Now with regard to the par-ticipation of the townspeople in the festival There is no doubt but the function will attract a great gathering so we want to that described the town en fete to show that Dungarvan is worthy of such a great event. The Urban Council have given the lead by agreeing to put out their usual bunting and flags and I am sure that those who have flags and bunting in their possession will put them up also and give the Old Bord a festive garb for The strongest flower of all the visitors Don't be waiting But I il keep it fresh beside my to see what the other fellow is going to do do your own little and if all co-operate the over all effort will be most effec

Now to get back to the programme Of course the exhibitions will continue throughout the evening but that night there will be a Mor-Cheili at the Town Hall for which the prize-winning Knocknagow Celli Band has been engaged This will provide the grand finale of an occasior which will be spoken of in Dungarvan and many other places for many a day Secretary of the organising Committee is Seosamh O Fath-aigh and Jack Fobin is the Treasurer | whilst | the Fear | A' Tighe will be Liam Comartin The official reception Committee is comprised of Michael O h-Eidhin Donnchadha O Culleanam and Tomas O Baoighile and in the hands of such capble dompany the Festival should prove a memorable one

The objection of the Superin betting offices in Dungaivan Mr Lanigan said that the population of Dungaryan was 5 423 and there were three weeks plays by the adjudicator on Sunday May 2nd the conconcluding day two hurling matches Tourin v Cappoquin and Newcastle v Affane will be held in the Sportsfield, also a parade of Pipe Bands and Open Dancing Competitions The Ceil Mor and distribution of medals and prizes will take the races but did not agree that the races but did not agree that the swould lead to any abuses. The Superintendent said that there were already three registered offices in Dungarvan which in his opinion constituted an excessive number and that was his main objection. He did not think there was sufficient. medals and prizes will take not think there was sufficient place in the Boat House on same business for another office night For further particulars. The Justice remarked that if

The book they were afraid to publish!

Why was militant Communism able to build up the greatest empire in history within a few years after the end of World War II? WHY were more than 600 millions of people given over to a monstrous tyranny — just after the war in defence of democracy ? WHY is the world now divided into two armed camps, engaged in a feverish armaments race with weapons of unimaginable horror - just after "the war to end wars "? These questions strike the root of the fear which now shadows all mankind. They ahadows all mankind They are answered in the most startlingly outspoken book of this generation — "UN-CONDITIONAL HATRED"

with power and clarity, is a 21gun broadside against the dis-astrous policies of Churchill and Roosevelt during World War

Driven by hatred of Germany the two leaders made ' unconditional surrender | their slogan They resolved to crush Germany whatever the cost to mankind And the cost has been high Captain Grenfell exposes the short-sighted folly of the Western leaders their betrayal of democratic tradition their unscrupulous propaganda cam-paign which was to recoil upon themselves

He tells how Roosevelt worked for a British and French declaration of war against Germany in 1939 and how Churchill rejecting German peace moves, later strove to change a localised conflict into world war
He reveals how Hitler saved the British Army at Dunkirk

He deals yith the supreme betrayal of Yalta, when the Western leaders put Eastern Europe at the mercy of Stalin and with the disastrous "peace settle- Works, 78, O Connell Street To facilitate Dungarvan supment" which finished the bad Oungarvan, 00. Waterford, Eire porters the Dungarvan Boxing
