THE REASON WHY

In last week's issue we informed our readers that we have been reluctantly forced to increase, as from this week, the selling price of the Leader. It gave us no satisfaction to have to publish such a notice and we held off the decision for as long as we possibly could but because of the greatly increasing costs which the Newspaper Publishing and Printing Industry has had to face in recent months we, in common with our colleagues throughout the country, were left with no option but to make a price increase.

The budget increase in the turnover tax proved an additional heavy financial burden on a load which in almost all other respects was increasing weekly. We attempted to absorb the payment of this tax by the Government within the existing price structure but the continuing increase in production costs has now made this impossible. Incidentally Ireland is the only country in Western Europe where newspapers are subject to this type of tax and although representations were made to the Minister for Finance to exempt newspapers from the tax, they proved unsuccessful.

Besides the increase in the turnover tax we have also had to bear very substantial increases in the price of newsprint in recent months while transport costs have also gone up and then on top of all these, new wage agreements covering printers and journalists recently negotiated have placed another great strain on the economics of newspaper publishing.

We should also explain to our readers that portion of the increase will go towards providing a higher handling margin for newsagents selling the paper. This rising cost of business and could not be expected to continue carrying on at the old allowances. In all these circumstances, therefore, we hope that our readers will appreciate the dilemma we were placed in. It was only as a last resort and in order to remain in operation and meet our commitments that we decided on the price increase and as we have already said it was with the greatest reluctance we did so.

UNSIGHTLY BARRIERS

From what I observed during the past week it now looks as if C.I.E. have completed their operation in Dungarvan of removing the railway line from the old station and of taking down and removing the gates at the four level crossings in the town and Abbeyside areas. The operation was no credit to whoever engineered and supervised it and the unsightly barriers which they erected and the ugly mess in which they left the road surfaces at a number of points call for protest. Having removed the gates at the permanent way entrances at the various level crossings they erected crude barriers with old crested railway sleepers. That C.I.E. should leave such a legacy behind them in Dungarvan shows a great lack of consideration on their part. They are to be more readily condemned for doing this because they are a semi-state organisation and should be more conscious as a result of the value of tourism to the country.

Dungarvan has been making efforts in recent years, principally through its Junior Chamber Chapter, to beautify itself, to introduce more colour to its houses and business premises and to keep its streets mouth of the Colligan from Ballynecy down to Abbeyside into a lake by placing a sluice gate at the railway embankment at the Causeway. When I first heard about this some years ago it was referred to as the "blue lagoon project." It is no more blue now than it was then and I see little hope of it becoming so, during my lifetime at any rate. One thing though that struck me as sound talk during the discussion on this was the need to repair the embankment before it becomes more eroded. If attention is not given to this, and soon, we could well have a serious problem on our hands.

But that is how I saw this report and why having read it I felt so disappointed that there were not even any new approaches. We just had the old pipe dreams which have been the subjects of discussion for generations in Dungarvan trotted out hopefully once again. If the tourist executives felt that in these suggestions they had been given food for thought then I am afraid that it was very stale food!

WATERFORD ASSOCIATION DINNER

The annual dinner of the London Waterford Association will take place at the Tower Hotel, Waterford, on Saturday, August 8 and the Secretary of the Dublin branch of the Association, Mrs. Mai O'Higgins has asked me to inform readers that she has tickets at £2 each for the function for any readers who might wish to attend. Mrs. O'Higgins can be contacted at her home at 26, Biggar Road, Dublin 12 or by phoning Dublin 501139.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT THEY SAID

I was amused when I read the report of last week's Urban Council meeting in the Leader about the attendance of officials of the regional tourist organisation to discuss plans for the tourist development of Dungarvan. At the conclusion of the discussion the Manager of the Tourist Organisation, Mr. Michael J. Conack, told the members that the idea has been aired a number of times and estimates and reports from Dutch Engineers experienced in the field of reclaiming land from the sea have been obtained. I remember that the area of the Western bay which could be reclaimed by running an embankment with a road from the Look-
Out to the Cunnigar was to be 1,234 acres and there was talk of horse-racing tracks, pitch and put courses, airstrips and all sorts of recreational facilities being put there.

