BEHIND THE SPOTLIGHT with PENSMAN

ANOTHER GO INCIDENCE

This week my post bag contained a letter from Mr. Henry T. Deasy, New York, informing me that his mother was at present on a visit to County Waterford, and that I might expect a call from her. I am sure you will be glad to hear that she is well and that she is enjoying her visit to the "Ardmore Gossip" in the Leader in which correspondent Jim McGrath told us that Mrs. Deasy was in the Ardmore at present staying with friends. Mr. Deasy's letter written on May 10th, and posted from Brooklyn New York stated that he enjoys reading this column and referred especially to the paragraphs from the late Canon Power's "Place Names of Decies". He gets his copy of the Leader regularly sent to him from Margaret Bagnel of the Shop at Grange and says that it gives him great pleasure to read about the districts he knew so well before he went to America.

In reference to his mother he tells me that forty-three years ago she was married and had her wedding reception at the Devoy shire Arms Hotel, Dungarvan so her present visit home should revive many happy memories for her.

Continuing Mr. Deasy says "I have read your edition of April 4th in which you mention Jack Phelan from The Nire. I know him very well also Terry Long who is from Dublin. I am a native son of Dungarvan myself. Mrs. Stables told me so my mind flashes back to the good old Cunliffe, which God willing some day I'll visit and also good old Ardmore by the sea where I went to school."

He then states that he knew the late Canon Power, who he said had done a lion's share to let the world know that the Decies was the cradle of civilization in Ireland and said that his mother had a great many stories about all the land-grabbers and crumblers and land-lords who, thank God, have long since been driven from Ireland.

Concluding Mr. Deasy kindly offers to send me some papers and magazines and says he is always interested in America and we will always be pleased to get any Yankee Journals.

I am very glad to think that this column is proving such a great link between the Devoy and the Greater Ireland beyond the seas and the old folks at home and will always be glad to hear from readers of this column no matter what part of the world they be in. Just drop me a line to "Pensman" (that's me) c/o Dungarvan Leader, Dungarvan County Waterford, Eire.

SUAINES STORRAI DA ANAM

Last week James Connery Ring was laid to rest in Old Greyard in Dungarvan and his passing is to be deeply regretted because Seamus was one of the old stock who are fast dying out and whose places can never be taken by the young. Chatting with the Fear Mor and Liam O'Modhachain who looked after his burial the latter recalled that James was a walking encyclopaedia and could produce a knowledgeable answer to most questions. He was more at home speaking Irish than in the Saxon Bearly, and was a great friend of the late Dr. Sheehan who had a high esteem for the store of information in Seamus's fertile brain.

THE WESTERN BAY PROJECT

Far from being assigned to the dead letter file as many of us were led to believe after the Urban Council's recent abortive attempt to get a copy of the Dutch Engineers' reports on the drainage of the Western Bay Dungarvan from the Minister for Agriculture I heard the matter actively discussed by a number of local representatives over the weekend.

From the discussion, I gathered that it was highly probable that the Engineers reported that the scheme, far from being impossible was one that might be taken as a number one to experiment with. Maybe that was the reason for the Minister for Agriculture's reticence in releasing the report. However, I understand that as far as local interests are concerned, it has not been shelved, and will be brought forward again at the first opportune moment.

Mr. P. A. Casey who has been in Holland on business on a number of occasions within the past two years is quite confident from the inquiries and information he gathered there that there are distinct possibilities in the scheme. How it will be tackled is an open question but all seem to be agreed that it could be done.

THE LOCAL DERBY

There was excitement galore at the Gaelic Field Dungarvan on Sunday last when Dungarvan and Abbeyside lined out in the local derby in the first round of this year's county senior hurling championships. The heavy showers that fell intermittently did nothing to damp the ardour and enthusiasm of the spectators especially that of the womenfolk of which there appeared to be a big number from the village and who accorded their team vocal support.

It was a grand match singularly free from fouls and stoppages and there were some excellent bouts of hurling. The game was not very odd when it was evident that it was a match between the youth, speed and exuberant spirit of the village boys and the craft and experience of the town. In the end youth had its way and the village supporters swept on to the field, to cheer their heroes from the victorious pitch.

