BEHIND THE

NOVEL TURKEY MARKET

Most residents in Dungarvan and area will be thinking all ready of the near approach of Christmas and all the additional chores and expenses that it involves One of the first problems, and I suppose the central one to be decided is the Christmas dinner and when I mention Christmas dinner I mean turkey for it. Most residents in Dungarvan

Christmas dinner I mean turkey for it

In recent years the prices for turkeys put them in the luxury class and out of the reach of many people who had to budget on fixed incomes However, this year the prices are most reasonable and a turkey should be well within the scope of most households and I feel I am not being extravagant when I make that statement However, there is another side to the story and while the prices ruling this year favour the consumer they are far from pleasing, as far as the producer is concerned. All in all I think that there is a certain amount of chaos in the turkey market this year.

Be that as it may what I want to focus the spotlight on is the proposal by Country Markets and the Emins Committee proved to the Emins is the proposal by Country Markets Ltd. to hold a Christmas Turkey Show and Market in Fourth Successive Week place at the Friary Hall Dungary on tonight (Friday) and Dungarvan on Thursday the 13th December There is an advertisement elsewhere in this issue making an official announcement to this effect and when I first saw it. I was unstable to the fourth successive to the fourth succe number of Associations such as the Irish Countrywomen etc operating in an advisory capacity Their aim is to market at a high standard the finest and it is forthcoming Turkey Show is their first venture of this kind in the County To be members of the Council of the County To be members of the present Council of the Association producers must hold a certificate which is granted only when their produce has reached a certain standard and this ensures that produce only of the very highest quality is presented to the est quality is presented to the here altogether '

standard and this ensures that produce only of the very highest quality is presented to the consumer

With particular regard to the turkey market I think that it is a venture that should get the whole-hearted support of the townspeople. It is proposed to get some place central in the town where turkeys of the highest quality, ranging in weight between 10 and 14 lbs will be shown ready for the roasting ovens. Prospective purchasers who visit this show and market will then be able to make their individual purchases at a price to be fixed between buyer and seller but which will of course be closely related to the prevailing ruling market trends.

I am told too that there will be no cut-throat competition with 1 ecognised poulterers.

The people of the town can show whether they wish to support this new venture of Country.

Markets or not by informing the President of the I C A if they intend to become prospective purchasers at the market. I think that this is something that should meet with the widest support and they members of Country Markets Ltd are to be congratulated on their enterprise. I hope it succeeds.

I hope it succeeds.

Or this president of the twent in the count should spetcher. Suggestions were made about taking the problem and these included commencing at 10 a m or 11 am next Monday and sitting with but as bare hour break for lunch until the agenda was completed. Some leave those residing at the extremities of the County—complained that even 6 clock was too late to finish business in the evening "By the time we get home 'they complained "it's almost eight of the Council agreed to meet again on Monday at 2 p m and if the business is not completed by 6 p m to then suspend Standing Orders to clarry on until midnight if necessary in order to clear the agenda By the way, the items adjourn editation of the County Management Act), and the Unification of the County and City Management Act), and the Unification of the County and City Management Act), and the Unification of the County and City Management Ac

Poems By Heather Bell-32nd in the Series — ONLY A DREAM

a dream of summer hours-The world seemed draped in robes of gold For sunshine fell around in showers And Nature all her grace un-My heart beat high with bliss entwined beam But all alas I woke to find-

No lingering sunbeam's rosy Strayed lowering skies
Ah' me 'tis thus through life's long reign,

The pleasures that around us gleam, We wake to find at length with pain-

Only a dream

HOW TO MAKE ENDS MEET

Show me your dustbin and I II tell you what you are It is said that the American housewife s dustbin would feed a whole Continental family. Into the dustbin go the stale bread left-over vegetables meaty joints, unriddled cinders. Down the sink goes the sour milk. The waste of food in the average kitchen is wanton And the owner of the dustbin will be one of those women who are always bewailing the cost of living. She's worn out trying to make ends meet
