RING GAELTACHT LOST MARKS BECAUSE OF THIS

It was not until the Gaelic competition (Gaeltacht) this year and I understand that the Gaelic League has decided to relocate the local to allocate their marks.

It has been told on reliable authority that marks were deducted by the judges because some direction signs and all the County Council road signs within the Gaeltacht bounds were in the Gaelic language.

A long time ago I referred to this position and suggested that the Co. Manager and the Co. Engineer should have it rectified by having the signs put up in Irish. This was done from the Gaelic League Development Association, then made a representation to the same officials but it was all to no avail. The English signs were maintained with the result that valuable marks have now been deducted from the score for the purposes of this competition.

It is not difficult to understand why such an official attitude should be maintained at a time when Gaeltachts are being fought for their very existence. It certainly makes little of the drive being made by the Commission for the revival of Irish.

WAS ONE TIME SENTENCED TO DEATH

The death of Mr. George Kieley of Kilmacthomas which occurred last week recalls a strange incident in his life when as a young man he was embroiled first in the War of Independence and subsequently in the unfortunate Civil War which followed it.

Most people will remember George Kilmacthomas as a newspaper columnist and poet. He was in many ways a literary genius and during his long association with journalism and the world of publications he coined many phrases which will perpetuate his memory for many a long day. But a side of George Kieley's life that few knew much beyond the literary work which he lived through the time with him was his association with the struggle for independence.

George was one of the first men in the mid-Waterford area to answer the call to arms when the new spirit of freedom began to grip the young men of Ireland in the early part of the present century. Following a recruiting meeting at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, in 1913 addressed by the O'Rahilly he joined the Volunteers and maintained his association with the active groups right up to the end.

When the West Waterford Brigade formed a Flying Column, George Kieley was one of its first men to volunteer and he accepted for service in it and he took part in the various engagements which the column was engaged in later years. Following the Truce he took the Republican side and transferred his activities to a Cork Flying Column with whom he operated during the Civil War. It was during this period that he was captured and taken to Monaghan Jail and while there he was tried and convicted and sentenced to be executed. However, before the sentence could be carried out he was reprieved and later released.

It was a man possessed of great wit whose wide command of the English language made powerful agents of both his tongue and his pen. George could pen the most charming words of praise but when it was necessary he could be equally harsh as a satirist.

His sons L.A. O'Connell, P. O'Connell, J. O'Connell, and other officers and men with whom George served during the 1919-21 period—gathered with the

ARBITRATION FOR PUBLIC OFFICIALS "ONLY A HUMBUG"

Can we ever recall a case where the Arbitration Unit, under the aegis of the Public Service Commission, was a humbug? At the monthly meeting of the Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan last Monday in the course of a discussion on an application by four Dental Surgeons (two permanent and two temporary) employed by the Authority for a revision in their salary scale, he answered his own question by saying that usually the Arbitration Unit was a salary man who would not let down other salary men.

"This arbitration business is a humbug," he asserted. "The Secretary, Mr. J. A. Hyndes, said as a result of article 12 of the contract of service that a new scale of £1,300 rising by annual increments of £100 to £1,700 in 1965 and £12 per cent. (9th round) had been agreed on."

Mr. Lannon said that they were either going to abide by the Arbitration Unit's decision or reject it.

Mr. Lannon said these men had got about a half dozen increases in the past twelve months. He did not agree with this application and proposed that it not be granted.

Mr. Galgey then asked could they ever recall a case where the arbitrator had said where the arbitrator business was just a humbug.

Mr. Lannon said all the men involved had five jobs, and the people were only slaves trying to pay for their increases.

Mr. J. Power—There is no arbitration in this matter at all.

Mr. Lannon—There are a lot of people who think this will end. There will be no one left who will not be paid.

Mr. Galgey then asked could they ever recall a case where the arbitrator had said where the arbitrator business was just a humbug.

DOCTORS WANT MATERNITY FEES INCREASED

Proposal Defeated At H.A. Meeting

By seven votes to six Waterford Health Authority at its monthly meeting held Monday (27th) a proposal to increase from £7-7-6 to £10-10-0 the fees per patient for doctors in the Maternity and Child Health Services.

Mr. T. Lannon, Secretary, said it would cost the Authority £500 to meet these increases for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Lannon said the doctors were being well paid as it was to visit the people.

Mr. Hyndes, Secretary, said that he would be glad to make about seven visits to earn their fees.

Mr. Lannon said that at a visit. That is good pay for that.

Mr. T. Gallagher said this increase had been sanctioned by the Minister, and he proposed they agreed to it.

Mr. J. Power seconded.

The Irish professional aids in England and Ireland are being asked to come home and take the work for a present fee. They would be on a "good thing" in it.

When the vote was taken, and the proposal to grant the increase defeated by one vote, the County Manager, Mr. S. J. Monaghan, said the Health Authority was bound to pay it.

