PENSMAN takes you Behind the Spotlight

OUT OF PRINT
I have been away on holidays for the past few weeks, hence the absence of the Leader in this country of the Leader. I know from inquiries that quite a number of readers were perturbed by the disappearance of the column, but I can assure them that I will continue our writing service with views and comments here for the future (D.V.) as we have in the past.
It is a wild, lonesome place of majestic grandeur. Poor and barren where the land is, correct but with a rich in its people. Never have I seen such a profusion of huge rocks nor more industry among small holders, who apparently could make potatoes grow from the very stones.
My previous experience of a Gaeltacht district in the County of Kerry and I cannot tell you how amazed I was to realise the extent of this Irish speaking area in the Gaeltacht. You could travel 100 miles and still not come to the end of it and through its length and breadth, men, women and little children speak nothing but Irish.
Like others who know nothing but Munster Irish, the rather clipped Western dialect came hard on me to understand at first, but within twenty-four hours, apart from a sentence or two here and there, I was able to follow the conversation.
My first to Connaught was an eye opener in many ways. I had heard the signs here and there which told of little victories by the Gaeltacht influences. What a pity it is to find that our Gaeltacht areas should be shrinking even if it is only a slow process. Instead of increasing, because even though we may think there's nothing like the thrill of being saluted of an early morning in the sweet, clear tone of our native tongue.
"Dia Deat or Maidin."

POTATO PRICES

At last Saturday's meeting of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture, Mr. John Fahey rightly drew attention to the difference in the prices for new potatoes by the County Council over the counter as compared with those paid to the growers.
Mr. Fahey stated that he knew that producers in the Ballinacorney area were getting 21s to 21s 1/2 a ton, while consumers in Clonmel were paying 24s a ton for the equivalent of 24s a ton. The consumers, he said, were being asked to pay through the nose while the producers were not getting a fair deal.
Other members disagreed with Mr. Fahey, some holding that it was all a question of supply and demand. It was pointed out that in the previous two years there had been a potato famine on the Continent and the export market for early Irish potatoes was consequently "flying".
However, there was a question as to whether the result of the export market collapse.
Mr. Fahey stated that some of the potatoes grown were of very poor quality because of the "disease" of late blight, which he said was being spread by the Local Agricultural Commission. It was pointed out that when this late blight is hit in the next few years, the supply of potatoes will be considerably reduced.
It was also pointed out that the Local Agricultural Commission is now being established by the Health Department in addition to the Local Agricultural Commission. It was pointed out that when this late blight is hit in the next few years, the supply of potatoes will be considerably reduced.

Appeal Was Inaccurately Included In List

Tuesday's sitting of the Circuit Court in Dungarvan Judge Pawlett adjourned under two sessions an appeal by Declan Morrissey, Hevick, Ring, Dungarvan, against a two-months' suspensory sentence imposed on him by District Justice L. B. Skinnier at Dungarvan on July 10, when convicted of assaulting Barrett Quinn, Bullyreilly, Hevick, at Ballinacorney, Ring, on June 11.
When the appeal which was listed as a "late entry" on the list, was called on, Mr. C. Curran, Solicitor, for the Attorney General, stated that as the appeal had been entered late he was not prepared to go ahead with it at this sitting.
Mr. V. Maher, Solicitor, stated that Mr. A. H. Farrell, Solicitor, who had lodged the appeal on behalf of Morrissey was not ready to go on either and understood that the appeal would not come on until the next sitting.
Mr. F. Kenny, County Registrar, told Judge Pawlett that as a sentence was imposed on the appellant in the list when he received it, the appeal was inaccurately included in the list and adjourned to the next sitting.

MY BUNNY BOY IS YOUNG

On the trees they do be high, The leaves they do be green, The line is gone and past, My boy and I have seen, It is cold winter's night, You and I must bid adieu, Whilst my bunny boy is young, And is growing.
In a garden as I walked, I heard them laugh and call, There were four and twenty playing there, On the rain on the roof here, Whilst my bunny boy is young, And is growing.
Oh, father, father dear, Great wrong to me is done, At the time of the sale, Here I toss and cannot sleep, Whilst my bunny boy is young, And is growing.
My daughter, daughter dear, I'd better be more fit, I'll send him to the court awfully, To point his pretty wit, But the snowflakes fall, Oh, and I am still as death, Whilst my bunny boy is young, And is growing.
To let the lovely ladies know, They may not touch and taste, I'll find a bunch of ribbons red, About his little waist, But the raven hoarsely crows, And I shiver in my bed, Whilst my bunny boy is young, And is growing.
I married was alas, A lady high to be:

Board To Sell Priory House For Sake Of Harmony

Despite objections and warnings by the County Manager, Mr. S. J. Moylan, the Waterford Health Authority, by 12 votes to 5, decided at their monthly meeting in Dungarvan to sell Priory House, Dungarvan, and to seek an alternative site in the town for the erection of a Public Health Clinic. Pleas to discuss the matter at Monday's meeting were made by one member while another said that the only way to get rid of this contentious matter was to sell the property and to do it for the sake of harmony in the Board.
At the outset, Mr. C. Curran, on whose motion the matter came before the meeting, explained that his motion that steps be taken to dispose of the building and for the provision of a suitable clinic elsewhere in the town had been carried by a two-thirds majority to suspend the motion stand over until the August meeting.
The Secretary, Mr. J. A. Hynes, said that he had put the motion on the agenda as a matter of courtesy even though it was not a day later than the date of the meeting. He said that he was not prepared to discuss it if the members would have to pass a resolution with a two-thirds majority to suspend Standing Orders.
Mr. W. Collins, then proposed and Mr. M. Galgey, seconded that Standing Orders be suspended to enable the matter to be discussed and this was passed unanimously.
Mr. J. Quirke, Chairman, said that the matter was discussed in a public meeting on Sunday, August 4, this year. Normally the Priory House is held on the Sunday next to the Feast of St. Augustine, which falls on August 28. The building was not used for the purpose of the feast and was left empty for the purpose of the feast.
Let us hope that the Committee will be favoured with more pleasant weather conditions this year, a wish which I am sure will be shared as much by the members as by those who will be competing at the Pattern events.

