heart' were produced at the Friary Hall, Dungarvan and both attracted large audiences especially 'Peg O' My Heart' and you will notice from the Annual Accounts that the receipts for this play broke all previous records. Continuing the Chairman said the successes which have rewarded our efforts testify in no small measure to the interest and enthusiasm of the members especially the dramatics persons of our various productions. Our membership is not large but it is adequate to enable us to become self-sufficient and although a larger number may prove redundant we always welcome those who consider they can be of assistance either on or off the stage. In conclusion the Chairman said "I thank you all for attending tonight and I am sure we can look forward to another very successful and sociable season".

The following elections were made for the ensuing year - President - Mr M H O'Hara Vice-President - Mr M B Cullinan Joint Hon Secretaries - Mr J Riordan and Mr L Comerford Hon Treasurer - Mr P O'Murca Committee - Mrs M Coward Mrs J Hocking Misses E M O'Neill, Honor Hamilton, Messrs J O'Keefe M J Keane, Maurice Kiely All intending members are requested to give their names to any of the above-named as early as possible. AUTUMN THOUGHTS OR THE GOLDEN HARVEST

At a time such as this when the heat of a past summer is mingling with the cool of a coming winter when the evenings dew is changing into nights of frost and when as a concluding climax the harvest moon is about to appear over the local hills our thoughts must surely dwell for a while on that great mystery of nature - universally called the harvest. Yes on all sides of us we can hear the sweet hum and continual noise of the various kinds of machinery, which are engaged in reaping the corn. The months gone past seem little things, that bright May morning when that corn was sowing fresh and green, but in that brief space of time much has happened. Many there are who planted it - and alas are there no longer to reap it, but such is the way of life. The reaping of the corn has undergone many changes in the past few generations. A time there was perhaps still in the memory of some, when the work was carried out by the simple reaping hook a time perhaps too when man's back was stronger than it is today. This arduous work was replaced by an implement a shade easier - the scythe - and in a generation or two the reaping machine came to the rescue. But what a change came over the harvest field when the reapers and binders appeared, and now at long last we have a machine that seems to put all previous methods of harvesting already crop into oblivion. That is the combined harvester which does all the work in one operation. Here in this area the various methods of harvesting already referred to are in operation. In a few weeks time that golden crop will be removed to leave behind fields of stubble - and by that transformation the great seasonal miracle will have completed its annual cycle for 1952. So much for our thoughts for the harvesting of the corn crop. The other crop, the seeds of which were planted several months ago are also completing their period of growth, and are preparing for the final

TALLOW AND ROUND ABOUT

Tallow Born Nun Celebrates Diamond Jubilee Sister M. Dymna, a native of Tallow, celebrated her diamond jubilee at the Good Shepherd Convent, Waterford, during the current month. Sister M. Thomas Fallon, Somerset, Eng. and the late Mrs M. Cox Convent Street, Tallow, she entered religion in 1890, and was professed in 1892. The celebration of one's diamond jubilee, is a rare occurrence in the life of a member of any religious community, and Sister M. Dymna, has been the recipient of a huge number of congratulatory messages and amongst many who called to offer felicitations was Right Rev. Mons Kelleher P.P. V.F. Ballybricken. By kind permission of the Rev. Mother a grand concert in honour of the jubilarian, was given at the Good Shepherd Convent, by the girls of the school.

On behalf of her many relatives and friends from Tallow and round about, join in offering hearty felicitations to Sister M. Dymna and wish her many more years of health and service in the Vineyard of the Lord. Unusual Accident - While having the wheel tube of a lorry (which he was driving) inflated at Main Street, Tallow on Friday morning last a young man named James Pratt New Street Tallow was the victim of a rather unusual accident, when the tire of the lorry (which must have been defective) suddenly burst and struck the young man a severe blow on the chest and arm, rendering him unconscious. A very popular young man, all who wishing him a very speedy recovery.

