has occurred to one of the wails at the swimming pool and that a leak exists in the Declish dam released at last Friday nights Urban Council meeting, at Dun-On a Sunday night upon parade garvan, will come as bombshells It is a gorgeous show to the people of the town

to the people of the town

If the damage at the pool is as serious as was stated, then And hear the blowers blow! I think the sconer repairs are done the better It would be a great pity indeed if our Countrillors were not far-sighted And up and down we go enough to realise the asset the we never met his aigual yet pool is to the town. It is used An ould bassoon to blow by all sections of the community. The stars are tri na celle and men and women boys and An there's wrinkles on the moor girls and children by the hun-When little Mickey Hickey dreds have enjoyed its amenities Plays his ould bassoon since first it was erected Scores have learned their first The cornet it is frightful swimming lessons there and And the fife more frightful still, nuring the hey-days of the local And the man that bates the Swimming Club, alas now de-work was done there

I have no time for the smallminded men who assess the value of the pool in terms of L. S and D and the return in hard cash which the Council gets from the seasonal takings at the pool The sight of boys and girls enjoying themselves contentedly in safety at the Pool, is surely something more than money can buy

I hope then that any serious

Faith he bate it with a will But the thing to make you stagger
When the band strikes up a tune
Is little Mickey Hickey
And his ould bassoon
To suppress the band at sight,
So they sent for reinforcements Three thousand men surrounded That brave and daring few

VIEWS OF OUR READERS

THE PARTITION PROBLEM

(To The Editor) Sir — Nearly four years a letter to the "Irish" I suggested that as a ago in start to the eventual solution of Partition, the whole weight of the anti-partition propaganda should be concentrated on the weakest links in the partitionists chain ie the countles of Tyrone and Fermanagh

As a result of its publication I received a number of very interesting letters, some in agreement with that approach, but others angrily disagreeing with it. Nevertheless I am sure that Councillor Moloney, was absolutely right in moving his recent

It is a lamentable fact that the propaganda of the Anti-Par-tition League in Britain has failed to make an impression on the average person in this country It is not entirely the fault of the League because constantly recurring economic crisis, the menace of Russian Imperialism, etc., etc., all combine to thrust other matters, however important, into the background.

It is clear that the time has arrived, indeed it arrived some time ago, to try a new approach to the whole question of Partition I believe that by concentrating the anti-partition pro-paganda on Tyrone and Fermanagh there is nothing to be lost and eventually six counties to gain. If Tyrone and Fermanagh were incorporated into the Republic the other four would speedily follow A Statelet of six counties is quaint enough, one of four would be ridiculous —Yours faithfully, QUY' J M.
