RUSSIA'S MASTER SPY SORGE

He used neither poison nor guns nor time bombs but the pointed daggers of a brilliant mind He fought with his brains and genius, and his victories tapped out on powerful trans mitters in the strange silence of far eastern skies, have sounded like funeral drumbeats throughout the whole western world As the story unfolds we may indeed admire the man but we must also feel some terror at the ruthless godless inhuman doctrine of which he was a supreme representative. This man greatest spy the world has ever known This detailed account of his astonishing career is the most factual spy story ever written and starts next Sunday

Sorge was the master spy charming cynical and utterly ruthless possessed of superlative skill in esplonage allied to a flair for predicting major world events he guided a brillant team of spies in Tokyo for nine years without detection. He played with the greatest armies on earth and directly influenced

Letter From Central Council

The draws for the forthcoming County Championships, which were made at the last County Board meeting had to be can celled following a letter received from the Central Council dated March 14th which stated that "Further to the letter on March 10th containing bye-law with re gard to senior teams made up of hree junior teams Please note that following on a decision of the Central Council with regard to a similar case in Tipperary such a bye-law will not be sanctioned by the Central Council as it is not in keeping with the idea of Divisional teams as originally suggested ' The above letter is of the ut-most importance because the Mahers (Gael Og Ballygunner Of Tallow Creamery Milk Ferrybank junior hurling teams) and The Deise Rovers (Ballyduft Clonea, and Portlaw) both of which were in the previous championship draws for senior hurling are, as a result of the above letter, excluded from play
