HOPES FOR A NEW INDUSTRY

Since the news broke last week and hopes are high that Dungarvan will have another new industry in the near future. Elsewhere in this issue the news columns bring readers the position as it came about and as it stands at present. If the proposition materialises and there are bright hopes at the moment that it will, then the Chairman of the Urban Council, Mr. T. A. Kyne, and the senior officials of the Council who showed great initiative in their prompt decision to step in to ensure that there would be no speculation where the site was concerned are to be heartily congratulated.

The Council took the action they did in case some speculator, hearing of the preference of the sponsors of the industry for the site which was available at Springsmount on the outskirts of the town, bought up the property with the idea of re-selling it at a much higher figure. They were afraid that if this happened the industry could well be lost to the town from the word go. Now at least they have ensured this will not happen and they are hoping that the option which they have taken on the property will be taken over by the sponsors.

The people of the town and district will be keeping their fingers crossed until the final approval of the sponsors has been expressed and without doubt it is the best news that the town has had since Mr. Jack Mulcahy announced the establishment of his new plant at Ballinacourty a couple of years ago.

The construction of the Quigley-Magnus plant at Ballinacourty is now almost completed and test runs of the various units which go to make up the complex manufacturing processes there are being carried out and it is hoped that production will commence sometime in the summer.

If Waterford Glass Ltd. now decide to extend their activities to Dungarvan by the setting up of a subsidiary factory at Springsmount, the combination of these two new industries with those already in operation will, without doubt, prove a great boon to the town and bring to it a new era of greater prosperity than it has ever had before.

They had picks, they had shovels and crowbars galore. On the very first night they threw out the ould floor!

We had navies and masons and carpenters, too. Instead of one foreman we had quite a few. The shop steward was active all over the place. The work it went on at a terrific pace.

Sometimes things went wrong and the nerves became frayed. A door wouldn't fit or supplies were delayed. The problem was solved and the mood became gay. You'd never have guessed that the lads got no pay.

The ladies, of course, would not be outdone. They all came together to share in the fun. They collected the money with zest and with zeal. Not even a miser could resist their appeal.

The work is all over and we all leave a sigh. No words can express our great feelings of joy. Remember the effort, the toil and the tears. That gave us a hall we will treasure for years!

I congratulate Mr. Jim and the people of Stradbally on this great achievement and spotlight their example in providing their hall as an exercise in community co-operation which could well be emulated by the people of other rural parishes who have any ideas about the need for a premises where parishioners, young and old, can come together to enjoy themselves.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Mr. Pat Fanning, Waterford, on his election as the 24th President of the Gaelic Athletic Association at the Annual Congress of the Association which took place last week-end in Galway.

Mr. Fanning has been associated with the G.A.A. in Waterford all his life and his election to the highest office of the Association now means that he has served the Association at every level.

THE JACKETS GREEN

The following popular, rousing ballad, being in keeping with the spirit of Easter is our choice for this week.

When I was a maiden fair and young,
On the pleasant banks of Lee,
No bird that in that greenwood sung
Was half so blithe and free.
My heart ne'er beat with flying feet,
No love sang me his queen,
Till down the glen rode Sarsfield's men,
And they wore the jackets green.

Young Donal sat on his gallant grey
Like a king on a royal seat,
And my heart leaped out on his regent way
To worship at his feet.
Oh! love, had you come in those colours dressed,
And wooed with a soldier's mien,
I'd have laid my head on your throbbing breast,
For the sake of your jacket green.

When William stormed with shot and shell,
At the walls of Garryowen,
In the breach of death my Donal fell,
And he sleeps near the Treary Stone.
That breach the foemen never crossed,
While he swung his broadsword keen,
But I do not weep my darling lost,
For he fell in his jacket green.

FINAL STAGES OF NATIONAL FISH COOKERY COMPETITION

In schools throughout Ireland excitement is mounting as the National Fish Cookery Competition goes into its final stages culminating in the national finals in Galway at the end of April. On that occasion the proud victors of the county heats will come together to compete for the coveted 'National Seafood Cook Trophy' and the additional bonus of a cheque for 100 gns. These girls can be justly happy about their achievement having emerged victorious from a record entry of almost 26,000.

Individual prizes are awarded at county level for the contestants who produce the best whiting, haddock, cod and herring dishes and the overall winner from these goes forward to the national final. Altogether, throughout the competition, 600 prizes with a total value of £2,500 will have been awarded to winners from class level upwards.

