LISHMORE PRIEST TACKLES BIG TASK IN ENGLAND

This week the beam of Spotlight swings to focus attention on the gigantic task which a Lishmore born priest has undertaken in England. The story comes to me from Mr G. W. Loftus of Sale Cheshire and should prove of immense interest to all my County Waterford readers.

I'll just pass the story on as I got it from my correspondent. He says Facing the toughest task ever tackled by an Irish priest in England, the Very Rev. M. J. Walsh, S.M.A., M.A. has undertaken a mission in England. The story comes to me from Mr G. W. Loftus of Sale Cheshire and should prove of immense interest to all my County Waterford readers.

Walsh and Waterford go together, famous as a combination ever since the days of the great shilling from each name-plate in his native county would be of tremendous assistance to Father Walsh. A shilling a head from every Waterford resident could clear away almost all his problems.

Here is the story of this courageous priest and the battle he fights. Twelve months ago Father Walsh was sent by the Society of African Missions to start a new foundation in England, and seek more potential priests for the Mission fields.

His first job was to open a Hall of Residence for Catholic Students. While completing this task in Manchester he realised the plight of the thousands of coloured people in the area. Lacking recreational and social facilities they were lonely and neglected. Many of them, living in bad conditions, could not find any work.

There was one instance which was a terrible example of the way coloured people are treated. A young coloured boy was brought to England by a European. Each day he worked 18 hours and, in return, received £3 a month and was given a bowl of rice a day to eat. Some-times he was ill-treated and the employer threw him into the street with threats of what the police would do.

Terrified and not knowing what to do, the lad eventually was put in touch with Father Walsh who immediately helped him. Enquiries showed that 190-200 people were living in a tenement block within three months because there is no one to help them. So the magnificent work of the Missionaries in foreign fields is to quite a large extent, being tested.

Mission Oye-Ekiti and Principal of St. Leo's Teachers Training College, Abeokuta

I hope that the publication of this story will touch the hearts of all and that the plight of the Chief who resulted in the undertaking will be eased by those to whom this appeal is directed.

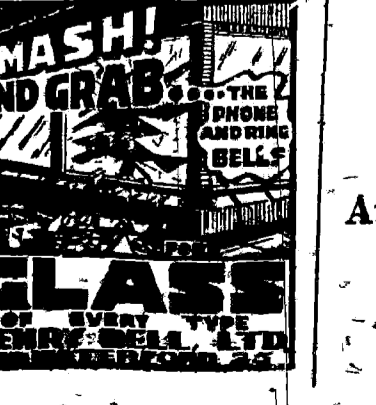

HERE AND THERE
The only surprise at last Sunday's County G.A.A. Convention was the withdrawal of Mr O. M. J. Walsh, S.M.A., M.A. from the Chair which resulted in the proposed return of Mr Pat Fanning Waterford, as the new Chairman. Pat should prove an excellent Presiding Officer, and with his comprehensive knowledge of the Rules, should have no difficulty in dealing with the various problems as they arise.

With so many essential things to be done, and expenditure mounting weekly I fail to see how members of Dungarvan Urban Council can feel justified in spending money from the rates on such things as tree-planting. The idea of subsidising a laudable one but you don't see a poor man buying style for himself if he is hungry. With him first things will sensibly come first.

THE LITTLE WHITE CROSS
Once I saw by the wayside a little white cross
At the bend of the road near Clonree
By wild grass overgrown and half covered with moss
'Neath a twisted old white hawthorn tree
And it bore no proud name, nor yet even a prayer
Save an almost effaced 'R.I.P.'
All forgotten by those 'en who planted it there
At the bend of the road near Clonree

And the summer sun shines and the winter winds blow
Round the bend of the road near Clonree
There's a pall of white blossoms or mantle of snow
'Neath that twisted old white hawthorn tree
But wonder who sleeps 'neath that little white cross
With an almost effaced 'R.I.P.'
By wild grass overgrown and half covered with moss
At the bend of the road near Clonree

Oh! we owe not to Ireland's famed leaders alone
The great debt of a land that is free
To martyrs like him who no sleep all unknown
'Neath that twisted old white hawthorn tree
Un-remembered, un-named 'neath that little white cross
With an almost effaced 'R.I.P.'
By wild grass overgrown and half covered with moss
At the bend of the road near Clonree.

