X-RAY UNIT IN COUNTY WATERFORD

An X-Ray Unit of the National Mass-Radiography Association, Tara Street, Dublin, will begin its annual visit to County Waterford on Thursday, 13th September. During the seven weeks after that date the unit will be in almost every town in the county. A number of schools and factories will also be visited. Recently a unit of the National Mass-Radiography Association held public sessions in the mobile coach at Nelson Pillar, Dublin. This proved a great success and about 10,000 people took the opportunity to be X-rayed. The Association hopes that this response will become nation wide and that the public generally will take advantage of the fact that at least once a year an X-Ray Unit is brought to their doorstep. In counties where an adequate response to mass X-Ray is obtained the disease is on the way out. It should be clear that to speed the way. The earliest shadowing is revealed by Mass-Radiography and in some cases the patients found by this means have been treated at home with good results. There are two recent advances in this field which should be taken advantage of—(1) Early diagnosis by Mass X-Ray, and (2) Early treatment by the antibiotics. Last year 84 persons were X-rayed in County Waterford and somewhat the same programme will be followed this year. The Association makes a special appeal to the over-forties and the incidence of chest conditions in this group has not been reduced to the same extent as the incidence in other age groups. The Unit can X-Ray as many as eighty an hour and there is no undressing and no inconvenience.

HOLIDAYING AT ARDMORE

Holiday time is nearly over, indeed if anyone will agree that any portion of this summer (sic) could be called a holiday time. However for those who cross the broad seas to revisit scenes of former days any time may be said to be holiday time. In the latter category can be said to be the holiday (sic) at present on holidays in her old home at the Curragh Ardmore, with her husband and their daughter, Mrs Paddock, whose husband is stationed in North Africa with the Army Air Force. It is 17 years since Mrs Paddock visited Ardmore, and I hope that she and her parents are enjoying their stay in this beautiful unspoiled seaside resort.

DO YOU KNOW

That you do not have to go around casting reflections just to prove you are bright. That another reason why there's always room at the top is that a lot of people get up there tall aspey and fall off. That it does a man no good to sit up and take notice—if he keeps on sitting. That sometimes a clear conscience is nothing more than a short memory. That horsepower was much safer when only horses had it. That many a "big shot" of today was once a "little shot" who just kept on shooting.

THE HORNS OF A DILEMMA

When I was quite young I was once in a Courthouse where a civil action was being tried and I heard one of the be-wigged barristers remark "Mind I'm afraid the plaintiff finds himself in the horns of a dilemma." I wasn't quite sure then what this meant but I have since learnt the dictionary explains it as a "position of extreme difficulty." Well having listened and read about the meeting of the County Council in Dungarvan on Monday, I'm afraid that the Council are now on the horns of a dilemma. The temporary appointments it would seem have threatened to take legal action against the Council if any permanent appointments are made over their heads from the new panel. Whether this is only a threat remains to be seen, but at least one of the interested parties had a legal adviser "listening-in" to Monday's discussion. On the other hand there is a possibility that the Council will be sued if the appointments are not made from the new panel.

We heard about panels about resolutions, about assurances, about oversights about rules, laws, and regulations until I, at any rate was almost blue in the face. I could think of nothing but a slow circling whirlpool as the discussion went round and round and round and round again.

Like much of what has been reported of our County Council in recent months this latest addition cannot be boasted about.

I GOT A SONG

Last week I asked for the words of two popular songs and have pleasure in giving one of them this week thanks to Mrs J Mills Glenview Tallow. I hope to have "Doonaree" for the next issue.

COTTAGE BY THE LEE

'Tis well I know that often folks keep in my eyes a far-off look they see. What it can be the cause of all my dreaming. What is this dream so very dear to me. And truth to tell us often I go roaming. In dreams along the trail of my memory. To where my heart will find its consolation. Within that lovely cottage by the Lee.

My home sweet home that I so fondly cherish. The dear ones there mean everything to me. In all this world if there can be a heaven. I'm sure it's in that cottage by the Lee. 'Tis grand to stand outside that cottage doorway. And gaze across the corn fields rich and gold. To hear the stream go rippling by the meadows. Or watch the shepherd calling to his fold.

