ARDMORE GOSSIP

Most orion growers in this large onion-growing area of Ardmore Ballyquin Curragh and Dysert are somewhat disappointed so far this season at he backward state of the crop Only in a few cases has the crop been up to the usual standard of easonal growth as the weather J. NOLAN, MPSI, being so dry for such a long spell had the effect of retarding

The ban on the foreign onions will come into operation on the 1st July but this season the result of the ban will little benefit the growers unless more season-able weather makes its advent in the very near future Melrose Hotel, better known to many as O Dell Lodge, has been practically completed in trans-formation to a most up-to date and modern hotel The impressive building standing on its own spacious grounds is ideally situated for its present purpose For a number of years past it has been taken over for the Tower Ballroom Orchestra holiday season by members of Religious Orders of both sexes This year the Nuns who spent former holidays at Melrose Hotel have obtained alternative accommodation in other houses The contract for the reconstruction work was in the capable hands of Mr J Quain of Ardmore and his skilled workmen

> BALLYDUFF NOTES

Congratulations—We wish to extend our heartiest congratula-tions to the members of the Gaelic League who took second prize at Cappoquin Feis recently Their achievement was all the more meritorous in view of the number of set-backs they had namely the abscence of their producer, Mr Liam Leddy and the difficult play they had to perform entitled The Life Of Robert Emmet.' The first prize went to Mallow ICA who had already won four cups with their play this year and it's no wonder the Ballyduff Branch are proud of their achievement

Dance—As can be seen from our advertising columns a grand dance will be held in St Michael's Hall Ballyduff on next Sunday night May 27th Music will be by the Tower Ballyroom Orchestra Voughtle room Orchestra Youghal are on their first visit to Ballyduff As on all occasions a good night's dancing is assured
