BEHIND THE SPOTLIGHT with PENSMAN

REV FR C DELANEY, O.S.A.
 On a short visit recently to his native surroundings was Rev Fr C Delaney, O.S.A., Hammersmith, London, who had made a pilgrimage to Lourdes and Fatima on his way back to London and as he had a few days of his well-earned vacation on hand he told me that he naturally felt that he should come to Dungarvan to see his relatives and friends. Fr Delaney is son of Mr Patrick Delaney, N.I. and Mrs Delaney, now both deceased, who lived in Congress Villas, Dungarvan for some years, and formerly of Old Parish, where the late Mr Delaney was principal teacher up to the time he retired. I am sure the old stock of Old Parish and Dungarvan will well remember Patrick Delaney, as he was a very brilliant teacher, and that of course, as he was sprung from the seed and breed of teachers, all his brothers and sisters be connected with either the Church or Schools.

Fr Delaney's visit to Dungarvan coincided with the 16th Centenary Celebrations of the birth of the great St. Augustine (1494-1564), and was chosen by the local Community of that saintly Order to conduct a Tridium in honour of the occasion. It was lovely for the people of the Old Parish to have such a brilliant man as Fr Delaney to preach to them for the august occasion, and it was most edifying to see such large congregations present at all the ceremonies, the Church being packed on each night. At the closing ceremonies of the Tridium on Sunday night, November 14th, Fr Delaney preached a very eloquent sermon on the life and works of St. Augustine and before he concluded he paid a glowing tribute to the good and faithful people of Dungarvan for their generosity and co-operation with the local Community. He said that Dungarvan was always a shining light in the wonderful work being done for the Augustinian Foreign Missions. A very nice tribute, indeed, and the whole congregation present were deeply touched with his very kind words.

I had a chat with Fr Delaney during his visit here and he told me how delighted he was to come to Dungarvan and he felt very happy to be chosen to give the Tridium in honour of St. Augustine. I said goodbye to him on Tuesday night Nov. 16th before he left for Hammersmith where he will continue his labours with renewed energy, fully refreshed after a pleasant and enjoyable vacation.

STILL GOING STRONG
 Last week I was handed a cutting from the Wicklow People of a recent date which gave a two-column account of the final of the Intermediate Hurling League between Wicklow (7-7) and Wexmouth (6-9). Now don't you have this to do with Dungarvan? Well that's it. You see one of the most prominent men on the Wicklow team was none other than our own Willie Barron of Inter-Provincial and Inter-County fame. Since he first took a hurley in his hands at Graignagour, Ballymacarbery, and that is a long number of years ago—his love for the game only grew as the years went by and it was with pride we read of his wonderful display for Wicklow, where he is now living in the town of Carnew.

There are a few nice things the Wicklow People had to say about Willie's display. I quote Murray, Murphy and Barron took complete control of the outfield, exchanges and three minutes later Mick Boucher placed Willie Barron Cool as a cucumber, the Carnew man steadied himself and sent a "screacher" flying into the net. He followed with a point from a free.

I quote again: "Veteran Barron certainly deserves a special word. His accuracy was great, and his speed was amazing. He left younger players standing in his races for possession. When he hangs up his Centenary Celebrations Of The Convent Of Mercy, Dungarvan.

His Lordship, Most Rev Dr D. Cohanlan, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, presided at High Mass, celebrated at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, in honour of the centenary of the Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, on Monday morning. The Right Rev Monsignor Dean Kelleher, P.P. V.G., Ballybricken, Very Rev W. Canon Flynn, P.P. Tallow, and Very Rev M. F. Canon Heame, P.P. Cahin, assisted at the Bishop's throne. The Right Rev Monsignor J. Casey, P.P. Skerries, was celebrant, and was assisted by Rev Fr D. Byrne, C.C., Dungarvan, (deacon), and Rev Fr J. Murphy, C.C., Dungarvan (sub-deacon). Venerable Archdeacon Power, P.P. V.F., Dungarvan, was master of ceremonies.