Branch of The I.C.M.S.A. Formed in Tallow. There was a very large attendance at the Temperance Hall Tallow on Monday night Sept 15th, when a meeting of the Irish Creamery Milk Suppliers Association was held. Mr. Liam Barry, General Secretary of the I.C.M.S.A., attended, and was introduced by Mr. D. Hoskin M.C.C. In the course of his address Mr. Barry referred to the cost of milk and stated that the price of milk had fallen to a level of 2d per gallon, a reduction. This would have been the case if it were not for the fact that the I.C.M.S.A. was not in existence. By their amalgamation with the Midland suppliers they had got an increased price for the milk in the cities. At present he said they were endeavouring to arrange a two-day strike in Cork and Dublin as a protest against the price of milk. A one day strike was useless and the two day strike would only be the start of these activities, until such time as the producers got their deal and a paying price for their milk. Mr. Barry had been given all round the world and the farmer will have to pay these increases too. He was compensated in some way when the price of milk was low. Conditions of low prices paid for milk to the producer will continue in this area unless the branch of the Association is formed. The I.C.M.S.A. was at work for two years and that short period it has 25,000 branches established throughout the country. It was the biggest association in the country today and was built with voluntouch of harvesting - though the colour may not be golden, their final reward may be counted in terms of gold and silver like the corn in this area. The other crops such as onions, potatoes, mangels, carrots, have done exceedingly well and thank God that the harvest of the various crops is plentiful. This applies to the same to every portion of our land - yes the happenings of the autumn season and the harvest thoughts are always memories to be cherished. Then when the harvest moon has made its appearance over the hills of Dysert, and cast its rays o'er the calm waters and golden sands of Ardmore Bay - perhaps at an evening tide when a few lone holiday-makers are gazing at some local fisherman making another haul of the mackerel season then we have an assurance that the glorious golden harvest of 1952 has completed its cycle and is about to begin. True it is then that the thoughts of all the golden harvests of the past, and the autumn scenes of the years that have been, are fond memories that seem to bring "The light of other days around us."

tary effort in less than two years. This is a wonderful achievement. He asked the producers in the area to cooperate in forming a branch, as by doing so they would have done a great day's work for themselves. It was foolish for farmers to be producing goods at unprofitable and unfair prices. He asked all present to take particular notice of the fact that it is the Irish Creamery Milk Suppliers Association is non-political. All political parties have regard for the city vote first - Their concern is that of the cities, and one of their chief aims is to get the farmers products at prices as low as possible. Politics were impossible in such an organization as the I.C.M.S.A. he said, as there was bound to be difference of opinion on matters which would eventually lead to a break up. This Association will always endeavour to get practical benefits for all its members. It would advise and help them where to get the best possible prices for their products, and they hoped at some day in the near future to expand their activities to the food and pork trade. In some areas they were urged to expand to the grain and beet industries but he said in conclusion the milk industry is our first and main basic industry and we will look after that. A branch of the Association was then formed and the following officers were selected - Chairman - Mr N. Condon, Vice-Chairman - Mr M. Beecher Shanbally, Tallow, Treasurer - Mr T. McCarthy, Hon. Sec - Mr F. McCarthy. On the conclusion, a vote of thanks was proposed and passed to Mr Barry for his very able and instructive address. In reply Mr Barry said it was a pleasure to address such an attentive audience and in conclusion wished the new Branch every success.

The Fish Invasion - Towards the latter end of last week the local sea coast area here was literally phosphorised with fish. In the dark evenings the appearance of the strand was luminous - for thousands and thousands of mackerel and sprats were sailing in, in multitudes. Rods and gear of various classes being utilised in the catching process, and in not a few cases, both children and adults appeared with buckets on their heads to come at them as they said. The sky overhead was covered with seagulls and one old surviving seaman of the area was heard to say that he never in all his life saw anything like the scene of the mingling of fish and sky. He compared the flight of the hovering seagulls to falling snow, they were so plentiful.

In connection with the recent ban on the import of lobsters by the French Government, in an interview here with one of the fishermen engaged in lobster fishing, we were told that this ban does not in any way effect the sale of lobsters here as the fish is bought up locally. In fact added my informant, we can't get enough of lobsters for the local home markets.

Disastrous Results of Fire At Monasterey - The fire which broke out from unknown causes during threshing operations in Mr. Coughlan's haggard last Friday at Monasterey, destroyed a large quantity of straw, oats, and barley. The dwelling-house was only saved in time by the tumbling down of the corn stack by the help of Mr. Coughlan and Mr. Hyde are well-known local young men and they have the sympathy of everyone in their losses of property and machinery.