Surprise Turn In Chairman's Election

There was a surprise turn at the annual meeting of the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture in Dungarvan on last Saturday when the outgoing Chairman, Mr. John Fahey, the official nominee of the Fianna Fail Party was defeated by Mr. Michael Hartly who was nominated and supported by the Fine Gael Party, by a single vote. Two members of the Fianna Fail Party refrained from voting as did also an Independent member of the Committee.
The election looked as if it would follow the usual pattern when Mr. J. Quirke (F.F.) proposed the re-election of Mr. Fahey, but then Mr. H. R. Dowd (F.F.) showed that something was amiss when he proposed Mr. Quirke. He said that Mr. Quirke was entitled to the honour and the outgoing Chairman should be the first to second such a proposal.
Mr. Quirke stated that while he was getting a little deaf and would not be able to hear enough to do justice to the position said that he would not allow his name to go forward.
He recalled that he refused to stand for election in 1958, but was elected in 1962. He said that he was getting a little deaf and would not be able to hear enough to do justice to the position said that he would not allow his name to go forward.
Mr. Sean Whelan (F.F.) then seconded Mr. Fahey's re-election. Mr. George Heskin (F.F.) proposed Mr. Michael Hartly for the Chair and the proposal was seconded by Mr. Norman Walsh (F.F.).
Mr. M. Galgey (Ind.) said that this election was a waste of time and that he would not be taking part in it. He said that he would not be taking part in it.

Four Men Arrested In Armed Mountain Camp

A full scale operation by more than 100 Gardai and special branch detectives as dawn broke over the bleak countryside of Dyrick, Ballinamall, on last Thursday morning culminated in the arrest of four men—three from Belfast and one from Dublin—and the finding of a large cache of firearms and ammunition. The men were sentenced to two months imprisonment later in the day at a special court in Dungarvan.

Protest Meeting in Dungarvan

On Sunday morning there was more excitement in Dungarvan when members of the Irish Republican Movement held a meeting in the Square to protest against the arrest of the men.

Dungarvan was the base for the raid on the unused farm house on the hill of Dyrick, Dyrick, which had been converted into a camp for the training of young men in the use of arms. Garda under Chief Supt. O. Butler, Waterford, and other sub-branches participated in the raid. The Garda used binoculars and walkie-talkie apparatus to keep in touch with the four men in the house before the raid as they dashed out just as the Garda closed in.

Inspector E. Kennedy, Dungarvan, with Sergeants from Dungarvan and the other sub-branches were in charge of operations. The men found and taken into custody at the scene were: Robert McKnight (25), 22, Mallow Street, Belfast; Philip O'Donoghue (25), 25, Lally Road, Mallow; George O'Hara (24), 18, Cape Street, S. Gibson Street, Belfast.

At the special court held at the District Court in S. Skinnier, on Thursday evening the four men—one of whom hobbled into court with a cast on his ankle sustained during an escape bid—were charged. Inspector Kennedy gave evidence of arresting each of the defendants and charging them on four counts, being: possession of firearms; possession of ammunition; possession of firearms and ammunition without having licences; and possession of firearms and ammunition without having licences.

Sergeant J. Curry said that he searched Patrick McGuire at Dyrick that day and found a .303 rifle and 10 rounds of ammunition on him. Sergeant J. Browne said that he saw George O'Hara at Dyrick and when he searched him shortly afterwards at Dungarvan Garda Station he found a round of revolver ammunition on him.

McKnight in cross-examination asked the judge if he meant to say that you allowed this man to go to the barracks with this ammunition on him? Sergeant—'I got it on the Barracks. McKnight—It strikes me as a very queer situation. I take it that the defendant was not searched at the scene. Sergeant—I'm sure he was but at the Barracks I asked him to produce any money and other property he had on him. He had £11 and I took them.

STRADBALLY FARMERS LITIGATE OVER RIGHT OF WAY

He had no hesitation in saying that the defendant had failed to satisfy him that he was entitled to the relief he was claiming, said Judge Fawcitt at Dungarvan Circuit Court when he gave a decree in favour of John James Watson, Painter, Tallow Street, Youghal, against Thomas Cummins, Ballyvooney, Stradbally.

Mr. Sean Brosnan, B.L., instructed by Messrs. Williams & Son, solicitors, for Watson, said that his client was seeking damages for trespass and sought an injunction restraining the defendant from trespassing on his lands.

Mr. P. Morris, B.L., instructed by Messrs. E. A. Ryan & Co. Solicitors, for Cummins, denied trespass and sought a declaration that they were entitled to use a right-of-way over the plaintiff's land.

John Watson, in evidence said that he purchased the lands at Ballyvooney, Stradbally, from his uncle James Power in 1907 for £1,500.

James Christopher (78) said that he was a special constable of the Garda Síochána in the late 1940s and early 1950s when he was driving a horse and cart he was driving past the farm when he noticed that he had lost Cummins's keys.

Evidence was also given by Mr. Liam O'Donnell, while a transcript of the evidence of 75-year-old Briegert Power, Ballyvooney, was read.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Fawcitt said that a right-of-way was something of great benefit and that he could not see how it could be an infringement on the rights of the person over whose lands it was claimed.
