A STAGGERING RATE INCREASE

Ratepayers in the Dungarvan Urban Area are faced with a rate increase for the coming year which can be described as staggering and cruel. When the members of the local Urban Council met on last Monday night to consider the Estimate of Expenses for 1969/70, they will face a total increase of £72,575 which will require a rate of 85/11d., an increase of 16/11d. over the current figure of 69/.

Practically half of the increase is accounted for by a rise of 8/11d. in the County Council demand and the remaining 8/10d. is due to increases in various Urban services. Of the latter the Housing Services are responsible for a major portion of the rise, going up by 5/6d. while the Sanitary Services account for 1/7d. and General Purposes, 1/- and Roads, 9d. make up the remainder of the increase.

Since 1965/66 when the Urban rate was 57/- in the £, the rate has risen to 69/11d. in 1968/69. This shows an average increase of 4/- in the £ in each of the periods but for the coming year the increase is four times as great as this average. In fact the increase of 16/11d. represents an increase of more than 25 per cent in the present total figure.

Ratepayers in the Urban area will also learn everything possible was done to save his life. 'There is the story of the death of General Liam Lynch.'

Having read this account of how Liam Lynch gave his life for the cause of Ireland, I thought of the almost similar circumstances, in reverse, of how another great man, General Michael Collins, met his death for the cause of Ireland. In each case there was an ambush in a lonely part of the country. Liam Lynch on the Knockmeadon mountains; Michael Collins at Beal na Blath and in each case also it was during a lull that single lethal shots rang out. What a great pity that the country lost so many fine men on both sides during the Civil War; men who, had they not found themselves in conflict could have been of invaluable assistance in after years to Ireland and the Irish people.

HOW LIAM LYNCH DIED

There was a large attendance of former comrades from many parts of the country at the annual commemoration Mass for General Liam Lynch, Chief of Staff, I.R.A., 1922-23 which was celebrated at St. Mary's Church, Newcastle, last Sunday and for all it was, no doubt, a day of remembrance.

I am indebted to Mr. Pax Whelan, who was amongst those present last Sunday, for a copy of "The News" dated Saturday, 12th April, 1924, which contained the following account by "Oglach" of how Liam Lynch met his death:

"On the night of 9th-10th April, 1923, General Liam Lynch and a party of officers were billeted at a little south of Gatebridge, at the foot of the Knockmeadon mountains. At 4 a.m. scouts gave the alarm. A column of 'Staters' appeared on the road moving towards Gatebridge. We rose and moved to a house higher up on the mountain side. Daylight came and looking to the north we saw in the valley below us three columns of 'Staters' . . .

"About 8 a.m., as we were about to have a cup of tea, a scout from the east ran in to tell us that another column of 'Staters' was coming about 1,000 yards away across the mountains to our left rear. Our only line of retreat was thus threatened and we dashed up a glen towards the mountains. On reaching the head of the glen we halted to wait for the two scouts who were armed one with a Thompson and the other with a rifle. We numbered seven: General Lynch and five other officers armed with revolvers and automatics and an unarmed local Volunteer. We were carrying a great number of important papers which we wished to save at all costs.

"We were only a few minutes at the head of the glen . . . when the 'Staters' appeared over the ridge and our first shots were exchanged. We dashed on again, up the mountain,

ATTRACTIVE DUNGARVAN WEDDING

Ormond-Kelly Nuptials

A most attractive wedding of great interest was solemnised at the Parish Church, Abbeyside, on Thursday, April 17, between Mr. P. G. (Pat) Ormond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ormond, Grattan Square, Dungarvan, and Miss Gertrude Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kelly, "Coilra", Abbeyside. The Nuptial Mass with Papal Blessing was celebrated by Rev. T. Eustace C.C., Waterford (cousin of the bride) and other clergy present were Very Rev. J. Roche, P.P., Abbeyside, Rev. M. Walsh, C.C., do., Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Dungarvan, Rev. J. Law, C.C., Clonmel, and Rev. M. Byrne, C.C., Ballymacarary.

The groom, a Radio Officer, wore his dress uniform and the bride was given away by her father looking a picture of beauty in a full-length, white, silk dress with sleeves and panes of guipure lace. A flowing veil was held in place by a guipure coronet and she carried a bouquet of red roses and maidenhair fern.

Miss Vera Kelly, Miss Carmel Kelly (sisters of the bride) and Miss Miriam Power (a friend) were bridesmaids and they wore floral chiffon dresses of sweet pea mixture and carried bouquets of white carnations and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaids were two little cousins of the bride.

