VOTE FINE GAEL AND MAKE SURE YOU MAKE A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.

BEHIND THE SPOTLIGHT

WITH PENSMAN

NOT A TIDY TOWN

An elderly lady met me during the week and complained about the complete lack of interest many people seem to show towards the surroundings of their homes. It was completely unfair she said to those who kept their places clean and tidy have a sign which says "I care" and cared nothing at all about their front gardens or surroundings. She expressed abhorrence at the number of broken and badly plastered gates and walls which were around Dungarvan, and said that such things in particular detracted greatly from the appearance of a locality.

I am in agreement with such views but I think as far as Dungarvan is concerned the greatest offender is the Urban Council and of course some of the houses which occupy their various schemes of houses. The Urban Council is by far the greatest offender in the town and I suppose it is natural, on the law of averages, that the greatest percentage of the houses in that class which have given rise to the complaints should be owned by them.

Seldom will you see a person who occupies his own house allow it or its surrounds to fall into anything like decay. On the contrary, he will have it reached Crotty's some group of fellows with sweeping brushes on Monday last, but them on the floor. talk of Badminton soon, maybe week Mondays, Wednes-Fridays, that is when times so that no one is the "slackers." And that by changing into you are not in the least to catch a cold.

Future Of Poultry Industry

A Dead Duck Says Councillor Walsh

The present position of the poultry industry in the country and in County Waterford and its future prospects were referred to in a discussion arranged and moved by Mr. R. Walsh, at last Saturday's monthly meeting of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan. Moving his motion Mr. Walsh said that some years ago he had a big market for the export of eggs and poultry but that market had now gone and they still continued with the same old methods. He thought that the time had come when the poultry industry should get back to the old ways instead of the big hatcheries as at present. He said that he had a dead duck in his hand which he was going to use as a pointer to the future of the industry. He said that he had a dead duck in his hand which he was going to use as a pointer to the future of the industry.

NEW CHORAL SOCIETY FORMED IN DUNGARVAN

Enthusiastic Meeting To Launch 'New Venture'

Musical lovers in Dungarvan and district will be pleased to learn that a new move to give the Old Boro its own Musical and Choral Society, and enthusiastic support from the townspeople at an inaugural meeting at Lawlor's Hotel, on last Monday night. The foundation of the Society was formally approved by the meeting and a committee was elected. Mr. R. O'Shaughnessy, O.S.A., who was one of the promoters in reviving this interest in musical productions and efforts had been made to set the right note in opening the proceedings when he said that this would be a desire in the hearts of many of those present for a long time back to do something of the kind in Dungarvan. Having referred to the great work done by previous choral societies in the town, Mr. O'Shaughnessy said that the musical traditions which had been handed down to the present generation had been largely forgotten and it was his hope that the new society would help to revive these traditions. He said that the society would be open to all and that it was his hope that it would be a source of pleasure and enjoyment to all who took part in it.

MEMBERS SHOULD FIGHT FOR THEIR RIGHTS

Reference To Ministerial Dictatorship
Following the nomination of the same members, Mr. John Fahy, Chairman, Mr. H. Hartley, Vice-Chairman, and Mr. P. Conroy, C.A.O., as representatives of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture on the General Council of Committees, at the monthly meeting of the Committee in Dungarvan last Saturday, Mr. N. Walsh said that he had been disappointed last year over the way the salary questions were handled. He said that he was sure that the Minister would not be able to do this to the farmers and that he would not be able to do this to the farmers and that he would not be able to do this to the farmers.

WEST WATERFORD DAIL CANDIDATE

Mr. John Fahy, member of Waterford Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture, member of Vocational Training Committee, Health Authority, represents Waterford Co. Council on General Council of Co. Councils, Irish Public Bodies Mutual Insurance, represents Committee of Agriculture on General Council of Committees of Agriculture. Mr. Fahy is West Waterford's only hope of representation in the new Dail by a Waterford man as he is the only Waterford man standing in the West Waterford-South Tipperary constituency.

CONFERENCES ARE ONLY HOLIDAYS

But Committee Decides To Send Instructors
There was a division between the members of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture when the question of sending instructors in agriculture to a Technical Conference in Dublin on September 23 and 24 came before the committee. Mr. N. Walsh, who moved the motion, said that he was in favour of sending the instructors to the conference. He said that he was in favour of sending the instructors to the conference.