SEA-MONSTER SIGHTED

Strange Encounter In The Mediterranean

The Royal Yacht, which arrived at Portsmouth having left Liverpool on her homeward voyage, encountered on her homeward voyage a sea monster, probably the notorious sea serpent. About five o'clock in the afternoon, while the yacht was proceeding round the north coast of Sicily towards Cape Vito, the sea was exceptionally calm. The skin of the monster is described as being devoid of scales and assembled the sleekness of a seal. The head was bullet shaped with an elongated termination and was about six feet in diameter. The features are described as being like those of an alligator. The neck was comparatively narrow but so much of the body as could be seen developed in form like a gigantic turtle and from each side extended two fins about fifteen feet, and with these the monster paddled itself along in the fashion of a turtle. The monster was proceeding in an easterly direction and as the yacht, which was steering in an opposite course, had a long passage before her she could not wait to make a minute observation.

Sea-faring people have been reporting the sighting of sea-monsters from the earliest times up to the present day. This particular account appeared in the 'Coric' Examiner on June 13th, 1877. Almost a hundred years ago but we can be certain that there was a considerable amount of excited discussion over fragments of Musgrave Tea. It is interesting to observe how these famous blends have been associated with events occurring throughout the last century.

Irish Creamery Milk Suppliers Association

Waterford Regional Meeting

A County Waterford Regional Meeting held at the Friary Hotel, Dungarvan, presided over by Mr Thomas Wall, Vice-Chairman, Mr J. Dwyer, Vice-President, addressing the meeting said that the delegates for coming, and in fact, the price of milk was only 1.2d a gallon. He expressed the view that it was the duty of all dairy farmers to join the Organisation.

Secretary's Report

The following are extracts from the report of Mr D. Guid Secretary:

I—That the County G.A.A. Committee is not an easy one as it is only when other branches of the Association take a respite do the real work of the Association.

The Chairman said that the investigation Committee set up to deal with the encroachment of the pitch on the occasion of the County Senior Football Final.

The Chairman said that general opinion held that it was Ballinacourty who had been responsible. He stated that he had given evidence before the Committee and had said that the Ballinacourty Club as such had not been responsible. The Club's supporters were prised mainly of our National teachers who have spared no effort to see realised the Gaelic ideals in the boys under their charge.

Mr Terry said that the encroachment was general and had been due to the bad stewarding and the bad refereeing of the game. The Chairman said that it was an insult to the referee who had done his job conscientiously and fairly.

Mr J. O'Dea (Abbeyside) said that Mr Kenneally who presided at the County Board meeting on Oct 26th and Mr Curran on a subsequent date stated as reported in the Press that neither Ballinacourty nor Abbeyside had been responsible but pointed to the findings of the investigation Committee which stated that the main onus was on Ballinacourty. Which of the three statements were correct, he asked.

Mr J. Power (Ballinacourty) asked how could we disassociate ourselves from something which we were so much associated with. Chairman—That's the time you could easily do it. This discussion will have to end now as there is a letter in the hands of the Secretary that legal proceedings are being taken. A mob surrounded the shed on that occasion and intimidated the Officers of the Board and we could not stand for that.

Mr D. O'Sullivan—As the matter is sub judice I propose that this discussion be ended. Chairman—That's all I say anything as regards the accuracy of Press reports. The discussion was then terminated.

Carnival Funds

Mr L. Corbett asked how much of the Carnival Funds had gone to pay off the old medals accounts as this was what the Carnival had been held for. The Chairman, thanking Mr Corbett for the interest associated with him in running the Carnival said that the Board had never stated that that was the aim of the carnival.

Secretary Returned Unopposed

The Chairman said that he wished to announce that Mr D. Good had been returned unopposed as Secretary for the coming year and this was a great privilege to him as an efficient officer and as a Gael. Mr Good returning thanks said that since he was first returned in 1938 the work of the Association within the county had increased a hundred-fold but he felt he was doing a fairly good job.

