The Council finally decided to meet the problem by raising a ten year loan of £40,000 to cover all outstanding repairs

The Chairman, Mr. G. Curran, said the first point of the matter was to be dealt with at the annual estimates meeting and all they were concerned with for the present was the suggestion that a supplementary estimate of £9,300 be passed.

Mr. T. Kyne, T.D., who moved that the estimate be approved, said that the Council had not brought to the notice of the members of the Sub Committee that the cottage repairs could not be carried out because of the small amount of money provided by the Council.

Mr. Kyne then said that the policy of the Council in general was to let the general repairs be done at a cost of £100 per pound foot.
It had sold a cottage with a leading roof was left in the

It is completely cracked policy not to put money up to do such repairs, he said.

The value of money is going down while the cost of labour is going up with the result that any think the Council would be very wise to take their courage in their hands and provide this.

Mr. P. Cahill, who supported Mr. Kyne, said that he knew many cottages in the county were falling down. Some had no roofs and the people could not live in them.

Mr. J. Dohrn said that enough money should be put up repairs which were in condition of this kind.

Some thing, said Mr. Quirke, is wrong somewhere.

Mr. Madden—Sure there is.
Mr. J. Fahey said that the number of cottages built in 1890 and 1900 had no foundations and they had now sunk and no amount of money would put them in a proper state of repair.
Another thing is that the cottages were constructed with the conditions in them. Another thing is that we are getting increases in view of the requests which have been made that the Council should avoid any steep increase in rates.

Mr. N. Walsh thought that it would be as well for the Council to face up to the problem this year and put up the necessary money.

Mr. N. Walsh—But we will be faced with the same problem every year.

Chairman—It must wait the time that the new scheme is passed this year it will mean 10% in the rates next year as you will have to provide the same increase next year.

Mr. Kyne—There is false economy to let it stand over.

Mr. M. Galgey said that if the Council put on the rate for the two years with it was no help to the ratepayers as they would eventually have to do the repairs and the cost would be three or four times as much.

A SHATTERING BURDEN

Mr. K. O'Brien asked whether the cottages did any repairs themselves or whether they would let the cottages fall down

The Councillor pointed out that the Council suffered a loss of £30,000 a year on these cottages as they were a dead weight.

The Councillor said Mr. Curran is a shattering burden to have to

Thousands Being Wasted On Cottage Repairs Claims Councillor

References To Bad Workmanship And Inefficiency

The seriousness of the problem which repairs to cottages was presenting was stressed by a number of Councillors at the monthly meeting of Waterford County Council in Dungarvan on Monday when the Council had before it a recommendation from the Ardmore and Lismore Housing Sub Committee that for next year and the three subsequent years the annual provision for cottage repairs be increased to £15,000 so as to expedite the completion of outstanding repairs and further that a supplementary estimate of £10,000 be approved to augment the funds available for repairs this year.

The Council finally decided to meet the problem by raising a ten year loan of £40,000 to cover all outstanding repairs

The Chairman, Mr. G. Curran, said that the estimate would be approved, but brought the matter to the notice of the members of the Sub Committee that the cottage repairs could not be carried out because of the small amount of money provided by the Council.

Mr. Kyne then said that the general
was to let the general

Plenty Of Water For Cappoquin Supply

When Councillor J. Quirke asked whether there was water in the town which was boiling around that was not enough water in the extension to the Afagh-Tourin extension in the Cappoquin-Lismore supply scheme at that time when the scheme was proposed, Mr. Ormond, Acting County Engineer, said there was plenty of water in the town and that the requirements of the scheme, Mr. Ormond, however, pointed out that there was not heating and waste water in the Cappoquin district and if this was not checked it could become serious.

From the beginning of May last, one would laugh that had been the case, but now that the importance of water is known, the importance of public health is also known.

Waterford Through To Munster S.H. Final

Limerick Fade After Promising Start

WATERFORD - - 2-15; LIMERICK - - 3-6

Following a very shaky start which saw Limerick four points ahead after three and a half minutes, Waterford weathered the whirlwind of the green jerseys and Shamoisiders and eventually ran out easy winners in their Munster Senior Hurling semi-final clash at the Cork Athletic Grounds on Sunday last. A fine crowd of 24,189 watched the Deise hucklers in close, warm if overcast conditions win themselves a ticket to a Munster final meeting with old rivals Tipperary at Limerick on next Sunday fortnight July 28.

In the final analysis it was power and grits, the experience and teamwork of Waterford forged and tested in the tough conditions, which won the game for them. The long distance running factor was the prime deciding factor. The fiery Limerick men opened each of the two halves in style, but the Deise lassies faded as the precision of the hurling played by the League champions were thrown down and eventually overcame them.

