PREPARING FOR THE FRAY
Dungarvan on Sunday last was like the windy city of Chicago—city of conventions—as supporters of Fianna Fáil and the town from all parts of the county and city for their constituency conventions to select candidates for the coming general election.

FIANNA FAIL
Main interest centred on the Fianna Fáil convention as speculation was rife as to who the Party's third candidate would be to replace the late Dan Leahy of happy memory who carried the Party's banner in West Waterford for many years. It was not surprising then that with this more than normal interest there should be a big influx of delegates and when Mr. Colm Gallagher of the Party's National Executive who presided over the Convention to order the election.

When some initial difficulties had been ironed out it was announced that the two outgoing Deputies—Sean Ormond and William Kennelly—had been re-elected unanimously. This was as expected and the announcement was received with general acclamation, I understand.

THIRD MAN
But the question of the third man had still to be decided. Originally there were seven names to go before the convention, but when Nicholas Kelly (Dungarvan) withdrew his name there were six left to be voted on. These were John Fahy, M.C.C. James Quirk, M.C.C. R. Keane, M.C.C. C. Curran, M.C.C. H. Dowd, M.C.C. and B. Little a nephew of former TD P. J. Little who came in from Carlow.

I sat at the hotel across the road waiting for the result and the delegates came and went. I picked up snatches of information that showed how matters were progressing at the court-house.

After a first ballot John Fahy surprised many by taking a lead from Jim Quirk, with 58 votes to 45 respectively. Next in order was Mr. Dowd with 37, Mr. Keane with 29, Mr. Curran 22 and Mr. Little 4. The two latter were then eliminated and in the next ballot Mr. Quirk went to the top two votes ahead of Mr. Fahy (58 to 55).

Mr. Dowd and Mr. Keane were eliminated in the following counts and finally Mr. Quirk was selected by 106 votes to 89.

When the convention was shown open to the public it was evident that there was a great deal of enthusiasm among the delegates despite a wearying four hours of voting and discussion.

FINE GAEL MEET
Later in the evening there was a very large Fine Gael convention at Egan's Hotel to which Mr. T. Lynch of the outgoing Party warmly welcomed the Party's President, General Richard Mulcahy, Minister for Education and to which Senator J. Butler also spoke. The General presided at the convention which went smoothly through to a conclusion in a couple of hours. The convention unanimously re-elected the same candidates as for the last election—the outgoing TDs Mr. Lynch and Mr. Norman Walsh M.C.C.

Before the convention ended Mr. Michael Harty M.C.C. proposed a vote of thanks to General Mulcahy and this was seconded by Mr. M. Molloy, and passed with acclamation.

THE LABOUR CONVENTION
At the same time the Labour Party were holding their convention at the Union Office which was also crowded with delegates from all over the county and city. Councillor Tom Gallagher Mayor of Waterford presided and without a hitch the convention was concluded in record time. By unanimous decision Mr. T. Kynne the Party's outgoing TD was re-elected to again contest the seat on this occasion.

INDEPENDENTS
There are rumours that there is a possibility of an independent candidate at one of the seats from Dungarvan but I have been unable to verify these up to the time of writing.

So now the contestants are nearly all named and we must only await the outcome.

HERE AND THERE
I was introduced to former Communist Douglas Hyde, the 77-year-old West Country Englishman, who lectured in Dungarvan on last Saturday night. See report elsewhere. I have heard a lecturer speak so many words in two hours before the dead with the subject in a most comprehensive way and

General Election THREE PARTY CONVENTIONS IN DUNGARVAN

Candidates Chosen For Contest

Co Waterford Constituency Conventions of the Fianna Fáil Fine Gael and Labour Parties were held in Dungarvan on Sunday last and as delegates poured in from all over the county election fever gripped the town.

FIANNA FAIL
As far as Fianna Fáil is concerned in this election we are going in our own and we will fight clean and hard said Mr. C. Gallagher, Fianna Fáil National Executive Dublin who presided at the Fianna Fáil Convention.