But I heard something during the week about this old project which I had not heard before. The information was passed to me by Mrs. Josie Lynch, South Terrace. She claims that her father the late Mr. Tommy Flynn, Coolinagour and the late Mr. Tom Power of the Brewery went to London in the early part of the present century to obtain money from the British Government for the building of a bridge to the Cunnigar. She states that the money was passed but that instead of coming to Dungarvan it went to Waterford where it was used for the building of a bridge there. As I says, I had never heard this before and have been unable to verify the story but Mrs. Lynch assures me of its authenticity as she says that she remembers hearing her father refer to it several times.

The second project mentioned for tourist development in Dungarvan was the conversion of the

We Will Fight To Keep Our Hospital, Deputation Spokesman Tells H.A. Meeting

FURTHER MOVES IN DUNGARVAN MATERNITY UNIT CRUX

There was an unusual air of excitement prior to the commencement of the monthly meeting of the Waterford Health Authority held at the Courthouse, Dungarvan, last Monday night as members of a deputation from the town and representative of all West Waterford trooped in to the Courthouse. By the time the meeting was ready to start the deputation, predominantly female, crowded the entire back of the room. They came to the meeting to press their demands for the re-opening of a maternity unit at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dungarvan and to have the District Hospital retained.

Mr. M. Harty who introduced the deputation said that the matter was very serious and was causing a great deal of concern among the people of Dungarvan and throughout West Waterford. A maternity unit was needed immediately in Dungarvan. "He went on to say that there had been nothing wrong with the unit which had been functioning at St. Joseph's and they did not know who had been responsible for closing it down."

Mr. Harty went on to say that there had been some mention that infection at the unit had been one of the reasons for its closure but he said that there had not been one case of mortality recorded at the unit among mothers or infants while it operated. He said that a big number of young mothers were demanding admission to St. Joseph's unit and letters had been published in the local papers demanding that it be re-opened. It was the unanimous opinion of the people of Dungarvan and the surrounding districts of West Waterford that this maternity unit should be re-established where it was.

Mr. Bobby Keane, Dungarvan, who was the principal spokesman for the deputation then addressed the meeting and said that they felt that the proposal to close the unit at St. Joseph's and to move it to the District Hospital was only a means and a way towards closing the Disappeared peculiar to him was that the Department's reply made no mention of St. Joseph's but only about the District Hospital. To him this was very strange.

Mr. Walsh — It simply means that we are ruled by bureaucracy. That reply ignores the wishes of the people. Let it be clearly understood that the men responsible for stopping our proposal are the men up in Dublin and let the public know that.

Mr. P. Browne, T.D., Chairman, then told the deputation that he felt that all the members of the Authority were unanimously behind them and that they would do all they could to get what they were looking for.

TELL THE TRUTH
Mr. Walsh then asked the Co-Manager: "what is the possibility of having a maternity unit at St. Joseph's tell them the truth?"

Mr. C. O'Connor, County Manager, said that the matter was tied up under three headings and if they involved the three together he felt they would get nowhere.

The deputation were maternity beds, the cessation of major surgery at the District Hospital and the understandable fear of the people that putting the maternity unit in the District Hospital was the thin edge of the wedge towards closing it down. He suggested that the best thing to do was to concentrate on the maternity problem.

The Manager went on to say that he felt since the last private maternity home in Dungarvan closed the town was in need of a first-class maternity unit. In regard to the unit at St. Joseph's he said that he discussed the staff position with the matron at the hospital and she had stated that she had not sufficient staff to carry on a 24-hour service.

Mr. O'Connor then said that recognised medical opinion held that it was all wrong that a maternity unit should be located on the same floor with old patients and children as was the case at St. Joseph's. In regard to the matter of infection there, he said, that

Clashmore To Beat Ballyduff/Portlaw

SHAMROCKS GET THE VOTE

(By Commentator)

NEXT SUNDAY
 The resumption of the intermediate and junior hurling championships gave us a good programme at Dungarvan on Sunday next. The senior football championship continues here too, and an evening game between Clashmore and Ballyduff/Portlaw will cater for the needs of football fans in the area.

