KEEPING UP THE TRADITION
 Students at Dungarvan CBS Secondary School figured prominently in the list of successes announced by the Civil Service Commissioners for this year's Junior Executive and Customs and Excise Examinations in the "Junior Ex" boys of the CBS scored 3rd, 7th and 15th places and in the "C & E" they had 6th place. No mean feat when it is realised that boys from all over the Republic—representing the cream of our Secondary Schools and Colleges—compete for these Civil Service plums. Congratulations then to the successful students Michael O'Connell, Ring, Liam de Butler, Main Street, Dungarvan, and Gerard O'Droma, Killosera, and to the Superior, Brothers and Sisters teachers at the CBS who are keeping up the grand tradition of this great educational centre.

SMOOTH RUNNING OF SENIOR HURLING FINAL
 Congratulations all round to County Board officials, stewards and Gardai for the wonderful arrangements at the County Senior Hurling Final at Dungarvan on Sunday. Everything went smoothly and the record attendance was under control from beginning to end. There were no encroachments onto the pitch during the half-time interval and the whole undertaking showed what could be done with a little effort and a bit of good organising. But why confine this show of how things should and can be done for County Senior Hurling only? Why not do a little serious organising for all games. The Association in the county owes this to the public which has been supporting them so generously so consistently, and so loyally down the years. I hope that the success which met the efforts of all concerned on Sunday last will be a headline for all future occasions, and that there will be no further need to deal with either the County or Divisional Boards in this respect.

BAD SEQUEL TO COUNTY SENIOR FOOTBALL FINAL
 The County Board has adjudicated on this year's County Senior Football Final and the majority decision was to abandon the championship for 1955 abandoned at a meeting held in Dungarvan on last Monday night. Much has been said about the two games between Brickey Rangers and Mount Sion, and much more will be said as the incidents at both games come up for investigation at a special meeting on next Monday night. From what I can see there were faults on both sides with many outsiders adding plenty of fuel to the fire as well. But I think the greatest blame must still be laid at the door of the County Board itself for lack of proper control organisation at the Waterford venue on both September 18th and 25th. If they had arranged for Waterford as they did for Dungarvan on Sunday last the County Senior Football Final would have been finished and there would be no need to hold further acrimonious investigations. The only reason I can see why this was not done is that football is more or less a nobody's baby in the County. There is no doubt that hurling is the number one concern, but that is no reason why our football championships should be treated like a Cinderella.

WAS MENTIONED IN 1824
 Some weeks ago I referred to the fact that when the facade board at Meades's Restaurant at the Square, Dungarvan was removed in the course of reconstruction work by the new owners of the premises, Messrs Dunne and O'Connell, a sign, etched in the wall underneath, proclaimed that some time in the past the premises were known as Flynn's Hotel. However, on one of the living in the Old Boro could remember when this premises was run as a hotel, but Mr John Murphy, Clonca, a collector of old histories and magazines and a keen student of these matters has informed me that he found reference in the published records of an Englishman, written in or around 1824, to the fact that a company travelling in one of Blacomb's coaches, stopped at Flynn's Hotel in Dungarvan. It would appear that the writer was not too happy about conditions at the hostelry as his remarks are not very complimentary but then he was an Englishman—a member of the master race which ground everything Irish under the heel at that time. Thanks to the co-operation of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Kinneen, Square, Dungarvan, who for-

G.A.A. HURLING MOUNT SION RETAIN SENIOR TITLE

But Abbeyside were Gallant Challengers

Mount Sion, 2-10; Abbeyside, 3-4
 WITH a seven points lead following a goal in the eleventh minute of the second half, Abbeyside Senior hurlers looked set to bring off the sensation of the year by wresting the title from holders Mount Sion at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last, but within a minute and a half the whole complexion of the issue changed when the champions flashed in two lightning goals and continued to whittle away the remaining margin which they levelled seven minutes from the end and went on to finish up three points in front at the final whistle.

It was a heart-breaking result for the Abbeyside XV, who, following an early point by Mount Sion, went into the lead and held it for more than three-quarters of the game. However it must be said that Mount Sion, although definitely rattled, particularly in the first half, never panicked and their consistency coupled with the opportunism of Seamus Power, who roamed loosely around centre field in the last quarter of the hour, picking off valuable long range points, brought the ultimate reward.

The match was played under perfect conditions but for a rather stiff south-westerly breeze which blew towards the goal. The refereeing was perfect and the County Board officials are entitled to unstinted praise for the way the record attendance was handled both outside and inside the pitch. There was no side-line, but still everyone had a perfect view of the game and the stewards and Gardai on duty did a perfect job which met with the approval of everybody. To keep the pitch clear during the interval arrangements had been made for the teams to go on to the adjoining Show Field, and the crowd generally respected the appeals over the public address system, and obeyed the instructions of the stewards.