Appealing to the young people in Waterford and throughout the country to come out and support them he said that the Fianna Fáil Party was young in its ideas and young in its enthusiasm and they should look to it as the real Republican Party. The record of achievements of Fianna Fáil in the past had completely swamped the feeble efforts of the Coalition Governments of 1948 and 1954 he said, and it was the latter's bungling which caused the frightening unemployment migration figures which they had at present.

The Convention of almost 200 delegates in closed session unanimously re-elected the outgoing deputies, Ald. W. Kennelly, TD and Mr. Sean Ormond, TD and after 4 counts selected as the Party's third candidate Mr. J. Quirk M.C.C. Inchineamny Ballyduff S.O. The convention lasted over four hours.

All Are Ready
The selected candidates having been congratulated by the chairman who also commended the delegates on the wonderful fighting spirit displayed thanked the convention in turn.

Mr. Sean Ormond speaking first in Irish and then in English thanked the delegates for choosing them and for their fine co-operation in the past. They hoped for the same co-operation in the coming election which would be the new dawn for the country. He said they were all ready to be sure that Fianna Fáil would win through.

Mr. J. Quirk said that he believed times had changed and there was a great hope of getting the Fianna Fáil candidates elected on this occasion. Thanking the delegates for selecting him as third candidate he said that he was glad that the people of Waterford would forget a member of the Legion of the Rearguard.

Ald. W. Kennelly said that this was the third time in 4½ years he had come before a constituency and he hoped that this would be 5 years before this would happen again.

of many upsets since 1948 the policies devised as a result of the co-operation of many parties in the Inter-Party Government have in the last 10 years brought about greater progress in agricultural and industrial development and production than had taken place in any 10 years for over a 100 years.

Having referred to the extent of agricultural and industrial development in the country in that time General Mulcahy concluded that it is imperative that the spirit in which this progress is being made shall be continued in Government and to that end Fine Gael is prepared to co-operate in the fullest measure with all other parties prepared to operate policies so founded and contributing to this end. In this General Election we seek the fullest possible support of the electorate for our candidates so that we may be in a strong position to secure this co-operation and this progress.

The Convention then went into private session and it was later announced that Ald. T. Lynch, TD, Mr. Norman Walsh M.C.C. Cappoquin had been unanimously chosen to again contest this election.

DOUGLAS HYDE LECTURES IN DUNGARVAN

Was Once A Communist

The Aula Maxima at St. Augustine's College, Dungarvan was filled to capacity on last Saturday night and the attendance well representative of both sexes listened with rapt attention as Mr. Douglas Hyde, former Editor of the Communist Party Daily Worker and an active member of the Communist Party for twenty years, spoke for almost two hours on 'Why A Man Becomes A Communist'.

The lecture was held under the auspices of the Past Pupils Union of St. Augustine's College and Very Rev. C. N. McCarthy, O.S.A. Prior, Dungarvan presided.

Present Day Needs
Speaking at the outset Mr. McCarthy said: 'On behalf of the people of Dungarvan and district and particularly those who have great pleasure in extending to our illustrious Lecturer and Guest a very cordial welcome.'

Tonight we are having the first of a series of lectures which are being sponsored and organised by the Past Pupils of the Friary and I wish to thank especially Mr. Tom Lannen, Dungarvan, for whose help it was possible for us to secure the services of Mr. Hyde. The aim of these lectures is to give Senior boys of the College and members of the general public who may be interested something of sound educational value especially on the application of the Social Message of the Church to present day needs.

Past Pupils of this educationalists are anxious to do then part towards the raising of the intellectual tone of society purifying the public taste and if I may use the words of the late Mr. Keats 'helping to give sobriety and sanity to the views of our age.'

Mr. Douglas Hyde is one of the most outstanding lecturers in the English speaking world of today. He is a man of the fact that he was not always a Catholic or that for a number of years he was a Communist. He is a living example of the fact that a man can change over modern errors. Almost sixteen hundred years ago St. Augustine in one of his works 'The City of God' wrote 'The same power that heals individual souls also heals nations' and gives security and well-being to nations. Successive Popes have repeated the same idea and he said: 'There can be no true Christianity unless it is directed to the social and economic ills of society without returning to Christian principles and ideals.'