From down the lane that winds through the garden. The blackbird greets the smiling summer morn. And as his music echoes o'er the valley. You smile and bless the day that you were born. Yes that's my dream, my lovely dream of homeland. And tho' I thought a rover I would be. 'Tis soon I found I left my heart behind me. Within that lovely cottage by the Lee.

COUNTY COUNCIL DISCUSSES TEMPORARY APPOINTMENTS

THREE LAW ACTIONS PENDING SAYS CHAIRMAN

A special meeting of the Waterford County Council was held in Dungarvan on Monday last to discuss staff appointments to the Council. Three Law Actions. The Chairman, Mr Michael Morrissey said that he had been responsible for calling the meeting and his reason for doing so was that he had knowledge that out of the appointments to be made there was every possibility that the Council would run themselves into a few law actions (he later mentioned the number as three).

Rather than have the Council involved in any other law actions," said Mr Morrissey. "I thought we should come together and discuss the matter." The Chairman went on to state that since April 1954 there were resolutions on the books of the Council about appointments to be made. So as he knew these had never been made and he did not know why I want to find out he said what appointments have been made, why they were made and why the assurances given to the Council have not been carried out.

Mr Morrissey then referred to a resolution from Councillor Robert Keane that no new panel should be set up until the old panel was exhausted which had been approved by the Council and asked "would the Secretary say if the four appointments to be made were made or not or what is the position?" Promised 12 Months Ago. Mr R Keane—Will the Secretary tell us why these were not made although we were promised 12 months ago and practically every month since.

Mr Morrissey—The Secretary told me that certain steps had been taken. Mr T Lannen—Two of the appointments have been made since. Chairman—I couldn't say. The Secretary said that two Clerical Officers had been appointed from the old panel. Mr Lannen—We were told that three appointments were made and why were not three made?

Secretary—Mr Liam Hayes was assigned to the third vacancy. Lannen—Mr Liam Hayes should not enter this panel. There were resignations and would have been promotions and he could have been fixed up that way. Was it because you wanted to deprive someone of a position or because you didn't like the colour of his hair, or was it because of the person who was interested in him. Is that the position? I want an answer to that.

Go Manager (Mr S J Moynihan)—That is not the answer. The Secretary has explained the position. An Oversight. Mr Lannen—The people all over the county are dissatisfied not alone about the appointment of clerks, but about a lot of other matters as well. They are afraid if they send their children for any position they will not get it, no matter what bribes they have.

Mr Lannen—What about the Cappoquin girl did they forget to send her name away and wasn't she nearly passed over as a result? The Secretary said that due to an oversight in the office which he did not detect at the time the name of one candidate had been omitted. When the matter was brought to his notice he took it up with the Department and the University and had now sent on the corrected list. Mr Lannen—I call this a shocking state of affairs in dealing with the lives of young people. I believe that something

THE "NEW PANEL"

When a Leader Reporter inquired at the offices of the Waterford County Council on Wednesday last of the list of the successful candidates which form the "New Panel" he was told that while the information he requested was at the Secretary's office it was not available for publication. He was further informed that no one had so far been officially informed of the results of the examination.

year and had passed resolutions about these appointments this letter never came before them. We were passing resolutions asking the Department to expedite sanction for these appointments he said while all the time this letter was in the office. We don't want to be made laughing stocks throughout the country.

Mr Keane—We have been made laughing stocks and the official are only coddling us in this matter. The people are saying that we don't know what's going on in the offices at all and that letter proves they're right. Mr Walsh—That letter makes idiots of us. Mr Lannen—It's very confusing but if the appointments were made at the time they should have been there would have been none of this trouble. Chairman—Were all the girls in temporary employment from the old panel given notice of the new examination?

Secretary—Notice of the examination was published in the newspapers. Chairman—Were they told that they'd have to sit for the examination? Secretary—Anyone who came to me about it I advised them to sit for it. The parent of one girl came and said that he would not let her sit for a further examination as he had legal advice on the position. Mr Sean Ormond TD said that the girls in question should have been told that they would have to do the examination to be included in the new panel.