Down through the years there has always been a keen rivalry in the clash between Dungarvan and Abbeyside and that this needle still exists was evident last Sunday. It is a pity at the same time that there are some few who go beyond the bounds of sportsmanship and in saying this I do not single out any particular set of followers and this system of one side baiting the other always leads to bad blood which has never been a component part in the make-up of sportsmanship.

The winners are certainly entitled to give vent to their exuberance and the losers should accept their defeat because after all in the matter of hurling G.A.A. games it is not, or at least it should not be, the question of who wins or loses, but rather to play the game and be a sport. If one side wins this year it may be the other side's turn next year. In this case it was Abbeyside's turn and I congratulate them on their victory which must have been very sweet to them, as it was more or less unexpected but I do congratulate Dungarvan on serving up one of the brightest hurling games seen at Shandon pitch for a long time.

We had two pipe bands Dungarvan Conra Na Gaelige and Abbeyside Boy Scouts, who provided us with plenty of stirring music and who played the teams on to the pitch. The Abbeyside Band led a victory parade back to the Village where there was great celebrating after the match. Incidentally the gate totalled £50 odd which shows that the meeting of these two teams is always a drawing card on the G.A.A. programme.

AN INCIDENT IN THE 1916 RISING

The fight at the Mount Street Barricade in the epic struggle of Easter Week 1916 in Dublin, while known to most of the older generation is not known as widely as it might be, amongst the youngsters. The heroes a handful who held up the advance of the British forces, are immortalised in the legend of the "Ghosts" which was inspired by that great stand.

Clanwilliam House comprised the greater part of the Mount Street Barricade which was defended by about eight men led by Mike Malone and James Reynolds and six other men moving from floor to floor in the big house, firing till the rifles grew hot in their hands, wave of British troops being across Mount Street Bridge. A dispatch from General Sir John Maxwell, commanding the British forces speaks for itself. British General Headquarters at about 5.30 p.m. orders were received that the advance to Trinity College should be pushed forward at all costs and, therefore, after careful planning at about 8 p.m. all columns accompanied by squads were put into action. The battalions charging in successive waves finally suffered severe casualties in doing so. Our officers were killed fourteen wounded two hundred and sixteen of the rank and file killed. In view of our opposition it was not considered advisable to push on to Trinity College that night but with the dawn and reinforced by the Fifth South Staffordshire Regiment the Hundred and twenty-sixth Infantry, and two battalions of the Sherwood Foresters victory was ours.—Signed/ GEN. SIR JOHN MAXWELL.

"MAY-DAY IN EIRE"

Colourful Operetta By Mercy Convent Pupils In Dungarvan

The pupils of the Convent of Mercy Dungarvan have done it again in last Thursday and Friday nights, and again at the repeat performance of Sunday night at the Friary Hall, they successfully staged another most colourful Operetta (in 2 acts) "May-Day in Eire" which absolutely enthralled the capacity houses with its natural simplicity, delightful colours, beautiful singing and the freshness and excellence of the talent displayed even by the tiniest of the tots in the three-hand re must have been a great deal of preparatory work in the presentation of such a perfect production and while we congratulate each and everyone of the talented pupils we cannot forget the good Nuns of the Convent of Mercy who prepared the children in such excellent fashion.

The stage at the Friary Hall was splendidly transformed into a beautiful selection of songs and duets! In his group Frank sang "Bless This House" "Machusa" and "The West Awake" while Miss Ryan sang "Love Thee Dearest," "Christopher Robin" and "No Place Like Home." Father and daughter then appeared together in duets "The Flower Song" (Lilac Time) and "Oft In The Stilly Night" and at the end of the recital they were given a great ovation.

G.A.A.—Hurling

ABBEYSIDE SURPRISE VICTORY OVER DUNGARVAN

One of the year's biggest surprises in G.A.A. circles in Waterford was the defeat of Dungarvan by Abbeyside in the first round of the Waterford Senior Hurling Co Championships at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan last Sunday.