In the afternoon the meeting of Shamrocks and Stradbally in the intermediate hurling semi-final will be the feature game in a programme which also includes the junior hurling second round tie between Eire Oge and Colligan.

Clashmore, who made a very impressive entry to the senior football championship this year and almost caught Mitchells in the first round, will have to field without Phibarr Hallahan who has a more important engagement coming up but even without the services of this fine footballer the Clashmore side must be fancied to win the replay.

The Ballyduff/Portlaw tie is a top-class football game as seen when they played the Ballyduff/Portlaw tie in the replay. Clashmore will again be without Pat O'Rourke who missed the last game through illness. Still they should win.

Shamrocks travel to Dungarvan on Sunday and supporters will be hoping that the team will be affected by the awful memory of what happened on their last visit here when they were completely swamped by Perybank in the county final (1968).

at Lismore on Saturday night next to make further fixtures and to arrange dates for a number of final. This meeting will concentrate on fixtures only and it is expected that the list may reach October and give us the dates for all the finals.

As a result of the upsels last Sunday it is expected that the County Board chairman will hold special fixtures meeting over the week-end to sort out a venue problem which has arisen as a result of the unexpected results.

GOOD WISHES
 Good wishes for a speedy recovery to health go to Lismore chairman, and very popular Gael, Mossy Hyland, who is in Arden hospital following a recent illness. Mossy is the kind of person that is missed around the place as he is a most active Gael. We all hope to see him around soon again.

COMPLAINTS
 Complaints that the upper part of the West is being seriously neglected in recent weeks came from a number of people over the week-end. Some of them expressed the opinion that in recent weeks the programmes at Lismore have been more important and more newsworthy than the fixtures down this side and yet the clubs up there have been ignored and there is silence about their activities.

I must fully agree that the complaints and the disappointment felt, are justified and that we have not given these teams a fair coverage in recent weeks. However, this was due to the fact that the programmes at Lismore have been more important and more newsworthy than the fixtures down this side and yet the clubs up there have been ignored and there is silence about their activities.

LATE SCORES SEE AFFANE THROUGH IN ROUGH AND TUMBLE CONTEST

Affane 2-6; Geraldines 1-2

Lady luck which has proved a more than generous benefactor to Geraldines in this year's senior football championship seemed poised to once again guide the destiny of the Aglishmen when they clashed with Affane in their losers group tie at the Fraher field, Dungarvan, on Sunday night last.

For with only eight minutes remaining in this rough and tumble contest, the sides were level (1-2 to 0-5) when Affane grabbed a half chance to score the first goal of the evening in their favour.

Up to this it had been anything but a free for all affair. The game was being played in a more professional manner than the previous years. A goalkeeping error was also within the realm of possibility when the uncanny knack of scoring from even the slightest chance, which these results would have been a complete travesty of justice as far as a dominant Affane were concerned.

It was not by any means a great game of football and the sized attendance who paid 27s-17-0 to see the game could not have been very happy about the robust nature of the play, the rather close finish and uncertainty of the result, however did provide excitement during the closing stages of the game.

From start to finish the winners held the upper hand yet it seemed that their efforts were doomed to total failure as the game progressed and the sides failed to materialise.

Geraldines had their final score of 1-2 in the second half and from then on Affane forced the pace, and with the pressure on the goalkeepers they were unable to snap. Eight minutes from time the inevitable occurred as the ball was struck into the net.

Geraldines were now committed to all out attack. Every player moved upfield in an all out offensive but Affane were not to be taken by surprise and in a breakaway Pat Morrissey found Tony McCarthy in the centre and the astute opportunist corner forward again found the Geraldines net.

Old Parish played some scintillating football in their second round Intermediate football championship game with Emmetts at the Fraher field, Dungarvan, on Sunday last.