Sharp on time referee Moss Pollard, had the teams on the pitch and the preliminary play began with the playing of the national anthem around the field by the massed Pipers Bands of the Abbeyside Boy Scouts and Dungarvan Conna na Gaelige. It had a delightful effect on the crowd. So much can be written for many "ifs" and "buts" crop up, but with sympathies naturally inclining towards the challengers it can be said that Abbeyside had been dogged with less than a fair wind. Mount Sion might not have won their title. The defections of Paddy Browne and Anthony Hayes due to incidents in the Ballinacourty, Carrowmore, junior football games on previous Sundays were a big loss to the Village as both of these had proved their merit in the earlier games of the championship. The loss of Paddy Browne was especially felt as in his role as full forward he had bagged many goals during the eliminating matches, and many felt that he would have turned in a few more goals against Regan had he been eligible to field out. Another factor that led to the Village downfall was their weakness in the right wing where Patchen Whelan was blotted out and could not cope with the speed and stamina of Hayden who had things all his own way for the full period of the game. Why the Abbeyside mentors allowed this chink in their armour to continue was hard to understand while it was also equally hard to understand why they allowed so much looseness at centre-field, where time and again the clever Seamus Power played havoc by getting away unmarked.

And now for the other side of the picture. Abbeyside should feel highly delighted that they produced some of the best hurlers of the match. First of these was Austin Flynn who had a delightful game and singled himself out as a very fine full-back. He was closely followed by young Jerry Flynn who in the centre-back position enhanced the reputation he has already won himself. He hurled consistently well and sealed off several dangerous moves. Then we had the youthful schoolboy Pete Clancy, whose fluent hurling devastated the Mount Sion defence, and whose great goal almost midway in the second half put Abbeyside followers in a frenzy of excitement. Another Abbeyside man who covered himself with glory was goal-keeper Liam Whelan. He brought off several spectacular saves and could not be faulted for the two that beat him. Others to catch the eye were the red-headed Larry Fraher, Liam O'Dea and Noel McGovern, who were all sound defenders. Dr Barry and Doran Whelan have had better games while John O'Connor's long lay off due to his disciplinary suspension was evident only in his lack of ball control, as he was otherwise remarkably fit. On the Mount Sion side their man of the match was Seamus Power, while Hayden played a "binder" all through. Martin Oge Morrissey was a brilliant centre-back and Johnny O'Regan showed many sparkles between the sticks. He was ably covered by Larry Fanning, while in the goalmouth the veteran Donal Oge Morrissey was just wide of the mark. Whelan was evidently making themselves felt and began to control the vital centre-field sector. Following a nice move by Donal Whelan John O'Connor who had moved in from centre-field sent over for another Village point, but this was negated a minute later when the loose Power sent over for the champions. The same player was just wide of the Grimes slipping a tackle by Colleder levelled the scores with a point in the 23rd minute of this half. Three minutes later Fowles gave Mount Sion the lead when he flashed over another point and Healy added another minor minute later. With time running out, Grimes had another point to give Mount Sion their 11th title (3rd in a row) with a 3 points margin.

The teams—Mount Sion—J. O'Regan, Morrissey, L. Fanning, W. Mulcahy, T. Connolly, M. Oge Morrissey, S. Hayden, P. Grimes, J. Conlon, M. Flannery, T. Gallagher, Seamus Power, M. Healy, T. Keane, P. Walsh. Abbeyside—Whelan, T. Colleder, A. Flynn, L. Fraher, N. McGovern, J. Flynn, L. O'Dea, T. Barry, J. O'Connor, J. Whelan, D. Whelan, J. Clancy, J. Hogan, A. Foley, J. Clancy.

Waterford County Board G.A.A. COUNTY SENIOR FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP ABANDONED

Sequel To Brickey Rangers-Mount Sion Final

Replay Motion Defeated By Single Vote

Mr P. Fanning, Chairman, presided at a meeting of Waterford County Board G.A.A. held at the S.H. Hall, Dungarvan, on last Monday night. In attendance were—Messrs J. Moloney, D. O'Sullivan, C. Ware, T. Lannen, P. J. O'Sullivan, T. Pinkert, J. Conway, and D. Goode, Secretary.

There was a full attendance of senior club delegates. Keen interest was displayed in the meeting as the case of the Brickey Rangers-Mount Sion senior football final, was down for decision and there was a big number of spectators who crowded the room.

Prior to the start of the meeting the Chairman called for the closing of the door as the room was full. There was a big number on the stairs and hallway outside at the time.

The First Game
 Reporting on the first (drawn) game, the referee, Mr. Jackie Goode, Dungarvan, stated that a draw had been a fitting result during the course of the game. He stated that some players had been interfered with by spectators and one of the Brickey team had been struck with a hurley by a man who was later removed. When the incident occurred he said he adopted what had been accepted as the most effective method to deal with such a situation by keeping the game going and he blew his whistle for play but some of the Brickey team ignored the warning.

As a result of this many harsh comments had been passed, the report stated, but in the light of subsequent events it was felt that the referee's decision had been proved correct. The referee added that the man who came on to the field had been identified as a Mount Sion supporter and he hoped that the officials and Club would see that this man was dealt with in a proper manner.

Mr J. McKenna (Brickey Rangers)—When this man came on to the field where were the stewards and why was he left on the field?