Since its inception, interest in this competition has intensified not only in the schools, but also among all those interested in the art of cooking. The competition is recognised as a stimulus to the fishing industry generally and has generated a new interest in the art of exploiting the vast possibilities of fish as a tasty and nutritious food. Many a teenager owes her ability to transform a so-called uninteresting fish like cod or herring, into a delectable dish to the efforts of B.I.M. in the organisation of this competition.

The increasing interest in the food value of fish is shown by the fact that Irish people are eating 40 per cent more now than they did a few years ago. Over 100,000 Irish schoolgirls, through the National Fish Cookery Competition, have received tuition in the art of fish cookery at the hands of acknowledged experts. This enthusiasm among the young people of Ireland will ensure that the philosophy of higher standards and better cuisines is spread more widely every year.

This is a logical development in a country such as ours. In the freshness and quality of our fish we hold the upper hand on most European countries and yet many of these countries make far better use of their seafood resources than we do. Some American and Continental Seafood Restaurants have a world-wide reputation for their treatment of fish even though much of their raw material comes from long distance (trawlers and cold). And their reputation is not always built on the use of exotic species. In many cases the humble herring or haddock forms the basis of their most exciting dishes.

VALUE AS FOOD
Every dietitian recognises the value of fish as a food par excellence for the weight-watcher and the health conscious. Doctors have advocated fish as a health food for years and a good summary of their opinions is contained in this extract from an article by a member of the medical profession: "For most of us our main source of energy consists of sugar and starchy foods. Unfortunately when we eat more than we need the excess is converted into fat and we put on weight."
"That's where fish scores. Weight for weight it gives you more than twice as much energy without slapping on more than an ounce or two of weight. And you burn that up walking to your bus stop."
Another good reason for eating it is the amount of protein it contains.
"Protein is bodybuilding. It's needed for repairing tissues like muscle which are constantly being broken down when we exert ourselves. It is also needed for normal healthy growth — which is why fish is so necessary for children."
"There is no truth in the old wives tale that it makes kids brainy. But it will certainly make them alert and energetic — so without it a child could hardly shine."
TASTY WAYS OF COOKING
All very well, but what if your children don't like fish? Experiment has shown that this problem is easily overcome. Touches of colour, such as tomato and lemon, attractive garnishes and unusual ways of cooking fish are such ways to make children enjoy it — even when they have previously been turned against it by indifferent cooking. No food lends itself more easily to experiment and there is hardly one more versatile or more amenable to imaginative treatment. This is effectively borne out by the results achieved in the National Fish

MISS ANNETTE WHITE, Presentation Convent, Slievekenel, Waterford who was the overall winner in the Waterford County Final of the National Fish Cookery Competition.

Location Of Regional Hospital

ALLEGATION OF "RAT RACE" BY H.A. MEMBER

At the request of Ald. T. Brennan, Standing Orders were suspended at the monthly meeting of the Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan to allow a discussion on what Mr. Brennan referred to as a matter of urgency and great importance to Waterford City and County. It dealt with a report in the Kilkenny newspaper under the heading "Dramatic News In Regional Hospital Fight".

Mr. Brennan said that as a result of a private meeting with Mr. Brennan and other members of the Authority, he had stated that the Minister had spoken a very bright future in regard to the location of the hospital.

Mr. Brennan went on to say that he took grave exception to the fact that the Minister should have public or private audiences of the Minister in this matter in view of a circular from the Department of Health, dated March 1968, which categorically stated that the Minister did not think it necessary to meet local representatives again on this matter and that let each authority submit their views to the Department in writing.

As a result of the Minister's meeting with the Minister, Mr. Brennan said that the Minister had stated that he would not be visiting the area in the near future and that the Minister would be visiting the area in the near future and that the Minister would be visiting the area in the near future.

Mr. Brennan said that he was disappointed that the Minister had not been able to visit the area in the near future and that the Minister would be visiting the area in the near future.

Mr. Brennan said that he was disappointed that the Minister had not been able to visit the area in the near future and that the Minister would be visiting the area in the near future.

STAND UP AND BE CALLED

Ald. R. Jones said that it was most disquieting to see such a report published but he thought that it might be a strategic move to make the people of the area believe that Waterford was in a state of emergency and that the Minister would be visiting the area in the near future.