Old Parish failed to get through their defence which was in complete control in the centre of the field for Old Parish and traffic was all one way after this but it was an indication of Old Parish's complete ineffectiveness in attack when they were held to level pegging (1-2 to 0-5) at the half way stage.

Old Parish played with the wind in their back but for the goal goal by Tom Whelan after two minutes when Whelan's goalkeeping error was also within the realm of possibility when the uncanny knack of scoring from even the slightest chance, which these results would have been a complete travesty of justice as far as a dominant Affane were concerned.

EIRE OGE ANNIHILATE HIGHLY-RATED RING SIDE

Favourites Continue To Tumble

Eire Oge 6-0; Ring 2-8

Part of the glamour of the championship is the uncertainty which invariably surrounds even the most straight forward and out-and-outed contest. In this year's championship, however, there was no exception in a year which reigning champions and favourites continue to tumble as Eire Oge literally annihilated Ring in the Fraher field, Dungarvan.

Ring, Waterford's unsuccessful standard bearers in this year's Gaelic football competition at Gweedore, were regarded by most as virtual certainties to win on the intermediate title this year.

But on Sunday last they were taught a lesson in the art of football, but were also shown the value of sheer endeavour and effort by an Eire Oge combination worth every point of their ten points winning margin.

This was Eire Oge's game from start to finish and one could only surmise what the result would have been had the Dungarvan side been the peak of physical fitness. Their preparation for the game left a lot to be desired and apart from a few, they were a tired side.

The report added that a number of other schemes had been submitted to the Department for approval while other schemes were being prepared for submission.

INDUSTRIAL NEEDS The report then stated: 'Over a number of years past, different industries have made approaches to the Council and on being informed that the large quantities of water which they sought were not readily and immediately available did not pursue the question of siting themselves in County Waterford further. Water needs of factories such as the Quigley Magnetics Company and the Waterford Glass Company are very considerable and the Council was fortunate in being able to meet the needs of the former and Dungarvan Urban District Council is fortunate in being able to meet the latter demand.'

The Council must realise that the cost of a line roughly from Perlew to Bonmahon major surface sources are few and far between and are already almost fully committed. It might be argued that with the rivers Suir, Blackwater and Bride running through and beside the County it is difficult to see us being short of water and undoubtedly there is a tremendous reserve of water in these rivers but it must be realised that this is only available in certain seasons.

However, at this stage it does seem to me undesirable that any further supply should be taken out of the County because to do so might seriously deplete the water resources of the County as to embarras Waterford County Council in its future plans and accordingly I feel that the Council here should object strongly to any plans to implement additional supplies to outside Authorities until the survey of water resources is completed. I exclude from this of course the present proposal of Waterford Corporation to draw supplies from the Dawn river because we expect to reach agreement with the Corporation for the supply of approximately one million gallons per day from this supply to the County area south-east, south and south-west of the city in the area between Bonmahon and Dunmore. It is, however, essential that this agreement be complete and watertight to implement the proposal before the scheme is completed so that there can be no confusion about our entitlement to this water in the future.

In view of the fact that we now have a two-year programme prepared and in view also of the importance of this assessment of our water resources, I propose to have the Engineer on Water Supplies devote the next few months to a survey of the County to this end.

TWO YEAR PROGRAMME Mr. Hally then suggested to the Council that they should approve the raising of a number of loans to enable the schemes listed to go ahead. He recalled that some years ago the Council had decided to follow a policy of spending £50,000 a year on water supplies.

OVER £100,000 SPENT ON COUNTY WATER SCHEMES IN LAST 2 YEARS

BUT ONLY 50 PER CENT IN RURAL AREAS HAVE SUPPLIED

They had made a fair amount of progress with the schemes listed and were now ready to progress with other schemes said Mr. J. D. Hally, County Engineer.

A special meeting of Waterford County Council held in Dungarvan last Friday night to consider the present water supply position in the county.