Chairman—I could not say but the referee states that the man was removed.

Mr McKenna—He was removed by Brickey players who when they got to the line were surrounded by Mount Sion supporters and the Brickey captain has stated that he was held by them and would not be left back to the pitch.

Mr J. Conway said that no stewards had been appointed to control the spectators that day. The Chairman said that there were stewards at the game. Two things arose from the referee's report. He said the incident about the man who hurled and the fact that one of the Brickey players had been struck. Personally he had not been aware of the latter occurrence until he read the report, but that no member of the Board had been identified and in accordance with established precedent he would be contacted and asked to comment on his action and the Board would deal with him as they saw fit. With regard to the reference to Brickey players who had ignored the referee's warning he said that these had not been named in the report.

Mr McKenna—They did not ignore the referee's warning. When two of the Brickey players removed the man they were surrounded by Mount Sion supporters and kept from returning to the pitch.

Chairman—The man responsible for the assault was not punished and the Board must also try and discover the names of the players who ignored the referee's warning as they left the field and were technically out of the game. These matters that will have to be gone into later.

The Second Game
 Reporting on the second game, the referee Mr Tom McGrath Kill stated that he abandoned the match in the 28th minute of the second half with the score standing—Mount Sion, 1-6, Brickey Rangers, 0-6 when a section of the crowd invaded the pitch and refused to leave. The Mount Sion team lined up and some of the Brickey team signified their willingness to recommence the game and the referee added that he could have managed the players if the crowd had stayed off the side-line.

The Chairman said that they must now seek to establish who came on the field and to apportion the blame as to who was responsible.

When he asked the delegates for their comments on the incident there was no reply from anyone.

Chairman—Well I suppose it is up to me to say something. This matter was a formidable affair and one which reflects no credit on the people responsible for it and I believe some of those who invaded the pitch that day can and will be identified.

The Chairman went on to say that if it was within his power to deal with the matter he would do so in a very quick manner. He had been described by a man in the middle of the field that day as a dictator he said, but he was not so as he was bound by the rules and could not go outside the referee's statement that the Brickey team indicated their willingness to go ahead with the game but, he said it has been reported that the Treasurer of the Brickey Club said on the field Brickey supporters stand your ground and don't leave the field.

Chairman Kicked And Shoved
 The Chairman then went on to say that when he tried to prevail on the crowd to clear the field he had been kicked and shoved and was then straightened out as for a punch, when he said "don't raise your hand to encourage the invasion" he was so-and-so dictated. The Secretary of the Brickey Club he said then rushed over and prevailed on the player who was encouraging the invasion to desist or else he would be suspended.

Replay Would Be Unjust
 Mr M. Doyle (Mount Sion) said that Mount Sion's attitude to the game was that it was over and that they had won it. He stated that their club was not responsible for the invasion of the pitch and their players had lined up to finish the game he said. If the Board ordered a replay it would be an unjust decision he said as it would encourage such an incident as had occurred. Mount Sion's interest in the game, he added, ended on the field and they did not care where the medals went for the Brickey team. It was for the Board to arrive at a decision and whatever that was would be accepted by the Brickey Club. He went on to say that it was a Mount Sion supporter who started the trouble the first day and in the second match the first man to be attacked was Tom Barry, a member of the Brickey team and it must have been by a Mount Sion supporter also.

Mr J. Morrissey (Mount Sion) said that he had gone on to the field when a Brickey player and Mount Sion player started fighting and shouted at them but he turned back when they stopped. He added that he was not a spectator but a steward that day.

The Chairman said that what Mr Morrissey referred to occurred ten minutes before the general invasion of the pitch. I am sorry continued the Chairman that no member of the Board has seen fit to comment that there was nothing unusual in a man stripped as a player kicking an official of the Board and that no, will be a matter for investigation later. Apparently I am the only one offering any views of what happened.

The Chairman then said that the referee's report must have to decide as to the disposal of the game.

A Lot of Amateur Boxers
 Mr C. Ware said that if the pitch had been properly stewarded the first day, what occurred the second day would never have happened.

It looks as if we have a lot of amateur boxers playing football he said who can't take a hard knock without putting up their fists.

Mr McKenna said that if there had been stewards the first day to keep the crowd back there would have been no replay.

Blackguards and Hooligans
 The Chairman said that he was sorry that those responsible for what happened were not

TARA REVEALS SECRETS

Celebrated in ancient legend as the capital of Pre-Christian Ireland, Tara of the Kings in County Meath is today revealing its secrets to the patient delving of modern archaeology

A few weeks ago Professor Sean P. O'Riordan of University College, Dublin, was completing excavations carried out by him and his assistants, at Tara, in the Mount of the Hostages during the previous eight weeks. These have been the third successive seasons' diggings at Tara under an Irish government grant administered by the Royal Irish Academy

Among objects discovered in previous years at Tara had been Roman coins evidence of trade links with the Empire as the Mount of the Hostages by the Romans. This summer's excavations have clearly shown that Tara was a dwelling place several centuries before the legendary date of the founding of Rome or before the birth of Christ

