NOT REALLY NECESSARY
 When the members of the Press arrived at the Town Hall on last Friday night at 8.15 p.m. for the usual fortnightly meeting of the Urban District Council of Dungarvan, all they found present were the Town Clerk and Borough Surveyor. There was no member of the Council present but two did come along some time later, after hanging around for the best part of twenty minutes. Those who had turned up had to go away as a third member (necessary to constitute a quorum) failed to arrive in the meantime.

The question as to whether fortnightly meetings of the Council are necessary or not, has been discussed in the past, but the matter has never been definitely ruled on. For those of us who have a duty to attend—the Press representatives and officials—it is hardly fair that on several occasions after waiting about amiably for nearly half an hour at times, that they find that no meeting can be held.

I have often said before and I endorse the point again that there is absolutely no need for fortnightly meetings of the Urban Council. Meeting once a month should be sufficient to deal with such business as arises. If there is any matter that requires urgent attention, then a special meeting could be convened to deal with it.

Cutting down the number of meetings in the year by fifty per cent would save for the officials a lot of time which could be more usefully devoted to other matters. There would be no need to prepare so many agendas, to record so many minutes and to write so many letters. Besides saving valuable time it would also save some of the ratepayers' money spent on the stationery used.

Other Boards and Committees in the County can deal with their business by the holding of monthly meetings, and one Committee—the Vocational Education in the County holds no meeting in the month of August.

If these Boards can get along with monthly meetings, why not our local Council? If this was agreed to perhaps we would be surer of a quorum at a monthly gathering instead of having those who have to attend turning up to find in the end that the Council can be constituted a meeting.

FACTS
 Many people seeing the Board of Works bucket dredger 'Sissy' at Dungarvan quay last week thought that they had talked of operations in the harbour were about to commence. This was not so as the dredger only called in for supplies on her way from Dublin to Cork.

The bulk of the work of laying the pipes for the Abbeyside sewerage scheme has now been completed and work is being concentrated on the laying of the big cess tank at the Scouts field.

Altogether a Lithuanian who has been a political refugee in England for the past six years while he was holidaying in Dungarvan. He complained that he had been subjected to an intensive search and much questioning on his entry to the country at Dublin. He said that when he explained the position to him he agreed that the fault did not lie with our Customs and Immigration Officers.

It is an honour to take pictures around here. He asked if he could click his camera as often as he wished. Anyway I remarked, we have nothing of military value around here, but the scenery is quite good and varied. He was enjoying the clean fresh air of the country, he said and that was his reason for coming south from Dublin.

'WICKED TO STOP FARMERS GETTING MYXOMATOSIS'
 A spirited defence of myxomatosis from the farmer's viewpoint is contained in the latest issue (Saturday 24 7 54) of 'The Irish Farmer's Journal'. It is particularly interesting at the moment as outbreaks of the rabbit disease have been reported in our county.

Teachers Should Concentrate On Living Irish Speech
Dail Na Mumhan At At Ring

An Fear Mor President Ring College, offered a hearty cead mile failte to members of the Munster Gaelic League branches to the second Dail na Mumhan which opened at Coliste Na Rinn o'Guanach on last Monday evening.

The President An t-Athair Aitaneas O'F M Limerick, said that much had been done during the past year in regard to the revival of Irish in Munster but much more could be done if they approached the question properly. He said that he would like to stress the importance of this course to help individuals to understand each other's mentality and he said that Dail na Mumhan had helped to cement the old and new spirits together with a hope for better progress in the revival movement.

They had, he said, the old habit amongst Gaelic Leaguers, of occupying every minute at a very meeting in speaking about those who did not speak Irish and who were hostile to the movement. These discussions did nothing to help the revival and what was wanted was a new approach to the matter from the point of view of the Gaelic League.

Suggesting the formation of a study circle, he said that each branch should have one at which important topics of the present-day living language could be discussed. Social principles were a most important topic which could be discussed in order that a correct slant on life and how to live properly could be obtained.

Such principles, he concluded, were vital for safety as well as for sanctity as they put before the people a certain sound ideal which if acted on will benefit the Gaelic League and consequently the language revival.

An Fear Mor said that he was satisfied that useful work was being done as regards the language movement generally but he was also satisfied he added that a big percentage of that work was ineffective due to the methods of teaching adopted in a great majority of schools.

Had we, he said, concentrated on the living Irish which was a most important grammatical rules that are crippling the Irish language we would have progressed much nearer our goal of making Ireland an Irish-speaking land.