In a report circulated to the members, Mr. Hally pointed out that the Council had approved the raising of a loan of £40,000 in April to cover the following schemes: Ardmore/Ballybrussa; Aglish; Ballyduff/Ballylemon; Clashmore; Tallow; Ballymacarney; Lackey; Ballymore; Belleek; Ballinacorney; Kilmacdonagh; Ballynancy; Seaford; Kill/Bonmahon; Stradbally; Killganey; Knockboy and Tramore (improvements to plant and equipment). This loan had not yet been sanctioned.

The report added that a number of other schemes had been submitted to the Department for approval while other schemes were being prepared for submission.

OLD PARISH MAKE HEAVY WORK OF OVERCOMING EMMETTS

Progress is the watchword of the EBS

Following strong representations by Mr. H. R. Dowd the Council also agreed to have included in this list an extension of the Lismore scheme to Mayfield.

The Council approved the raising of the necessary loans from the local loans fund to finance all the schemes.

CATAL HUYUK

This carving in white marble, probably representing two aspects of a goddess, was found in Catal Huyuk, a recently excavated Anatolian city of mud brick houses and courts covering thirty acres. The people were farmers who grew wheat and bitter vetch, used slings, made clay figurines and lived about 8,000 years ago.

A place of enchantment. A city of dreams. Somewhere waiting to be found... in some far-off or lost deep in a tropical jungle. Fifty thousand pounds could help you to find the city of your dreams.

SERIOUS EFFECTS OF DOCK STRIKE ON AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS

The British dockers' strike is having serious effects on our agricultural exports, and the situation could worsen if the strike continues for long.

Recent reports indicate that about 75% of carcass beef exports have been affected. The remainder has been going to the Continent, where the trade looks bright. Many "factory" cattle are being diverted to the live export trade, and as long as export facilities are available, this should take the sting out of the situation. Another relieving factor in the cattle situation is the prohibition of exports from the North. Approximately 1,500 cattle per week will be required to replace Northern imports. There has also been a good Northern demand for five fat cattle. Demand from British buyers for forward stores should be fairly strong; the difficulty is that export facilities are so limited.

These factors will not, however, be nearly sufficient to offset the effects of the drop in carcass beef exports. With numbers of beef factory staff under protective notice, or laid off, it is obvious that there is a serious slowing-down in slaughtering activity.

The main difficulty with Continental trade is lack of container capacity. Normal arrangements have been disrupted and the dockers' strike itself has obviously tied up a lot of container capacity. Exporters and shipping companies should try to ensure the fastest possible turn-round of such container capacity as there is available in order to keep trade moving. In addition to this, the roll-on roll-off ferry services which are still operating at some British Rail centres should be used to the maximum extent — here again availability of containers is the important factor.

Trade in dairy products should not be significantly affected. Bore Baine stocks of butter and cheese in the U.K. are adequate to cater for normal outlets for a substantial period.

The effects of the strike, particularly if it is a long one, may well linger after it comes to an end. There may be some dumping of dairy products and bacon on the British market after the end of the strike by small suppliers. It is felt that the important suppliers will not do anything to cause difficulties in the market.

For Irish farmers, the main results of the strike will be a slower turnover of stock, and perhaps increased pressure on summer grazing.

THE N.F.A. VOLUNTARY INSURANCE SCHEME

The N.F.A. Voluntary Health Insurance Group Scheme has been in operation for the past thirteen years and the Scheme's membership figure now stands at some 36,000 people. It has been shown that one family in three has a hospital bill each year and the growing membership in the N.F.A. Scheme indicates the increasing awareness among farmers of the need to make adequate provision for medical care for their families.

By being a member of a Group the premium is automatically reduced by ten per cent and one can join on a pro-rata basis at any time of the year.

V.H.I. security is described in units: M for Maintenance in hospital and T for Treatment which embraces surgeon's fees, drugs and medicine, appliances and other charges.

The following points are also worth noting: (a) anyone who is under 65 and normally resident here may join; (b) once you have joined you may remain a member indefinitely. There is an extra charge of 15% in the premium for those over 60; (c) benefits apply from 13 weeks after joining; (d) expenses arising from hospital or nursing home stays lasting less than twenty-four hours are not covered by the Scheme; (e) the cost of spectacles, dentures, contact lenses and hearing aids are not covered; (f) there is no limit on the number of claims that may be made in a year; (g) maternity treatment is excluded but some benefits apply after a year's membership.