Law Experience Bad. Mr Lannen—He said that the Council's ex-acting of the actions was very bad as they had been involved in a number but had lost them all. In further that he said, then I think that those who have us in them should pay for them and not the ratepayers. Mr Keane—There's only one way to clear up this matter and that is an inquiry. We should ask the Department to send down somebody to hold an investigation as we are only being led up the garden path.

Mr Kenneally TD did not agree with an inquiry when he said could cost up to £10,000. As only three girls were involved he asked if anything could be done to have them permanently appointed. Mr Ormond said that it was unfair that those in temporary employment for the past two or three years should not now be appointed to the permanent positions.

Mr Keane—The position is that if they are thrown out they will go to law with the County Council. Chairman—I don't think anyone employed in a temporary capacity has any legal case against the County Council. Chairman—You might be surprised.

Mr H Dowd said that the Council should demand the retention of the temporary clerks and if such a request was ignored then they should resign in a body. The Secretary told Mr Walsh that six clerk-typists would be appointed at once from the new panel and at least one clerical officer.

O'Farrell, County Medical Officer says: "I am in receipt of a communication with regard to the forthcoming visit of the Mass-Miniature Radiography Unit to this County. As you will know in the light of the fact that the Authorities are powerless without the whole-hearted help and co-operation of the public. Though we continue to find approximately 60 new cases of Tuberculosis yearly, the incidence is decreasing. It is heartening to have to relate that a large number of the contacts of these new cases refuse to co-operate in the prevention of this infectious disease. I feel that this refusal to co-operate in the prevention of this infectious disease is mainly due to thoughtlessness on the part of the people concerned and that as they gradually become aware of the preventive measures provided free of charge by the Local Authority they will gradually make more use of them and so help to keep themselves their families and their neighbours free from tuberculosis.

The two services which play a major role in the prevention of Tuberculosis are Mass-Miniature Radiography and the public towards Tuberculosis is well shown by the figure of 2,700 volunteers for M.M.R. in 1955 out of a total population of 47,000, and the fact that in 21 centres in the county for 23 days. It is indeed difficult to understand this apathy and indifference to a disease which produces approximately 60 new cases per year with a death rate which has a register of 300 cases which costs the County approximately £16,000 per year in treatment £8,000 in allowances £1,000 in extra nursing £200 in clothing thus giving a total yearly cost of approximately £25,000—not taking into account the loss of man-working hours with subsequent loss of income to the family and the community. The following points are of interest: 1 Every person over 14 years of age should have a yearly X-ray of chest. 2 Chest X-ray gives a true picture of the state of the lungs at the time the X-ray was taken. 3 Persons should not wait until they have symptoms of chest disease before getting a chest X-ray. 4 The yearly family X-ray should be obtained by all persons in the County. 5 It is most important to remember that having had a small X-ray, if one is advised to have a larger one taken to see to it at once—without delay. 6 T.B. is an infectious disease but it is a preventable disease if the public would avail of the services provided by the County Council. 7 Because T.B. is an infectious disease it follows that every case of pulmonary Tuberculosis has been infected by the Tubercle Bacillus etc. the small germ which causes the disease. 8 These germs are in the main excreted in the sputum. We appeal for the co-operation of the public would not be a positive effort may be made to eradicate this dread disease from this County. The necessary facilities to achieve this end are available—the success depends on the active participation of every man and woman.

Not Impressed To The Editor Dungarvan Leader. Dear Sir, I have just spent a week's holiday in Dungarvan which I enjoyed very much. The hospitality of your people was second to none. The bad part of my visit was to find quite a few young men seeking quinine. I went into a licensed premises for a drink and was approached by a young man who demanded drink and money, and when I refused he used filthy and abusive language, and threatened to strike me. I am most reluctant to mention this. I do so in the hope that the Authorities responsible will try and curb this incessant begging by young men—Yours faithfully, JOHN P. JENKINS, 65 DUNDON, N.W.2 London P.S. Haverstock Rd.