AMBULANCE TO SERVE WEST WATERFORD

Question Of Driver To Be Solved

Mr. Brennan said that it was a question of saving no. They would be prepared to make an ambulance available to some extent but that they would have to have more as they had done in Tralee and Waterford.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LAND COURT DECISION

A. Clara — On behalf of the above and further to my letter of Mar. 12th on the subject of the land dispute in Tourin I wish it to be known that the "Land Court" has agreed to allow the site of the 90 acres in question to Captain Jameson who already owns 1,700 acres of land. There once again the power of the cheque book has been superior to the interests of the people. Faced with the closing of our rural schools and the inevitable closing down of some rural churches, it is amazing that those who could influence the people to the danger inherent in allowing people with vast holdings to acquire more land are choosing to remain silent. We in Sinn Féin intend to continue to highlight this disgraceful let-down of the people and we call on the people to support us in whatever protest action may be necessary.

NOT SATISFIED

Mr. N. Walsh said that he was not satisfied with the report and still felt that an ambulance in West Waterford was urgently needed and that it should be provided by the Health Authority for the ratepayers of the area. This need had been crying out for years but if it boiled down to a question of a driver, this should be a problem of no importance as he felt that a driver could be provided.

Mr. P. Browne, T.D., Chairman, suggested that the Fire Brigade, inasmuch as they might operate an ambulance if it was placed there.

Mr. J. Quirk said that he had discussed this matter with a doctor and the point was whether they were going to wait to prove the need until someone in the area died for want of an ambulance. He said that he knew of a case where a doctor had to load a patient into his own car in an emergency and take him to Arklow. The back of the doctor's car was destroyed because the patient was bleeding heavily. If an ambulance was provided the question of driver would present no problem.

Mr. C. A. O'Connell, County

TALLOW CREDIT UNION A.G.M.

The Annual General Meeting of the Tallow Area Credit Union was held at the Office, Main Street, Tallow, recently. There was a very good attendance of members. Also present were Fr. Twomey, C.C. Conna, Fr. Kitley, C.C. Ballyduff and Fr. S. Nugent, C.C. Tallow.

The report of the Board of Directors was read by Mr. Sean Hancock, President. His report was as follows:—

"The Board of Directors at the last A.G.M. asked for your co-operation in the spreading of the message of Credit Unionism to others in the area and thus increasing our membership. We are very pleased at the response to that appeal and have much pleasure in reporting an increase in membership from 68 to 120 and an increase in share capital from £2815 to £1,876 during the year 1969.

"We would like to dispel some false notions that have crept in about Credit Unionism. First, it is purely a saving society and not a money-lending society. We are pleased to establish an ideal form of self-help and incidentally to help your neighbour to build a better community. It is the principle of self-reliance, helping yourself a lot more instead of waiting for outside help. As an example of what we have done, Credit Union loans £2,700 during 1969. The bulk of that money was spent locally which means that this money is being put to use in that area from car activities. The probability is that this amount will be doubled in 1970. For that reason we think that traders and others who naturally benefit from this extra money in circulation should support our Credit Union through becoming monthly subscribers to shares in it. There are quite a few traders members already and are very active in helping out.

"Some people do not think of the Credit Union until they actually have a loan. These people do not have an idea of the rules governing the organisation. The one thing that everyone should know is that anyone who has a loan, and that anyone who has a loan is a member. One share is equal to one-tenth of the total share capital. Loans are granted by law from a common fund of that amount to any one person. We would like that when a member is repaying a loan that they would put even a small amount in their savings during the period of repayment.

"There will be a proposal put before you later to increase the size of our area. If this is acceptable to you it will mean that our membership will be 500 approx. This will require extra help at the office during opening hours. During the period of the year we are acquiring these premises for our office. We are sure you will agree the area is fortunate to meet our requirements. I would like to pay tribute to our Treasurer, Mr. John and Mrs. left this area since our last meeting. John put a lot of work into the Credit Union and left this area since our last meeting. He left however we were fortunate that Mrs. Kevin Ryan took over from John and carried out the good work with equal efficiency, ably assisted by Miss Madge Hartigan, and I may say that these two ladies, plus Mrs. James Ryan, Hon. Sec., do the bulk of the work. Thank you, Mr. John and Mrs. left this area since our last meeting. We wish to be known the area is fortunate to have such generous assistance. We wish it to be known the area is fortunate to have such generous assistance. We wish it to be known the area is fortunate to have such generous assistance.