The V.H.I. has application for both big and small farmers. Farmers with less than £60 valuation on their farms are covered by the State for public wards in hospitals etc. but many are now seeking to have semi-private status. Such people would be well advised to cover this extra cost through the Voluntary Health Insurance. Farmers with over £60 valuation have no cover and it would be in their own and their families interests to join the N.F.A. Group Scheme.

PROMOTION OF THE PRODUCERS' INTERESTS IN BROILER PRODUCTION

In the past three years, the efforts of broiler producers have been mainly directed at the construction of a framework for negotiation of broiler prices. A Broilers' Growers' Committee has been in operation, and has been responsible for arranging various meetings of the chicken industry.

N.F.A. PRESS FOR AUTUMN DRESSING CAMPAIGN AGAINST WARBLES

The N.F.A. President, Mr. T. J. Maher has written to the Minister for Agriculture re-emphasising the Association's wish to see a successful Autumn dressing campaign against warbles implemented this year. In his letter Mr. Maher expressed concern at the uncertainty about the prospects of a successful Autumn campaign which is evident among farmers and others who would be involved in one way or another in the implementation of the Scheme because of the continued absence of agreement on the question of responsibility for the cost of the treatment.

1966, Mr. Maher said that the N.F.A. would very much like to see the scheme getting the same enthusiastic support this year but that he cannot see that the wholehearted co-operation of individual farmers will be forthcoming if they themselves have to bear the cost of the treatment.

Taking up a point made by the Minister in a previous letter, Mr. Maher said that the N.F.A. could not accept that the voluntary notification and treatment scheme offered by the Department of Agriculture during the Spring and Summer months from 1963 onwards was in any way a satisfactory substitute for a further Autumn campaign in 1967.

Mr. Maher went on to point out that the cost which farmers would now have to shoulder if the scheme were operated entirely at their expense, would be far greater than what it would have cost farmers if the Department had agreed to continue general Autumn dressing in 1967. In the first place it has been indicated that increased costs of materials and labour would necessitate an increase of about one-third in the cost per animal treated. Furthermore, it seems likely that it will be necessary to continue Autumn dressing for at least two years now in order to recover ground lost from 1967 onwards.

The N.F.A. President's letter expresses concern at certain indications which have been given that the Department of Agriculture involvement in an Autumn dressing campaign this year would be on a somewhat lesser scale than was the case in former years. Mr. Maher emphasised that the warble eradication effort is of sufficient National importance to warrant the full involvement and support of the Department both on the financial aspect of it and in the effective supervision of the Scheme.

PROMOTION OF THE PRODUCERS' INTERESTS IN BROILER PRODUCTION

In the past three years, the efforts of broiler producers have been mainly directed at the construction of a framework for negotiation of broiler prices. A Broilers' Growers' Committee has been in operation, and has been responsible for arranging various meetings of the chicken industry.

All sections of the industry were represented at these meetings. Producers, Growers, Millers, Breeders and Hatcheries. The Growers' object in arranging these meetings was to secure a common floor price throughout the industry, and their efforts have met with some success. Another part of the Committee's campaign is to arrive at an arrangement whereby growers would get sufficient advance warning of most processors, with the object of securing a compensatory increase in producer prices for chicken. Some difficulties have been encountered in the pursuance of this objective, but work still continues. Finally, growers' representatives are anxious to find a means whereby total supply can be kept in line with available outlets at all times, given the agreed level of prices.

The main obstacles encountered in all of these efforts has been the lack of agreement among processors. The processing end of the broiler industry shows all the signs of a threatened competition. In this situation, it has been difficult to secure agreement on a floor price, or when such agreement has been reached, to ensure that it is adhered to. A further complicating factor is the difference between the practices of the various processing firms in relation to charges for catching, transport, advertising, etc. Disagreements over such matters have on occasion, made it difficult to decide whether or not a particular firm was adhering to the agreed floor price.

