A SILENT TRIBUTE TO A LOYAL GAEL
 It was silent in Lismore Court-house on Sunday last as the delegates representing every parish in West Waterford stood in solemn tribute to the memory of one of the Gaelic Athletic Association's most sincere friends, the late Paddy Joe Morrissey, who died unexpectedly in the early hours of that morning.

Except for the regular tick of the Court-house clock not a sound was heard. The Annual Convention of the West Waterford G.A.A. honoured his memory sincerely, for to every member present the late Paddy Joe had been a reliable friend at all times and under all circumstances.

Speaking on the proposal to convey their sympathy to the widow and young family Mr. D. O'Sullivan, Secretary of the Board, said that in the death of Mr. Morrissey the G.A.A. in Waterford had lost a great worker in their interests. He gave of his best at all times on the playing field as a supporter and as a faithful adviser. Mr. O'Sullivan added that it was the feeling of all that a tribute be paid to the memory of Mr. P. J. Morrissey and particularly it was their wish to extend their very sincere sympathy.

Mr. W. Fitzgerald Vice-Chairman, extended sympathy to the Fives of Tourin Cappoquin on the death of their uncle.

Mr. P. Burke Abbeyside associated himself with the motions and asked to have Mr. Morrissey included in the list of relatives.

Sympathy was also extended to the relatives of the late George O'Brien, Lismore.

WATERFORD LEADS
 It is seldom one comes across a tribute to the work of Waterford County Council but this week as a result of a drive around the county I am going to pay tribute to the Engineering Department and in particular to those responsible for Road Maintenance.

There is no county in Ireland that can boast of roads to compare with those in Waterford. It is an old fact and still a true one that the highways of the country and within a short time Mr. D. Sheehy our County Engineer will be able to stand up before a meeting of the County Council and say with pride that Waterford can now boast of having the safest roadways in Ireland.

Mr. Sheehy and his staff have long been doing outstanding work in the improvement of roadways all over the county—north south east and west—we can see their highways and perhaps one of their greatest achievements is the removal of the dangerous crossing at Cappagh not to mention McGrath's Cross on the Waterford road.

Visitors to County Waterford have often told me that it was a genuine pleasure to drive along our roads for they were, to quote a British visiting journalist—'The motorists dream! Some of my readers might laugh at this when they are outside their doors but to them I say have no fear if conditions are bad and it is well I know that there is a number of bad cases throughout the county areas that are eventually receive the careful attention of the roadmen.

I have in the past at meetings of the County Council heard various criticisms on the roadways being spent on roads but having seen the developments of recent date I am now of the opinion that arrangements should be made to take the entire membership of the Council on a tour of the County to see the work being carried out by their workers.

Just outside Dungarvan on the main Clonmel road above the Master McGrath monument workmen are at present busy removing the bends that have for so long harassed users of that road. When this job is complete one of the greatest sources of danger to traffic will have been removed. In command on this job is Mr. James Cliffe.

On the Waterford side of Dungarvan at Tarr's Bridge, another great job is being completed. At this point there is a first cousin of Mr. James Hession's road. She is a first cousin of Mr. James Hession's road. She is a first cousin of Mr. James Hession's road.

Dr. O. McCann is brother of Dr. Kevin McCann, Ballinacorney, a leading medical practitioner and one of this district's most prominent sportsmen.

A MEMORABLE OCCASION
 From our advertising columns I see where Dungarvan will be favoured on Jan 14th by a visit from Clonlea of the well known Cab Kaye Orchestra of Radio and T.V. fame.

This star orchestra is coming down our way due to the enterprising spirit of the Burgery Lawn Tennis Club. These lads and lassies are really a go-ahead crowd and deserve every success in their ambitious venture.

The orchestra is made up of all brilliant coloured musicians and it has just completed a tour of France, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Holland and Switzerland.

At Carroll's famed Night Club in Mayfair London, the orchestra is under contract and listens to the BBC will regard the visitors to our town as total strangers.

Cab Kaye is himself a pianist, vocalist and comedian and to the best of my knowledge he is the first all-coloured orchestra to tour Ireland and is appearing in arrangement with the Irish Federation of Musicians.

Billy Kenrick and his very popular band will also take the stage and by all accounts the occasion promises to be a memorable one.

THE MORESBY STORY
 Captain Veale next deposited I am a member of the Lifeboat Committee came out here to see the vessel breaking up though the crew were out of sight on coming here that the men were still in the rigging saw the lifeboat not launched the coxswain told me only two and myself would go into the boat this was about eleven o'clock we walked out to see the vessel half a mile away and the coxswain was trying to discourage us from going into the boat said I had only one life to lose and I was prepared to sacrifice that to save the crew the coxswain would not come into the boat.

A voice—He should be shot! Mr. Egan said the coxswain should be present if this evidence was to be taken.

Capt. Veale—I said to the coxswain I would go into the boat that it would be a disgrace to see people drowned in the harbour and nobody there to save them.

Coroner—Did the coxswain go in her?

Capt. Veale—No nor I did not see the station officer or any of the coastguards.

The station officer said that he was away at the wreck in Clonlea at the time.

Capt. Veale—Had the boat gone out an hour earlier many lives would be saved I never saw such a scandalous work in my life these men have been paid £150 for the past twelve months and where there is life to be saved they would not get into the boat they got £50 for saving men in four feet of water they should be tried for cowardice the coxswain was there and he would not go into the boat I hope he will be tried for cowardice people are tried for their lives for cowardice I met the chief boatman on coming out.

