ROUND THREE IN RATES BATTLE?

Members of Waterford County Council will meet in Dungarvan next Monday for round three in the current rates battle.

Members of the Health Services on the rates. In the first round they adjourned consideration of the estimate following a letter from the Minister for Health suggesting that the Health Authority should take a second look at their estimate.

But whether we can call Monday's meeting round three is another thing. The Local Government Act lays it down at one point that the period in which the County Council may strike the annual rate rises on March 31.

It is understood that the Council will, in fact, proceed to consider the estimate next Monday as if they were doing so for the first time.

But basically there has been no change in regard to the estimate as they have already been considered by the Council. Up to last Monday, there had been no indication from the Minister that he was prepared to ease the burden of the Health Services in any additional appreciable way.

These are the serious questions which must now be causing much worry to all members of the Council. I believe that in the absence of any earnest bid from the Minister of his sincerity to give a considerable easement in the rates burden for health, Councillors O'Ryan and Walsh, who proposed the motion to strike no rate at the last meeting, will do so again next Monday and in the circumstances, unless something happens to change the situation, I feel that this motion will again be passed.

SHOCK FOR URBAN RATEPAYERS

While Waterford County Councillors are fighting their rates battle, the members of Dungarvan Urban Council have not yet been given even a hint of what they will have to contend with.

WAS IN CROSSBARRY AMBUSH

On March 21, 1921, the battle of Crossbarry, one of the classic engagements in guerrilla warfare, took place. There, the West Cork Brigade under Commandant Tom Barry engaged a big force of British troops and after an epic battle, the I.R.A. Column of 104 officers and men completely routed the far superior British force.

SNIPPETS FROM THE PAST

From the files of the "Dungarvan Leader" dated April 1, 1939, I take the following snippets: "Sweeping changes have been made in the Waterford senior hurling team to meet Wexford in the National Hurling League semi-final at New Ross next Sunday and the line-out will be: M. Curley; T. Greeney, C. Ware, J. Fanning, A. Fleming, J. Keane, J. Mountain, C. Moylan and M. Hickey; W. Barron, L. Byrne, J. Feeney, W. Lynch, D. Goodie, J. Day."

"Hundreds of thousands of Irish ears were strained on Friday last listening to the commentary on the Grand National at Liverpool. The attention of all was concentrated on one horse—"Blue Shirt" which was entrusted with the proverbial mint of money. Hundreds of thousands were prepared to cheer to the echo the victory of the "Bottle tip" and the annihilation of the bookmakers. But the bookmakers survived as "Blue Shirt" finished nowhere."

"This snippet referred to the notorious Spring double tip which was supposed to have been washed up in a bottle found at Stradally that year. The tip gave "Squadron Castle" and "Blue Shirt" for the double and the matter was given widespread international publicity. When "Squadron Castle" won the first leg, there was, as the news item above quoted says, a mint of money put on "Blue Shirt" but it all turned out to be a big hoax perpetrated by a local practical joker. Incidentally the Grand National was won that year by "Workman"

COUNTY MANAGER'S REPORT ADOPTED BY HEALTH AUTHORITY

On a motion in the name of Mr. P. Cahill calling for a full report on the death of 15-year-old John Fleming, Bonmahon, a student at the Vocational School, Dungarvan, who died following an accident at a hurling game during the afternoon of Thursday, October 24th last, the County Manager, Mr. C. A. O'Connor, submitted a full report of the investigation carried out by him to the members of the Waterford Health Authority at their monthly meeting in Dungarvan last Monday night.

The following is the full text of the County Manager's report: "The late John Fleming, aged 15 years, who was a pupil of the Vocational School, Dungarvan, was injured, it is understood, during the course of a hurling game in the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on the afternoon of Thursday, 24th day of October, 1968. The boy was taken to the residence of the District Medical Officer who was not at home at that particular time but was in the District. The boy was then taken to the District Hospital, Dungarvan, and was admitted around 4 p.m. He was admitted without prior examination by a Medical Attendant.

"There is a part-time Medical Officer attached to the District Hospital. The Medical Officer had attended the Hospital on that morning but was not available in the afternoon when the Nursing Staff endeavoured to contact him in relation to the admission of the late John Fleming. On admission to hospital the boy appeared to be shocked but stated that he had not a pain in his head. There was no wound or other mark on the boy's head and he was treated on general home care at the hospital until he had been seen by a doctor. The history of the case was given by the nurse on the telephone to the Medical Officer in the early hours of the morning of October 25th. The Medical Officer did not deem it necessary that the patient should be medically examined immediately. It should be pointed out that the Medical Officer had notified himself, in the course of his telephone conversation with the nurse, that the boy had not been unconscious at any time, that he was asleep at the time of the telephone call and that the boy's pulse was regular.

"In the course of my discussion with the Medical Officer, he pointed out that he had not been asked to see the patient by the nurse when she telephoned him in the early hours of the morning of October 25th. This is so, but I am satisfied from my discussion with the nurse that she gave the history of the case to the Medical Officer and the decision as to whether the patient should be seen was a matter for the Medical Officer.