REMOVAL OF ADVERTISING SIGNS QUESTIONED

Create Traffic Hazards Says County Engineer

Several members of Waterford County Council made complaints at a special meeting of the Council held in Dungarvan last Friday night about the removal by Council workers of several pairs of the county of advertising signs.

Mr. P. Cahill said that a sign advertising a guest house in Bonmahon had been pulled down. He said that the sign was a great deal of business and considerable amount of money.

Mr. C. Curran, Chairman, suggested that for the present no more signs be taken down. It was had public relations for the Council to be adopting such an attitude and he said that the Irish were a very sensitive people and there could be reactions.

Mr. Hally said that all those concerned were given at least two warnings that if they did not apply for permission, the signs would be removed. The Council would have to decide whether they wanted the countryside festooned with such signs or wanted to keep it open. Some of these signs and hoardings said Mr. Hally, "are ugly and if they are not what they set out to do, they are a traffic hazard as they distract the attention of drivers driving at fast speeds."

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE DID NOT GET NICE WEDDING GIFT

Dismissal Follows Marriage

At the monthly meeting of the Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan last Monday night, Mr. C. Curran asked for comments from the County Manager on the recent removal from her post as public health nurse in the Kilmacshannas area of Nurse Kathleen Phelan.

Mr. C. O'Connor, County Manager, said that this was a decision of the Minister and was not made by the Co. Manager and in the circumstances Nurse Phelan had to go. Another qualified person had been available and was appointed to the post. He had indicated to Nurse Phelan that she could obtain other employment in one of their hospitals.

Mr. J. Hynes, Secretary said that it was a condition that all permanent female officers were obliged to resign on marriage.

Mr. Curran said that it was a great hardship on this highly qualified person that she should have lost her job because she had got married. He pointed out that she would be prepared to take up duty again in a temporary capacity.

Mr. M. Hennebery said that the notice of dismissal given to Nurse Phelan had been very short. She got married and within 3 or 4 days she got the notice.

Mr. N. Walsh — It was not a nice wedding gift!

Nurse Phelan was present at the meeting and put her case to the members.

The Co. Manager said that he was sympathetic to the case and was prepared to offer Nurse Phelan employment where he was entitled to offer it to her. He added that he could not offer such employment where he was not entitled to do so.

Finally it was agreed that the Co. Manager should take the matter up with Mr. Curran in the light of what was possible for him to do for Nurse Phelan.

WHAT WILL THE COMMON MARKET MEAN FOR IRELAND?

Pros And Cons Discussed In "Reality"

The Common Market is very much in the news recently, and the August "Reality" features an interview and an article on the pros and cons of Ireland's entry. Interviewed by "Reality," Denis Corboy, Director of the EEC Information Centre, Dublin, has no doubt about the advantages he sees: "Irish farmers would be guaranteed a reasonable standard of living, and this will have a profound effect on the economic and social life of the country... a rising standard of living, a rationalisation of industry and the introduction of a general development programme... financed from common European funds."

Would EEC membership endanger Ireland's cultural identity? "I am convinced that the very opposite is the case... The most striking fact about the European Community is that it is multicultural and the people who compose it treasure their cultural diversity. There is no dominant culture in Europe. Nobody is trying to impose a different way of life on anybody else."

Denis Corboy insists that there is no danger of our becoming "just another European country" and ceasing to be distinctively Irish. Rather, he says, "We will be far more conscious of being Irish. From being a mere appendage of Britain we will politically and culturally become a European country... As I see it, the real danger is of Irish identity and culture being to remain an offshore island, continuously dominated by its large neighbour. When Irish men and women come face to face with the diverse cultures of our European neighbours, they are certain to become more confident of their own identity and increasingly anxious to assert it."

Anthony Coughlan, whose recent pamphlet on the Common Market caused quite a stir, is far less sanguine when he considers the prospects. For him, the Market is, "of its very nature, hostile to our present and future development."

