PRISONERS' SENSATIONAL ESCAPE.

Irishmen's Daring Ruse To Elude Captors.

We have had placed at our steamer not able to do more Club disposal two letters received by than 7 knots per nour in this country I am informed that the pri-men having finally decided on a gentleman from a friend in Freemantle soners and their friends were forming the club soon imbued the news in the second letter well armed and it is believed others with their enthusiasm so than ordinary prisoners went tion at the escape of the prisoners and by a soners to the other works and by a soners similar message took two more of the prisoners towards the prison The two groups of three each walked along quite coolly and deliberately report ing themselves to an official between the works and the cars which were waiting to bear them off The men who appeared to be carrying out the daring undertaking had three teams (cars and two horses to each) and a saddle horse waiting for the prisoners near the town and by the pri-son here With slow and steady step they went along until they reached the cars when they drove rapidly away putting on coats and hats which had been provided for them to conceal the convict dress They were not missed for about an hour and a half, and then there was a scene of the wildest excitement, officials running here and there mounted policemen flying with orders and despatches and finally two mounted policemen and a native black man a tracker followed in pursuit to Rockingham but the prisoners evidently had too long a start of them, and they returned to Freemantle American flag So the steamer couraged the members to make It now appears that here was returned last evening after two greater efforts and at the same an American Whaler cruising truitless voyages about Bunbury for some time past. She sailed from there on Saturday and on Monday morning no doubt by preconcerted arrangement, was lying off Rockingham wasters.

In the news was received with in the club's affairs amongst in the sailed from there on Saturday and on Monday morning no doubt by pretold over a cup of Musgraye Tea.

Harty, Barrack St., Tallow—The sad news of the death of the late Francis Harty reached Tallow on Saturday, April 17th Francis was of a quiet unassuming nature and noted for his industry, he was held in
his hesteem by all classes of the community The funeral to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, on Saturday evening was very well attended The Church was thronged by mourners and friends on Monday, April 19th for the burial to the cemetery adjoining the
