WATERFORD MEN AND WOMEN STEP OUT IN LONDON

News from London this week is of a most enjoyable dance and social held by the Waterford men's Association in the Red Lion Hotel Kilburn on the 11th and 12th January. The City and County were well represented at the function and I am informed that the attendance included Mr Tom Hickey (Lismore) Vice President of London Irish Club and Dungarvan folk present included Mr and Mrs Nick Noonan, Mr and Mrs O'Mahony, Mr M Randles, Mr Martin (La) Noonan and Mrs Rita Noonan, Mr Peter Crotty, Mr T McGovern, Miss Duffy and Miss Barron (Cappagh), Mr and Mrs Corcoran, Waterford City, Mr and Mrs P Organ, Carrigrohane.

During an interval in the dance, for which the music was supplied by Sean Kenny and his band, Faddy Organ, the well known Carrick tenor and Nick Noonan sang a number of popular songs which drew rounds of applause from the audience. This first dance and social of the Association proved a wonderful success and was enjoyed immensely by those who availed of the opportunity to meet their fellow exiles from the Deise in London. It was a little breath of the old country in the heart of the great Metropolis.

A further social will be held by the Association on the 25th January at the New Emerald Hall, Hammersmith, commencing at 8 p.m. and all Waterford residents in London are invited to attend.

UNLUCKY 13th
Friday the 13th lived up to its superstitious reputation last week when a complete black-out developed Dungarvan and a big area of West Waterford following a failure in the electricity supply as darkness fell on minute everywhere with bright lights switched on everywhere and the next complete blackness. It was as if one mighty hand had quenched all the lights in one single action. With the light failure, all electrically driven machinery, cookers and kettles were just so much useless metal. Outside on the streets huge rain drops rapped a constant tattoo as a drenching downpour swept the area. It was bleak and it certainly was dark.

There was a rush to the shops where there was any hope of purchasing a candle and those that had these waxed wicks for sale did a roaring trade. More candles were sold last Friday evening in Dungarvan than in the past twelve months or more! It certainly is an ill-wind that doesn't blow somebody good. Half-used Christmas candles left over after the recent Yuletide, were also rummaged for and pressed into use and many blessed that instinct which prompted them to store these safely away against just such an emergency.

The black-out lasted for almost two hours and then the blinding lights flashed on with the same suddenness with which they disappeared. Many comical situations occurred in the brief period, all of which pointed to our utter reliance in later years on the power of electricity and our helplessness when that power fails. Indeed it is seldom it does, and like all good and faithful servants we take its worth for granted until something like this happens.

A word of commendation to the E.S.B. men who traced the failure and rectified the position with the least possible delay.

THE MEETING OF THE WATERS

Thomas Moore

There is not in the world a valley so sweet
As that vale in whose bosom the bright waters meet
Oh! the last rays of feeling and life must depart
Ere, the bloom of that valley shall fade from my heart
Ere, the bloom of that valley shall fade from my heart
Yet it was not that Nature had shed o'er the scene
Her purest of crystal and bright-est of green
Twas not her soft magic and streamlet or hill
Oh! no—it was something more exquisite still
Oh! no—it was something more exquisite still Twas that friends, the beloved of my bosom, were near
Who made every dear scene of enchantment more dear
And who felt how the best charms of nature improve
When we see them reflected from looks that we love
When we see them reflected from looks that we love
Sweet vale of Avoca! how calm could I rest
In thy bosom of shade with the friends I love best
Where the storms that we feel in this cold world should cease
And our hearts, like thy waters, be mingled in peace
And our hearts, like thy waters, be mingled in peace

Mr Lannen—Then if that is so there is no need for this present motion.

The Chairman said that he thought it had been Mr Lannen who had asked for this new motion.

The Clerk said that what Mr Lannen had asked was that the existing regulations be enforced but the other members thought that this would be unfair.

The Chairman said that he thought the existing regulation should be changed as it cut out the man who wanted to build his own house.

Mr Walsh said that the Contractor's claim had been for £3,400 but work which had never been done had been charged for and other work had been charged at double the rate allowed.

is a most harrowing experience for them. Mr Lannen said that the great mistake made was that the new hospital which was to have been built in Dungarvan and for which so much money had been spent on plans had not been erected. This would have been able to absorb the overflow of patients and could have catered for the West of the County from Kilmacthomas. It was necessary, he said, to build the new hospital in Dungarvan and not do the patched up job that was at present contemplated.

Mr Lannen remarked that he opposed the purchase of Glenville from the start and he was still opposed to it. What was wanted was a new hospital in Dungarvan, he said, which should have been built in 1932 when, he understood a 100 per cent grant would have been available, but it was never done and it was the present County Manager who had been in charge at that time. On the proposal of Mr Kyne, seconded by Mr Walsh the Board decided to send a deputation consisting of the three County Deputies to see the Minister to press for the sanction of the purchase of Glenville House.

Mr Lannen dissented. With reference to the above Mr Gallagher stated that with Mr Gill and Mr Walsh, and the Secretary he visited Clashmore recently and inspected the present residence of the dispensary doctor. Th building on the outside was deceptive as it looked good, he said but inside it was deplorable and contained only one room in any kind of fair condition. He agreed with what Mr Curran had said about the house at the last meeting and he thought it was a wise decision of the Board not to pass any more money for repairs to it as it was not worth repairing and would only mean throwing good money after bad.

Mr Gallagher went on to state that there was another house for sale in Clashmore which was only one year built, and if the Board considered purchasing it for the doctor it would suit, provided another room was built on to it for use as a clinic. This house contained 6 rooms he said. Mr Walsh agreed and said that the house was a new one perfectly dry and the only thing wrong was that it was short one room.