Mr. Hyde in embracing the Catholic religion sought security and happiness which we all try to attain and at the same time he realises that in the Social teaching of the Church lies the hope of suffering humanity.

Big Advance In Forty Years
Having dealt with his travels in Korea and Asia Mr. Hyde pointed to the great efficiency of the Communist system which he said after forty years now had one-third of humanity and more than twenty-five per cent of the land surface of the world. Communism he said was essentially a movement of youth and of young idealists who dream of a good society and join it in a revolt against the wrongs of the existing social order. One of the great evils of the movement was he said that it was devoted to overthrow all religions and belief in God.

Other points made by the lecturer were that the Communists believed they would achieve world domination in their lifetime. Their object was to destroy what they termed the Capitalist System so that Communism could take over. Communists he warned used every weapon to hand to achieve their ends—they were plausible and they were cunning and worked to the plan that a ally had first to be taken by the hand so that he could be later taken by the throat.

While the revolution in Hungary had lost about twenty-five per cent of its members, Western Europe he said that it was most significant that they were rallying their forces again and fighting harder than ever now.

Tough Nut
Referring to Ireland's position he said that the Communist Party had always accepted this as a tough nut to crack as the country's Catholicism was a great barrier. There were 400 Communists in Ireland he said and the majority of these were in the Six Counties but there was one group in Dublin.

The real danger to this country lay in the extent of our emigration to England. It had to be admitted he said that of the numbers who left a strong minority lost their faith and of these quite a number turned to Communism. This was proved by the fact that Irishmen and women could be found at every level of the Party in England. In the event of a world wide trade recession the Irish would flock back home and with them would come thousands of trained Communist leaders who

N.F.A. DEPUTATION WARNS CO. COUNCIL OF IMPENDING DANGER

Reduce Rates Call

A six-man deputation from the Rates Committee of the Waterford County Executive of the National Farmers Association spent almost two hours discussing the need to reduce rates with members of the Waterford County Council at their quarterly meeting in Dungarvan on Monday last.

(Note: The Council will meet to consider the rates on Monday next and the proposed rate shows an increase of 10½%)

Seriously Perturbed
Mr. J. Coghlan, leader of the deputation, said that they represented 25 branches of the N.F.A. throughout the county all of whose members were seriously perturbed at the way rates were going up year after year. The position had now been reached he said where the trend of farm prices and the trend of rates bore no resemblance to each other as the latter had soared far beyond the other.

County Waterford Mr. Coghlan was paying the fourth highest net rate in Ireland. Last year the farmers paid their rates out of reserves and were some who had difficulty in meeting the second moiety which was now overdue. It would have to be remembered he said that a great deal of the land in this county was poor and needed plenty of fertilisers but the farmers could not afford these if their capital reserves were being wiped out by high rate demands. Everyone was expected to live within his means he added and the Council should be no exception in this respect but by looking for a higher rate they showed a lack of realism. The N.F.A. expected the rate to be reduced.

Critical Position
Mr. J. Shanahan another member of the deputation stated that taxes should only be levied on the people in proportion to their ability to pay and in proportion to the services rendered for them. The farming community paid 75 per cent of the total rates collected in this county but they were asked to pay such high rate demands in the future.

You must face the facts Mr. Shanahan told the County Councillors as the economy position is critical and therefore all extravagances must cease and we certainly cannot afford any more unproductive expenditure further increased demand for rates cannot be tolerated he said as the agricultural community cannot meet them. It is up to the Council he concluded to show their sincerity in the matter by reducing the rate for the coming year.

Matters of Deepest Concern
Mr. Coghlan who next spoke for the N.F.A. said that the country's present financial position vitally affected everyone. The soaring cost of Government central and local mounting national debt and vanishing external assets were matters of deepest concern for the future welfare of the country. Production—the barometer of progress—was stationary he said they were spending far more than they were earning—in plan and simple language they were living beyond their means. This position would have to be put right before the country was put in pawn to some foreign power. Production must be increased said Mr. Coghlan and the solution of the country's difficulties in great measure rests with the farmers. I am sure he added that production can be doubled.

Referring to the discrepancy between rates in most other counties and that in Waterford he said that there must be something wrong with the system that permits such a difference.

