ABBEYSIDE MAN'S LUCKY ESCAPE
An Abbeyside man living in London who recently flirted with death and lives to tell the tale is Michael O'Keefe, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Keefe, of the Boreen Place, Michael who is thirty-nine, resides at Highfield Drive, Putney, and has been engaged in the most dangerous of building operations for years—erecting and dismantling scaffolding on tall buildings and skyscraper buildings. He is a regular night-lifter who takes dangerous tasks at the highest levels in his stride.
However, his experience and quick thinking came to his assistance recently in an incident in which one of his colleagues died and another was critically injured. While working on the 13th floor of a building, the three men were working on an electrically operated platform which ran like a lift from the ground floor when it suddenly plummeted to the ground. One man was killed in the fall and another was injured. Michael O'Keefe, who felt the lift jerk with great force, managed to grab hold of a nearby scaffold and avoid the platform ploughed down.
It was indeed a remarkable incident and I congratulate Michael O'Keefe on his good fortune and his providential escape from what would otherwise have surely been certain death.

FARMERS TO STRIKE?
Last week-end I spoke to some farmers from the County and learned from them that unless notice of their protests against rising rates and falling incomes is taken in the proper quarters, they may in their fight to obtain what they claim is a fair deal, have to resort to strike action.
I refer to from Press reports that a plan of a planned campaign by farmers throughout the county was being organized at a meeting of the N.F.A. in County Down where it was further stated that an action committee would be set up to take whatever action is necessary had been elected by the National Executive.

MY ONLY SON
I am glad that the Committee discussed this matter and I feel sure that the Urban Council will take note of the views and make some attempt to make the fair a worthwhile one for the town. Indeed anything would be an improvement on the present arrangements.

WHAT PROGRESS IN URBAN AFFAIRS?
Most of the streets of the town of Dungarvan are now in a terrible mess. They have been cut up and torn asunder over the past few months and even though the cuts have been filled in for quite a time in some cases, nothing of a satisfactory repair job has so far been carried out. I know that the Authorities are waiting to have the water scheme completed before they start their re-surfacing work, but surely a better temporary job than we have at present could be done. It is like driving over a switch-back railway while many of the pathways are veritable danger traps for unwary pedestrians. On the "water-front," I am

Right To Appoint Temporary Instructors Committee Should Not Yield To Minister

That the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. P. Smith, was attempting to take the right to appoint temporary instructors away from them by force but that they should not yield to him, was stated by Mr. N. Walsh, at last Saturday's monthly meeting of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture held at the Town Hall, Dungarvan.
Mr. Walsh's statement was made in the course of a discussion on a letter from the Minister asking for the Committee's views on the appointment of Agricultural Instructors.
The letter expressed the concern which the Minister felt at the growing tendency among Committees of Agriculture to appoint instructors in a temporary capacity. As a result only a few of the instructors employed throughout the country were in temporary service and this could only mean a temporary advisory service which would be to the detriment of the farming community. The letter also urged the Committee to fill permanent posts which are at present occupied in a temporary capacity and to consider the possibility of the instructors employed throughout the country were in temporary service and this could only mean a temporary advisory service which would be to the detriment of the farming community. Record Crowd Make Kilgobinet G.A.A. Social Huge Success

A record crowd enjoyed a four-hour night at the G.A.A. Ballroom, Clonsa, when the Kilgobinet Hurling & Football Club held their second annual dinner and social there on Thursday night, February 15. It was a remarkable scene to witness the spacious ballroom turned temporarily into a dining hall where over 200 members, friends and supporters of this great hurling club sat down to a very satisfying meal. It was indeed no mean feat for the Hotel Management to accomplish and the prompt manner in which each course was served reflected much credit to the service staff. The evening was provided by the club.
The night was a very happy one of gaiety, there was a note of poignancy in it as it marked the departure of a member of the club who had been a member for many years. It was for Fr. John Lacey, beloved curate in the parish of Clonsa, who had been a member of the club since his childhood. Fr. Lacey had been a member of the club since his childhood. Fr. Witness added that defendant's car came about very quickly at about 35 to 40 m.p.h. in the middle of the road. After the accident plaintiff said he asked defendant why he had not swerved to the other side. Defendant replied that he did not know as he was in a hurry coming from the fair.
STOPPED HIS CAR
Edmond Dunphy, said he was an insurance agent and on the day in question he was driving along the "pound road." He was travelling at between 15 and 20 m.p.h., but was not coming from the fair and was in no hurry. He saw Campbell's car when he was about 20 yards from it. It was out on the centre of the road, more to witness's side. Witness said that he stopped his car but plaintiff kept coming and hit his car a glancing blow. After the accident Campbell came up to him and said: "You're like a ghost," and witness said he replied "why wouldn't I. I thought you were going to come right through me."