Among the clergy were the following: Very Rev Fr J. Feeney, P.P. Clashmore, Very Rev Fr J. Corbett, P.P. Ring, Very Rev Fr M. Roche, P.P. Abbeyside, Very Rev Fr J. McGrath, P.P. Cappoquin, Very Rev Fr D. Power, P.P. Kilgobnet, Rev Fr T. Fitzgerald, St. John's College, Waterford, Rev Fr C. Law, C.C., Cathedral, Waterford, Rev Fr J. McGrath, St. John's, Waterford, Rev Fr P. Moloney, Kimmage, Rev Fr J. Senan, O.Cap., Rev Fr J. C. C. Cappoquin, Very Rev Fr D. Dunne, Provincial O.S.A., Dublin, Rev Fr Butler O.S.A., Rev Fr Daly, O.S.A., Rev Fr O'Keefe, O.S.A., Rev Fr J. Dwan, Chaplain, Carrigrohane, Rev Fr J. Keane, Bishop's Secretary, Waterford, Rev Fr P. O'Farrell, C.C., Dungarvan, Rev Fr J. Murphy, O.C., Ballymacarbery, Rev Fr J. Power, O.S.A., New Ross.

Rev Fr F. T. Russell, C.S.S.R., Limerick, in his address to the congregation spoke in high tribute of the work of the Sisters of Mercy in Dungarvan. He said that it was the dying wish of a little girl, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carberry, Dungarvan, that they first came to the Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, on the 21st of March, 1854, when the Sisters of Mercy came to the town of Dungarvan as she had seen them often in her dreams taking care of the poor and sick throughout the town. On November 21st, 1854, four Sisters of Mercy entered Dungarvan from Cappoquin. Mr. A. Carberry made available three of his houses at South Terrace which served as a temporary residence for the Community. Though not expecting a palatial residence they were not prepared for what they found—the minimum furniture and the bare necessities. However, they overcame those trying hardships and those were trivial in comparison with the many crosses that awaited them on their path forward. But they had come to stay in Dungarvan and to establish a permanent home with the sanction of Most Rev Dr. Foran, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore. Their object was to carry out the spiritual and corporal works of mercy. The Sisters at one time visited the sick and poor. But opposition arose from unexpected sources and many troubles were laid before them. In 1859 Mr. Carberry generously purchased a site of 200 yds of them in Church Street, which was to be vacated by the Presentation Nuns when the latter's new Convent would be completed. The party hostile to the Sisters of Mercy were not pleased that they should take up residence in Church Street, but their founders, Mother MacCauley, had considered opposition and crosses of every kind the best foundation for a Religious House.

The house soon flourished and was helped and encouraged by His Lordship, Dr. Foran, and his successor Most Rev Dr. O'Brien, and also by the Superior of the Christian Brothers in Dungarvan, Rev. Bro. Broderick. When the Sisters came to Dungarvan first they had received permission to teach the children their Catechism and how to read and write. They continued this great work in the Convent in Church Street and soon much more accommodation had to be found for the ever increasing number of pupils. In 1878 the Community at the request of the Guardians of the Dungarvan Union took charge of the Union Workshop, presently known as St. Joseph's Home. Later they took over the District Hospital. Today the Sisters serve along the wards of both hospitals and have brought relief and joy to many since the first day they undertook this work. In 1888, another chapter was written in their glorious work, when five Sisters left Dungarvan to found a Convent of Mercy in Australia, due to the intercession of Most Rev Dr. Robinson, Vicar Apostolic of North Queensland. Rev. Mother de Sales Mesinger was appointed Superior of this small Community that set out for Cookstown. In 1950 a band of seventeen girls, who devoted their life to God as Sisters of Mercy arrived at North Queensland. Since then several other young girls have followed in their footsteps to spread the Faith and comfort the poor and suffering in those distant dioceses.