The mound of the Hostages, which is about 75 feet high, is now proved to be a wall of stone about eight feet high, covered by clay to the depth of three feet, so that the height of the whole structure is roughly 80 feet

During his ten years' stay amongst us Mr O'Shaughnessy has always interested himself in the advancement of the town and has been a most active participant in the sporting and social events of the district

Rev Fr Kavanagh, GM of Cork conducted the recently concluded retreat at the Presentation Convent for the Children of Mary. The attendance at the morning Mass and evening devotions was very large

The tale of two further dogs this week refers to the successful sale of two greyhound puppies—The Devil Painted, and Postman, owned by a popular Lismore sportsman, Mr Michael O'Shaughnessy

The Parish Church, Killeagh, was the scene of a very pretty ceremony on the evening of last week when popular Aglish man Mr John Hallahan of Tinniscart, Aglish, wedded Miss Mary Treacy of Monaghanogue, Killeagh

The bridesmaids were the Misses Joan and Ellen Treacy (sisters of the bride), the best man was Mr Ed Hallahan (brother of the groom)

As was anticipated, the attendance at the Inch Social in the Stage C.Y.M.S. Hall, on last Sunday, was a record for the city and all present enjoyed a really grand night

The tender of Messrs Murphy Bros for the removal of the Market Dock at Greenock Quay, for £15 has been accepted by the Harbour Commissioners

To the bereaved sisters and brothers, and other family relatives of the late Mr John Owens lamented death, our sincere condolences and sympathy

Area-wide congratulations to the present member of the progressive farming community of Killeagh area, (Ballynarrig) Mr Cornelius Lucey, who was recently married to Miss Casey of Fyland, Co. Wick, at a Fete and Paul's Church, Cork

The wedding ceremony was performed with Nuptial Mass and Papal blessing by Rev Fr Murphy, C.S. Peter & Paul's Church

The groom, who was attended by his brother, the Rev. Canon, son of Mr and Mrs Lucey of Ballinacree, the bride is daughter of Mr and Mrs Margery Casey, and had as her bridesmaid, her cousin Miss Abina Moynihan

The following statement has been issued by the Government Information Bureau on behalf of the Department of Agriculture

The quantitative restrictions on the importation of raw tomatoes, which were imposed as from 20th July, 1955, will be removed as from 18th October, 1955

As from that date licences under the Tomatoes (Regulation of Import) Order, 1948 will be required for the importation of raw tomatoes

Licences under the Colorado Beetle Order, 1945 and the Foot and Mouth Disease (Importation of Plants) Order, 1952, will, however, continue to be required in respect of each consignment

NEWS FROM YOUGHAL

The Wedding Bells on Thursday morning of last week at St. Mary's Parish Church announced the happy marriage union of two well and deservedly popular young people in the persons of Mr Gerald Nunn and Miss Bridget Roche

The groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Wm Nunn, Gillett's Hill, and the bride daughter of the late Mr and Mrs P. Roche, Water Street

The bride, who wore a pink frock and accessories to match, with a tawny net hair coat, was given away by her brother, Mr Michael Roche

The best man was Mr John Roche whilst the bride was attended by her sister Miss Nellie Roche

Subsequent to the reception attended by a large number of friends and relatives of both newly weds the first stage of the honeymoon on a visit of the South coast of Ireland began

John in wishing Mr and Mrs Nunn many years of happiness health and prosperity

The Forty Hours Adoration Ceremony which began in St. Mary's Church on Sunday and concluded on Tuesday, was very largely attended by the parishioners

Subsequent to the concluding High Mass on Tuesday, celebrated by Very Rev Canon Sheehan P.P. and assisted by Rev Fr Dwyer C.C. (deacon), Rev D. B. Slattery C.C. (sub-deacon), and Rev T. Slattery C.C. (Master of Ceremonies), there was a procession of the Most Blessed Sacrament around the Church

An unusual religious event in a well-known town family took place last week, when Sister Mary Martin Coleman, made her final profession of holy vows as a member of the Benedictine Community, Lowestoft, Suffolk, England, and on the same day Rev Brother Fabian Philip Coleman (her brother) made his reception at the De La Salle Retreat

Concluded at 6.30. Both these highly-educated young people are children of Mrs Mary and the late Garda James Coleman their uncle being Mr John Coleman of Lismore

We share the very many congratulations extended to the couple, and wish them every success in their new life

During his ten years' stay amongst us Mr O'Shaughnessy has always interested himself in the advancement of the town and has been a most active participant in the sporting and social events of the district

ARDMORE GOSSIP

A Fitting Tribute for her unselfish work in the Guild which she was a treasured member was paid by her loyal comrades of Clashmore branch I.C.A., recently to Miss Maria Mullaney at a social in her honour held at the Green Park Hotel, Youghal, on the eve of her departure to an adopted home across the Irish Sea

The deceased young lady was also the recipient of a valuable presentation on the same occasion

