PENSMAN takes you Behind the Spotlight

THEY ENJOYED THEIR HOLIDAY

Messrs Dungarvan Boats Ltd. have received the following letter from Mr. C. Wright, Director, the staff of the Committee of R.R. Boat Travel Service Box, Agriculture have been stressing the importance of the boat to the people of Dungarvan and requested that they pass it on again back the need to buy it for me to publication in my the stakes when the tubs had reached full growth.

"I recently had the pleasure of writing to you concerning the boat to a party that I am along the coast of the Winton Liberal Club are inclined to be away from Dungarvan for one week soon as soon as rain showers will stop. I wonder would it be possible for them to attack the potatoes while through your paper to wish you results.

Thank the people of Dungarvan. It would appear that a raid on the potatoes was intended to be made by the crew of the boat to a party that I am along the coast of the Winton Liberal Club are inclined to be away from Dungarvan for one week soon as soon as rain showers will stop. I wonder would it be possible for them to attack the potatoes while through your paper to wish you results.

May I add that I feel we can't afford to leave our boats in the hands of the crew comes in!"

A MINOR DISASTER

The storm which came over the town and district with whom we came in contact in Dungarvan was something which was really appreciated.

May I add that I feel we can't afford to leave our boats in the hands of the crew comes in!"

AND IT WAS

An amusing incident directly connected with the boat which was captured in another port of call. The boat was captured in another port of call.

After returning from Dungarvan, shortly after returning from Dungarvan, services should be given to the boat which had been captured in another port of call.

And whose sailors remain still now? Beautiful and charming, etc.

Will you come, etc.

RAILWAY LINE TO CLOSE NEXT MARCH

Mr. T. Kyns, T.D., Chairman, informed the members of the Dungarvan Urban Council at their meeting last Friday night that the total cost of the line to be built was £10,000.

CAPPOQUIN GIRL AWARDED £5,250 DAMAGES

A settlement was announced before Mr. Justice Prevan, sitting in the High Court in Waterford on Wednesday, October 16th, in an action brought by Anne Lenehan, 174, Creek Street, Cappoquin, against her husband, Mrs. Lenehan, and his employer, Captain Barron, Factory for garments received in an accident in the factory on May 19, 1963.

It was stated that the man had been working on his left hand when he became caught in a machine.

Another indictment of the public services came when one of the people who had been sent to the village to discuss the problems which were caused by the flooding with whom I spoke that they had been unable to make inquiries from outside areas of the county and the information was the same in nearly all cases.

This has been a phenomenal year for the potato crop especially showed a higher than average yield of more than average size tubers. It is to be noted that the houses almost washed out from under them on Monday morning without any damage and that very little damage of the crop will accordingly become a loss.

When I spoke to Mr. Austin Fenton, Agricultural Instructor, in Dungarvan, during the week, he agreed that late blight had caused considerable damage to the potato crop.

It was agreed that the Department of Agriculture should be sent to the village to show people how to disinfest their houses and inform them as to what precautions they should take. There should be a favourable growing period this year that the crop should be harvested if it is a thing which should have been done as soon as it was attacked when it had more

DISASTER HITS PASSAGE EAST

Residents Blame Co. Council

In the early hours of last Saturday morning a violent gust of wind blew across the village of Passage East in the parish of Waterford Harbour when a violent cloud burst sent gusts gusting down from the nearby hills to knock down trees and houses in the village.

On October 15, God is never a bad master.

October 16 To Christ prayer was a great privilege.

October 17 Flowers were available.

October 18 God is never a bad master.

October 19 The damage visible.

October 20 When I got down to the grave I can say like so many others "I'm not fit for work." But you cannot say I have finished my life again.

The next morning V. Hugo.

October 21 God is not in a standard practice. And there is no use in the officials saying that this was an emergency without precedent as an excuse.

Emergency plans have been drawn up for such cases and it should not have taken four and several requests to get something done. The action and inaction of the officials concerned does nothing to enhance the protection of a favourable image for public officials in general where the officials are concerned.

a gale on a gale which was blocked by lots of stones which had been washed down by the flood.

When Mr. C. Curran, Chairman of the Council, pointed out the number of Council workers had been working all day to Passage, Mr. W. Kennedy, T.D., remarked, "I was in the village earlier today and I saw a truck and about 6 men trying to deal with hundreds of tons of material. They will be there until this time twelve months from that date."

Mr. D. Stally, County Engineer, intervened to tell the Council "There are two mechanical shovels on the way."

ON THE MAT

Mr. Curran then said that he would not allow the County Engineers to be put on the mat.

He asked that this morning

the different parts of the county and it couldn't be got

there before midday.

Mr. Donnelly who was standing in a house said

that a place in the village called

Waterford had been the main cause of the damage when it was approached. He added that it had not been cleaned by the Council for the past 7 years.

He said that at 7.30 that morning they had planned for the Council to come in to Passage to advise what should be done but he did not arrive in the village until 10.30.

He may have gone astray on the road but that is understandable as he doesn't visit us often."

Mr. Hally, County Engineer,

intervened at this stage. "Those people from a member of the deputation are not good enough!"

Mr. Curran, Chairman, agreed

that Mr. Donnelly's remarks were not true.

Mr. Hally then said that he had nothing to say. "This thing

came as a complete surprise

to him and he had only heard about it in midday. It was impossible for him to say anything without first checking the position.

Mr. Walsh described the flood

as being minor and

said the water should

not be dealt with as an emergency.

Mr. Curran said that the water had not been cleaned for years and when it was being cleaned it was broken.