"The Common Market sounds like a gigantic grocery store where people from all nations do their shopping. True, it is expensive shopping—but at 10% a lb., meat at 15% sugar at 2/6 a lb. But it is much more than this. It is "Big business against the Small." Big nations against the People; for Germany, France and Italy—and Britain if she joins—dominate the Common Market."

DARK PICTURE

The picture Anthony Coughlan paints of Ireland in the EEC is unrelievedly dark. Ireland will no longer be able to protect or develop her national industries as the Government sees fit, no grants or subsidies to industry or agriculture or undeveloped areas like the West.

"Without the permission of the Brussels civil servants who will be our new masters." As well as all this, there is the prospect of mass unemployment and "the abandonment of our traditional military neutrality which the Taoiseach accepts as a political consequence of joining."

ST. OTTHERAN'S HOSPITAL

(a) New Stores, Kitchen and Staff Dining Facilities: A proposal to provide new stores, kitchen and staff dining facilities was submitted to the Department of Health in Dungarvan on 30th June, 1970. An Inspector from the Department of Health inspected the site on 1st July and gave his approval to the project. The project is being financed by the Department of Health through the County Council.

(b) Work Therapy Unit: A proposal to provide a new work therapy unit was approved in principle at the January Meeting of the Authority. On the recommendation of the R.M.S., a double unit to cater for heavy woodwork, industrial therapy work, and lighter and less powerful work was submitted for approval to the Minister on 25th June, 1970. The Department of Health also inspected the selected site. It is expected that a grant of £50,000 will be available for this project. The estimated cost is £20,000. The Department of Health will be made available by the Minister for Health towards this project.

(c) Water Supply Improvement Scheme: Revised plans for this scheme were submitted by the Consultant Engineer to the Department of Health on 25th June, 1970. When sanction has been obtained from the Minister it is intended to re-advertise for tenders for this scheme. This scheme will be financed by 50 per cent grant and 50 per cent loan.

COUNTY HOME, DUNGARVAN

(a) Welfare Home: Progress on the planning of the new Welfare Home is satisfactory and it is hoped to advertise this contract in the week ending 5th September, 1970. The estimated cost is £80,000. The Department of Health will make a 50 per cent contribution to loan charges.

(b) 100 Bedded Geriatric Unit: Progress on this scheme is satisfactory and it is hoped that the working drawings will be available by the end of September. It is hoped to advertise the scheme early in the New Year. The estimated cost is £250,000. The Department of Health will make a 50 per cent contribution to loan charges.

Questioned by Mr. H. R. Dowd about proposals for a Welfare Home in Lisnore, the County Manager said that they planned to move in this about next March.

DELAY IN PROVIDING AMBULANCE SERVICE CRITICISED

Nothing Done In Four Months To Solve West Waterford Problem

He was disappointed that nothing had been done after four months said Mr. J. Quinn when he criticised the delay in providing an ambulance service in West Waterford at the monthly meeting of the Waterford Health Authority in Dungarvan last Monday night.

In the course of a report on the matter to the meeting, the Secretary, Mr. J. Hynes, stated that the matter had been discussed at previous meetings and the Manager had a discussion recently about it with an official of the Order of Malta with a view to provision of a service on a voluntary basis based at Lisnore similar to the arrangement that obtained in the Tramore and Waterford areas.

The report added: "A meeting is being arranged between the official referred to and ourselves in the Lisnore area to discuss the possibility of setting up a unit of the Order of Malta and the provision of an ambulance service there."

Mr. Quinn said that he had caused this matter last week and he was disappointed that nothing had been done after four months.

Mr. C. O'Connor, County Manager, would not agree that there was a discussion with the area organiser of the Knights of Malta who was now in the area were all willing to cooperate in the service was established. "I don't want to see an injured person thrown out of the side of the road for a long period again because of a delay in sending out an ambulance from Dungarvan."

Mr. N. Walsh asked: "Could we say whether the ambulance service is going to be provided?"

Mr. O'Connor said: "I should like to see the matter until next meeting."
