PLANNING ACT AND THE PUBLIC

Has the Local Government Planning and Development Act, which according to the debates which marked its passage through the Oireachtas was to be a generous and liberal piece of legislation turned out to be a surprising 'get under the feet' of the few remaining rights which are left to the public who constitute the planning Authority for any local Council or Corporation and where does the power lie?

This is an Act which in its presentation looked rather innocent but which since its enactment has turned out to be almost a bureaucratic dream. Theoretically here in Waterford, as in every other county, it is the Council which is to be consulted in consultation with the officials of the Department. This of course means in fact that bureaucracy is masquerading behind the name of democracy because a member of the County Council has no more power than I have when I write to the Minister.

This position was strongly criticised at a recent meeting of the Waterford Health Authority in regard to the erection of a petrol filling station across the road from the entrance to Ardara Hospital. The whole operation was carried out at official level without consultation with the elected representatives of the community. This is but one instance of the further power which the Act has given to officials to rule and regulate.

Indeed the officials cannot be blamed if they do not act high-handedly at times or if the requirements which they set to the public are too rigid. It appears to be ridiculous. They are operating within the scope of the Act which was passed through the Dail and Seanad by the TD's and Senators, most of whom are also members of their own local Councils. Do they know that there must be planning and that it is to be effected through the regulation of the building process? Do they believe that the officials should go to the extent of almost branding the public as ignorant and stupid? Do they believe that the public are not to be consulted in their own townships? Do they believe that the public are not to be consulted in their own townships? Do they believe that the public are not to be consulted in their own townships?

DAONSCOIL AT RING RECENT WEDDINGS

The language struggle in its essence was a spiritual one and it was this aspect of the Irish revival which Colm de Góidhe would stress for the future said Michael O'Mahony, Chairman of the Daon Scoil, when he opened the 14th Annual Daon Scoil Summer School at Ring, Tipperary, on Saturday night.

MURPHY MOLONEY

The wedding took place in the parish church of St. Mary's, Dungarvan, on Saturday night. The bride was Miss Mary Moloney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Moloney, and the groom was Mr. John Moloney, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Moloney, Dungarvan.

USUAL BUSES EVERY NIGHT

TRAVELLING PEOPLE

A well known local travel agent, Mr. J. J. O'Mahony, has been busy in the past few days with the arrangements for the travelling people who are expected to arrive in Dungarvan for the Daon Scoil Summer School.

MANAGEMENT AND EMPLOYERS

It should be recognized that there was no real basic agreement between the management and the workers in the case of the Daon Scoil Summer School.

TRIBUTE TO MICHAEL COLLINS AT BEAL NA BLATH

The annual commemorative service to Michael Collins at Beal na Blath, Tipperary, was held on Saturday night.

Obituary

Mr. T. Sandford

The unexpected death of Mr. Thomas Sandford, who died on Saturday night, was a great loss to the community.

COGAN O'NEILL

The wedding of Miss Cogan O'Neill to Mr. John O'Neill took place in the parish church of St. Mary's, Dungarvan, on Saturday night.

THE IRISH CENTRE

The only organisation in Britain offering a comprehensive welfare service to Irish emigrants today faces a serious financial crisis.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC AGAIN

Another recent transatlantic traveller whom I met during the week was Mrs. Tom Ryan, who is a member of the Daon Scoil.

BLACKBERRIES

Agents wanted in most areas with own Pick-up Truck or Trailer for collection and delivery.