"The boy was examined thoroughly by the Medical Officer at about 12.30 p.m. on the 25th day of October. The details of the accident were obtained from the nurse. He was perfectly normal and lucid; there were no signs of external injuries on the scalp and no Central Nervous System abnormalities were detected. The Medical Officer then formed the opinion that the boy was fit for discharge. The intra-cranial haemorrhage which subsequently developed had not yet made its presence clinically detectable at this stage. "On being informed that the boy would be discharged that day, the boy stated he would go home by bus but the Head Nurse told him he was not to do so, that he would be taken home by ambulance. This is the normal procedure in respect of discharges where the relative is not present at the time of discharge. The Head Nurse then made arrangements to have the boy conveyed home by ambulance. When the ambulance came to collect him around 5 p.m. it was discovered that the boy had left the hospital premises. The Head Nurse then learned that the boy had gone home by his contrary to instructions.

"On the night of Saturday, 26th October, the boy was re-admitted to the hospital in Dungarvan as he had got ill again that afternoon. The boy arrived at the hospital around 1 a.m. on the morning of the 27th. He was again examined by the Medical Officer who was in the hospital at the time. The Medical Officer made arrangements for the boy's transfer to the Richmond Hospital in Dublin. The boy reached Dublin around 5 a.m. on Sunday morning, 27th, when he was operated on. He died at 10 a.m. on the 28th October. An inquest was held on

THE "JOHN AND LUCY CORDINGLY" SLIPS QUIETLY AWAY

Helvick Lifeboat Leaves Station For Last Time

On Tuesday last, March 25, the Helvick Lifeboat Station went out of service and on Wednesday morning, the R.N.L.I. Lifeboat "John and Lucy Cordingly" slipped her moorings at Helvick Harbour for the last time and quietly headed away into the morning sun to start a 4-day trip which will take her to Sandbank in the Clyde in Scotland where she will be refitted before being re-stationed. With the departure of the lifeboat a tradition going back for more than 100 years was broken as for the first time in that long period, Dungarvan Harbour now has no Lifeboat station. Only a handful of people watched what was indeed a sad occasion.

"When the Royal National Lifeboat Institution announced last November that their Committee of Management had decided to withdraw the Lifeboat at Helvick, representations were made, but without avail, to have this decision altered. Resentment to the decision built up in the Helvick area as the people there felt that it was vitally important to maintain the boat for the safety of all concerned with fishing, boating, sailing and bathing. As the day for the closing of the station and the withdrawal of the boat approached an air of depression settled over the district but there was no holding back the inevitable and on Wednesday morning at 9.01 a.m. the engines of the John and Lucy were started for the last time and Helvick and seven minutes later she slipped her moorings and under a special navigation party which had come from England to take her to the quayside and from the quayside and made for the open sea.

"It was a beautiful morning with bright sun and a light N.W. wind but the boat's departure was watched by only a handful of officials and Press representatives. The local residents showed by their absence that they disagreed to the end with the R.N.L.I. decision to withdraw the boat.

REQUEST

From a reader in Berrisokane, Co. Tipperary, I have received a request for the words of the great Irish ballad "The Conneery", and if someone who has the words could oblige he would be very grateful.

TIPPERARY

Our choice of ballad for this week is "Tipperary," a song which like many others tells of the great love Tipperary folks have for their own country:—

Were you ever in sweet Tipperary, where the fields are so sunny and green,

And the heath-brown Slieveblowm and the Galtees look down serene,

'Tis there you would see more beauty than is on all Irish ground,

God bless you, my sweet Tipperary, for where could you like be found.

They say that your hand is fearful, that darkness is in your eye,

But I'll not let them talk so black and bitter a lie,

Oh, no! I machula stóin, bright, bright, and warm are you,

With hearts as bold as the men of old, to yourself and your country true.

And when there is gloom upon you, bid them think who brought it there,

Sure a frown or a word of hatred was not made for you face so fair,

You've a hand for the grasp of friendship, another to make them quake,

And they're welcome to whichever it please them to take.

Oh, come for a while among us and give us the friendly hand,

And you'll see that old Tipperary is a loving and gladsome land.

From Upper to Lower Ormond, bright welcomes and smiles will spring,

On the plains of Tipperary the stranger is like a king!