Why should we be called on to meet such a high rate demand asked Mr. Coghlan and why should we be strangled by such a millstone?

Rates now drew so much from the farmer he said that they made it impossible for him to finance projects to increase production. They had passed would spearhead the revolution here.

This would have to be accepted as a distinct possibility. The defence he advised against such an occurrence was that our young people going to England should be prepared and warned against having anything at all to do with Communists. They should link up with Catholic organisations as this would prove one of their great safeguards.

The battle against Communism which Mr. Hyde described as 'the battle of our time' touched the life of everyone and he said that everyone should be aware of its seriousness and do everything possible to combat it.

Vote of Thanks
The lecturer then answered some questions put by members of the audience after which Dr. J. Kely, Cork, President of the Past Pupils Union proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Hyde.

IN REPLY TO MR. FAHEY THE CO. MANAGER SAID THAT INTEREST PAID ON OVERDRAFT LAST YEAR WAS £13,000

Mr. Sean Ormond said that they all appreciated the difficulty of the deputation but he felt their statements should be addressed to the Central rather than the local authority. The Council were doing all they could to reduce the rates.

I agree said Mr. Ormond that there can be a reduction by denying certain essential services to the people but I would hate to be the one to deny them those services.

Mr. E. J. Keyes Housing Department said that he was not aware of any cottage being idle for a long period in the Kilmac Thomas area.

The Co. Manager stated that he had slashed expenditure everywhere in the estimates for the various institutions and Boards even with that the best he could do was to increase that would be considered by the Council next Monday.

The deputation having thanked the Council then withdrew.

"I SOLD POTATOES OUT OF MY PLOT" SAYS URBAN COUNCILLOR

Disclosure At Urban Council Meeting

At last Friday night's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council Mr. Donald Moloney said that he had read in a local paper ('Behold the Spotlight in Dungarvan Leader') where it was stated that a certain plot-holder under the Council's Allotment Scheme had sold potatoes off his plot to a trader in the town.

If this statement were true he said then the matter should be investigated as it was very wrong.

The Acting Town Clerk, Mr. M. O'Carra said that it had been known for years that some plot-holders did sell stuff out of their plots.

Mr. Moloney asked on what conditions applicants got these free plots seeds and manures and the Town Clerk replied that they got them for their own use and nothing else.

The Independent Labour member from Crossin Villas on the Council then asked 'What is the position if a plot-holder has a surplus? Is he supposed to leave it rot—?'

Mr. Lannen said that if the most deserving applicants—the most deserving applicants—were not surplus families—there would be no surplus.

The Town Clerk told Mr. Moloney that each plot-holder must be given an acre free seeds and manure.

At this point the Independent Labour member stated 'I had one of the plots last year which was one of the best years for potatoes for a long time. I didn't use all I grew so I sold them in town. That's plain talk.'

Mr. Moloney said that he could not agree with this as it was a risky principle.

Mr. Lannen referred to a statement made some years ago that the plots were being sold to certain people and it was then that the whole matter should have been investigated as he wanted it.

The Chairman (Mr. T. Kynne) asked if the Council wished to make any proposal in the matter.

Mr. Moloney—I think the matter should be investigated.

Chairman—How is it to be investigated do you think we should write to the paper and find out?

Mr. Lannen—Sure a member of the Council has admitted to selling potatoes from his plot what is your investigation do you want?

Mr. Moloney said that he felt the member in question was breaking the law in selling the potatoes from the plot and the Council would be breaking the law in tolerating such a position.

Mr. Moloney then asked for the regulations governing the granting of plots and the Chairman (Mr. Kynne) asked 'Is there anything there which says that all the potatoes grown on a plot must be eaten by a plot-holder or can he give some to his neighbours?'

Mr. Moloney—No.

Mr. Lannen pointed out that anyone with an income of more than £50 a year was debarred from getting a plot. He suggested that the matter be again discussed when applications were received to decide what should be done and to see that the proper people got them.

The Town Clerk told Mr. Moloney that about 20 acres would be required altogether this year and already 16½ acres had been taken at £14 an acre. The discussion then ended.