You should learn from the mistakes of others—the probability is that you will not live long enough to make them all yourself.

Traffic conditions might be improved if there were more co-operation between horse-power and horse-sense.

ARDMORE GOSSIP

The opening session of the Ardmore Guild I.C.A. took place at the Guild Rooms, St. Declan's College, on last Monday night, September 3rd. There were 120 members present. Amongst the various matters discussed were the preparation for the children's party which is being held on Monday evening at St. Declan's Hall. This enjoyable event is being given by our revered Parish Priest Very Rev. Father Cahill. The schools of Ardmore and Grange will reopen on next Monday 10th September when it is expected that the attendance will be up to the usual average. Parents are requested by the clergy to see that the children attend regularly.

Instead of returning to the old school at Grange the pupils will be going to the recently erected new school. The Educational Honours of the area has been upheld again this year by the successful wins at last season's County Examination by a number of popular brilliant young students in the persons of the following: Messrs Thomas and Christopher Mooney and Paul Murphy. The Kilrossanty members of the Comeragh were successful in their studies at St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan, and the Misses M. Colbert, Crossford, and Theresa Burke, Ardmore. We share area-wide congratulations with them and wish them further successes in the years that lie ahead.

The death occurred of one of the oldest inhabitants of the Clashmore area in the person of Mrs. Mary Walsh Creggs, in the early part of the past week. In spite of her ripe age she was ninety years old the deceased lady was most active and very popular in every sphere of life. She had a deep interest in all local matters.

A large cortege was present at the interment in the family burial plot in Clashmore cemetery. Rev. Fr. M. Power, C.C. read the final prayers at the grave.

To her bereaved family we tender our sincere condolences. The holiday season in this popular seaside resort has practically concluded but there still remains a small number of visitors at both Melrose and Cliff House hotels.

In an interview this week with the local press, the hotel owners we learned that on the whole the bookings were on last year's average. They added that the very indifferent weather experienced during the summer hampered bookings to a small extent but on the whole all seemed fairly satisfied with the general run of business.

Amongst the number of young people crossing the pond to seek their fortune in the recent exodus from this end of County Waterford were the following well-known young men: Messrs. Edmond Ormonde, R. C. Clarke, and John R. O'Connell. The latter is now in the employ of the local press.

Adverse atmospheric conditions were the order in this area during the whole of the past week. Will the rain ever stop?

During the past week quite a number of young people were to be seen in a few localities picking blackberries and crab apples.

The appointment of Rev. Brother Denis Hallahan Mount Sion College, Waterford to Tralee has been cancelled and his departure now to North Monastery, Cork has taken place.

Included in the large number of devotees who recently took part in the annual pilgrimage to the holy well of St. Declan at Moor Glasheen were three young Nuns—three sisters who were at home on holidays from an English convent. The young religious are daughters of Grand and Mrs. Patrick Hickey.

Memories this week are provided by the recent unexpected demise of Most Rev. Dr. J. Roche Bishop of Cloyne, and the fact that he was in the area during his last illness. The Bishop's death was a great loss to the people of the diocese and the people of the County.

During this interesting travel with the great churchman I learned of his personal acquaintance with another great churchman and Gaelic scholar Very Rev. Dr. Canon Power noted historian of County Waterford.

In the course of our visit to the above named holy places his Lordship, Most Rev. Dr. Roche gave me to learn much of the history of St. Declan and his original connection with Ardmore. He gave me a detailed survey of the ancient Round Tower. He spoke in glowing terms of the people of the "Holy City" of Ardmore as his friend Canon Power named it. The Bishop's knowledge of the Gaelic language was good. His anticipation of a return visit to the "Holy City" was unfortunately never realised. Perhaps the people of Ardmore and surrounding areas who he loved so well will say a prayer for the eternal repose of his gentle soul. May he rest in peace.