It is enlightening and revealing to teams that some of these critics have now become enthusiastic foreign game fans Constructive criticism is a good and healthy thing. Most of the criticism is vicious, charitable and cowardly mean

When speaking to you last year I pointed out that it is the duty of all members to state that there is still a small minority who deliberately and persistently violate the rule which prohibits attendance at any of our foreign games

Announcing the fact that he would not be a candidate for the Chair and that he would not stand due to personal reasons He thanked everyone and paid high tributes to his colleagues on the Board during his four and a half years as Chairman and said that he had never done anything to offend anyone deliberately

Only One Nomination Mr Curran then stated that Mr Pat Fanning (Mount Sion) was the only nomination as all the other had withdrawn and it gave him great pleasure to declare Mr Fanning returned as Chairman He said that he knew that the Association was now never deviate from its aims and rules

BALLYDUFF NOTES

Concert—A most enjoyable concert was held in St Michael's Hall on Jan 6th when with the exception of three guest artists from Dungarvan, all performers were local. A special feature was that it was divided, arranged and produced by two local young ladies, Misses Imelda Cullinan and Josephine Heskin, who were also responsible for the training and rehearsing of the many school children taking part.

The concert opened with the "Welcome Song" sung by the Children's chorus. Arranged in their red tartan-plaid costumes, these children produced a very colourful scene. Following this was the "Wild Colonial Boy" sung by a young local singer, Master Tommy Enright. We then had a duet from Mr. Tom Mesall, Dungarvan and Miss Pat Coleman, their lovely rendering of "Isn't This A Lovely Day" and "This Is My Lovely Day" was loudly applauded. The children then took the stage in a marching display and singing. They sang three Scottish and two Irish songs. Misses Breda Enright, Maura Scannan and Rosemary O'Neill sang the Moon Behind the Hill and Miss Jo Cunningham sang Ballyduff very sweetly and was loudly applauded. Miss Pat Coleman's interpretation of "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "The Last Good-bye" was excellent. Misses Rosemary and Carmel O'Neill and Breda Enright then danced a Three Hand-Reel which was followed by Masters Kevin Barry and Brian Enright singing "The Happy Wanderer" which won them loud applause. Guest artists from Dungarvan Messrs Tom Duggan, Christy Burke and Jim Duggan had the audience enthralled with their "Birdie Time". Mr. Christy Burke's whistling and singing held everyone entranced and Messrs Tom Duggan and Jim Duggan with their accordions were excellent. Then we had Carol singing from the children's chorus in which Miss Helen Hegarty played the part of Our Lady to perfection. This was followed by a Bill-Billie Chorus in which the children were joined by the Dungarvan artists. Miss Rosemary O'Neill then recited "Ireland's Queen" and Misses Josephine Enright and Sheila Walshe, danced a jig, followed by Miss Maura Scannan singing "The Violet". Master Kevin Barry was outstanding as the "Lassie From Ballyduff". The hilarious mirth and loud applause of the audience showed their appreciation of this talented young gentleman. Master Jimmy Enright, then gave a fine rendering of "Mocking Bird Hill" and a very old favourite. Mr. David Barry sang "Bless This House". We then made the acquaintance of the "Lassie From Dungarvan", as portrayed by Mr. Christy Burke who was very loudly applauded. The children took the stage again in a chorus of popular songs. Master Jim O'Neill gave a selection of old and new melodies on the Harmonica which delighted the audience. We then had a hornpipe from Misses T. Hickey, J. Cunningham and Mrs. T. Cullinan. Miss Enright then recited "The Little Jim", followed by "Irish Half Hour" in which the local children had the audience in peals of laughter. The "Lassie From Ballyduff" made her appearance again in a very lovely duet from Mr. Tom Mesall, Dungarvan and Miss Pat Coleman, their lovely rendering of "Isn't This A Lovely Day" and "This Is My Lovely Day" was loudly applauded. The children then took the stage in a marching display and singing. They sang three Scottish and two Irish songs. (K)NIGHT OF THE BATH

Death Of Mrs. Mary Power, Fitzgerald's Terrace.

ONE OF DUNGARVAN'S OLDEST DAUGHTERS

Dungarvan lost a grand old native in the death of Mrs. Mary Power, Fitzgerald's Terrace, which occurred at her residence on Tuesday morning, Jan. 24th. The late Mrs. Power would hardly be known by this name anywhere in the Old Boro. To every one, she was the friendly, jovial and neighbourly Mary Carey, whose helping hand was extended to legions.