THE OLD RUSTIC BRIDGE BY THE MILL

A special request has come to me for the words of the above song and although it has appeared in this column before it gives me pleasure to print it again.

I'm thinking tonight of the old rustic bridge
That bends o'er the murmuring stream
There Maggie dear with our hearts full of cheer
We stray'd 'neath the moon's gentle gleam
Twas there I first met you the light of our eyes
Awoke in my heart a sweet thrill
Tho' now far away still my thoughts fondly stray
To the old rustic bridge by the mill

How often dear Maggie when years passed away
And we plighted lovers became
We rambled the path to the bridge day by day
The smiles of each other to claim
But one day we parted in pain
Our vows then we could not fulfill
Oh! may we soon meet and our fond love repeat
On the old rustic bridge by the mill

I keep in my memory our love of the past
With me tis as bright as of old
For deep in my heart it is planned to last
In absence it never grows cold
I think of you darlings, when lonely at night,
And when all is peaceful and bright
My heart wanders back in a dream of delight,
To the old rustic bridge by the mill

THE LABOUR PARTY WANTS TO TAKE THE COUNTRY INTO THE HANDS OF THE COMMUNISTS

The original constitution of the State recognises that various sections of the people had varied interests to serve and the principle of proportional representation was enshrined in the first Constitution in order to reflect that in the political life of the country and thereby strengthen the country politically as well as economically. This was stated by Gen. R. Mulcahy when he addressed the Fine Gael Convention at which he also presided.

This principle continued Gen. Mulcahy lies at the root of the Fine Gael's whole policy and it was in the operation of this principle that the Inter-Party Government came together in 1948. The fruits that flowed from that policy he said are manifest when it is realised that in spite of the fact that Creameries and other users of butter wrappers are having those wrappers printed in Germany. Also business firms, all having circular letters and other advertising matter printed and posted outside this country to householders living in this country.

This practice is a serious loss in revenue to the country and also a serious threat to the printing industry in Ireland. We request the Government to take all necessary action to stop this most undesirable practice.

THE LABOUR PARTY WANTS TO TAKE THE COUNTRY INTO THE HANDS OF THE COMMUNISTS

There are rumours that there is a possibility of an independent candidate at one of the seats from Dungarvan but I have been unable to verify these up to the time of writing.

So now the contestants are nearly all named and we must only await the outcome.

WOMEN IN THE MODERN WORLD

Pope Pius XII has often emphasised the importance of woman in the modern world where she is often called upon to play an active part in remedying social evils

Back as 1945 when setting forth "Woman's Duties in Social and Political Life" he pleaded

"A Strict Obligation"

The family life of human relations are at stake They are in your hands

Every woman has her mark it well—the obligation the strict obligation in conscience to absent herself but to go into action in a manner and was suitable to the conditions of each so as to hold back those currents which threaten the home so as to oppose those currents which undermine its foundation and to prepare, organise and achieve its restoration

A Particular Plea

In 1952 he declared that when we work for peace today we are working for the peace of the world

He made a particular plea to those women whose activities are directed to social and public life—parliaments, tribunals, journalism, professions

Their activity should be aimed at wiping out hatred, forging bonds of brotherhood among peoples, eliminating the causes of conflict such as want unemployment obstacles to immigration and the like

Moral Integrity

More recently he addressed members of the Canadian Women's Press Club on the need for upholding the moral values in the press he said

"The press is the moral conscience of the world and the people agree that the mind and heart of a woman when properly prepared are likely to be acutely sensitive to this need for moral integrity in what is written in the public information instruction and entertainment"

At Home or in the Office

He added "Women surely will be among the first to note the difference between honest interpretation of the news and the subtly printed lie"

"They will surely differentiate between engaging and provocative writing or picture, between the serene chronicle of pleasant fact and gossip, more or less malicious"

Women in their position at home or in the office are ideally placed to safeguard moral values"

The attendance of members in the Goat Island vicinity last Friday in the forenoon was nearly up to the usual average the occasion being the quarterly drill display and rocket life-saving practice

ARDMORE GOSSIP

Wedding Bells—Piltown (Kinsalebeg) Church, was recently the scene of a very pretty wedding ceremony when with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing two local and very popular young people were united in the holy bonds of Matrimony