Mr. Lannon—If so why did you bring it before us? We have rejected it, and how is it that when we are beaten we quote and try and make circles to get round it.

TEN TEAMS FOR MELVIN TROPHY COMPETITION

Catholic Boy Scouts from all over Ireland will be competing this weekend in the all Ireland Scout championship. The competition starts at the National Scout Centre, Dublin today (Thursday) and will end on Sunday next.

The winning patrol will receive the Melvin Trophy which was presented to the Catholic Boy Scouts of Ireland by the late Sir Marlin Melvin of the "Irish" movement.

The ten patrols taking part represent dioceses throughout the country and the leaders in their respective diocesan competitions. The Melvin Trophy contest consists of a week-end camp during which the Patrols will be examined in Scout tests—signalling, Catholic practices, cooking, pioneering, observation and seamanship. Each patrol will also undertake a hike which will include map reading and compass work.

Directing the Melvin Trophy Competition is the National Commissioner of the C.B.S.I., Mr. Raymond Hayes of Cork City.

The competing Patrols are drawn from the following Troops: 2nd Clare (Kilrush); 15th Cork (St. Finbar's); 25th Cork (Cobh); 10th Dublin (Augustin St.); 11th Dublin (Westland Row); 8th Dublin (Balylee); 5th Limerick (St. Joseph's); 4th Waterford (Abbeyside); 6th Monaghan (Castletibney); 6th Kinsale (Emrys).

EXAMINERS

The National Commissioner will be assisted by the following team: Seamus Durkin (National Commissioner 1959-1964); James Devine both of Ballinacorney, Co. Mayo; Jack McGrath, P. J. Killackey, Stephen Spain, David McLinton and Kevin Mannane of Dublin; O. Cowman and T. Mullins of Cork and Rev. C. Ryan of Kinsale.

THE STORY OF THE MELVIN TROPHY

The annual Melvin Trophy Competition has come into prominence as the annual all-Ireland Scout event in recent years. The trophy itself has links with a memorable event in C.B.S.I. history.

In 1934 the Association organised a great pilgrimage to Rome for the Baby Year, travelling by the Cunard liner "Lancasteria".

With the Scouts was the owner of the "Irish" newspaper, Sir Marlin Melvin. During this voyage he presented to the then Chief Scout, Professor J. H. Whelan, a magnificent Trophy for competition among the troops of the C.B.S.I.

The Trophy was designed and executed by Miss Min Cranwell, noted Irish silversmith and made of silver and marble. It is square and has 48 shields to represent winners' names on the sides of the cup. The four side panels represent four periods of Irish history—The Pagan, the History

Also, the recent and the present. The inscriptions in Irish were prepared by Mr. Liam E. Gogan, former curator at the National Museum. Among them is the request "a prayer for the donor, Martin Melvin."

An interesting fact is that the small silver Scout Badges on the lid was the property of Father Tom Farrell, founder of the West Waterford branch of the Scout movement. He took it from his buttonhole and gave it to Miss Cranwell when she asked for a sample.

Mr. W. Faran expressed the view that the country was heading for a crash sometime soon. He failed to see how the middle class farmer could stand up to it all. A lot of the prosperity in agriculture today was artificial and was based on the country was heading for something serious. One would want to be a super optimist to think otherwise.

Mr. J. Farney said the increases in the Health Authority working for £200 a year, exactly what the surgeons wanted to increase their salaries by.

Mr. J. Power pointed out that £200 would be spread over a number of years. They were not giving the applications to arbitration.

ABBEYSIDE ARE THROUGH TO COUNTY SENIOR HURLING FINAL

Late Rally Crushes Brickey Hopes.

Abbeyside were through to the county senior hurling final after a late rally crushed the hopes of Brickey Rangers.

Only twelve minutes play remained when Johnny Hogan, who was now playing at left-half, forward sent a rasping shot into the net.

Abbeyside had a great full half of defence in Austin Flynn, who was playing at right-half.

The hurling was by no means great but what it lacked in artistry it made up for in thrills and excitement.

The game was only a minute old when Jim Walsh gave Brickey Rangers the lead.

Joyce's Dublin

Under the noble portico of the National Library passed Mr. Bloom, recognising but not saluting young Mr. Dedalus.

He had been proving, quite convincingly, to the library staff and others, that Hamlet was really Shakespeare's autobiography.

That the local visitor is proving a headache, or should he be the host, to some of the chaps, especially M-K and company.

That if the mountain did not come to Mahomed, Mahomed came to the mountain one night last week. None other than the late collector and JH—

Mentally Handicapped Association Needs Funds Urgently

At last Monday's meeting of the Waterford Health Authority the members were asked to contribute towards the Mental Handicap Children's Association.

Mr. T. G. Gallagher, who is in charge of the Association, said that the Association had been in existence for many years and had done much good work.

The Association had been in existence for many years and had done much good work. It was a voluntary organization and needed funds to carry out its work.