WATERFORD COUNTY COUNCIL

TURF ACCOUNT POSITION APPROVED
 RENTS OF NON-MUNICIPAL HOUSES HELD TO BE EXCESSIVE

Mr M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at a special meeting of the above held in Dungarvan, on Monday evening, November 22nd, 1954. Messrs M. McGrath, D. Leary, S. Ormond, T. D. Power, W. Fitzgerald, D. Heskin, Senator J. Butler, J. Fahy, J. Mansfield, E. Power, W. Kenneally, T. D. Roche, K. Byrne, T. D. Kirwan and R. Barton were also present. Messrs J. Ormond, Chief Assistant Engineer, T. Boyle, County Accountant, E. Keyes, Housing Section, and J. Dowling, Secretary, were in attendance.

Proposing a vote of sympathy to the brother sisters and relatives of the late Jack Curran, Ballinacrum, Dungarvan, Senator J. Butler said that the late Mr Curran had been a young man who had died rather suddenly. He also referred to the fact that Mr Curran's father, the late Charles Curran, had been a member of the County Council. The other members of the Council, and the Secretary on behalf of the County Manager and staff joined in the expression of sympathy which was passed in silence.

AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE
 Mr Anthony Coughlan, Droichead, was appointed to fill the vacancy on the County Committee of Agriculture caused by the death of the late John Meade. Excess Expenditure Motion
 The following report submitted 20th November:— I beg to report that the overdraft on Turf Account was £20,632 19s 1d. at the closing of the year 1948/49, and the Government had rebudgeted the Council's ascertained loss on sales of turf. The following overall loss on sales of Subsidiary Bodies was then ascertained, and with the exception of Waterford Technical Instruction Committee who still owe £27 9s 6d, the Bodies concerned rounded their share of the loss. As the Turf Account had been closed the receipts from Subsidiary Bodies were credited to the General Purposes Account. Off-setting these receipts against the overdraft of £20,632 19s 1d the final position is that there is a debit balance of £2,905 6s 3d on the Account. The Council might consider apportioning the balance against the Subsidiary Bodies concerned on a Sales Basis. A Statement of the Account is shown hereunder.

Turf Overdraft £20,632 19s 1d
 Receipts from Subsidiary Bodies—Board of Assistance 1850/51—£2,909 14s 7d, 1952/53—£11,792 8s 11d, 1949/50—Health Section £52 4s 3d, Tech. Section £236 12s 6d, Mental Hospital £865 7s 3d, Waterford Corporation £37 6s 10d, Libraries £13 9s 1d, Dungarvan U.D.C. £13 5s 6d, Lismore Commissioners £7 4s 5d, £20,632 19s 1d. The following sums were also received but as the receipts were credited to the Turf Account the overdraft shown above is not affected. £2,302 14s 10d, Mental Hospital £891 13s 2d, S.S. Otteran Cemetery £7 14s 0d, Machinery, Offices, Stores, Overseers (for Vans) £2,255 5s 10d.

Senator Butler opening the discussion on the matter said that the accountancy was very perfect and everything was very ably explained by Mr. Boyle, who he said looked after the accounts of the Council after the excellent fashion, but while he was a fact that the accounts were right, the price of the turf had been wrong. The money involved was the Council's money and the sum as to what the County Council who had given the money to the subsidiary bodies in the first instance and had then to collect it back to pay for the turf from them. The position was that £20,000 had been paid for the turf by the Waterford County Council.

CAPPOQUIN NEWS

Capoquin Rowing Club Annual Dance.—Preparations are now in hand for the holding of the Annual Dance of the Capoquin Rowing Club at the Boatouse on St. Stephen's Night, Sunday, December 28th. Specially engaged for the occasion are Donal O'Regan and his Orchestra of Buttevant, one of the leading dance bands at the moment in Cork City and County. Details are also being worked out for a special programme of entertainment for the same afternoon and we hope to have full details of this in next week's issue.