They were Mr M Merrigan and Miss Siobhan Flynn, both of the Ardmore area The groom is employed by Col Roch of Woodbine Hill House The best man was Mr Michael Roche and the matron of honour was Mrs Peg Flynn (sister-in-law of the bride)

The ceremony was presided over by Rev Fr D Power P.P. Clashmore

Following the ceremony a large attended reception was held at the home of the bride Mr and Mrs Merrigan, to whom we wish many happy years have taken up residence in a beautiful bungalow placed at their disposal by Col Roch

Fishing Returns—Up to last Friday evening the fishing returns were described as very satisfactory One boat had 14 other three boats had average catches of 12 An unusual feature of the netting was the large amount of other species caught such as pollock whiting and flat fish

The salmon netted are light in weight which old fishermen state are signs of a prosperous season Let us hope the omens are good

The late Mrs Margaret Wade NT of Ardsallagh who died in August 1955 left estate in England and the Republic valued at £1442 Probate has been granted to her husband Mr Patrick Wade who is employed as chauffeur to the Misses Ronayne of Ardsallagh House

A last minute reminder to all party from here there and everywhere is that the Ardmore ICA Guild Social in St Declan's Hall in aid of Parochial purposes is taking place this evening Special musical interludes will be given by the Ardmore Sea Breeze Band and the usual convalescent fund

Another Curra Teanga, Trade Development mission will mean an impetus to the growing of carrots and parsnips on a larger scale in this coastal area An Curra Teanga will be held on an agreement to send yearly quotas of specified Irish vegetables to the West Indies The National Farmers Association are sponsoring the initial cargo

The vegetables to be exported must be in good condition This agreement may mean the beginning of a great agricultural industry in these parts

After a happy term of seven years as a member of the Gaelic force in Ardmore area civil courteous and broadminded Garda Wm Warren has taken his departure on promotion to the rank of sergeant-in-charge of Rathgormack station (near Carrick-on-Suir) The loss to us in this seaside resort of this efficient and popular Garda who was everybody's friend is much to be regretted

Thoughts of happy memories that Garda Warren and his amiable young wife with their charming daughter Alanna and their baby sister, bade adieu last Tuesday evening to their countless friends in the town of St Declan

On behalf of all our readers it is my privilege to wish them the best hours of happiness in their new home

Despite the prevailing cold and rainy weather in this coastal area last Tuesday the scene presented at the Village Cross in the proximity of the Corner House was colorful

On the occasion of the meeting of the West Waterford Fox Hounds under the Mastership of Mrs Morgan This visit I must state is much to be regretted

We have been informed that all followers who took part were delighted with the good day's sport

An teanga—San tir Sean, 'tis the case how paradoxical of the Teanga has not helped in any way to stem the tide of emigration for weekly the emigrant ship is taking a big number of Irish boys and girls to various adopted climes across the ocean wild and wide many of whom are fluent speakers of the Gaelic teanga—the tongue of their motherland

Here at Ardmore within recent years a number of young lads and lassies have left the old home town to become part and parcel of the big world excite and sad or is it glad to state which is the correct word they were the proud possessors of not alone the teanga but its cultural trimmings of music singing and cell dances

True it is a national achievement to be a possessor of the native teanga and such indeed was brought home to me very forcibly when I was greeted by Irish lads on various building sites in London with the grand old Gaelic word "Teanga"

The Deserted Village—Lis more is fast becoming a town. Checking over figures we discover that its population has dwindled to a number just over a thousand from a double that number in recent years. We have in Lismore almost three dozen unoccupied habitable dwellings, as well as numerous former dwellings now used as storehouses and such on the downward path? It seems so! An instance being the auction of a large business premises in Main Street which failed to reach a double within £300 of the reserve price.

Annual GAA Meeting—The annual general meeting of the Lismore Club was held in the Town Hall on Sunday last at which there were a fairly large number present. Officers elected for the present year were—Mr. M. Pollard (President), Mr. W. Lineen (Chairman), Mr. P. O'Kelly-Lynch (Secretary), Mr. P. O'Kelly-Lynch (Treasurer).