The Committee of the Ardmore and Grange District Nursing Association wish to thank the many patrons who were in attendance at the Jubilee Ball on Friday, 10th October, 1955, at the Presentation Convent, Ardmore

On holiday presently here as a member of the family of Sergeant Jim Macateer of Ballyferrier Co. Kerry, Garda Station formerly stationed at Ardmore

Our deservedly popular and qualified Chemist, Mr Patrick (Paddy) Maunsell M.P.S.I. of Phibsborough, Dublin, has also spent a holiday of brief duration with his mother

Mr James Kely, the talented student of the County Agricultural College, who recently received an Honours University degree in Agriculture is very well known in this area. He is nephew of Very Rev John Canon Kely, President of St John's College, Waterford

A danger to pedestrians on the footpaths in the Village here are the loose slates on one of the roofs of the houses

It has been suggested that the County Council look into this matter up before the high gales, of winter commences

Mushrooms in winter seem to be the order of the day here during the past few weeks. Going to and returning from school the children may be seen picking fresh mushrooms in the fields

Much local sympathy is being extended to the popular and highly esteemed Dea family of the Grange area on their agricultural losses the result of a large rack of straw and a valuable tractor with trailer

The timely arrival of the fire brigade saved the dwelling house and a number of outside houses and prevented the fire from spreading to the school

The usual inspection of pupils' health was made on last Monday by County Medical Officer, Health Dr O'Farrell at the National Schools of Ardmore and Grange

The October evening devotions in the Parish Church at Ardmore are being well attended

On behalf of the people in the area we issue a hearty ead mile to our comrade, Sergeant J. O'Farrell who has returned to Kilkenny Co. Donegal, to take charge of Ardmore Garda Station in place of ex-Sergeant D. Gallagher recently retired

An Historical Sketch of Lismore Parish

CHURCHES, SCHOOLS AND RELIGIOUS HOUSES

St. Carthage's Parish Church, Lismore is a beautiful and harmonious building in Romano-Norman style of local brown sandstone with limestone dressings

For a building of its size it looks light and graceful. The interior decoration includes some interesting carved effigies of local saints

St. Carthage's Church is probably the most handsome Church in a Diocese of fine Churches. Its foundation stone was laid on October 9th, 1881, by Bishop John Power and the sermon for the occasion was preached by Bishop William Fitzgerald of Ross by 1884 the grand edifice was completed and the dedication ceremony took place on the first Sunday in June

Dr. Power, the architect, and Rev Dr. Hutch, Fermoy, being the preacher

The building is 140 feet long by 95 wide at the transepts, with a companion of 120 feet high in Norman style. The architect was Walter Doolin, and the builders Messrs Redmond of Wexford

Let it be told of Lismore people in token of their catholic spirit that they erected their delightful full church practically unaided from without and by direct subscription only. The total cost was about £12,000. It would be three or more times that amount if the Government had not taken over the building

For sums of £100 each seven of £50 two of £40 four of £30, and eleven of £20

Chapel of Ease at Ballysaggart, designed to withstand the storms of its exposed mountain site. This is a stout tastefully designed and well built structure of stone erected in 1913-14

The church was designed by the architect, Mr. J. J. O'Shaughnessy, who has since been succeeded by Mr. J. J. O'Shaughnessy

WATERFORD COUNTY BOARD G. A. A.

Suspended For Six Months Arising from the Abbeyside-Ballyduff senior hurling match at Cappoquin the Board allowed the automatic minimum suspension of six months to stand in the case of Joe Daly (Ballyduff) for refusing to leave the pitch when ordered by the referee Mr. M. Pollard, to do so.

The player in question who appeared before the Board, had denied that he refused to leave the field but later admitted that perhaps he had done so in the heat of the moment and said that he was sorry for doing so.

On the proposition of Mr. D. O'Sullivan seconded by Mr. J. Moloney, the Board decided not to increase the suspension period.

Challenge Games Permits for two challenge games against Mount Sion and Abbeyside, were granted to the Tourin Club in aid of the George McGrath Accident Fund.

A permit was also granted for a challenge game between Mount Sion and Abbeyside for a set of medals on the first available Sunday in aid of the Abbeyside New School Building Fund.

Sunday's Finalists Congratulated The Chairman in a statement to all present congratulated the winners and losers of last Sunday's Senior Hurling Final, all the officials who were present, stewards and Gardaí, and those people who helped in any way. He also congratulated the members of the Board and the Secretary Mr. Goode, in particular.

Mr. O'Brien on behalf of Abbeyside congratulated Mount Sion on winning the Championship for the twentieth time, and re-echoed the Chairman's words in congratulating all those who helped to make the County Senior Hurling Final on Sunday last such a wonderful success.

Mr. Doyle, spoke on behalf of Mount Sion.

Selection Committees Senior Hurling (5)—Two representatives from Mount Sion (Co. Champions), and the following were elected on a vote—J. Goode (Dungarvan), J. Ware (Erin's Own), J. Conway (Cappoquin).

Senior Football (5)—One from each of the four clubs in the year's semi-finals and one from Dungarvan (last year's Co. Champions).