Sunday Night's Dance.—On next Sunday night a band, new to local dancing fans, make their debut at the Boatouse, when the Palace Five provide the music for a Cinderella Dance sponsored by the Rowing Club. Dancing will be from 9—12 and admission free of charge. The Capoquin Club, under the leadership of Mr. Thomas Lynch, Boscawley, Capoquin, last week, very briefly reported the death of Mr. Thomas Lynch, a well-known member of the club, who died on the evening of November 14th, while cycling from Capoquin after attending last Mass. Deceased was of a quiet and retiring disposition and was a very old and much respected lamp. Mr. Lynch lived a most honest and upright life and was fully respected by the members of the club. He was a member of the club for many years and his death was a great loss to the club. The funeral was held at the church on Monday morning, November 22nd, at 10 o'clock.

Waterford County Council (Continued from Page One) Troop Meeting.—The troop meeting started on Sunday night on time, but then the troop meeting always starts in time—any time. However, with the few scouts present the SM (Senior Scout) was unable to get the troop meeting started. The SM went from patrol to patrol asking questions which any scout could answer. The SM don't mind being interrupted, but he did mind being interrupted so much so that when the quiz ended there was three times as many scouts present as when the quiz began. The quiz was a very good one and was well received by the boys. The quiz was a drill game. Two teams were picked and named A and B. Then they lined up parallel to each other. The SM then called out some orders and needless to say the response was something beautiful to watch. It was gratifying to see all the boys, both little and big, snapping smartly into position. DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT

FATHER WHO ATTACKED DAUGHTER WITH KNIFE MUST NOW SERVE TWO MONTHS' SUSPENSORY SENTENCE

Dungarvan District Court was held before Mr L. Skinner, DJ on Wednesday last.

An extension of hours for the Golf Clubhouse on two occasions was granted on the application of Mr L. Lanigan, solicitor.

The renewal of the certificate of Registration for the Dungarvan Literary Club was granted on the application of Messrs Williams, solicitors, who were also granted a special exemption order for Mrs. Kathleen Kent, Egan's Hotel in respect of the night of 11th December.

No Driver's License. Paul O'Driscoll was fined 10/- for driving a car without having a driving license in force.

William Keating, Carrigeenagran, was fined 10/- for failing to send his child to school. Guard Flaherty was complainant.

Drunk. Patrick Doyle, no fixed abode was fined 10/- on two counts when summoned by Guards Giffin and Deasy for being drunk and disorderly at Dungarvan on Nov 12th and 13th.

Van Collided With Cow. Michael Curran, Ballinacorney, Ring, was summoned by Supt. P. Flanagan, for causing obstruction and allowing a cow to wander on the public road arising from a collision between a van and the cow on October 23rd last.

The Superintendent said that a van driven by Mr O'Mahony was proceeding along the main road from Dungarvan, when it crossed the road when the cow appeared from nowhere and collided with it.

The Justice imposed a fine of 10/- in respect of the obstruction and awarded the cost of the P.O. on the other hand.

Attacked Daughter With Knife. Supt P. Flanagan charged Patrick Street, 12 Canal Bank, Dungarvan, with assaulting his daughter Mary, on Thursday 18th November last, by striking her with a knife.

Defendant who appeared was not professionally represented. The Justice in evidence stated that as a result of a complaint received on November 18th he went to Street's house.

The only one he found there was the defendant as the wife and children had left and had been at the Barracks three times that day.

Street had a large stout partly consumed before him on the table and was having a meal. He appeared to have drunk taken, but denied that he had assaulted his daughter.

Sgt. Browne said that he then searched Street and found a knife (produced in court) in Street's breast pocket. When he questioned Street about the knife he said that he wanted it for rabbits.

Guard Winters gave evidence of receiving two complaints on Nov 18th and when he went to the house at 8.45 p.m. he found the daughter in a very distressed condition.