FURTHER ISSUE OF PRIZE BONDS

As will be seen from our advertising columns, Prize Bonds are on sale again and can be purchased until Wednesday, 4th October. The terms are the same as for previous issues, and Bonds bought during the present issue will participate with existing Bonds, until they are cashed, in all future Draws for prizes. Every 25 Bond has an equal chance of winning a prize but the more Bonds an investor holds, the better his prospects of winning. The more Bonds bought and held the greater the number of prizes in the Prize Fund. Bonds may be bought without limitation as to amount, not only by individuals but also by Clubs, societies, guilds, institutions, associations, companies and other bodies. Draws for prizes are held twice a year, the first Draw being in March, 1962. The prizes range from 550 to 25,000 tax-free. At the recent draw over 2250,000 were won by bond-holders, and there were more than 200 prizes, including 38 prizes of 25,000 each. Prize Bonds are a very popular way of saving, particularly for the small investor and those who may have to withdraw their money at short notice. Waterford Man's Safety Invention
An invention by a Waterford City Commercial Traveller, Mr. T. Walsh, Thomas Street, Waterford, which keeps tractors which operate from turning over on the drivers was mentioned at a discussion on the incidence of tractor fatalities throughout the country at the Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture meeting in Dungarvan last Saturday. Mr. N. Walsh said that in view of the big number of such accidents it was surprising that the department had not so far taken up this invention. Mr. P. Conroy, C.A.O., said that he was aware of the invention and agreed that it was an ingenious safety device. Mr. M. R. Dowd said that if details of all the fatal tractor accidents which had occurred in the last five years were computed he felt the total would make a very formidable figure which might impress people and mean that there would be less accidents. Mr. J. Quirk—There's a lot of carelessness in the driving of tractors. Mr. P. Dempsey, Inspector, said that he would bring the invention to the notice of the Department.

G.A.A. Football Mount Sion Headed For County Double

Rockies Too Good For Ring

S.F.—Mount Sion 0-7; Ardmore 0-2.
J.F.—Colligan Rockies 2-6; Ring 0-1.

Two fixtures which were expected to provide a feast of high-class football and close finishes drew a big crowd to the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last, but the expectations were unfulfilled and both games fell far below the standards which had been promised, while the decisions were also clear long before the final whistle sounded.

THE PLAY
Tommy McGrath had what turned out to be Ring's only point of the game when he sent over from a 21 yards free within 5 minutes. With the breeze behind them Ring continued to press and Paddy Fitzgerald was called on to handle a low hard shot which was completely off day and luck was absolutely against them throughout the hour. Their greatest blow came after 17 minutes of the first half when they lost star centre back Sylvester Murray. The Helvick school teacher was injured in a heavy tackle and had to retire with a hip injury. This was only the beginning of Ring's hard luck story due to injuries. Shortly afterwards Mick Neary, the left corner back was down with a knee injury but although he was in evident pain he remained and continued until shortly after the interval when he was replaced by Murray who went back despite the fact that he still limped from his first-half injury. These were setbacks that obviously upset the Ring men. At the same time the Rockies were full value for their win and on the day were a better side. Their experience stood them in good stead and their forwards took most of the scoring chances that came their way. The poor quality of the Ring attack is displayed in the fact that there was only a single point in their favour at the end of the hour and this came from a placed ball kicked by Tommy McGrath, five minutes after the game had started.

There was a good deal of roughness and heavy tackling and fights were up on quite a number of occasions. Following a flare-up in the Colligan goalmouth within a couple of minutes the resumption referee Liam Crotty (Dungarvan) sent Gerry Quinn, Rockies full-back and Ring's full-forward to the line while ten minutes later after another fracas P. Walsh (Colligan) and Jim Harry (Ring) also got marching orders. Rockies had good forwards in Vincent Byrne and Bannion, while Jimmy Tobin was also on hand to avail of any close-in opportunity of scoring, although I thought he was a little too free in the way he tapped Colligan's first goal post. Nicholas Graves at the close of the first half drew a flag through illness and a case of an hour and gave a fine display, first at centre-back where he partnered Dick Tobin and later in the centre-back bench. Brett, D. Devlin and J. Kieley were sound steady defenders while Paddy Fitzgerald kept a good goal.

The Late Mr. J. Beecher—We regret to record the death of Mr. James Beecher, Ballinacorney, who died on Sunday last. We extend our deepest sympathy to his family and relatives.

A Prisoner in the Congo—P. Regan, Gortnagouppel, Killeigh, who is listed as a prisoner in the Congo Forces in the Congo, is son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Regan. This is his second time in the Congo. He was with the 22nd Battalion there and volunteered to go out with the regiment for a number of years as Military Policeman with the Congo Forces and retired at the conclusion of the Emergency.

The General Election—In a short time now the electorate of the Republic will be going to the polls to elect a Government for the next five eventful years. Now that West Waterford is a safe seat for the Government, it behooves the voters of this area to examine the records of the men they are seeking election to.

A fight between two fish sellers in Dungarvan on Saturday, August 19, had a sequel at Dungraun District Court on Tuesday, August 22, when Mrs. Murphy, 72, Congress House, Sumner, was charged with assault. Mrs. Donnelly had a counter-charge, summing up the case in respect of the same occasion.

Ardmore and District Notes
Marriage—Gavin Corbett, recently in Ardmore Parish Church, of Mr. Timothy Galvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Galvin, Cork, and Miss Ita Corbett, daughter of Mrs. M. Corbett and the late Mr. John Corbett, Curragh, Ardmore. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Fr. Wm. Cahill, P.P., Ardmore.

Stern Damage—The recent storm did very little damage locally, some limbs of trees and a few branches were blown on to the roadside but traffic was not interrupted. Electric power was cut off in some places and without light for some time but E.S.B. electricians soon attended to these minor breakdowns.
