ON THE WATER WAGON! No fewer than five deputations were introduced by members of Waterford County Council at the monthly meeting of the Council in Dungarvan last Monday—three looking for water supplies. The story was the same in each case—the people of the areas concerned Rathfronck, Tournacra, Kilbreen, Fews and the Beehive-Bowditch areas were all in a desperate state for water. The member who introduced the Rathfronck deputation declared the mapping of the regional scheme proposed for that area and the same member introducing the Kilbreen deputation told the Council that the only satisfactory solution that area was in was to go back to the Modeligo regional scheme which had also been scrapped. The fact that these two schemes would supply certain rural populations was strongly stressed and it was in bringing in the maximum benefit to the maximum number of people that the Council elections are less than two months off. This was not the only item on which the shadow of the forthcoming general election cast its darkened the discussion on the provision of a loan of £20,000 for the creation of a new Vocational School in Kilmacthomas and here we had for the first time in a long spell, a definite political cleavage between the Fianna and Fine Gael parties. When the Chairman, Mr. Charles Curran, passed the resolution to his party colleagues, Mr. Roche and Mr. Fahy, have it proposed and seconded, Mr. William Moran was called in to accuse the Chairman of electioneering tactics in the Council Chamber. Mr. Curran claimed that he had proposed the resolution before the proposal form was passed. Mr. Michael Hartly and the Chairman then had a go when the former told the latter that he had been rude and admonished "don't snap at me like you did, sir." Order slipped away completely and members of both parties landed at each other across the Chamber to such an extent that at one stage the Chairman had to ring the order bell continuously and threatened to adjourn the meeting if order was not restored. The heat cooled off after this and the meeting continued in the usual tempo for the remainder of the evening. The minutes showed that the politics are never very far removed from local affairs, even though they may not be played up as such at meetings. We had similar electioneering tricks being played by the tricks of members at last Friday night's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council when it appeared to be aimed at gaining individual favour with certain classes and in at least one case at the expense of a party colleague, but I think moves of this kind can well prove a boomerang. I believe that people are intelligent enough to read the broader sense into those moves without having it spelled out for them.

THE HOLY GROUND

A request comes this week from Mr. P. Murphy, an employee at the Queen's Hotel, Cheltenham, for the words of the old shanty "The Holy Ground" here they are: Adieu to you, my darling, Ten thousand times adieu, My ship will now be sailing To bear me far from you, Oh, to leave my lovely Dinah, You're the girl I do adore, But still I live in hopes to see. The Holy Ground once more—Fine girl you are! Chorus: You're the girl I do adore, But still I live in hopes to see. The Holy Ground once more—Fine girl you are! Oh now I'm sailing And you are far behind, Kind letters I will write to you With the secrets of my mind—Fine girl you are! You're the girl I do adore, But still I live in hopes to see. The Holy Ground once more—Fine girl you are! Chorus: Now I hear a storm arising, I can see it coming soon, The night is dark and dreary, I can scarcely see the moon, And our good old ship is

MAJOR SEWERAGE SCHEME PLANNED FOR DUNGARVAN URBAN AREA

Details of a new major sewerage scheme for Dungarvan and Abbeyville estimated to cost £2,500,000 and which, when the five stages in which it is proposed to carry out the work are completed, will mean an annual increase of 10 per cent in the rate were laid before the members at last Friday night's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council. The preliminary report of the Consulting Engineer on the scheme before the Council was presented by Mr. E. O'Connell, County Engineer. This is one of the most important and far-reaching proposals to be placed before the Council for a long time. Mr. O'Connell went on to say that this was the first of a series of stages and that the Council would be during the next five years. He was very conscious of the overall cost of the scheme which in the final analysis would have a rate impact of 10-15 per cent on the people of Dungarvan, but it would be the first time that the Council had already approved stages of the scheme. Mr. F. J. O'Leary, County Engineer, said that the scheme would be carried out in stages. The scheme consisted of a very big carrying out of housing in Dungarvan and the Council had already approved stages of the scheme. Mr. O'Leary stated that the total amount of the scheme was £2,500,000 and that the Council would be during the next five years. He was very conscious of the overall cost of the scheme which in the final analysis would have a rate impact of 10-15 per cent on the people of Dungarvan, but it would be the first time that the Council had already approved stages of the scheme.

"SHAME ON YOU" CRIES URBAN COUNCILLOR TO DUNGARVAN SQUARE RESIDENTS

Mr. N. Hackett staged a walk-out protest at the Friday night's meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council when he failed to secure the building of the Council for a motion he proposed criticising the traders and business people residing at Grattan Square and the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to paint the shop fronts at the Square. Mr. Hackett proposed for the motion to be carried by the Council. He had seen a crowd of people coming in to paint the Square and he thought he had no right to call the painters and deprive the people of the Square. Mr. Hackett then said that the Council should make the work "it." Mr. Hackett proposed for the motion to be carried by the Council. He had seen a crowd of people coming in to paint the Square and he thought he had no right to call the painters and deprive the people of the Square.

£7,000 RATES WITHHELD DURING RECENT AGRICULTURAL DISPUTE

Instructions From Department To Disqualify Making a report on the Rate Collection for 1966-67 to the monthly meeting of Waterford County Council, Mr. F. J. O'Leary, County Engineer, said that the Council had withheld £7,000 of the rates for the month of March 31st, 1967, because of the increase in the rate of 10 per cent. Mr. O'Leary stated that the total amount of the scheme was £2,500,000 and that the Council would be during the next five years. He was very conscious of the overall cost of the scheme which in the final analysis would have a rate impact of 10-15 per cent on the people of Dungarvan, but it would be the first time that the Council had already approved stages of the scheme.

COUNTY CHAMPIONS AGAIN ON TOP

Ballygunner Defeat Abbeyside

Ballygunner 4-10
Abbeyside 1-8

County champions Ballygunner resuscitated the superiority which they displayed over Abbeyside last year's championship when they again defeated the village in this year's St. Patrick's Cup competition by 4-10 to 1-8 at the Fragar Field, Dunganvar, on Sunday night last and while their winning margin on this occasion was not as great they nonetheless proved that at the moment at any rate they are the county's "top dogs".

WATERFORD DEFATE WEXFORD

Show Encouraging Signs Of Returning To Form

Waterford 3-13; Wexford 1-18

Waterford have shown encouraging signs of returning to form over the past few weeks and hopes are high for their championship campaign. The team played a very strong game on Sunday last when they defeated Wexford by a margin of 13 goals to 3.

FENIAN RISING CENTENARY

The West Waterford I.R.A. Association are arranging to commemorate the centenary of the Fenian Rising at Ring, Dunganvar, on Sunday, May 14th.

SUCCESS

Ballygunner who are riding on the waves of success at the moment were very impressive going into the last quarter and when they really hit top gear they were able to overcome the champions of the county who were unable to answer to the Gunners' craft, speed and combination.