Asked by the Justice whether he wished to ask the witness any questions defendant asked—Did you see any injuries? Witness—No.

Defendant—Did you ask to see them? Witness—No.

Mary Street in evidence said that on Nov 18th, she was at home before Dr. Cooper called. He was drunk and started quarrelling about money.

He told her to get out but she did not go and then he said that he would go and then he said that he would go and then he said that he would go.

Defendant then said that all he wanted was co-operation from his children and said that they could not expect him to keep them all.

It was a five to one attack, continued witness and although they said that when I am strong you'd be surprised I couldn't stand in the kitchen and get murdered without doing something.

The Justice then sentenced defendant to one month's imprisonment.

The Superintendent pointed out that defendant had received a suspensory sentence of two months on October 13th and the Justice said that in that case defendant would have to serve that two months' sentence now.

Men have to do some awful mean things to keep up their respectability.

The action was not defended.

STRYCHNINE TO KILL LANDLORD And A Horse Offered To Swap £50

At the Wexford Petty Sessions on Thursday, before E. F. Ryan R.M., Major Husons and the Mayor, Michael Ryan, a farmer, living at Coolaboy, was charged with procuring poison for the purpose of killing his landlord.

From the evidence of Dr. Robert H. Cooper it appears that the defendant went into his shop on the 24th instant and handed him a letter that was sent to defendant by one of his assistants in answer to a letter he had addressed to Dr. Cooper inquiring whether chloroform would be sold to him to smother bees.

Dr. Cooper gave him two ounces of the best chloroform, for which he paid him five shillings, taking the chloroform with him. Sometime during the day he returned and asked to speak privately with Dr. Cooper.

On being brought in the study he asked if he would give him as much strychnine as would kill his landlord in answer to Dr. Cooper he said his landlord's name was Murphy and that he was in consumption and was under the care of Dr. Furlong. The defendant said that his landlord was wanting to raise the rent of a holding that himself and his father had for generations at 5/- an acre to 6/- an acre.

He offered to give Dr. Cooper £20 if he would give him the strychnine, and afterwards increased it to £50 and a horse. On being refused he said he would telegraph to Dublin for it. He then asked for arsenic. This also being refused he asked why he was given the chloroform.

Dr. Cooper feeling anxious about giving him the chloroform, got it back and gave him a bottle of harmless mixture instead.

The Bench adjourned the case for a week in order to give the Police time to enquire into the matter, ball being taken for the prisoner's appearance.

This report is taken from the Irish Times of April 29th, 1876, and the case was freely discussed throughout the countryside over fragrant cups of Musgrave Tea. It is interesting to note how often the name of this famous blend arises over the last century—surely wonderful evidence of consistent quality.

the provision of a fair-green could solve the hawkers problem which is at present occupying the attentions of our local traders and Urban Councilors. I do not believe that these hawkers can ever be legally put from the Square.

However if the fair is shifted to a fair-green a new set of regulations can be enforced. A small levy of say a penny or two-pence per beast could be charged to farmers for stands on the green and the travelling shops could also be charged a fair rental for a space to trade there. This income could go towards the cost of maintaining the fair-green as is done in other towns and would be a solution to all the problems.

LAMENT OF PADRAIG PEARSE

As this month of November has been dedicated to the special Commemoration of the great Patriots of 1916 the brothers Padraig and Willie Pearse, whose for this week the lament composed by J. M. Crofts -

A Phadraig Mac Phiarais a real geal na ndhaoinn
Oh! Why did you leave us in sorrow to pine
You are gone you are dead in the bloom of your manhood
In the Heaven's fair kingdom may your angel soul shine
You who fostered and taught to a young generation
To live the pure life of the Gael, hear our cry
Pray to God every day for the young Irish Nation
A Phadraig Why leave us so, Master, to die?