The opening session of the course was largely attended and a varied and most interesting programme is occupying the remainder of the week.

Helvick Lifeboat Rescue
 On Wednesday afternoon 21st July Mr Peter Gaffney a member of Mr Mick Delahunty's band presently playing at Youghal with his brother-in-law, Mr Thomas Ryan Dublin set out in the small 'Showboat' to do some fishing in Youghal bay.

When the pair had not returned by 10 p.m. the Youghal Lifeboat Secretary was notified and the local crew alerted. Signals were also sent to the Ballycotton and Helvick boats and soon a widespread search was in operation.

Following an all-night search the boat was sighted off Mirthead and Mr Gaffney and Mr Ryan were picked up by the Helvick Lifeboat. Their little craft The Showboat was taken in tow and brought into Helvick.

It appears that the outboard engine in the small boat broke down and she then drifted before a south-westerly wind.

Both men were brought to Dungarvan from Helvick where they were lodged in a local hotel and later in the morning they left for Youghal none the worse for their experience.

G.A.A. HURLING
Abbeyside Senior Hurlers Advance To County Senior Hurling Semi-Final
Thrilling Second Round Encounter With Cappoquin

Abbeyside, 4-8, Cappoquin, 4-5

There was an abundance of thrills with hard robust hurling for the spectators who turned up at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan on Sunday last to see Abbeyside and Cappoquin decide their second round encounter in the current year senior hurling championship series. Despite the fact that they were desperately hard at times there was no peevishness displayed by either side, and all the players are to be congratulated on serving up a thrilling sporting display.

Abbeyside took the lead in the first minute with a quick goal and although only headed once for a short period Cappoquin continuously whittled away at the margin and was always within striking distance.

With four points separating the teams at the short whistle it looked as if Cappoquin had shot their bolt and that the Village hurlers would go on for a facile win but Cappoquin resumed in the second half to continue the ding-dong struggle and fought to the final whistle.

Both teams showed the results of an excellent training period each man standing up to the demands made on him for the hour despite the hard and fast nature of the game.

The Captains on either side, Jimmy O'Connor who led the Village XV, and Mickey O'Connor, who led the Cornerstone boys were the dominant figures of the game and each was an inspiration to his own side.

Through the game there were constant encroachments of both sidelines by spectators—at times the crowd was as much as 15 yards over the side-line—and this made it difficult on the bank and spectators to see the ball and the course of the play.

Abbeyside—L. Whelan, N. C. O'Connor, J. O'Dea, J. O'Connor, J. Whelan, J. O'Connor, G. Foley, D. Whelan, J. Clancy, M. O'Connor, P. O'Connor, P. Browne.

Cappoquin—F. Clancy, J. Clancy, J. O'Donoghue, J. O'Donoghue, W. Lee, G. Bolger, J. Lacey, T. Coffey, T. McCarthy, M. O'Connor, M. Lacey, R. O'Shea, W. Kieley, W. Conway, P. J. J. J., P. English, M. Fraher.

Ring o' Guanach, 7-7
Cappoquin, 1-1

Ring minor footballers had a facile win over Cappoquin in their second round championship encounter. The winners led all the way and were never really challenged by a very poor Cappoquin team who were too inexperienced to cope with their nippy and close-tackling opponents.

The first half was somewhat even but when Ring resumed with the breeze scoring monotonously they built up an insurmountable lead which Cappoquin could never hope to bring down. The result was that in the last quarter of the game was very listless with very little excitement. Ring won play Dungarvan the winners of which will contest the quarter final with Abbeyside and from last Sunday's display, Ring are confident that they will repeat last year's performance when they beat a fancied Dungarvan selection.

Ring were away from the start and were soon in the lead when Curran raised the green flag with a pile driver to the back of the Cappoquin net. Keeping up the attack Ring had further scores per Tobin (1-0) Hallahan (1-3) Curran (0-2) to which Cappoquin replied with a goal per Donoghue and a minor from a free by Mason. At the end of the half-time score—Ring 6, Guanach 2-3 Cappoquin Rovers 1-1.

On the resumption, Cappoquin were first to attack, but Kieley saved the Ring goal with a long clearance and Ring swinging into the attack had a goal almost immediately per Tobin, which was shortly followed up with a point per Hallahan. Apart from a few occasional busts from Cappoquin which yielded nothing, the victors were always on the offensive and further scores per Hallahan (2-0) Crotty (1-2) Tobin (1-0), and Curran (0-1) gave them a winning margin of six goals and six points.