Mount Sion and Dungarvan Qualify For Senior Final

Mount Sion, 1-3, Kilrossanty, 0-3 Dungarvan, 0-9, East Waterford, 0-2

In the semi-finals of the Waterford Senior Football Championships played at Dungarvan and Waterford on Sunday last, Mount Sion and Dungarvan came out on top over Kilrossanty and East Waterford respectively to qualify for this year's County final which will be played at Dungarvan on Sunday, 30th September. Appalling conditions prevailed at both venues and slippery pitches and greasy balls helped to lower the standards to a great extent.

AT DUNGARVAN Mount Sion, by overcoming their conquerors in the Phelan and Fenian Memorial Cup Finals Kilrossanty brought off a first class surprise at Dungarvan when they completely mastered the Comeragh men and more or less dictated terms from beginning to end in a scrappy game which was mostly notable for its close and robust tackling. The Kilrossanty men fell into the trap of trying to play the Mount Sion side at their own game—close bunching play—and as a result were always trailing behind from the early stages. Had the Comeragh boys maintained their positions and opened up the play, the result might have been different. At it was Mount Sion were deserving winners even if the loss of football the play does not follow the traditional pattern. And make no mistake about it, they are a tough team which can give as good as they get and maybe a little more when it comes to handing out hard knocks.

The retreat of John Longergan after a hard collision with a couple of Mount Sion players in the early stages was a big blow to Kilrossanty and his replacement, young Gough had hardly taken a few feet used to the grass surface when Mount Sion pierced this weak link in the Comeragh defence to slap through a goal which put them 4 points in front at a vital stage.

Midway through the second half Kilrossanty made their bid and scored points in the 8th and 11th minutes which left only a goal between the teams. Play became even more robust and tempers became frayed on a few occasions but thanks to the able handling of the game by Lismore man, Moss Pollard none of the incidents got out of hand.

Although Kilrossanty forced the issue at this stage and had 3 "tries" almost in a row they could not break through Mount Sion defence in which the Healy Crowley Power and Cullen stars started and no further scores resulted.

Mount Sion also had the edge at midfield where Seamus Power and Phil Grimes revelled in the head. The centre-field and Walsh the city men had two very accurate forwards while Morrissey and Flannely were also dangerous.

Man of the match for Kilrossanty was J. Meagher who in saved more than one serious situation. His covering play throughout was wonderful and the Kilrossanty net must have fallen on further occasions but his timely intervention saved the day. Especially the former, also barred for the Kilrossanty men while Jimmy Power did his part as well. It was the Comeragh attacking department that fell down the most. They were unable to break through the defence of Mount Sion.

THE SCORES Billy Kirwan gave Kilrossanty the lead in the second minute when he pointed a close-in free against a strong cross-wind. Three minutes later the Monastery boys levelled when Frank Walsh drove over the bar and in the 12th minute they took the lead when centre-forward Richards again pointed. Grimes dove in a hard ball to the Killers' square and a melee followed but again Richards proved too elusive and drove past Timmons in the Comeragh goal. No further scores came in this half and Mount Sion led at the short whistle by 1-2 to 0.

Martin Oge Morrissey further stretched the city men's lead when he pointed within 2 minutes of the resumption. Rough raged play followed before Kilrossanty broke through for Billy Kirwan to place his brother Michael for a point and this was followed a few minutes later by another Kilrossanty point per se. Frequent frees marked the game as Kilrossanty continued to press and although they forced a number of 50s they failed to register any further scores. When the final whistle went there were 1-2 to 0 for the Mount Sion men, and the Kilrossanty following which formed the bulk of the good attendance left the pitch most disappointed.

AT WATERFORD The Old Bora' footballers fulfilled the hopes of their followers when at the city venue they came from behind to defeat a hard tackling East Waterford Divisional team to win by a comfortable margin. Down a point at the short whistle Dungarvan adapted themselves better to the slippery conditions and took command to coast to an easy victory. The Dungarvan half-back line which pivoted around Munster player Tom Cunningham who was in top form proved the foundation for their victory and the downfall of the East Waterford side. At centre field Val Coyne proved supreme and he sent in a regular service to his forwards where Moss Qualey and Liam Shalloo proved too elusive for the Divisional backs.

