SALE OF WORK FOR FOREIGN areas Donegal Mayo Galway Clare Kerry Cork-Kerry and Cork Ing evening remind us that the year has all but spent itself again There are but three short tacht areas of Ring Old Parish months to Christmas With this colling of the year many what "they think of us up again There are but three short tacht areas of Ring Old Parish months to Christmas With this falling of the year many thoughts come to mind and one in particular should not be forgotten, and that is the Annual Display and Sale of Work for the Augustinian Foreign Missions which is held annually around the end of November Th's year the date has been that defending the result of the influence of our public representatives too the fact that no boat was allocated to Helvick under the Gaeltacht Scheme that the Government thought the for November 30th and little of the influence of our The year the date has been inxed for November 30th and December 1st and it is expected that the Friary Hall, Dungarvan will again be packed on those nights by eager purchasers anxious to help the Missions and at the same time with an eye out for a bargain. For those who will be donating cakes knitted wear etc., etc., for the occasion there is still ample time to get things under way but the dates should not be forgotten.

in Dungarvan but in quin, Lismore, Ardmore, alone Tailow, Youghal and the many other towns and villages throughout the County, was for tickets for the All-Ireland hurling final | Luckily I was not on the hunt myself, as a heavy cold ruled out any ideas of a times how certain phrases in trip to Croke Park, so I can everyday use were derived Take write without so to say having for instance the common expres-

of tickets was passed on to every of tickets was passed on to every club in the county I am subject to correction in this, but with this direction being carried out it is easy to calculate that the number of tickets left that the number of tickets left own way bear witness to the who knows where to go will wind up with the biggest number and this was the only reason that I could account for

in landing tickets

I know of at least two very prominent referees in the West who have been seen on our Gaelic pitches on fine evenings and wet evenings on practically every Sunday of the past season and who could not get a ticket

Strancally, Knockanore and this player to the children and this prayer to the children and this player to the children and the children and this player to the children and this play and who could not get a ticket Surely some provision should be made officially for such men The conduct of our Gaelic games could not be pursued without the services of referees and good ones are at a premium

While I don't want to stick my neck out, I think that it is not unreasonable to suggest that a small allocation should the Eastern and Western Boards of the Association in the County for the men who devote practically every Sunday of the year to the interests of the GAAreferees and others who are most necessary and valuable assets and without whose services the Association could not function Perhaps, in some cases some clubs might be getting too many tickets—a little saving here and there would provide for this little extra allocation—and perhaps if the County Board would consider this they would not these, would show in a very tangible way the Board's appreclation (if I am not foolish in Tis alone my concern if the thinking that this does exist) of

However to harp back to last week it was a case for some of the so blessed are those that don't exfor they shall receive, while for others it was like bomb-shell at the last momen when they found out that there was no ticket for them I heard one man complaining that it was the first time in years that he left Dungarvan for the final without having a ticket while another man fold me that an attendance at eight successive finals was broken because tickets could not be got Me, I stayed at home and listened to Micheal O'Hehir but how I longed to be among that 83 000 for the closing pulsating ten minutes of that epic game

WHAT THEY THINK OF US

During the week I read par- MALACHY SWEENEY scheme in a national daily paper, which it was stated would be in operation next season. The article stated that the Minister for Agriculture had decided that the scheme which provides for the supply of chicks at a specially reduced price to poultry-keepers would operate.

I understand that by a direction of County Board Chairman

BY MARY ELMS

shall pass through this world but once Any good thing living creature let me do it now let me not defer it nor neglect the sampler still hangs upon the wall of her livingroom 'I resolved when I worked it' burned on the first available she told me once "that my opportunity The surface may greatest ambition in life should then be butch-pole harrowed and be not fame nor wealth but to way so that people would value me for what I was, rather than A very laudable resolution as

I am sure you will agree Some of us have great Purposes, and are prepared to fight for them and when at long last we have achieved our ambition we are who most strenuously opposed us because we are so much reslightly better place as the result of our striving For the majority of us, they may be very small things which we achieve and remember for no longer than the life-times of those old enough to understand when they are achieved the ocean is composed of little drops of water whilst little be at least that drop, of that

How do you like this quotation from Robert Louis Stevenson, which I came across the other day? — To be honest to be kind—to earn a little and to spend a little less—to make upon the whole a family happier for your presence—to renounce when that shall be necessary and not to be embittered-to keep a few friends but these without capitulation." Delightful, is it not? A worthwhile way of living something to set up before us as a standard as we travel on our way There are different kinds of opportunities An opportunity to "get back' as someone who has injured one in some way, or an opportunity to heap coals of fire upon that person's head by rescuing him