On paper it looked as if it would be a walk over for Dungarvan with their many inter-county players but Abbeyside were not overawed by their opponents' name and matched them man for man. They showed more verve and skill and in the throw-in to the final wrestle every man did his share creditably. They deserved their victory and to every bit as good as the score indicates.

Dungarvan were seven points up before Abbeyside had their first score and at that stage it looked as if the Old Bro' boys were going to have a run-away victory. However, Abbeyside fought back and at half-time were within striking distance. The second half was only three minutes old when O'Lea sent all the way over a ball from 70 and from there on Abbeyside never looked backed. After twelve minutes the scores were level and then Abbeyside went on to take the lead it appeared as if the Dungarvan team was completely shocked at the turn the game had taken and while their followers anxiously waited for the turn of the tide it never happened as Abbeyside continued on the crest of the wave to a well-merited if unexpected victory.

After the game the Abbeyside boys were shouldered off the pitch by crowds of feverishly excited supporters for whom all went certain defeat had been averted by a very sweet victory. The teams were played on to the field by the Conna na Gaeilge Pipers Band and the Abbeyside Scouts Pipers Band.

The pitch was heavy after a downpour and a strong breeze was blowing towards the sea goal. Dungarvan won the toss and played with the wind J. Vaughan (Lismore) set the throw in motion and from the moment the ball was kicked back the ball was driven wide. They kept up the attack from the puck-out and after two minutes play M. Fitzgerald shot the net for Dungarvan. This was quickly followed up quickly at point per J. Goode and the same player had a very near wide a minute later. M. Quailly for Dungarvan grabbed on a loose ball and from 60 yards out raked the goal with a beautiful stroke. It looked as if it was going to be a one way match at this stage but Abbeyside forced the play into their opponents half and P. O'Connor completely shocked them two minutes afterwards. P. Brown raised the green flag and the spirits of the Abbeyside contingent. Nearing the half-time whistle J. Kieley scored a point for Dungarvan and the half-time score read—
Dungarvan 2-2
Abbeyside 1-1

Abbeyside on the turnover attacked strongly and after three minutes forced a 70 Taken by O'Lea Du for Dungarvan. The bar. At this stage Abbeyside were unbeatable and when D. Connors scored a goal for them the Village supporters went wild. Then came the vital score of the game—M. Farrell gathered the ball at midfield, passed to P. O'Connor, on the corner flag who scored a spectacular point to give Abbeyside the lead.

The spectators were waiting for Dungarvan to make that burst which would give them victory but it never came in fact it was Abbeyside who again scored, with a well taken goal per J. Brown. That was quite a feat for Dungarvan as they seemed to have lost their confidence. At the start of the last quarter Abbeyside again goaled per D. Connors. Dungarvan then went into the attack which resulted in a point per Kieley. However this was quickly negated by J. O'Connor from a free. Soon afterwards P. Whelan pointed again for Abbeyside. Nearing full-time Kieley had a point for the Duncs. The final score read—
Abbeyside 4-5
Dungarvan 2-4
It would not be right to single out any of the victors players but a special word of praise goes to A. Flynn D. Connors, J. Clancy J. Hogan P. Feeney and J. O'Connor. T. Cunningham was the best for

Dungarvan C.B.S. Victorious Over Well Fancied Mount Sion Team

The Dungarvan C.B.S. boys served up yet another thriller when defeating Mount Sion C.B.S. in the final of the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, last Thursday evening. Their ardent supporters gave them a little change of victory and no wonder for Mount Sion fielded twelve of their victorious Harty Cup team and that speaks more of anything else of their great victory.

Two Hollywood producers decided on regular armies of extras for a war epic-five thousand men on one side and four thousand on the other

Colossal Charlie said the first producer "nine thousand men and when the shooting is finished they all have to be paid off How about that?"

That's all said our Charlie in the last scene well use real bullets.

Little Helen said to her mother "You told me Mommy that angels have wings and can fly didn't you?"

"Yes darling," said mother. "Well," continued Helen "I heard Daddy calling my nurse an angel last night. When is she going to fly?"

"Tomorrow morning," responded the mother quickly
