The Editor has passed me a further letter from Mr M Donal Moloney Vice-Chairman, Dun-garvan Urban Council, which appears elsewhere in this issue, and which Mr Moloney claims is an answer to points made by me in recent weeks in this column Perhaps Mr. Moloney has himself convinced about all these 100% grants but he has failed to convince me I have already made my points and I will let the matter stand for the judgment of the ratepayers

"WORDS TO LIVE BY—AM I MY BROTHER'S KEEPER "Night rafter night on every road in the country driver faces driver in the blinding glare of converging headlights

Sometimes the glare is broken a simultaneous dimming action, a mutual gesture of road courtesy, symbolic of brothers

But at other times, drivers born, September forty-three, wait for the showdown in the And carried for the midwife, fazzling baffling glare, neither willing to give in and be the first to dim In seconds, the situation

bluff when he realises that it has been called, that Death is about to pick up the stakes n this foolish game

But too late to draw back then Too late for the driver himself for those in the car with him and for that stranger behind those other headlights Vibrant, moving lives will suddenly be-come still and cease to move. come still and cease to move. Its flood, axle never wanted grease, faced with life's greatest road It's a real old Carrick axle, said keeper " keeper "

Both drivers are most probably very pleased with life how we were oppressed, They know that it is good And they are not insane they are not insane they are not even, normally irresponsible under other circumstances, That is good and they are not insane they are got our wrongs addressed. I have no faith in members now above Board in the CY.M.S. man, Dungarvan, on Tuesday night Dungarv ither man would give the other the shirt off his back' Yet tonight they choose to risk mutual murder, to smash into each other with tons of hurtling

DEFINITION CUSTOMER

CUSTOMERS—real regular customers—are the only people that can keep our business humming So remember these points on what a Customer is

A CUSTOMER is the most important person in our Dairy, in person, by mail or by telephone

A CUSTOMER is not dependent on us—we are dependent on hım

A CUSTOMER is not an interruption of our work—he is the purpose of it

We are helping him by serving him—but he is helping us by giving us an opportunity to do so

A CUSTOMER is not an outsider in our business—he is part of it

A CUSTOMER is not a cold statistic—he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and affections like our own

A CUSTOMER is not someone to argue or match wits withnobody ever won an argument with a Customer

A CUSTOMER is a person who brings us his wants It is our job to handle them profitably for him and ourselves

VIEWS OF OUR READERS

RE BARRACK STREET, CAPPOQUIN, HOUSES

The Editor Dungarvan Leader

Dear Sir—I enclose copy of a letter addressed to me by the County Secretary on the above subject, and under date 23rd March, 1955 Its publication will I feel prove informative to one and all I have no desire, or intention of entering any controversy on the matter, and least of all with an anonymous correspondent I write simply to explain the Council's position and my own

Copy letter "A chara—I wish to confirm that the Co Council of Waterford at their Meeting on the 14th inst passed a resolution as follows—Proposed by Councillor Norman Walsh, seconded by Councillor Michael McGrath, and resolved

That the Council agree that it is desirable to acquire, in due course, and when houses become vacant the site at Barrack Street, Cappoquin, for future development, and to eliminate this eye sore.

The Council is well aware of, The Council is addressed to the proposals of the council meeting and the course of the stone wall is a very extravagant suggestion.

With the compliments of the the opportune moment arrives When one considers that there are eighteen houses in this row (including an old established Forge), seven of which are still occupied (8 if one includes Eden Roc Forge), one will appreciate that the Council cannot, and in my opinion, should not move in the matter until they become vacant, in fact site development and Buildact site development and Building would be out of the question before then I cannot venture to word "Compulsion" in any so as reflected in his irksome shape or form—until alternative accommodation has been provided. In this connection, it may be noted that the contract has been placed for the erection of 5 Non-Municipal Houses at O'Donoghue Terrace, Cappoquin, and I understand that the commence early in the New Year When the tenancies of serious accident does occur it is

To the Editor Dungarvan Leader Sir—I have read with interest "Pensman's" reply to my letter He cites what he calls the facts and says that I can manage the figures for myself I do not con sider that this is an adequate reply to my challenge to substantiate his accusations or apolegise, but I will endeavour to deal grandiose schemes that the comas briefly as possible with the points he raised

Death Of Dr. Timothy McCarthy, Ardmore and Abbeyside

Passing Of Popular Personality Causes Widespread Regret

McCarthy, youngest son of Mr M J McCarthy and the late Mrs

School later going to Mount Melleray Seminary and then to the College of Surgeons, where he qualified in 1929 Shortly after taking his degree he joined the British Navy in which he served for 23 years until he retired two years ago with the rank of Surgeon Commander He saw active service on many battlefronts in World War II in-cluding the epic landings at Normandy, Anzio and Salerno and subsequently he served in the Far East Station of Hongkong which was his last assignment before he retired.

On leaving the Naval Service he returned home and went to Ardmore as temporary Dispensary Doctor for the area While there he married the former Miss Gertrude Walsh of Monea, and made his borner in America. and made his home in Ardmore
The late Dr McCarthy was a member of one of the most prominent families in the county

A gentleman to his finger-tips the late Dr Tim was a real man's man who had a deep love for his birthplace and for all the old stock of the village of Abbeyside—a trait characteristic of all the McCarthy family He was a man lost striking stature and come.

Widespread regret which cast a gloom over the Christmas fes-tival throughout the County, but in Dungarvan and Ardmore in particular, was caused by the news of the death of Dr Timothy McCarthy, Abbeyside, Dungar-van, which occurred at a Dublin hospital on Christmas Day

Born in Abbeyside 48 years ago the late Dr Tim McCarthy was educated at Abbeyside National minent families in the county, all of whom were ornaments to the medical profession. He was younger brother of the late Dr. Dan McCarthy Coroner for West Waterford, who also died with tragic suddenness a little over four years ago.

A gentleman to his finger-tips the late Dr. Tim was a real market.

LUCK OF THE NATIONAL Captivating Captain

Captain Josey Little held his commission in a crack cavalry regiment, but the failure of a bank in which he had lodged his money left him penniless and he was forced to give up his military career Known to his friends as the Captivating Captain, Josey Little was a keen horseman and Fortune which had nearly ruined him smiled again on him at Aintree

His first victory there was on the famous Chandler in which he had a half interest, but in 1853 Fate again treated him kindly. He had bought Peter Simple which had won the Grand National in 1849 and engaged Tom Oliver to ride him At Becher s a horse swerved into Peter Simple and would almost certainly have carried him out had another horse. Peter Laurie not helped to keep him on the course

After this piece of luck, Peter Simple went ahead to win easily. The Grand National of 1853 was a lucky one for Captain Josey Little. This time it may be YOUR lucky race Get your Sweep Ticket now!