Dungarvan's scores came from V. Coyne (0-3), L. Shalloo (0-3), M. Qualey (0-2) and T. Cunningham (0-1) while R. Rockett and D. Whelan scored for East Waterford.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE MEETS

Proposal To Appoint Clerk-Typist Defeated

A meeting of the County Waterford Libraries Committee was held on Tuesday, 21st August, in the Courthouse, Dungarvan.

The County Librarian submitted a copy of a letter sent by the Longford-Westmeath Joint Libraries Committee to the Donegal Libraries Committee relative to a proposed scholarship scheme for a summer training course in library work.

In the course of this letter the position was outlined as follows: "I would like to state that at the above mentioned meeting of the Longford-Westmeath Joint Libraries Committee a letter was received from the Registrar, University College, Dublin indicating a definite possibility of such a course being held in 1957 and that vacancies, limited in number would be available to assistants on the recommendation of their local authorities."

Referring to an enquiry of my Committee as to whether an Comhairle would be prepared to consider a series of grants for Scholarships, an Comhairle enquired of the Department of Local Government as to whether S 16 of the Public Libraries Act, 1947 empowered a Comhairle to co-operate on a financial basis in a project of this kind.

My Committee feel that if all Library Authorities were to approach the Minister at an Comhairle in the matter it would of necessity speed up the establishment of Summer Courses in Librarianship.

The County Librarian stated that owing to the big increase in the volume of business which had now to be dealt with at Headquarters he was obliged to request the Committee to recommend to the County Council that a Clerk-Typist be appointed to relieve the pressure and enable the same standard of service to be maintained.

did not believe the County Council would sanction it. On the amendment being put only Mr Walsh and Ven Archdeacon Power voted for it. The original proposal was then put and as only Tomas Breathnach and Bean Uí Conduin voted for it the Rev Chairman exercised his casting vote and the proposal was defeated.

It was proposed by Tomas Breathnach, seconded by Bean Uí Conduin and passed unanimously that the Ven Archdeacon Powelley, V.F. be re-elected Chairman and that Very Rev Fr M J Murray, P.P. be re-elected Vice-Chairman for the coming year.

Mr. Norman Walsh M.C.C. stated that as the matter was he was compelled to dissent from the proposal to make this new appointment. If the rates could not be actually reduced they must be at least stabilised at present level.

that if the country was industrialised emigration would cease. An attempt was made in this direction and many factories were established which did give a fair amount of employment but many of them were built largely in or around cities or large towns, and were of little use to rural dwellers and then had to receive Government protection for their products, so that they could compete with long-established foreign industries.

Another defect is the slow development of the home industry, yet we have not one factory established in Ireland would besides giving considerable employment greatly help our adverse trade balance.

THE MEASUREMENT OF TIME

The Traveller's Joy

One of the most remarkable as well as one of the oldest of all scientific instruments is the astrolabe. Originating in the east it was probably introduced into Europe by the Arabs who had perfected it. It was usually made of brass and its diameter varied from a few inches to a foot or more.

seem to be in the mood of late before and this is not revenge. That Dat-I is well in the running over Lis-e way-Nurse nurse hold my hand is his own song these days-eh-eh-eh.

EAST CORK COMMENTS. Acquiring of Ranch Lands—Rumour has it that the Land Commission a few months ago took plans to run the Pattern in East Cork. Other sales of farms are to take place in Killeagh and Youghal in the near future and will be conducted by the same auctioneer Mr McCarthy Bandon.

Abbeyside Development Association Notes. Bitter disappointment reigned in Abbeyside last Sunday when the weatherman laid low our plans to run the Pattern in East Cork. Mr O'Regan has carried out a good deal of necessary work during the short space of time as engineer for the Cork County Council.

Local Tit Bits—It was a nice gesture from Mr. O'Regan to carry the Pattern over the bridge over Ballymore way recently. East is East and West is West—so ran a popular song of a few years ago—but it was south for the collection and north for To-y—the night of the Regatta dance caused a lovers tiff too we learn.