The best man was Mr. P. J. Healy (brother-in-law of the groom) and the groomsmen were Mr. Michael Morrissey and Mr. Donald Whelan. Ushers at the church were Mr. Liam Kelly (brother of the bride) and Mr. Hubert Dawson.

Mrs. M. O'Gorman-Nagle presided at the organ and the soloist was Mr. Neil Hurley. After the ceremony the bridal party motored to Clonmel for a reception at the Hotel Minella and subsequently the bride and groom left for their honeymoon which is being spent in London and Majorca.

Going away the bride wore a beige and coffee colour suit and dress with beige accessories. We join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ormond, who are both extremely popular young people in Dungarvan and district, happiness, health, and prosperity in the years ahead.

"Dungarvan Urban Council at their adjourned meeting last Saturday morning granted free use of the Town Hall to St. Mary's Troop of Boy Scouts for the 24th and 25th April for the purpose of holding a variety entertainment."

"After a Troop meeting of the 4th Waterford Troop, St. Joseph's, Abbeyside, the Court of Honour selected five members for the Far-nall Cup competition. A list will take place to fill the remaining three places."

"Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council, at a meeting on Monday night, adopted a rate of 20/- in the £ for 1939-40."

"Clashmore Harriers met at Clashmore last Sunday for the last time of the season. Amongst those who were: Mr. R. Tobin, M.H., Mr. R. O'Keefe, M.H., Kerwin Harriers, Mr. N. Fitzgerald, first whip, Mr. D. Fitzgerald, second whip, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, Mr. Walter Terry, Miss Muriel Bowen, Master V. K. Bowen, etc., etc."

Beautiful weather prevailed during the period as the local news columns from all areas contained reference to the fact including the following paragraph in the "News of the Town and Round About":

ALTHOUGH IRELAND IS A SMALL NATION IT CAN BE AN ENTERPRISING ONE

VITAL POINTS STRESSED AT SUCCESSFUL JUNIOR CHAMBER DINNER

"Enterprise is more than initiative; it is a sustained and penetrating effort, a flight not a leap." This was stated by Rev. P. J. Dempsey, M.A., D.D., O.F.M., Cap., Professor of Applied Psychology, University College, Cork, the principal guest speaker, when he spoke on the subject of "The Vital Enterprise" in proposing the toast to the Dungarvan Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Annual Dinner of the Junior Chamber held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Dungarvan, last Friday night.

Mr. Michael Moloney, President of the Junior Chamber presided at the function which was attended by over 100 members, their wives, friends and guests.

Rev. Dr. Dempsey went on to describe Enterprise as a persistent pressure of directed energy, an unflinching movement towards a goal and it is not erratic; it may travel adventurously, but it knows the path. Its efforts are not intermittent. When it meets obstacles, it finds a way over and around. It can be destroyed, but it is not easily discouraged. Enterprise is energy plus endurance, the ability to complete the power to survive.

Stating that centralised control and the elimination of private property were no substitutes for enterprise, Dr. Dempsey pointed to the failure of Communism and said that while the Communist political bureaucracy used, enjoyed and disposed of nationalised property, in actuality a single group managed it in its own interest. "The Communist system," he said, "is unavoidably bureaucratic and in spite of the fact that it is planned, the Communist economy is, perhaps, the most wasteful in the history of human society. The greatest waste is not even visible—the waste of manpower resulting from the slow, unproductive work of disinterested millions together with the privation of all work not considered socialist."

EFFECTIVE CHALLENGE
 Dr. Dempsey then went on to deal with the setting up of new projects, the establishment of new enterprises, the problems of motivation and of group work and dealing with High Performance. He said that nothing challenged man so effectively to improved performance as a job that made high demands. The challenge of high performance is a challenge of workmanship that first-class work and accomplishment, "and," he said "output standards for the so-called average employee are minimum standards. Most I suggest, that they should not even be used as a declared minimum with extra compensation for output above standard. Indeed, the good man who can easily be at the standard can be adversely affected by the presence of a minimum. Let us spell out what a man needs to contribute to the attainment of the objectives of the unit, the plant or the company."

