PENSMAN takes you Behind the Spotlight

BE CAREFUL ON THE ROADS. The first big holiday week-end of the summer is with us and for the next few days thousands of people will be travelling in all directions through the country. Yet, the roads are not so young, heavy-heaving their cars and worries, he themselves off to some enjoyment.

But don't let what starts off as a successful holiday week-end turn out to be a tragedy through carelessness. Don't let yourself be involved in an accident which may cause the worst results or at the best less serious injuries.

The success of the previous Road Safety Campaign has prompted the Minister for Local Government, Mr. Neil T. Blaney to initiate another for the week-end and it is to be hoped that the appeal going out now will result in a big saving of lives and the protection of many from being seriously injured and maimed in crashed cars.

Don't tempt fate while you are out on the roads. Realise your responsibilities to yourself, to those in your care and also to other users of the road. Drive with care at all times. If you happen to take one over the right, don't try to press your better driver than observations about traffic problems and their solutions in the report.

PLAN FOR THE FUTURE. We had a look into the future at last Friday's meeting of the Planning Committee in Dungarvan. The happy family group was welcomed by family relatives and friends when they were introduced to the town and its future.

THE PALATINE'S DAUGHTER. A request comes in this week from Jack Poley in Edinburgh. This is a very good thing, as it provides the idea of a play which should be some order in the way things are planned.

NOT BOUND TO PLAN

Mr. P. Walsh, Engineer, Mr. P. Walsh, said that the idea behind the plan was to have certain objectives so that they could proceed to proceed and develop the amenities of the area in a proper way.

THE PLAN

The first problem pointed out by Mr. Walsh was that of population. The town has a present population of 1,100 persons, which has increased over the years but may be regarded as a population of 1,100 persons at various times were they given: 1,100 (1931); 1,200 (1941); 1,300 (1951); 1,400 (1961); 1,500 (1971); 1,600 (1981); 1,700 (1991); 1,800 (2001).

OTHER PROBLEMS

The report said that the new water scheme should be able to provide for all the foreseeable demands in the town and there should be no water problem.

SEWERAGE

In regard to sewerage, the report stated that there was an urgent need for replacing the drains in the old portion of the town.

190 Houses and were building another 30. It was not proposed to build any more for a possible need of as many as 300 more houses.

The report criticised the lack of adequate library accommodation in the town and also a Civic Centre. Referring to amenities, the report said that it was essential that amenities be provided for the town.

Mr. Walsh, Engineer, Mr. P. Walsh, said that the idea behind the plan was to have certain objectives so that they could proceed to proceed and develop the amenities of the area in a proper way.

G.A.A. NOTES

Senior Hurlers Should Continue Winning Sequence Over Limerick

No Surprise if Minors Win

By Commentator

The trend of hurling in the Senior Hurling Championship is towards a more tactical and strategic game. The Limerick team, under the leadership of their captain, Jim Walsh, has shown a marked improvement in their play.

MINOR GAME

The minor teams of the same counties meet in what should be a thrilling curtain-raiser. The Limerick team, under the leadership of their captain, Jim Walsh, has shown a marked improvement in their play.

WEAKNESS OF THE BOARD

At the end of the meeting, when a delegate was expounding on the need for the preservation of our hurling, the Chairman had to make repeated requests for proposals, and even when these were eventually made, I do not think that he was altogether pleased with the result.

TEAM A PLAN (Mr. Sinn)

Team A Plan (Mr. Sinn) is a very interesting and well thought out plan. It is a plan that is designed to improve the standard of hurling in the county.

not going to be easy to find alternative dates.

The Waterford County Board has already protested about the short notice being given by the Munster Council's Hurling Committee, and we would expect that much larger notice would be given by them in future.

LAST SUNDAY

The terrible scene which occurred after last Sunday's hurling match between Clonmel and Dungarvan are written about elsewhere in this issue and I am sure more will be written about them next week when the result of the investigation is known.