Mr Kyne suggested that the Board advertise the fact that it required a residence in the area and so give a chance to all who may have houses to sell. Mr Walsh said that there was 12 acres of very good land sold with the present residence from the sale of which the Board's losses on the purchase of the old house could be recouped. Mr Lannen said that he was not satisfied with the suggestion.

Mr Walsh—Then what is the Board to do build a new house that might cost five or six thousand pounds or buy this house. The Secretary said that it might be better to get the Department to send down an Inspector to look over the house mentioned and report on it before the Board decided anything. Mr Lannen—Get them to send down the gentleman who advised the Board to purchase this other house in 1947. I'm not in favour of buying any house. Mr Walsh—the house is a new one for all practical purposes. Mr Lannen said that they had a duty to the workmen and tradesmen in the county, and if the Board had four or five thousand pounds to spend on the residence at Clashmore they should build a new one and give employment to these men and so stop emigration. We don't want to have many repetitions of 50 tickets being bought by people going to England in one night as happened in Dungarvan he said.

ing garage at the bridge site be taken down and re-erected on the new site. The Clerk stated that the legal costs would approximately be £20. The Chairman said that there was a ground rent on the site presently occupied by Mrs Moloney but she now wanted a fee simple site. He said that when obstruction of this kind came up the Council should take whatever steps it was legally entitled to take in the matter.

The Clerk pointed out that Mrs Moloney held the bridge site from the Urban Council at a monthly tenancy of 5/-.

It was decided to ask the Council's legal adviser to find out what title and right the Council had to the site and whether the existing rent could be increased and the Engineer was asked to investigate whether the lavatory could be erected on the site of the existing one and also whether part of the site occupied by Mrs Moloney was still in the ownership of the Council.

Not Necessary To Change—A request was read from the Secretary of the Erin's Hope Memorial Committee asking that the name of Park Terrace be changed to its original name Jacknell Street.

The Chairman said that he thought that the street was officially known as Jacknell Street.

Clerk—On the valuation list it is called "Jacknell Street (Park Terrace)". It was agreed to draw the Committee's attention to this fact.

Repairs To Old Castle—The question of repairing the old castle at the Garda Barracks was referred to the National Monuments Advisory Committee.

Red Cross Contribution—An application from the Red Cross Society for the usual grant of £10 towards their water safety programme was on the suggestion of Mr Lannen, deferred to Estimates Meeting.

Mr Lannen said that the Council should help in any way an effort which might be made to revive the local Swimming Club who had done so much in past years to teach the children of the town to swim.

A letter from the I.T.A. also suggesting a contribution from the rates was similarly deferred.

Trespass—A complaint from Mrs B Cosgrave, Sarsfield Street, that she had been repeatedly trespassed on the Council requested that the Council repair the boundary fence adjoining her property.

Report from the Engineer stated that such trespass existed and that the fence required extensive repairs which he estimated would cost £35.

The matter was deferred to see if some agreement could be reached between Mr Cosgrave and the Council as to the division of the cost.

Traffic Wardens—The Council decided to take no action on a

Tallow and Round About

Maora na Feirme Debate.—At the Hall West Street, on Friday, January 13th, Kilmacthomas defeated Tallow in the second round of the Waterford County Championship Maora na Feirme Debate. The motion was moved by Tallow team "That the farmers in Ireland are not paying their fair share of Taxes". Speakers to the motion were Messrs T J. Roche and Murray. An amendment to the motion was moved by Messrs D J Coughlan, J Shanahan, and J Baldwin. The amendment was carried after a lively debate. The final points—Kilmacthomas 316 Tallow 203.

The judges were Dr McCarthy, Ballinacoola and Mr R Cunningham, Kinsalebeg. Mr P O'Shea, Horticultural Instructor, presided.

Arch Ballroom—Sunday Night's Dance—On Sunday night, January 22nd, the Arch Ballroom, presents Earl Connolly's Band Show, The Sylviens, Limerick, featuring three of Ireland's greatest lady entertainers—Greta Tucker at the organ, Joan and Mollie, Paddy Kelly, and his electronic organ. This musical combination has proved very popular with dance fans wherever it performs.

Deaths.—Mrs J. Roche—A large field was out which included Mrs O'Connor, Master Mr W Jermyn, Mr O'Brien, Mr J Morrison, Miss B Hogan, Mr J James, Mr C Keane, Master M. THE LUCK OF THE NATIONAL

The Austrian Count

The Aintree crowd roared as an Irishman Tommy Beasley, on Cyrus and Lord Manners on the Irish-bred Seaman battled out the last few yards of the Grand National of 1882. Amongst the cheering spectators was an Austrian nobleman Count Kinsky, but his eyes were not on the first two horses but on the third, a gallant little mare called Zoedone.

The Count fancied the mare but funds were low. A win on the Casarewitch, however put money in his pocket and a few months later he bought Zoedone. A keen horseman, the Count decided to ride the mare in the Grand National of 1883. He spent months training her for the race and his judgment and riding ability were proved as Zoedone galloped past the post, a winner by a distance.

The Grand National of 1883 was a lucky race for Count Kinsky. This time it may be YOUR lucky race. Get your Sweep Ticket now.

Gaslight 'Autumn Fires' Riders to the Sea 'and 'Jupiter Laughs' We certainly deserved praise for productions like 'Peg O' My Heart' 'The Heiress' and 'Caesar's Friend'. And now we continue on to produce a play which will undoubtedly add another laurel to our crown of success. On the nights of the 26th 27th and 28th January we shall stage that well-known farse 'Bilthe Spirit' by Noel Coward. This is a play which with its improbable and laughable situations cannot fail to please. It is a play that you must see and in order to make sure you should reserve your seat at the Drug Stores, today.