Matter For Western Board Mr. M. Doherty, Mitchell Street, Dungarvan, wrote a protest against the action of a turnstile collector in refusing to admit his wife and a pram to the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday, October 2nd, that as it had been a Western Board fixture which was held in Dungarvan on that day the matter was one for the Western Board to deal with.

CO. WATERFORD BANK PORTERS The Labour Court has recommended that the six bank porters in Dungarvan (4) and Lismore (2) who claimed a 25 5s per week town rate should accept the Banks offer of an increase of 10s a week on their present wages which are 24 1s a week in Dungarvan, and 24 5s in Lismore.

The court stated that it made its recommendation that the porters should accept the Banks offer operative from April 1st, last in view of the fact that the present wage rates were those recently negotiated between the porters and the Union which represents the majority of the workers and that these rates had been accepted by and were being paid to all other porters in the Banks service throughout the country.

FOOTBALL CONGRATULATIONS Senior Hurling (5)—Two representatives from Mount Sion (Co. Champions), and the following were elected on a vote—J. Goode (Dungarvan), J. Ware (Erin's Own), J. Conway (Cappoquin).

G.A.A. Football Clare's Winning Return To Football League

Clare, 3-5, Waterford, 2-5. The close of 2,000 spectators at Kilrush on Sunday last Clare marked their return to National League football after an absence of two years by defeating Waterford in Division 4 Group B by goal on the score, Clare, 3-5, Waterford, 2-5. Some brilliant patches of football were witnessed and the closeness of the scoring kept interest alive to the final whistle.

Waterford who were the lighter and faster team, had a point at midfield but this was completely neutralised by the blotting out of the Munster player, T. Cunningham, by F. McNeary who played a "blinder" for Clare, centre-half back. The Clare players were better fielders and made better use of the chances that came their way while Waterford always appeared to be for goals when points were there for the taking.

Carney opened the scoring for Clare when he had a point but the lead was short-lived when Shalloe drove to the net for a goal for Waterford. Kirwan increased the lead with a point before Mangan from a 35 yards free, drove straight to the net for a goal for Clare. Waterford at this stage had a pull at midfield but they were losing their many scores from across by O'Donnell, McGrath had a goal for Clare to give his side the lead. Shalloe pointed for Waterford from a 14 yards free.

Carney had a great goal for Clare when from 50 yards he sent a low ball which completely deceived the backs and dribbled into the net. Just before half-time Waterford had a point from Power to leave the half-time score, Clare, 2-1, Waterford, 2-3.

Having the advantage of a strong wind in the second half Clare pressed and O'Brien raised the white flag from a free. Francis Meaney sent in a point which his brother Flan secured and sent into the net for a goal for Clare to give them the lead. Carney next had a point for Clare but Waterford immediately replied per Curran. Clare now assumed control at midfield and had a point per O'Brien from a free. Carney again had a Clare point from 35 yards before Waterford staged an all out rally but only had a point per Kirwan.

Harvest Thanksgiving—Rev Oliver Peare, Rector Tallow, conducted the ceremony at the held at Christ Church, Tallow, on Friday. The Bishop of Cloyne and Ross, Right Rev Dr. Sinns P.H.D. presided.

Exercises—A successful tactical exercise was carried out at Gortree, members of the Fermanagh Battalion F.C. on Sunday last. The "ambush" party under Lieut. Roche was drawn from Mitchellstown, Killbeg, and Killybeg areas. An enemy supply column near Collins Barracks, Cork was "ambushed" at Gortree and was "taken" in the column.

Fortwilliam Sold—The Duchess of Westminster has sold her Irish residence Fortwilliam near Lismore to Mr. Henry Drummer, a former Com. Fortwilliam is a stone built 16th century house overlooking the Blackwater. It has three reception rooms and seven guest bedrooms.

During the life of the late Duke, considerable employment was given at Fortwilliam. He also donated a number of acres as the Westminster Cup to the Tallow Anglers Association. The Duchess will give up possession at the end of October.

NT transferred—Miss E. Cotter N.T. Kilcarr has been transferred to Tallow schools. Miss Cotter is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Cotter, Springfield Tallow. During her time at Killybeg Miss Cotter was very popular with the pupils under her charge.

On his last biennial visitation to Tallow parish, His Lordship, Most Rev. Dr. Cohan, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, had a special word of praise for her many happy years in her new sphere of duties.