Dr. Dempsey concluded his address by stating: "A man's job is his stake in an enterprise and its most basic purpose of an enterprise is to create a customer. Find the customer by marketing, satisfy him by production and keep him by innovation. For there can be no jobs if there are no sales and there can be no sales if there are no jobs. It is expanding markets which successful enterprise creates that make for job security and in this lies a basis for harmony of interests and vigorous co-operation between management and workers. I have concentrated on enterprise in industry, but the spirit of initiative

Agricultural Committee Backs Farm Guest House Plans

But Member Warns "Let Farmers Be Farmers"

Whether the County Waterford Committee of Agriculture should involve itself in developing the farm guest house plan for tourists in the possible development of hotels and people who depend on the good houses of tourists is a question raised by Mr. N. Walsh, during a debate on the proposed plan, made by the Chairman, Mr. J. Fahy, T.D., at the County Home Management Adviser at a meeting of the Committee held in Dungarvan last Tuesday.

Mr. Fahy said that he had agreed to have this matter put on the agenda as he was aware for some time of the need amongst farmers for this type of service. He said that the plan was to keep the money in the county. This was a very good source of income for the farming community and would help to meet the rising costs on farms. In order to meet the demands for the type of accommodation required, farmers' wives needed to be trained in the home management and food service. Mr. Walsh said that while he agreed with everything the Chairman had said, he thought there were very few people along the mountains and in places like the Nire Valley could avail of such a scheme as they had no running water in these districts and that was one of the principal requirements where Farm Guest Houses were concerned.

Mr. K. O'Dwyer added that he was told by a person from near Dungarvan who went into this business in 1966 that the return had been very poor.

SECOND BEST
 Mr. N. Walsh said that he considered there was merit in the Chairman's proposal but he asked whether it would cut across hotels and people who depended solely on guest houses in towns for a living. He knew hotels in places like Cappoquin and other towns who were already feeling a small degree a loss because of "I think," said Mr. Walsh, "that farmers should be farmers and the Minister for Agriculture should let matters like the North to the Tolosa and talk more to the farmers."

Mr. Walsh added that he thought that the development of such a farm guest house plan would be harmful to farmers' families as they would only get second income while the tourists are around.

Mr. Fahy thought the idea of such a plan was to give tourists an opportunity of meeting Irish people in their own homes. He said that such accommodation in Waterford the tourists would go on to other towns where they would find it.

Mr. O'Dwyer disagreed with the Chairman at this point and said that his experience was that these tourists usually arrived late in the evening and left early in the morning and there was no question of meeting Irish people in their homes in these circumstances.

Mr. W. Dower supported the Chairman's proposal and said he thought it would be a good source of income for farmers. He thought that the tourists who wanted to avail of such accommodation would not go to hotels as they could not afford them.

DROP IN THE OCEAN
 Miss E. Anglin, Farm Home Management Adviser, said that the Farm Guest House plan was only a drop in the ocean and the greatest part of her work was in preparing homes that at present had no running water but which would have it in the next 10 or 15 years. Her job was to advise farmers' wives on the location of sinks and other facilities. She said that she had made contacts in the West of the county but she found it impossible to get down to the base of the county and the people down there did not, as a result, know her. As the farmers in those districts paid the same rates as farmers in the West she thought they should be entitled to the same service. As she was on her own she could not cover the entire county and she said she was only scratching the surface as matters stood at present.

Miss Hartnett, Home Management Regional Supervisor, also addressed the Committee on the need for providing the service.

Mr. Fahy then proposed that the Committee advertise for a second adviser to be appointed in a temporary capacity and this was seconded by Mr. Dower and passed.

Mr. G. T. Frost, C.A.O., said that if the appointment was made at the next meeting the salary of an additional adviser could be met from their existing estimate.

President, British Junior Chambers and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. Liam Keegan, Dublin, National Senior Vice-President of Programms and Mrs. Keegan, Mr. Colin Johnson, Thurles, Regional Vice-President and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Jim Power, President, Clonmel Junior Chamber and Mrs. Power, Mr. Declan Winston, President, Dublin Junior Chamber and Mrs. Winston, Mr. T. A. Kyne, T.D., Mr. T. Phelan, Secretary Waterford Co. Executive N.F.A. and Mrs. Phelan, Mr. M. C. Nagle, Editor, "Dungarvan Leader" and Mrs. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. Rory Wylie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lynch, "Dungarvan Observer."

Mr. Harrington and Mr. Wilson replied to the toast.

Mr. T. F. McCarthy, immediate Past President said the grace before and after the meal.

The toastmaster for the evening was Mr. Tom Ryan who at the conclusion on behalf of the Dungarvan Chapter and the entire company thanked the proprietors, management and staff of the Devonshire Arms Hotel for the magnificent meal they had served.

DEPARTURE

Before the speeches ended, the President, Mr. Moloney, referred to the departure to Barrow-on-Furness of one of their most energetic and enterprising members, Mr. Paddy Lannen. He expressed the regret of the Chapter and himself at losing such a valuable member and wished Mr. Lannen every success for the future.