Ring were best served by J. Kieley, S. Murray, P. Crotty, R. Tobin, M. French, E. Spratt and Harp while Cappoquin's most prominent players were P. Ulickie, P. O'Donoghue, M. Conway, J. McCarthy and the Mason brothers.

Mr T. Dalton Dungarvan, was a capable referee.

Ring—S. Murray (Capt), J. Kieley, Whelan, M. Curran, T. Harp, M. French, J. Kieley, R. Tobin, P. Crotty, J. Condon, S. Lonergan, E. Spratt, J. Lenane, W. O'Leary, K. Gallagher.

Cappoquin Rovers—P. Mulligan, G. Bolger, P. O'Donoghue, M. Mason, J. Mason, J. Blavin, J. Hickey, P. Arrigan, John Mescall, James Mescall, J. McCarthy, M. Conway, A. O'Keefe, J. Flynn, P. Ulickie.

Public Houses To Close On Sundays?
Stormy Scenes At Cork Meeting

A public meeting was held in the City Courthouse, Cork, to consider a requisition for the closing of all public-houses on Sundays.

His Worship the Mayor took the chair amid great applause and assured the meeting that all sides would be given the opportunity of expressing their views. He requested that the question should be discussed dispassionately.

The City High Sheriff proposed the first motion which was as follows—

That this meeting is of the opinion that the closing of public houses on Sundays as contemplated by the proposed Sunday Closing Bill would entail much inconvenience on considerable numbers and would not be successful as a remedy for the suppression of drunkenness.

He said—Mr Chairman and gentlemen in moving the adoption of this resolution I feel sure that every man here and outside will agree that the closing of public houses on Sundays would be a question of high import to the Irish people.

New Electricity Load Despatch Office in Operation

The Electricity Supply Board has now put into operation a centralised control of its supply system located in a new building at the rear of its head offices in Lower Fitzwilliam Street, Dublin. It is known as the Load Despatch Office and is a nerve centre, directly linked to all generating stations and principal transformer stations...

The signals which operate these meters and lights are transmitted over the Board's own high tension wires in addition to the voice and teleprinting communication systems also made possible and the engineers in charge can contact power and transformer stations in a matter of seconds...

ARDMORE GOSSIP

The Pattern Of Ardmore and its associate festivities have again come and gone. In general it was a pattern in keeping with the past.

In the quiet calmness of a stillly night, one could occasionally hear the whispering prayers of the devout pilgrims as they travelled on the gravelly paths of sainted footsteps far above the wave washed cliffs beneath that solemn and silent pilgrimage of tradition.

The members of the younger generation especially seemed to take a special interest in Misses Perks Tower Amusements. The hall was packed to capacity for the annual Pattern night and the weather played fair for the solemn occasion and then every one had a chance of enjoying Pattern Day 1954.

Electricity Means to the sea-side in Ardmore more can be seen from the rapid advancement of the many local private enterprises now gaining growth so to speak here.

The Charitable Work that is being carried on in this area by the District Nursing Association is being brought to the notice of our readers of this issue by the announcement that on Sunday next August 1st a flag day will be held at the Church gates before and after all Masses in Ardmore.

The Jumble Sale and Sale of Work held by the members of the Ardmore I.C.A. at the National Schools on Sunday last was a very successful undertaking.

He hauled a breadvan round the country for years. Till one day he stopped and laid down both his ears. As if it were his head up I've blood and some pride, And I'm no more a van horse than famed Lady Bride.

He was then groomed and to fence. And down by Blackwater his racing commenced against where Vanity hailed as great stuff.

The CEO stated that the credit balance of the Committee at the end of June was £2,091.15.10.

Mr Leary proposed that they appoint Miss Bernice Spratt Coolcormack, Dungarvan, and Mrs Morrissey seconded and the proposal was adopted unanimously.

Mr Harty seconded Deputy Ormond's proposal that Miss O'Reilly be appointed to the second post.

Mr Harty said that in the past he had applied for the position of a second choice of those selected could not, for any reason take up the position and he accordingly proposed that Miss Foley be selected.

Mr Morrissey seconded this nomination of a second choice might be against Miss O'Reilly and he stated if so, he would not object.

Mr Harty said that it would be better to appoint Mr Eiler's suggestion that Miss O'Reilly be appointed in a temporary capacity and this was agreed to.
