THE LOCAL ELECTIONS According to the Order made by the Minister for the Government the date fixed for the local elections in the County of Dungarvan is Wednesday, June 28, just a month or so away. Already the official machinery is being set into gear and the Returning Officers for the various local authorities are preparing the many official documents and notices required for the running of the elections.

Large Family Size I think that a comment on a picture in the "Leader" of a family of six is well deserved. The time for the receipt of such nominations in respect of the forthcoming elections will run from 10 a.m. on May 26 to 12 noon on June 2.

White Wash Brigades Some of the boardings will break out in a rash of election literature, while pamphlets will come through the letter boxes at regular intervals. What of the night and plaster roads, and slogans will be "No. 1" and so on.

WATERFORD'S FOOTBALL HOPES BURIED AT MILTOWN MALBAY

Clare Successful In First Round Game

Clare 0-8, Waterford 0-2. A succession of Clare scores in the first six minutes of the second half buried Waterford's hopes of going any further in the Munster senior football championship when the sides clashed in an uninspiring first round game at Miltown Malbay on Sunday last.

The home side looked all set for a triumph at the interval when they led 0-3 to nil after having the benefit of a goal from John Kiernan in the first half when they were far from impressive but it was completely reversed in the second half when Clare scored five goals and two points in the first six minutes and completely overcame Cork in their first round championship game on Sunday last.

True they were under strength for Sunday's tilt and had to play on a damp and boggy pitch but they had no substitutes, but nevertheless their display was pathetic to the point of helplessness against a goalkeeping side which literally rattled off unheeded throughout the hour.

Improvement. The winners who enhanced their championship prospects by a great, exciting, and treacherous improvement on recent days, the forwards showed a return to form and their line combination was a feature of the game while their defence, although unsound at times during the first half, held up completely in the second half and completely outplayed the Waterford forwards.

Even though full credit must be given to Clare for refusing to accept what looked like certain defeat in the second half, they were far from impressive and their chances of going any further are on this display completely negated.

Sub Standard. The football was completely substandard but both sides could be excused for this as the condition of the pitch left little to be desired.

Waterford, who looked all set for victory in the second half, were completely outplayed after Clare's burst of second half scoring and their two points which came in the last minute of the game were from free kicks.

Clare's good defenders, P. J. Kennedy and Sean Downes, while Michael Begley and Michael Roche were very impressive in attack.

They had the best man of the game, John Kiernan, who scored the goal which was the only one of the game, and John Flanagan who must be assured of a permanent position in the county side.

Clare's best players were Ned Power (goal), who saved them from an even greater defeat, and John Walsh in defence.

WATERFORD'S PATHETIC DISPLAY Tipp. Run Riot In S.H. Tournament Final

Tipperry 3-15, Waterford 2-4. Waterford scored but lost more than just a set of medals when they went under 3-15 to Tipperry at Cappanout on Sunday evening last in one of the most prestigious of the Munster football championships.

Waterford's display was pathetic to the point of helplessness against a goalkeeping side which literally rattled off unheeded throughout the hour.

Improvement. The winners who enhanced their championship prospects by a great, exciting, and treacherous improvement on recent days, the forwards showed a return to form and their line combination was a feature of the game while their defence, although unsound at times during the first half, held up completely in the second half and completely outplayed the Waterford forwards.