All her life she lived in the shadow of the Presentation Convent in that neat little row of white-washed homes that for so long stood close-by the Convent wall in Mitchell Street. In the Urban Council's better housing programme she was given a new home across the road from the old house at Fitzgerald's Terrace and as always Mary was happy, contented and jovial. That was one of the great things about Mary—no matter how much her troubles weighed upon her, no one knew about it and always there was a cheerful greeting for those that came her way.

From her early days, Mary Carey nursed the sick, rich and poor. She tended the needs of the poor and humble and kept many a neighbour's home going during a mother's illness—she spent many a sleepless night by the bedside of prominent ladies and gentlemen—and always Mary's attention left nothing lacking.

Even in her own home she won God's favour, for tragedy struck deeply within her own family and left three of her grandchildren without parents, but they were never without a mother for Mary was to them the best mother they could have had.

The Abbeyside Marian Girls' Club

Thursday—Everyone was on time tonight so things were in full swing rather earlier than usual rehearsal of the play and choir practice claimed the greater part of the time. We again had a lot of practice so far, but in spite of that things are taking shape already. Of course time is short (we have only two more meeting nights) but if everyone gets down to business to polish up what she already knows everything should turn out satisfactory. We hope to have the next two meetings rather early in the evening.

DUNGARVAN U.D.C. STREET-TRADING ACT ADOPTED PLOT OWNERS WHO SUB-LET ROWDYISM AT CONGRESS VILLAS

Mr. T. Lannan, Chairman, presided at the fortnightly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council held at the Town Hall on last Friday night. Present were Messrs T. A. Kynne, T. D. Lee, P. Walsh, N. McCarthy, M. J. Keane, and P. Casey. Messrs P. Walsh, B. E. Deery, Borough Surveyor, and E. Deery, Town Clerk were in attendance.

Rowdyism At Congress Villas
At the outset of the meeting Mr. Lee complained that there had been a lot of rowdyism carried on by youngsters at Congress Villas recently when stones had been fired at doors, gates and electric bulbs had been broken. Paths interfered with and old women almost knocked down. He said that something should be done to stop such conduct.

Mr. Casey—How old would the youngsters be?
Mr. Lee—Oh, they're big lads, they couldn't be children to do some of the damage.

Mr. Casey—Perhaps Mr. Lee has some money he could give?
Mr. Lee—That's a job for the police. I'm not going to inform on anyone.

The Clerk was instructed to draw the attention of the Garda to the complaint.

Bill Posting Protest
Arising out of the minutes, Mr. Casey referred to the discussion on the permission given by the Co. Manager to Messrs David Allen Co. to erect poster boards in certain areas of the town which took place at the last meeting and which ended with the Vice-Chairman's ruling that the Co. Manager's Order would have to stand as it had been taken on the matter, he said.

A discussion on the same lines as that at the previous meeting developed and the Chairman was absent on that occasion. The Chairman stated that he wished to say that he disagreed with the Order made by the Co. Manager on the subject. He added that if the Co. Manager and the other officials concerned believed in what they said themselves they would have protected the family in Dungarvan doing this work and who had done so much hardship for the country.

The minute was accordingly amended.

Toilet In Town Hall Shocking
Mr. Casey referred to two orders made by the County Manager as follows: (1) Report of Town Clerk of 31st December that the "No Toilet" signs were left outside the Town Hall after the dance held on St. Stephen's Night. Order—that Night Caretaker be asked for an explanation and (2) Explanation submitted to Town Clerk by Acting Night Caretaker Order—Explanation accepted.

He asked what explanation had been given by the Caretaker.

Mr. Lee—He admitted that he overlooked taking in the two signs on that night and that he had left on two lights in the hall. He paid the cost of the light and with regard to the sign on the morning after the dance he said that this man had locked himself into a lavatory at the end of the dance and refused to come out.

Mr. Casey said that he had attended a dance at the Town Hall on the previous Sunday night and found the men's toilet in a shocking condition while the women's had been washed absolutely filthy.

This is a new Town Hall, said Mr. Casey, which has cost a lot of money and it is a disgrace that the toilets and the stairs leading to them should be in such a condition. It is referred to in the monthly report?

Mr. McCarthy said that the Caretaker couldn't be expected to go around after everybody to see that they behaved properly.