A Phadraig Mac Phiarais a fhille na hEireann
Ever bold was you pen with the fervour of truth
In nature and soul you were slain a Muir's true friend
Proud champion of virtue, of love and of beauty a Muir's true friend
Your ashes sunk in the fair land that bore you
But your spirit's abroad on the winds passing by
And our people who breathe there are stured and undaunted
For they know that you left us for Eire to die

Circuit Court Cases

The following are the reports of the three concluding cases held before Judge Roe, at the Circuit Court in Dungarvan last week.

Successful Valuation Appeal. Opening an appeal on behalf of the Augustinian Fathers, against the placing of an amalgamated valuation of £170 on their premises and College at Dungarvan, the learned Mr O'Hanrahan, B.L. (instructed by Mr Nash, S.R.) stated that the Friars acquired the premises in 1871 which now comprise the friary proper. This was mainly a school for the priests. In 1890 a school was started in a nearby premises. Mr O'Hanrahan then went on to refer to the large store which Messrs A Moloney erected on the land adjoining the college and that they subsequently sold the Friars about 1946 who then set about adapting it for use in connection with their College and in 1951 it was completed. Up to that time there were separate valuations on each of the properties and a valuation of £100 was put on the converted stores. The Friars then sought to amalgamate the valuations, and a new valuation for £200 was fixed. On an appeal to the Commissioners, this was reduced to £170.

Counsel then went on to state that the average number of boarders attending the college was 120, while there were about 20 day pupils. On the running of the college as a whole he said that there was the considerable average annual deficit of £3,500 in which the teaching services of five priests was not taken into account. The reason he said why the Order carried on running the college at this loss was that it was the main source from which they got the money for the priest's stipend which was proved by the fact that in the past four years they had 36 vocations while last year out of their Leaving class of 25 students, there were 11 vocations for the priesthood. The store which had been purchased in 1946 had cost £4,900 and had cost a further £24,000 to adapt it.

Rev Fr T. Butler, O.S.A. Assistant Rector at St. Augustine's, Dungarvan, explained that bearing out Counsel's opening statement. He then produced figures which showed that the deficit since the year 1951/52 had been £2,018, £2,065, and £5,074. These deficits had been made up by collections, a loan from their central fund, etc.

Fr Butler went on to deal with the repairs needed to the Friars' house and college, and handed in an estimate which had been prepared by a local contractor to cover the internal and external repairs needed. This came to a total of £1,500. Mr Curran, Engineer and Valuer, gave evidence in respect of the premises and he detailed the repairs required and he said that even with the entire buildings in a normal state of repair, an annual general figure for repairs of between £1,000 and £1,200 would be required.

Mr Curran then went on to refer to appeals of the same character brought by other colleges throughout, and submitted comparative tables showing the reductions which the courts had ordered. In concluding, he said that he thought that a valuation of £90 would be a fair figure in respect of the Augustinian Friars. The only witness for the Commissioners who were represented by Mr G. Clark, B.L. (instructed by Dr Counihan, State Solicitor), Mr Peter O'Reilly, District Valuer, Officer who said that in his opinion an annual repair figure of between three and four hundred pounds would be nearer the mark if the buildings were first put into normal repair through capital expenditure.

Giving judgment, his Lordship said that it was very difficult to apply the standards of the Act to buildings such as those in the present case as they had no letting value. His Lordship added that he was satisfied that there should be reductions in the valuation of the House (£40), and the College (£42). He knew that the holy Fathers were carrying on the loss stated as the school was the main source from which they got their vocations and this was very good work. He thought, however, that the figure given by Mr. O'Hanrahan for 1946 was too high, and he then fixed the valuation for the entire premises at £140, a reduction of £60 on the figure fixed by the Commissioners. Twenty-five guinea costs were allowed on the application of Mr O'Hanrahan.