Tallow and Round About Notes

The Late Mrs. Lena Roche—The death took place at the residence of her daughter, at Convent Street, Tallow, on St. Patrick's Day, of Mrs. Lena Roche, formerly of West End, Tallow. Deceased was member of a very old and highly esteemed local family, long resident in the town. Of a quiet and unobtrusive nature, she was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends who deeply regret her death. She had reached a moderately advanced age. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. O'Sullivan, Convent Street, Tallow, a son, resident in England, a number of grandchildren, son-in-law, Mr. Thomas O'Sullivan, and a daughter-in-law, across channels, whom much sympathy is extended. The remains were removed to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, on Tuesday evening, March 18th, accompanied by a large and representative cortege. The interment took place on Wednesday afternoon in the adjoining cemetery. There was a large attendance present. Very Rev. H. O'Brien, P.P., Tallow, and Rev. Sean Nugent, C.C., officiated. Gurnam Na Youhan—The death took place at the Young Cottage Hospital, recently of Mrs. Frank Ryan, nee Galvin, a native of Glencroghery, Tallow, and widow of Michael Galvin, who was sister of Messrs. John and Patrick Galvin, and of the late John Galvin, who was a prominent member of the Gurnam Na Mhuin in her native county during the 19th century. A lady of many fine traits of character, she was imbued with the greatest piety and her death, at a moderately advanced age is deeply regretted. The removal of the remains took place to St. John the Baptist Church, Killeagh, where the interment took place in Killeagh cemetery. There was a large and representative attendance both at the removal and at the interment, many travelling long distances to pay their last respects to an old and loved friend and comrade of Irish Independence. Very Rev. P. de Barra, P.P., Killeagh, officiated. Rev. Sean Sheehan, P.P., Youghan, and Rev. F. Cronin, Chaplain, Youghan, officiated. The deceased was our deepest sympathy to her brother, sisters, nieces, nephews and all relatives. Tallow Tennis Club's Play And Concert To-night—A rehearsal for the Tallow Tennis Club's Play and Concert at the Arch Ballroom, Tallow, on Tuesday night. The play is "The Young Pigeon Club"—Messrs. Patrick Parker, Billy Kelly, Oliver Kelly and P. J. Ryan, all members of Youghan Northern Pigeon Club, attended as cosponsors at the rehearsal. The meeting of the Leinster North and National Flying Clubs. Division Of Headborough Estate—From information at our disposal, it is understood that the Land Commission are not entirely to blame for the delay in the division of the Headborough Estate, Knocknaree. Some of the applicants are not without their share of blame. The difficulties have been experienced by the Irish Land Commission in framing a scheme of settlement, due to certain objections by some applicants. Let us hope that the present investigations by the Inspector of the L.L.C. will lead to the early allocation of this property. Sympathy—We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Anna O'Donovan, Knocknaree, on the much regretted death of her son, Michael, who died last week. Mrs. O'Donovan is a devoted mother and a devoted wife. Captain Henry Freeman—Captain Henry Freeman, who has retired as Master of the oldest hunts in the county, has been a member of the Leinster Hunt for many years. One of his greatest achievements was the victory of the Irish team in the World Three-Day Championship in England over two years ago, when his name and his fame was on everybody's lips. Missions from all over the world have enjoyed hunting days with him in the North Cork country. A unique presentation will shortly be made to Captain and Mrs. Freeman on behalf of their hosts of friends in many countries, as well as at home. It is interesting to note that the Freeman-Jackson family held property in the Tallow area at one time. Tom Greahy, I.R.A.—It will be a big day at Lismore on Easter Sunday, for members of the West Waterford Brigade Old IRA, who will be in the Lismore Cathedral town to hold a local mass for the late Tom Greahy, who died for independence. The four patriots are Edmond Lavery, William Fitzgerald, Patrick Mangin, and Tom Greahy. Tom Greahy met his death at Ballydoole Wood, Tallow, in 1923 as the Civil War was nearing its close, when the forces of the Republican Army, headed by a young Tom Greahy, were beaten down by superior forces and British guns, were fighting a losing battle. The local unit of the Republican Army had a dump of arms in the wood at Moorehill, about three miles from Tallow and about two hundred yards from the road from Moorehill Cross to Killeavilly. The dump was at the side of a

LABOUR PARTY LEADERS AT LISMORE Successful Social Function

There was a very big attendance at the West Waterford Labour Party Dinner and Social held in the Lismore Hotel, Lismore, last Sunday night. Mr. B. Coesh, T.D., Leader of the Labour Party who was the principal speaker attacked the Taoiseach, Mr. Lynch when he said: "As Taoiseach, he recently set down six new political commandments which showed how much he welcomed the new politics. "I think there would be no disagreement with him when he said there should be a positive study of our deficiencies; an admission that the other fellow, when he disagrees with us, may be perfectly honest in his opinion; provided that his opinion and merely destructive have more charity, particularly in public life; a will to work harder; a realisation that we are all in the same boat and a better exercise of our duty to the community. "These were the commandments laid down by Mr. Lynch, wearing his hat as Leader of the Government when he spoke to the Law Society at UCD recently. They were laudable and commendable aspirations and are most actively encouraged by the Labour Party. "In the light of some of the pronouncements by Government Ministers on the Labour Party recent this afternoon, I think the second plan is halted soon, then the political freedom about which we boast so much will be nothing more than a sorry facade." Other speakers included Mr. T. Kypse, T.D.