The Waterford back division displayed an unusual bout of nerves in the opening minutes of the game and the Shamoisiders' set pieces had regular reliability of such impeccable hurlers as Jimmy Byrne and Austin Flynn becoming suspect. And so the Limerick men took the lead again.

McGarry's scoring with a point from the interval, Limerick had the ball into the Waterford goal and the kick into the net past a surprised Ned Power. Nine minutes later Blaauw again slipped Limerick once more onto the green day dream for the Shamoisiders. This time Waterford had only raised two white flags at the other end when Grimes scored twice in a row. Deise followers who formed a big bulk of the crowd were beginning to feel uneasy following these losses.

NOT A SUCCESS

Cheasty's absence from the forward line was being felt and the selectors' move to bring John Mooney into the match for the Ballyduff man's place was not proving a success, while the burly Breslinian made it a routine task to score his first full-forward Charlie Ware every time. Indeed, were Ware a bat-hurting machine and his coach, he should have had the referee's whistle blowing regularly as there was hardly a clash between the pair in which he was not involved.

In the testing opening session, Waterford's heroes came to the forefront. Amazingly it was a man who had been in the team days prior to the game as being a doubtful starter due to a wrist injury who proved Waterford's saviour in the period. Tony Flynn, the Mount Ston dynamo, Harry Guinan. Indeed Guinan was the man of the match for Waterford and should have been the man of the many fine displays in the County colours this must have been one of his best ever.

First of the full backs, was Tom Cunningham who always had the better of the exchanges, first with Paddy Codd and then with Mike O'Brien. The Deise man buried him with verve and again when Flynn watched the roving Tyrann, was out of position and a serious check in the defence.

Of the other half-backs, were Irish also had a good hour with the experience of Martin O'Brien and a steady affect on the line.

AT MIDFIELD

The mid-field pairing of Joe Condon and Mick Dennehy had to play second fiddle to the Keane-Hartnett combination of Limerick in the first half, but the Mount Ston man was recalled by the selector after twenty minutes and replaced by John Mooney. In the second half with Mooney fitting out the Waterford pair gained the advantage for Waterford.

Mick Flannery and Frankie Walsh were strangely inconspicuous in the first half and it was only towards the end when the winter's cause was lost that the Winger came into his own.

EARLY LEAD

Limerick went in early and switched after ten minutes of the first half attack, only to go on top. While the De Le Salis man actually got no score in this period he lied up the busting Breslinian and made penalties for his wings.

Waterford retaliated with a point from a free per Grimes in the sixth minute and the same player had a like score after a great tackle by Tony O'Brien on Sean Keane, who predicted what seemed a certain goal.

Limerick attacked and in the 12th minute Blaauw again evaded Byrne to put the net a certainer. Sean Keane.

Instead of being disheartened by these reverses Waterford fought back with their usual calmness and quick thinking. Later Barron had a goal after the Limerick custodian Hogan had brought off wonderful saves.

Waterford's 4 consecutive goals were all scored by Barron, who came on to the scene and proved to be the man to beat. McGarry had 2 scores and a similar series. When Limerick scored again by a point, just on the stroke of half-time, Barron had a point to his credit. The Deise hucklers were then faced with a point from a 70' to leave the score Limerick 23, Waterford 10. Barron then battled on a pile deeper from Byrne Savage and still made a brave attempt to stop Limerick again took the lead immediately after the interval. Limerick's equalising goal came when substitute Martin Power had led pointed and scored by his middlester, Eamonn Grimes, who gave Waterford a lead they maintained until the half-time.

McGarry's point at 50' to 1-9, Limerick's a minute later and again into the heart of the Waterford's goalmouth. It was potential becoming more apparent as the Deise lassies were combining perfectly they eraudically demolished the opposition. The addition of the ball into the hands of the Waterford players overcame the Shamoisiders twice in the first half. And at the short whistle they had 6-9 to 4-4.

COMPOSURE SHATTERED

But they had to wait a short while for compensation as he raced 20 yards to immature a goal at 1-10 along the ground. Barron's point stood him to 1-9 to 1-3, but the burly Breslinian made it a routine to score his third full-forward Charlie Ware every time. Indeed, were Ware a bat-hurting machine and his coach, he should have had the referee's whistle blowing regularly as there was hardly a clash between the pair in which he was not involved.

Waterford 1-9; Limerick 2-6

Vinegar from the Mount Ston man came well to please with his display of skill and the play for home periods and before the game was called off twenty minutes and replaced by John Mooney. In the second half with Mooney fitting out the Waterford pair gained the advantage for Waterford.

Mick Flannery and Frankie Walsh were strangely inconspicuous in the first half and it was only towards the end when the winter's cause was lost that the Winger came into his own.