Discussions—The minutes of the 1956 annual general meeting were adopted and Mr. P. O'Kelly-Lynch, spoke on the financial state of the club. Discussions then took place on various subjects. Mr. M. Pollard proposed that a strong protest be made to Tourin club, concerning the statement made by one of their members that the Gaelic field had been taken over by the Soccer Club. This was a statement, added Mr. Pollard in which there was absolutely no truth.

should be the order for 1957. At the conclusion the Chairman thanked all the members for their good work in the past year and hoped that they would pull together just as well in 1957.

Death of Miss B. Power—It is with the deepest regret that we record the death of Miss Bridget Power which sad event occurred at her residence Church Street on Thursday morning of last week. The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Friday evening and interred in the cemetery.

Good Opening for Industry—Mr. M. V. Gough's letter to the Editor in last week's issue of this paper concerning the Cork and Waterford Waterways Commission proves to us that with a bit of luck and the right backing an industry could be started here. It is now up to our councillors to see further and the matter and probe every avenue of possibility, and try in some way to stem this ever-increasing flow of emigration.

Short Dance—There was only a small attendance at the short dance held in the Town Hall on Friday night last. Nevertheless it proved very enjoyable for those who did attend. The music was supplied by the ever-popular Pat O'Brien and his band. There will not be any short dances tonight (Friday) but watch these columns for news of the next one.

Late Mr. E. Fenton—Additional Mass cards in connection with the death of Mr. Edmond Fenton New Street, which were recorded in our last issue were received from—Josie Hale New York, Mrs. Henry Smith New York, Francis Annie and family Galway.

Smile And Be Happy—Deft Definitions—Marriage Something that gives a woman an open mind as well as her own. Suspenders—The oldest form of Social Security. Roving Beauty—Girl who takes second place in a Beauty Contest.

Death of Mr. Thomas Flynn, Moonalour, Lismore

It is with sincere regret that we record the death of Mr. Thomas Flynn Moonalour Lismore which occurred at an advanced age at the Lismore District Hospital on Friday Feb. 8th. Mr. Flynn was a native of the Aglish district and was a highly-respected and popular member of the farming community. He spent some years in America and subsequently came back to the old land and farmed very successfully up to the time of his death.

The Late Mr. Edmond Cotter—As briefly reported in our issue of last week the death of Mr. Edmond Cotter took place at his residence Springfield Tallow on Sunday, February 10th. A very popular member of the farming community, deceased was a member of a family that gave many of its members to the Church. He was brother of the late Rev. Fathers John and the late Brother Joseph Cotter. He was nephew of the late Rev. Fr. Thomas Barrett O.P., the noted preacher. The remains were removed to the Church of the Immaculate Conception Tallow on Monday evening Feb. 11th, followed by an imposing cortege Requiem Masses were celebrated on Tuesday morning for the repose of the soul.

Hungary Sends Bacon to Britain—The following was received from a friend in England—I had Hungarian bacon for breakfast yesterday. Delicious rasher direct from Budapest. A gift from a friend in the Hungarian Capital, you may ask. No I bought them in a London shop. You don't believe me? I can't blame you. I did not believe it myself when told that strikers and starving Hungary was exporting bacon to Britain. It is true. Most amazing still the first consignment arrived in this country just before Christmas when British people were still responding to appeals to send money to Hungary. Then many tons of Hungarian bacon has arrived here and been distributed to all parts of the country.

At Bishopsgate, I learned that the bacon had come right from Europe by rail and crossed the Channel and over to Britain by train ferry. On the way they probably passed other trucks carrying all sorts of goods. I thought I had a whole sales Assistant he said "We were amazed when supplies began arriving so soon after the revolution and when we were still reading that Hungary was exporting bacon to Britain. I met a British cattle exporter "bacon from Hungary" he said "Why that's nothing. Cattle from Hungary were being sold in French and Dutch markets in London."

Glendine Social—There was a good attendance at the Social held in Glendine on Thursday night Feb. 7th. Music was supplied by Messrs John O'Donovan and John Geary on the accordion.