The report of the Credit Committee was read by Mr. J. Moroney, who stated that 57 loans, totalling £2,700 had been granted during the year for amounts ranging from £10 to £250 for such requirements as confirmation and communion outfits, holidays, car improvements, seeds, fertilisers, stock and farmyard repairs, etc.

Mr. Judge Hartigan, Assistant Treasurer, read the financial statement, which had been certified by Stupston & Co., Auditors. This statement showed the healthy growth in the finances of the Credit Union in 1969.

On behalf of the Supervisory Committee, Mrs. D. F. Cantillon stated that the books and accounts had been regularly checked and found to be in order.

The proposal that the unappropriated income be distributed as 2 per cent dividend was unanimously carried.

The proposal to extend the Common Fund to include the Entire Parishes of Cotna, Ballyduff, Knockree, and Tallow was also unanimously approved.

The elections to fill the vacancies on the Board of Directors resulted in Mrs. Ryan, Miss M. Hartigan, Mrs. J. Ryan and Sergt. Bergin, being elected.

The Board of Directors is as follows:—President—Mr. S. Hancock; Vice-President—Mr. M. Cotter; Treasurer—Mrs. K. Ryan; Assistant—Mrs. M. Hartigan; Hon. Secretary—Mrs. P. Moroney; Hon. Sec.—Mrs. K. Ryan; Also Mrs. J. Moroney, Sergt. Bergin, Mr. J. Lyons, and M. T. Murray.

The Supervisory Committee elected were—Mrs. D. F. Cantillon, Mr. T. McCarthy, Mr. G. Armstrong.

PROSPECTS OF NEW MAJOR INDUSTRY FOR DUNGARVAN

WATERFORD COMPANY'S NEGOTIATIONS WITH URBAN COUNCIL

Dungarvan can entertain little hope of a minor hurling championship crown this year, even though their prospects are kept alive by reason of the fact that they may survive the competition in the losers group. Certainly at the Fraher Field, Dungarvan, on Monday last they showed little promise when going under 4-12 to 0-1 in an Abbey-side fifteen possessing far more power in all departments, in a one-sided and spiritless first round clash.

Abbey-side's complete dominance was seldom checked by a Dungarvan side which although refusing to accept defeat fought hard in a vain effort to stave off the inevitable.

Physically much weaker the "Blues" at the half-way stage when Abbesside, even against the wind turned over with a 2-5 to 0-1 interval led, Dungarvan's solitary minor coming from a hardworking Noel Duggan. But it was evident at the break that the final outcome would be an Abbesside win with the wind in the second half slammed home a further 2-7 without ever really extending themselves.

There was a poor crowd present for the game; which was oddly enough completely void of the usual rivalry displayed by these neighbouring clubs.

Abbesside's strong men were John Kieley, N. Cashin, M. Hourigan, J. Byrne and H. Kelleher, while Noel Duggan, Joe Gough and Michael Clancy tried hardest for Dungarvan.

Referre — J. Moran (Kilgobnet).

GREATER PROSPECTS

The news was received with much enthusiasm in the town as well as the new Quigley-Magnesium plant in Ballinacourt which is presently recruiting its labour force and which is expected to commence limited production soon, the new industry will bring to Dungarvan much greater prosperity and establish it as a busy industrial centre.

More about decimals

Knowing that 5 means a half, how do we find the decimal for a quarter and for three quarters? A quarter is, of course, half of a half. Divide 5 by 2 and we find it. The answer is .25. Remember the point and the fact that you can add ciphers after any decimal. For instance .5 or 10/- can be written as .50 as it will be in our new money system — meaning fifty pence. Three quarters or 15/- can be got by multiplying .25 — a quarter — by three. i.e., 75. Thus £1.25 will be written £1.25 £1.10s. will be written £1.60 and £1.16s. £1.75 the 25 50 and 75 in each case standing respectively for 25, 50 and 75 new pence.

NEW LOUNGE BAR
AT BALLYSGAGGART ON THIS FRIDAY NIGHT, APRIL 3rd.

OPENING OF NEW LOUNGE BAR

For a number of years now Brendan Meagher and his wife, Eileen, have carried on a successful grocery business in Ballysaggart. Now Brendan has branched out into another trade—a publican, he opens his new premises officially on tomorrow (Friday) night, April 3rd. The official opening of this new Lounge Bar at Ballysaggart should further enhance the marked social advancement of the district. The need for this amenity was quite apparent and it will certainly prove a very popular centre for both locals and tourist trade.