Mr. Hair (chief officer)—There is no chief boatman here—commissioned boatmen.

Capt. Veale—Well I am not up in your name terms he said it would be time enough to launch the boat when he would get a crew.

Coxswain—I beg to contradict that statement; I don't know am I in order in doing so?

Coroner—Not for a while.

Capt. Veale—I would like to say that only two more and himself would go into the boat out of the old crew.

To Mr. Egan—If the lifeboat were launched sooner more lives would have been saved.

A Juror—Did the coastguards object to give the boat?—No I saw no coastguard there.

Mr. Hair, chief officer said he was in Ballinacorney saving the crew of the other vessel and he would be in two places at the one time. He fired the rocket to the ship also, and the line was got across the yards. The line was pulled and it was found that it was carried away as has the loyal friendship of the fishermen of the Gaeltacht. TRAGIC DEATH OF MR. P. J. MORRISSEY, SOLICITOR, DUNGARVAN.
 Impressive and Moving Scenes at Obsequies.

The unexpected death of Mr. P. J. Morrissey, Solicitor, Dungarvan, occurred during the early hours of Sunday morning, January 4th, at his residence "Fatima," New Line, Abbeyside. The late Mr. Morrissey was one of County Waterford's most popular personalities and was one of its most renowned solicitors. He had been out and about up to a late hour on Saturday night and went to bed in his usual good health. The news of the untimely death announced at the Sunday morning Masses caused a widespread gloom over the entire district. When the tragic discovery was made a doctor and priest were at once sent for and at a post-mortem examination held subsequently by Doctors O'Connell and Dempsey, the cause of death was declared to have been coronary thrombosis.

Mr. Morrissey was Coroner for West Waterford and had occupied the office for only a brief period. During that time he won the admiration of all for his high standard of efficiency. He was on the panel of directors of the County Council and was one of the Gaeltacht's finest native speakers. It was nothing new to hear him conduct an entire court case or an inquest through the medium of Irish. He was affectionately known by all sections of the community, was truly the friend of all in need and his death at the early age of 36 years has created a wide gap in the lives of the ordinary folk of the county throughout West Waterford.

He was loved and respected by all his fellowtownsmen for his unassuming and friendly manner and his ever cheerful disposition. The eldest son of the late John Joe Morrissey, a well-known sportsman and businessman, and Mrs. Morrissey 88, O'Connell Street, Dungarvan, the late P. J. Morrissey grew up with firm connections in the fishing industry. He had a keen interest in the fishing industry. DUNGARVAN U.D.C. TRIBUTES TO THE LATE MR. MORRISSEY
 A special meeting of Dungarvan Urban District Council was held on Monday night January 5th to express sympathy to the relatives of the late Mr. P. J. Morrissey, Solicitor.

Mr. T. Lannen Chairman who presided proposed the vote of sympathy stating that it was with the deepest regret that he had called the meeting and the purpose of passing a vote of condolence to the family and relatives of the late Paddy Joe Morrissey. The Chairman said that it was very hard for them to realise that their friend Paddy Joe was dead. A young man in the prime of life who was full of friendliness towards everyone a man who helped us all in countless ways both in his capacity as Solicitor and friend. He was a good friend a staunch Dungarvan and Gael and I know I speak for all when I say how sadly we shall miss him.

The Chairman then proposed sincere sympathy to the family on behalf of the townspeople of Dungarvan.

Mr. Casey seconded the proposal stating that the entire district was shocked on Sunday morning at the tragic news of Paddy Joe as he was affectionately known to everyone. He was a really fine type of Irishman. He had a big heart and was an outstanding man in his profession whose value was recognised recently when he was appointed Coroner for West Waterford. He did much for the Irish language and his wise counsel will be missed by the Committee of Ring College of which he was a member. Mr. Casey added that he hoped their vote of sympathy would in some way help to lighten the burden of grief borne by Mr. Morrissey's family and relatives.

Mr. Kelly said that he had been a schoolmate of Mr. Morrissey's for 15 years and had known his many qualities all through life. No greater friend had the poor of Dungarvan, and to them his loss will be their greatest. Mr. Morrissey's father was known throughout Munster as one of its greatest sportsmen and it was due to him that they had today the Klossera Races. The late Paddy Joe Morrissey was himself a well-known sportsman who in his youth played the games of the Gael with distinction. Mr. Kelly added that in 1934 the late Mr. Morrissey played centre-field for his county in the Munster Hurling Final at Cork.

Mr. Kynne said that the late Mr. Morrissey was a personal friend of his and was a kindly soul whose life had been spent doing good for all. He was a Dungarvan man who did very well in his profession and whose future promised great things. Their sorrow on the occasion was beyond measure.

Mr. McCarthy associated himself with the remarks of the previous speakers and added that as a solicitor the late Mr. Morrissey worked at his best for the man without money as he did for the man who had loads of it. He was a great Gael who would have made a name for himself on the pitch. Senator Butler said that he had never seen such genuine grief among the townspeople of Dungarvan. The death of P. J. Morrissey was to every member of the community a personal loss and he was also a friend of all. It was a pleasure for them to have such a friend.

Mr. Lee also spoke on the vote of sympathy and endorsed the statements of the previous speakers.

The Town Clerk on his own behalf and on behalf of the County Manager and Officials, associated himself with the proposal.

On the suggestion of Mr. Casey, the Council agreed to march in the funeral in a body.