£80 For Farm Worker. In his claim for £345 15s. 0d. against the estate of the late William Keane of Ballybrusa, Grange, Youghal, alleged to be in respect of wages due for the two years as from 26th November, 1950 his Lordship awarded James Fitzgerald also of Ballybrusa, a decree for £80 and costs.

Plaintiff in evidence stated that he lived about half-mile from the farm of William Keane who had been his godfather. Keane had promised to employ him in 1942 when the latter came down to his father's house and asked him to do some tillage for him and he said that Keane had then told him that if he stayed on the farm, he would pay him well. Keane had two farms, one at Ballybrusa and the other at Ballylangadon.

Witness went on to say that he continued working for Keane until the latter died in 1950. He said that the Ballylangadon farm and despite the promises that he would see witness well and give him a good stand, he got nothing as he understood all the money went to work out Keane. He said that he did not return and stayed working at the place until Keane died in November, 1952. In all the time he had worked he had been paid nothing.

Counsel explained that under the Agricultural Wages Act, plaintiff could only claim in respect of the two years prior to Keane's death.

Questioned by the Judge, Fitzgerald said that he had no actual bargain as to wages between himself and Keane and he thought he would be left the place when Keane would die. Judge - And when it wasn't then put in your claim for wages? Witness - Yes.

Patrick Walsh, Edward Foley and John Whelan, all of Ballybrusa, gave evidence of having seen plaintiff working at Keane's but none could say whether he worked there every day of the week, Patrick Walsh stating in cross-examination that he worked there perhaps three days each week.

Edmund Ryan, Auctioneer, Dungarvan, said that he had sold the stock on Keane's land which comprised a stallion, a few horses, and a cow for £55 4s 0d and he had sold the farm for £1,370. The lands had been neglected, he said, and the house and outbuildings had been dilapidated.

Maurice Keane, Crushea, Ardmore, in evidence said that he had been a first-cousin of the late William Keane and was administering his estate. He could not say anything as to whether Fitzgerald had worked at the farm or not.

William Morrissey said that he had worked for Keane on and off and got some grazing from him in return. He had seen Fitzgerald working there but would not say that he had seen there every day.

The Judge said that he was satisfied that Keane had got plaintiff to come to work for him in the hopes that he would hand the farm over to him and the young man had continued on account of that implied promise. While he was satisfied that Fitzgerald had done a good deal of work for Keane from day to day, he would not agree that he had worked any full weeks. He then allowed a decree for £80 with costs.

Loss of Cow. Patrick McCarthy, Deerpark, Lismore, had a claim for the loss of two cows alleged to have been sustained when bullocks, the property of James Barry, Rath, Lismore, broke into the field where they were feeding and attacked them.

Plaintiff in evidence said that he was called the "Kerryman." He had four or five cows, all in good condition, and two were in calf. At about 5.30 p.m. on April 3rd he was feeding the cows when about 20 or 25 bullocks broke in from an adjoining field and a blue coloured bullock ran at the cows and knocked two of them upside down. Defendant and his man came in and they managed to get the bullocks out. The cows were groggy after the attack and had later to be destroyed.

David Lee, Veterinary Surgeon, Lismore, said that he had inspected one of the animals which had been stretched out on its right side on the field. She had been in fair to poor condition. He examined her thoroughly and formed the opinion that she could not have been injured internally. He valued the cow at £25.

James Barry in evidence said that he had seen the bullocks break into Georgehegan's land and he went after them and turned them out. He did not see any of the bullocks attack the cows and, McCarthy helped him to put the bullocks out and he said nothing to him about the cows having been attacked. The first he heard of the matter was the following Tuesday morning. He had seen the two cows and both had been in very poor condition. There had been no external marks on them.

Evidence for the defence was also given by John Russell an employee of defendant and R. P. Byrne, Veterinary Surgeon, Dungarvan, who stated that he saw one of the cows which in his opinion was in a semi-starved condition.