Mr. Moloney then presented, for the first time, the President's Trophy for the best Junior Chamber member of the year and the first holder is Mr. Jimmy Shine, Abbeyside.

DANCE AND SOCIAL

After dinner a most enjoyable dance and social for which the Society Four provided the music and Mr. Val Fitzpatrick, Dublin, the well-known entertainer was complete, concluded a most successful and enjoyable function.

THE GUESTS

The toast to "Our Guests" was proposed by Mr. Austin Hallahan, Vice-President. The guests included Mr. John Harrington, Cork, National President and Mrs. Harrington, Mr. Peter Wilson, Vice-

G.A.A. NOTES

MINOR FOOTBALLERS TO RECORD FIRST WIN IN PROVINCIAL FINAL

GERALDINES SENIOR FOOTBALL TEAM SUSPENDED

By Commentator

NEXT SUNDAY

Because of the fact that the county minor football team are playing in the Munster Cup Final against Clare on Sunday, and the intermediate football (trial) is being played at Dungarvan, the championship programme will be considerably affected and only three games are down for discussion.

AT DUNGARVAN

As a certain raise to the intermediate final, the Wickliffe and Malton Rivers meet for the first round of the minor football championship. This is not likely to be an exhibition of football but it should be quite interesting, with the likelihood of a Briceley victory.

MINOR CUP FINAL

The county's best intermediate hurlers will meet in the second game here at all attempting to impress the selectors that they are worthy of selection on the team to play Limerick in the first round of the following Sunday. The team for this will be selected as follows:

PHILAN CUP REPLAY

The football selectors have announced that the replay of the Philan Cup final between Killybeggs and Kill will take place at the latter club on Sunday evening at 7 p.m. Good entertainment was expected by both sides in last Sunday's night draw.

COUNTY BOARD MEETING

Because of the failure of the Chairman and the three players involved in the Philan Cup semi-final against Killybeggs, the hurling senior football team was suspended until such time as they managed to play the Chairman, Padraig O'Flaherty, in the report of their game in the 1968 Philan Cup semi-final against Killybeggs.

AT CAPPOQUIN

Two minor games here will be played on Sunday evening, to see what material is available to their first sides this year. To open the programme, Old Parish play Ardmore in junior football and the second game will see Ring and Clonmore in action in the same championship.

WATERFORD v. CORK

The meeting of Waterford and Cork in the first round of the under 21 hurling championship at Dungarvan on Wednesday night has aroused great interest throughout the county and many of our hurling people believe that this will be our best inter-county side this year. Realising, though that we are really "up against it" not very many are confident that we will win. Cork, not regarded as being as good as they were last year, are still a great team and it will take a tremendous effort to beat them. Experience over the past three years has taught Cork to regard Waterford as their biggest danger, and knowing this their side will be geared for a real full-blooded effort.

OUR SIDE IS STRONG

After a trial against Killybeggs on Tuesday night the selectors were satisfied that there was good material there and that we had a chance. Home support will be an advantage in the final.

TEAM

J. Green (Mount Sion), G. Daly (Lismore), M. Power (De N. Kelly (Mount Sion), J. Fleming (Perrybank).

A STAGGERING... The Urban rate for the coming year in the E, an increase last year's figure. It will increase and affect the purse and person and the town. For the ten it houses it will increase by 10% while for those 3/4 while for those 3/4 which have been chanced their own but which valuations of £14 have been 1/2 increase will work a 4/6- per Dunbar Urban described by the Co. Dunbar Urban Monday night as one progressive Councils because they had advanced stage in and building houses. It to reach such a high without having to pay whether we can afford it. The Council members their decision on rate after only but having committees so deeply where land and housing schemes came there was ver could do but to put to pay for the service being promoting for it On top of this they have a County figure over which jurisdiction. Inside County Demand at 46 about 55 per cent of it has heard council the years that one of functions is to strike think this is an idle b in the long run they must reduce the Manager's strike the rate prepar officials and that was size of it last Mon Without casting any in the Councilors, I thin were cluckless when it ce pling with the position. But that, as I say, w fault but the fault of to which they continue. They went a motions of going a Estimates page by peo people groping in a they were glad to get quickly as they could. Actually the Council reduce the Manager's 11d. When at the end they had arrived back started the suggestion made that the Manager spt a cut of the odd understanding that it like a farmer going on a bit more than th pared to accept when estimates. This sugg accepted and that was
