PENSMAN takes you Behind the Spotlight

GREETINGS
The old year is dying and we are on the point of saluting its successor. In many ways 1965 has not been a year which has left behind pleasant memories for lots of people and most will be glad to see it pass without shedding a tear. What of 1966? Will it prove better or worse than the year we have just been through. Well as Gladstone said—we can only wait and see.

In extending greetings to all readers of this column at home and across the sea I would like to record my thanks to all who have written me during the past year with information and ballads for the column and especially to those who have told me how much pleasure they get from reading it. It indeed gives me a great deal of satisfaction to know that this is so and we hope to continue to do so throughout the coming year. You are sure to find in this column what I mean when I say that all I "blain ar mou shean apas faoi mhíne."

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME
Among the many addresses of welcome presented to His Lordship Most Rev. Dr. Russell on the occasion of his installation as Bishop of the Diocese of Waterford and Lismore were one from Waterford County Council and one from Dungarvan Urban Council. The latter stated: "On behalf of the people of Dungarvan whom we represent, we the members of the Council dutifully and with the utmost pleasure join in tendering you our grateful wishes that God may endow your Episcopate with many years of blessing for yourself and those under your pastoral care."

FROM THE PRIESTS
Another notable address was presented to His Lordship by the priests of the Diocese of Waterford and Lismore. They expressed their joy at the elevation of the Bishop and their confidence in his leadership. They also expressed their hope that his ministry would be marked by the same pastoral care and concern for the people that characterized the ministry of his predecessor.

with in lecture courses for workers, even in the national or international affairs. The Director of our awareness of this duty is found in our desire and willing to be in the forefront of officers, in feeling and showing responsibility for others. We are all the more aware of this duty on a pilgrimage to God and a surety of our pilgrimage is that they live to help each other."

REWARD FOR SAFETY MEASURE
I have received a letter from the County Secretary, Mr. S. G. O'Connell, congratulating me on the safety measures adopted in the County of Dungarvan. The letter states: "The response to the appeal for active support during the safety campaign and the valuable assistance given to Mr. Michael J. O'Connell, the Assisted Officer for the Campaign, was indeed very encouraging. I need hardly add that without your assistance and that of the voluntary workers associated with it, the Campaign could not have met with the success which has been achieved."

FROM SINGAPORE
Among the hundreds of greeting cards which I received for Christmas was one from Tan Kah Kee, the first President of the Singapore Chinese Community Centre. He expressed his appreciation for the special Christmas message which I had sent to him. He also mentioned that he had been very busy with his work in Singapore and that he had not had time to write to me more often.

BISHOP'S REPLY
In thanking the many Associations, Comités and other groups who had presented him with addresses of welcome, Dr. Russell emphasized that all these representatives had shown a special characteristic in their messages. He said that he was particularly impressed by the fact that they all expressed a deep faith in God and a confidence in His plan for the world. He also mentioned that he was very pleased to receive the message from the Singapore Chinese Community Centre, as it showed that the people of that community were very interested in the Church and its work.

As I write this Christmas letter I naturally associate it with the Midnight Mass. The "Adeste Fideles," "Silent Night," "Hark the Herald Angel," etc. Christmas in his native Tallow can never be the same again. I know there will be many a silent tear in the congregation at Christmas this year. The golden voice is silent forever. For once I am glad to be so far away. The letter concludes, having described a grand tour of the Shires of France with the late Frank Ryan during the Easter week. As you can see it has been a wonderful year in more ways than one. I remember you in your prayers. I hope I shall hear from you sometime. God bless and protect you all and give you His choicest gifts this Christmas, and throughout the coming year.

MY HOME IN LISMORE

Early in November I received a request from Sister M. Theresa, the founder of the Convent, Lismore, New York, who left Lismore 41 years ago, for the words of a song she knew in Lismore. I asked for it at that time without response but shortly before Christmas a letter came to me from Mr. William Cuffe, Bishop-elect, Lismore referring to this request. The letter stated "I would be obliged if you would send me the words of the song in print or writing, and I will gladly pay a fee for the same." I was very glad to see the letter and I thought I would try to find the words. I never saw the song in print or writing, but I had a long time ago at the time that I used to follow the words. Well my thanks to you Mr. Cuffe for your letter. I am sure that this song will bring pleasant and happy memories of years by the sea. I have a dear old Lismore, not only in my heart but in my head. I have a distance of 30 miles to Cork to slip in opera and concert, but I will try to do my best. I have a dear old Lismore, not only in my heart but in my head.