Fox Hunting—In a short time from now, the popular sport of foxhunting will be under way. The exciting shout as the fox breaks from cover, the gallop

Tallow and Round About

Famous Bridleiders on Stage and Screen—It is strange how the names of famous stage and screen actors whose parents or grandparents were natives of Tallow keep cropping up. Early in the summer we had a visit from Mr. L. O'Brien, author of "The Mysterious Mr Penny-packer" which ran for six months at a London Theatre. Later we had a visit from his more famous brother, Edmond O'Brien, who has taken a leading part in many first-class films and who has in recent weeks been given the very high honour of being appointed Secretary of the American Film Union. Both of their parents hailed from Tallow. Next we have our own Frank Ryan, world famous tenor playing Myles Na Coppelien in the "Lily of Killarney" which ran for two weeks at the Opera House, Cork recently and in the "The Near Future" with William Dickie, whose maternal grandmother also first saw the light of day in the Brideside town will be appearing in Cork during the forthcoming fourth season of the Cork Grand Opera Group. He is singing what he describes as his favourite parts that of "Figaro" in the "Barber of Seville". Mr. Dickie studied originally in Italy under the famous baritone, Rufa and De Luca and later sang at the country as guest artist in "Rigoletto" and "La Traviata". Three weeks ago he received an urgent message from the famous Operatic House of La Scala, singing with Maria Callas, Di Stefano, and Gobbi in "Rigoletto" and "La Traviata". The performances being for new recordings of these operas.

There are many others who in a lesser way have made the name of Tallow famous in the world of stage and screen not forgetting of course the greatest of them all though in a different line that of John Hogan, famous sculptor whose statue of the "Dead Christ" is to be seen in Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, and other famous works won him international reputations.

Tallow Owners' Success At Youghal Track—Last week we had the pleasure of recording a win for Mr. Charlie Daly's dog Track on the previous Tuesday night. This week we have the added pleasure of reporting another win for this popular owner on Tuesday night October 4th at Youghal Track. Track had a fine run in the semi-final of the Killybeg Cup. This very useful dog is now getting into its stride and we feel certain that we will have more news of him in the near future.

Tallow Dispensary—The dispensary received many complaints of lack of privacy at Tallow Dispensary. All are herded together into one small room which is the office of the Home Assistance Officer. It is not fair either to the officer or seeking assistance as everybody knows everybody else's business.

All there is a certain amount of pride in all of us as is often the case due to illness of a bread-winner, or other reasons people have to seek work to do in the absence of an audience of twenty or more.

The Home Assistance Officer should have a private office where people in need of assistance could enter singly and a new dispensary for Tallow, has been hanging fire for a long time, and the same applies at Knockanore, so let us hope that no further time will be lost in drawing up a plan, and that the above complaints will receive attention at an early date.

Fermanagh Cadet Commissioned—Cadet A. O'Flynn, Oliver Plunkett Hill Fermanagh, was one of the fifteen commissioned in the Irish Air Corps at Commissioning Ceremony, held at Gormans town Camp recently. Lieut. O'Flynn was educated at the late National School and later at the P.S. He is son of Mrs. A. Flynn, and the late Thomas Flynn.

Harvest Thanksgiving—Rev Oliver Peare, Rector Tallow, conducted the ceremony at the held at Christ Church, Tallow, on Friday. The Bishop of Cloyne and Ross, Right Rev Dr. Sinns P.H.D. presided.

Fox Hunting—In a short time from now, the popular sport of foxhunting will be under way. The exciting shout as the fox breaks from cover, the gallop

Subject of a Debate held recently in Bray. That the modern Irishman is shy of marriage. We really think it's all my eye to claim that men are marriage shy. Most Irish fellows that would marry if they had the dough. But it is hard to get that stuff while living costs are mounting up. And there is another grouse, it's blooming hard to get a house. We think the Government should try to help the so-called marriage shy by letting those who want to be freed from tax-and tax relief. All those who seek the single life. Without a husband or a wife. Yes all who dodge the married state. Who pay for those who take the bait.

Short Dance at the Arch Ball room—A well-attended short dance was held at the Arch Ballroom on Wednesday night. Those short dances at the Arch are proving very popular and are drawing ever-increasing numbers of dance fans. Baritone Rhythm Band, supplied the music. Annual Fine Gael Collection—The annual collection on behalf of the Fine Gael Party will be taken up outside all Church next October, on Sunday. Temperance Hall 45 Drive—A big crowd patronised the opening 45 Drive season held at the Temperance Hall, Tallow, on Sunday night last. The winners were—Mr. P. Collins Temperance Hall and Mr. W. Dinneen The Square 2nd Mr. J. Geoghegan, Convent Street, and Mr. James Tobin, Janeville, Park, Mr. T. Gallagher Brideside, and Mr. J. McCarthy West Street.

At the Regal—For the week commencing Sunday next, October 16th some excellent films will be screened. On Sunday at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. we will see "Conquest of Cochise" starring John Hodiak and Robert Stack. This is a picture of one of the most daring raids in all Indian warfare. Monday and Tuesday, a thrilling murder drama, "Dial M For Murder" will be shown. The stars in this tense and exciting film are Ray Milland and Grace Kelly. Wednesday night from 8.30 to 11.30 p.m. "I The Jury" will be the feature. The stars in this dynamic thriller are Bill Elliot and Preston Foster.

For Friday night we have the grand film "Tanganyika" with Van Heflin and Ruth Roman as the stars. This is a story of the last of the hunter and the hunted. The Week's Story—A farmer caught a small boy in his orchard stealing apples and as it was the boy's first offence the Justice let him off but told him never to yield to such temptation again. "You should be down from the evil one, the admonition of the Justice replied the boy 'but he said he before I could get through the hole in the hedge."