Mr. Walsh said that the men's toilet had been badly constructed in the first place.

Mr. Lee—Who is the caretaker?
Mr. Casey—I don't care who he is.
Clerk—Mr. Lyons is in charge at the dances.
Mr. Lee—Well it's not the day Caretaker who was responsible?
Clerk—No. It's very unfair to him as it is he who has to clean up the day after a dance.
Mr. Casey—The conditions there were due to pure neglect.

Finally the discussion ended with Mr. Walsh stating that in future the monthly report of the Engineer on the condition of the Hall should be put on the table for each meeting at which it was due.

Trees And Tree Guards
With reference to the Council's decision to obtain an estimate of repairing the six tree guards at Friary Street, the Borough Surveyor reported that repairs would cost £9 and painting them would come to £4 10s.

Mr. Casey recommended that the Munster & Leinster Bank Authorities be asked to plant three trees outside their new premises at Bridge Street.

Mr. Walsh said that he was glad to see the members being so tree conscious as it meant a better hope that the trees would be put down at Murphy Place.

Chairman—The Council won't pay for them.
Mr. Casey then suggested that six trees be planted at Bridge Street and that the guards at Friary Street be taken down, re-

Deputy Kynne said that he was sure the Minister for External Affairs was not waiting for Mr. Kelly to tell him what to do.

Mr. Walsh proposed a direct negative especially to the second portion of the resolution as he said it was menial and slavish thinking to ask any Government to debar any man from living where he liked.

Deputy Kynne said that all outside resolutions from other bodies should be ignored. Can't we form our own opinions and pass our own resolutions as we want to? He said it's nonsensical to have all these resolutions going around the country like mad. They are only a waste of time as the Government will not take one bit of notice of them and all they do is to cause discord.

Mr. Kelly said that the resolution should be adopted as they should stand by the men who had done what was done in the North.

Deputy Kynne told Mr. Kelly that there were lots of other places up the North which could be attacked if Mr. Kelly wished but in case that his remarks might be misinterpreted he suggested that the Council might adopt their own resolution recognising the courage of the men who took part at an raid and admire them without making any comment as to whether it had been the correct thing to do.

There was no second for Mr. Kelly and Deputy Kynne's resolution was passed unanimously.

Another Resolution
Dealing with a resolution from Longford U.D.C. urging the Government to introduce legislation to prevent the holding of fairs on the public streets, Deputy Kynne said that he held the same views about this resolution as the last one.

The Council decided that the matter of ignoring these outside resolutions be put on the agenda for discussion at next meeting.

The Longford resolution was noted.

Shandon Street House
With reference to previous representations by Rev. Fr. Riordan concerning his mother's house at Shandon, an order from the County Manager stated that Fr. Riordan's request for certain alterations could not be granted as it would involve extra maintenance costs and additional expenditure.

The Council agreed that the work be done if Fr. Riordan agreed to pay the extra costs.

Plots Sub Let
Arising from consideration of the over-expenditure on ploughing allotments for the coming season, Mr. Keane said that a rumour had been very common last year that the people named for the plots were not the actual owners of them at all and that the plots had been sub-let. They should see to it, he said, that no one else should get the plots except those to whom they were let.

Deputy Kynne and the Chairman suggested that the matter was one which the Guards might investigate.

Mr. Lee held that a man could do what he liked with his own plot.

Mr. Casey said that this was absolutely wrong.

Mr. Walsh—I was told that and was told to put her complaint in writing. It was a scandalous thing, he said, that an official should so ignore a report to safeguard the Council's property and he thought the Collector should be severely reprimanded.

The Borough Surveyor said that he would attend to the complaint immediately.

Trees—With reference to the planting of trees at Murphy Place, Mr. Walsh said that he had visited all the tenants who had agreed to plant the trees if supplied by the Council.

The Chairman said that as the matter was not on the agenda he would not deal with it until the next meeting.

Mr. Walsh protested at what he termed the high-handed action of the Chairman.

It was decided that the matter be deferred until next meeting and tenders for the trees to be got meantime.

Sympathy—Votes of sympathy were passed with the relatives of the late Con Finn, Mrs. May Power, Mrs. W. Walsh, Nin-Dwan and Mrs. N. Bowen.