His Lordship stated that he accepted plaintiff's evidence and that he was not at all impressed by defendant's case, gave a decree for £40, together with £2 2s 6d. fees and costs.

When his Lordship announced his decision, Mr. Lovatt, Dolan, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. A. Campbell, solicitors) for defendant asked for a stay.

Mr. G. Clarke, B.L. (instructed by Mr. W. O. Gorman, solicitor) for plaintiff said that he would agree to the request only if the amount of the decree was lodged in court by defendant.

Counsel for defendant agreed to this and his Lordship then granted the stay on condition that the amount of the decree was lodged in court within ten days.

GROUND LIMESTONE

Deliveries from our Ballybeg and Killpugh plants during September broke all previous records for any month. More farmers are finding that they cannot afford to miss the increased yields and healthier stock produced on lime-enriched land. In the area first supplied by our Ballybeg plant alone, there have now been established 18 other Ground Limestone plants and our deliveries are now limited to a radius of 40 miles. But our sales are greater than ever. There is every indication that the Spring demand will exceed even our output which is the biggest in Ireland.

Our quarries were selected after test and examination of almost every limestone deposit in Cork and many in Limerick, Tipperary and Waterford. Our production is tested each day to maintain the best proportion of particles of each size and is analysed for chemical composition in our Laboratories.

We deliver anywhere within 40 miles, even over very difficult routes. We spread almost everywhere with robust and efficient mechanical spreaders designed for cross-country work with front and rear axles driven. Most of these spreaders are now equipped with twin rear wheels to reduce further the bearing pressure on the soil. Our accredited spreading agents are equipped with efficient tractor spreaders. We are open to consider applications for appointment as spreading agents in a few areas. Our Ballybeg plant will supply, during winter and spring only, a mixture of Ground Limestone, Gafsa and Potash or Ground Limestone, Fertiphos and Potash mixed in 30-ton lots in correct proportions to suit your land.

Because of the support of the farmers, our price is the lowest we know of in any country in the world. While other prices and costs have increased, Irish farmers can lime their land cheaper to-day than their ancestors could when wages were 6d a day.

BOXING

T. SHEEHAN'S GREAT WIN

Three boxers from Dungarvan took part in the Tournament in Cork on Friday last. Of the three, there were two winners and the third was just beaten. Best performance of the three was that of T. Sheehan who scored a first round win over P. Crowley; Munster's Lightweight champion, Crowley, defeated Sheehan recently in those championships but could not match Sheehan's punching power on this occasion and retired at the end of the first round. T. Sheehan in his Lightweight bout with E. Butler, Cork, was never extended and won easily on points. E. Bluet, Lightweight, was defeated by P. Graham, Tramore. Bluet was content to box his man in all four rounds and did not appear to be all-out, but seemed to have done enough to win but the decision went to Graham.

There will be an Inter-club Tournament in Youghal shortly between Dungarvan and Sunny-side, Cork, and there will be several new faces among the Dungarvan boxers, as several promising lads will be having their first contests. Full details will be known shortly. Don't forget the International in Waterford on tomorrow (Saturday) and that there is a bus travelling for same. - Amateur.

The Abbesside Marian Girls' Club

Thursday Night - Most of the members were on time tonight and Carol practice was most satisfactory which is a good thing as there are only thirty-six more days to Christmas and thirty-two divided by seven gives us exactly five more meeting nights. Our newest members gave a delightful display of Irish step-dancing tonight. Waste paper - Mention of our need of waste paper in the notes a few weeks past brought an unexpected and very generous gift of some from many readers and to them we tender our sincere thanks

Raffis - Tickets for the cake were on sale tonight. Some members seemed to be very wary of buying in bulk. On now and again is their idea of a better chance of winning.

At Home - The members will be at home to their mothers or Guardians on the 7th December.

Sympathy - The Committee and members wish to convey their sympathy to Miss M. Airdrie, in the death of her aunt. The meeting ended with the usual prayers.