Things Worth Remembering—It is not those who know the most that are the most to say. And it is not those who have the most who give the most away. More goes to the making of a gentleman than fine clothes to the great extent he is in another's pot. Graceful manners are the outward form of refinement in the mind and good affection in the heart.

Local Tit Bits—We wonder how did D—y enjoy the spin to the Arch on Sunday night, all the ways from C—y. But between you and me the had better be careful eh B—y. So a Bridesider got lost in the Old Boro' on Sunday night week or was it only a move. That bloom in the cnp shop caught his eye.

However being marooned so far from home could be awkward—eh D—k. Eh—eh and B—y went for a hike out the Newing way on Saturday night. It would be interesting to know what the attraction is, but this must wait for another day. A West Street Colleen is taking to farming quite a lot lately. Well thought it would be an insight into the future life eh M—1.

Things We Heard—That the chap from the King—m has set a heart a twitching in the Brideside town. That Mag—e escaped a long time. But at last we learn over Moor—y say sorry for being a bit behind time but "better late than never".

God bless you dear old Donegal my own native land. In dreams I often see hills and towering mountains grand. Alas! three thousand miles both lie betwixt those hills and now I am an exile east, far, far from Glenswilly.

Gramery Suppliers Meeting—A meeting of the Tallow Creamery Milk Suppliers will be held at the Temperance Hall, Tallow, at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, November 2nd. All suppliers are earnestly requested to attend as very important matters will be dealt with.

HOW ANIMALS HELP EACH OTHER

CLIMPS OF TEAMWORK AND BROTHERHOOD AMONG CREATURES OF THE WILD

A flash of bright blue in the green depths of the pine woods caught the eye of Hilbert Segler. It was a blue jay, the second spot of blue stirred another jay sailed on silent wings to the same branch. The newcomer holding a morsel of bread in its beak hopped closer to the first bird. Turning eagerly, the first jay lifted its crested head and accepted hungrily the gift its visitor poked down into its throat. Segler was astonished. In fledging season, young birds often continue to coax food from their parents even after they have grown up in courting season. Bird swarms often bestow dainties upon the females they are wooing. But this wasn't the season for fledging, nor was it courting time. This was the dead of winter.

Every season has its beauty, but perhaps Autumn is the most beautiful of all. There is a richness and fulfillment about this season which is lacking in the others. It is a time of harvest and ripe beauty. Less fickle than Spring, more serene than Summer and containing a warmth and glow not shown in Winter.

And as with the Autumn of the year so it is with the Autumn of our lives. The golden age as Hawthorne called it is a happy and beautiful time of life. The moon of life—those golden days—When the mind reopens ere the form decays.

How much should we have gained at this period—experience which ought to mean a greater capacity for sympathy and love power which should need to be used to help those in need. As it is vital as the breath of life, character, so that we are able to take life's troubles in a braver spirit.

We have gained much in middle life. What have we lost? When we begin to consider life is borne in upon us that nearly everything that we have lost has been lost through some fault of our own. The first blight and freshness of youth will have left us but if we kept young in mind and lived naturally and healthily not counting each wrinkle and grey hair with trepidation but keeping a young heart and using our bodies as we were meant to use them, we shall have a far richer beauty of face and form, while the elasticity of youth may still be to a great extent be ours.

The fragile and dainty beauty of Spring—the delicate butterfly, the pink and white wildflower, the pale blue white-flecked sky—the little tinkling stream—are sweet to look upon but they are not more beautiful than the storm-beaten pine tree, the golden broom, the grand Autumnal sun and the calm deeper river.

For Spring nor Summer's beauty hath such grace as Autumnal face. As I have seen in an Autumnal face. And even if through ill-health, for which we cannot blame our troubles, we have become a little less strong in body, our hearts should be far younger at forty or fifty than they were in youth if they are not it is nobody's fault but our own. None of the best things of life are lost to us, and the best of them all—love—may be ours in fullest measure.

In middle age we have learned that it is no longer a dark saying but a reality that it is far more satisfying to give than to receive love and never let it be forgotten that those who have reached middle age unemitted and with young and sympathetic hearts will never be destitute of love—and love which is perhaps truer and purer than any that was offered to them during our youth.

unity is the bond of inner content of the being art of temperate America's great white pelicans. The pelicans can swoop down and form a wide semicircle offshore. Then, as if wading toward the shore, they shoulder to shoulder, the backs poised just above the water as they advance as a living net. Now and again all the birds join in a unanimous thrashing of the water with their wings, scattering the fish into small and smaller areas near the shore. This co-ordinated drive ends with a packed haul of fish imprisoned in the shallows of the shore line. The birds fall on feasting on such a repast as no one of them could have secured alone.

Crows and ravens demonstrate the rewards of joining-wits. Frances Pitt, a Hampshire naturalist, and author of some 30 books on animals and birds, owned a raven pair, Ben and Bess, whose teamwork in dealing with visiting cats was characteristic. Ben would approach the cat from the front, parading nonchalantly close. Bess, by what looked like an oblique pounce, would fall to the