Fishing on the Blackwater—Damon the waters of salmon on the Blackwater up to the present have been very small. But it is hoped that the season will be a reasonably good one as a good run of new fish has been observed in the river for the first time.

The Week's Story—Two moonshiners from the mountain were taking their first train trip. They had heard of Soda and they had heard of Soda when the vendor came around they each bought a bottle. The first moonshiner wiped the lid of the bottle on his hand and took a long drink. Just as he was about to take another sip he was arrested.

Blind Point to Point Races—A small crowd saw some good finishes at Ballynane Point-to-Point Races on Wednesday Feb. 7th. Details Confined Farmers Maiden Race, £20, £5, £2 about 31 miles—1st James Murphy's Lanelon, 2nd Mr. E. McCarthy's Anne's Cottage, 3rd Mr. P. General Election—The next few weeks will confront the Twenty-Six Counties with a general election. The issue will be what will the line up of parties be. Fine Gael or Fianna Fail cannot go to the country with a clear-cut programme differing in any respect by the support of a pact settlement of Partition. In economic matters each at one time or another has followed the other's lead. Sinn Fein are certain to put up a number of candidates and the winners would lead one to believe that they should receive a certain amount of support. Labour has lost considerable ground during the past year. Mr. Noonan and his colleagues have lost their support for the policies which have earned the open hostility of trade unions, and they may insist on Labour going on alone. This may be a great thing for the country, but it would be a certain extent have the Government at their mercy. The Clan na Poblachta Party which no doubt had it remained independent would today have a big following, but its alignment with Fine Gael caused it to lose prestige with its Republican supporters so that it seems to be on the way out and its leader (Mr. McBride) latest move will hardly save it.

What ever party or conglomeration of parties that will form the next government, they will have a stiff task ahead of them to pull the nation out of its present difficulties.

Kilwatermore Blazers—The M.S.E. was at Ballinaha on Sunday last. A fox was found in the home cover and he headed straight for Mr. Callaghan's and went to ground. A second fox was found in Mrs. Tobin's garden. The fox was shot by Mr. Walsh's son, Kilbeg. Late in the evening a fox was found in Mr. Moloney's Kilmore. Reynard crossed the Youghal-Tallow road and went on to Ballinaha. The fox was brought back to Kilmore and went through Mr. Murphy's wheeling left to Mr. Roban's Huntbill he wheeled right and on to Ballyhamlet on to Mr. Walsh's Kilbeg. HOW TO MAKE ENDS MEET

TWO SAVING SUGGESTIONS

You can't use everything of the pig but the squal. All the same, from head to tail and trotters, the pig is a fine provider. He has a piece for every purse and every palate. Palate and purse, no matter how wide the divide, will meet on the matter of pigs' feet. Call them crubeens, call them 'mouth-organs' call them what you like, pigs' feet are a delicacy far beyond their price. A price below the shilling standard. Dolled up and served in genteel ways, they grace aristocratic tables. But plain-boiled with cabbage is their usual fate. Forget the cabbage for once and try this really substantial dish of pigs' feet with haricot beans. Buy the feet in a pork butcher's. Soak the beans overnight. Put both together in an oven dish. Flavour with pepper, salt, herbs, an onion, a clove of garlic if you like it. A tablespoonful of tomato puree gives a perfect finish to the flavour. Add a cup or two of stock or water, cover tightly and cook slowly until beans and feet are plump and tender. A man's dish maybe. A dish for hearty company. But at a price no woman would grudge.

COUNCIL COMPLIMENTS E.S.B. MEN

On the proposal of the Chairman Mr. T. Kyne Dungarvan Urban Council at the fortnightly meeting on last Friday night complimented the local E.S.B. men for the great work they did during the recent big storm. The Chairman said that there had been a terrific amount of damage done but lights had been restored with the minimum delay.

Dangerous Bend

At Mr. Moloney's suggestion the Council agreed to recommend to the County Council that a warning sign be erected near the bend at Mr. Coleman's house on the Old Hospital Road. Mr. Moloney complained that the bend was very dangerous and two children had nearly been killed there by cars lately. The Chairman, Mr. Kyne said that there would be no need for such a sign if motorists drove at a reasonable speed. He did not think the bend was a dangerous one he said.