IDEALLY SITUATED

Ideally situated the premises command a striking impression. The exterior is of cut stone, whilst the interior is very modern—fully laid out. A very striking feature of the interior is the fireplace which forms the centre piece of the premises. The counter is built of stone similar to exterior, the frame being made of teak. There is ample and extremely comfortable seating.

That a great amount of hard work has gone into the preparation of the premises is evident from the whole lay out. It is most tastefully decorated, in an excellent colour scheme. Brendan was adamant that only the most up to date equipment would be put into the business. Patrons of the new premises can be certain of getting excellent and friendly service in most comfortable surroundings.

MUSIC AND SONG

At the official opening on Friday night, music will be supplied by the "Miller Folk" from Ardhanan, an up and coming quartet whose popularity is growing rapidly in the Cahir and Cashel areas. They play music and song to suit all tastes so most certainly this is an occasion that should not be missed.

Brendan Meagher must be heartily congratulated on his enterprise and it can be safely assumed that the immense work he has put into this very modern and excellently laid out Lounge Bar will receive the support it so fully deserves.

News from Lismore

Easter—It was a quiet Easter here in Lismore, though huge crowds were present for all the Church Ceremonies. A few of our emigrants made the trip home and weatherwise it was fine but showery for the Bank Holiday when quite a number of racing fans travelled to Malloy and Fairyhouse.

Whist Results—1st, prize in the weekly whist drive held in St. Carthage's Hall on Tuesday night last was won by Mr. Michael Coleman, Parks Road. Mr. A. Crotty, Shrough, was 2nd, whilst Miss Nora Willoughby, Main Street, came 3rd.

The miniature also went to Parks Road, M. Coleman also collecting this prize. The bonus for a score of 44 in this competition now stands at 14/-.

Death Of Mrs. C. McGrath—As briefly mentioned in last week's issue we record the rather unexpected death of Mrs. Catherine McGrath, Monatrim, Lismore, which sad event took place in the District Hospital here last week-end. The sole surviving member of the Greely family, Deepark, deceased was a lady of unique personal charms and noted for her gentleness and charity and her sudden death came as a great shock to her family, relatives and friends.

The remains were removed to St. Carthage's Church on Thursday evening where they were received and blessed by Very Rev. M. Canon Guiry, P.P., assisted by Rev. Frs. Quilty and Slattery, C.C.'s and the burial took place to St. Carthage's Cemetery on Monday with Rev. Dr. John J. Greely, nephew, Clonliffe College, Dublin, officiating at the graveside.

To her grieving widower, family and relatives we tender our deepest sympathy.

Chief mourners—Joseph McGrath, (widower); Sr. M. Seraphina, O.P.; Mrs. Kathleen Andrews, Leister; Mrs. Philomena Lee, Norwich; Mrs. Margaret Howes, Middlesex; and Miss Anne McGrath, Dublin (daughters); Tony, John and Francis, Monatrim; and Paddy, Birmingham (sons); Messrs. Mark Andrews, Leicester; M. Lee, Norwich; David Howes, Middlesex (sons-in-law); Mrs. A. McGrath, Monatrim; and Mrs. P. McGrath, Birmingham (daughters-in-law); Mrs. Mollie Greely and Mrs. Barbara Greely, Dublin (sisters-in-law); nieces, nephews, grandchildren and relatives.

Another Success For Lismore Athletes—Yet another success for the Lismore athletes who on Sunday last in Tranmore had a run away win in the 5th round of the League. Surely this continued list of successes makes them the outstanding club in the County and in many others too.

Once again it was Paddy Whelan and the "surprise packer" of the season" Jim Keane who set the pace and it was such a killer that after three laps, Ring's Jim Costin, no mean performer himself was forced to pull up. In 3rd place came John Barry and it was the way the placings remained, despite a great effort by Keane to overhaul the leader, Whelan, but showing the form which won him this year's County senior title, he stayed in front and won by about 100 yards.

Jim Keane continues to improve with each outing and what an asset he has proved to the local club, Eamonn Brackett remained to his old form to finish 5th, bringing the total score to 11 pts the best yet scored by a Lismore senior team.

Sunday's win means League honours for Lismore though there are still two meetings to come, but their lead is unbeatable, while Paddy Whelan has now taken over the individual title as best individual from Jim Costin.
