TRAFFIC CONTROL AND PARKING LAWS

The office of the Garda Commissioner has informed members of the Dungarvan Urban Council that the Commission proposes to bring in laws for the control of traffic and parking in the principal streets of the town in accordance with the recommendations submitted to him by the late Mr. J. D. Hill and Supt. M. English, Dungarvan. These recommendations resulted from a public meeting held at the Town Hall in December last at which traders and business people from the streets concerned expressed their views on the various problems which might arise from the introduction of such laws.

All were agreed that there was a need for parking regulations but there were some differences of opinion as to how best these should be framed and enforced. However, the Garda Commissioner has now submitted his proposals and these have now been approved by the Urban Council.

In conjunction with the training of by-laws the need for 201-street parking facilities in the town was stressed and the Co. Engineer gave an assurance that the new parking facilities at Scanlon's Yard between Friary Street and Mary Street would be ready to take cars this summer, not, I'm afraid that there will be any great need to find space for additional tourist cars this year from the town. However, the Co. Engineer has been as good as his word and from what I have seen myself the new parking space at Scanlon's Yard should be ready very soon.

It has cost several thousands of pounds to acquire this property, the approach to it and to carry out its development. But I wonder will the expenditure be justified or will we find in Dungarvan a parallel to the town of Skibbereen.

The West Cork town has one of the most acute traffic problems that I am aware of and this includes even Dungarvan. There are daily traffic jams with minor collisions frequently occurring in the town. Last year the local Urban Council provided a public car park at a cost of £8,000 in an effort to solve the problem and to prevent uncontrolled parking from choking the free flow of traffic through the streets.

What has been the result? At a recent meeting of the Skibbereen Urban Council it was reported that motorists are refusing to use the new £8,000 car park and continue to leave their cars on the streets. One Councillor stated that the greatest number of cars which he ever saw at any one time in the park was six, while hundreds congested the streets. Could the same thing happen in Dungarvan?

MARCHING MEN OF EASTER WEEK

Memories of that other Easter Week when young men of their might and power of the British Empire in the streets of Dublin were recalled during the week when I saw shown a brochure of the proposed memorial to be erected in the Square at Maynooth by the gallant men who marched from Maynooth to Dublin on the Easter Monday of 1916.

THE BIG BIG CHARITY WALK

The date fixed by the Catholic Boy Scouts of Ireland for the holding of their annual charity walk has been fixed on a national basis for Sunday, April 23. And so wherever there are troops of Catholic Boy Scouts the sponsored charity walk will be held on that day.

However, because the date is unsuitable in the Abbeyside-Dungarvan area the senior officers of the Boy Scouts troops here have decided to bring the date forward by one week so that for Dungarvan the big charity walk will take place on Sunday, April 16.

The alteration of the date was necessitated by the fact that April 23 has been fixed as the date for the re-dedication of the newly reconstructed church at Abbeyside and this will undoubtedly be a very big day in the Village and a clash of dates with the charity walk would prove calamitous.

For a violet small and coy
I will listen for a bluebell
And a primrose frail and sweet.

These facts were announced at a meeting held last Sunday morning by Mr. James Cullinan on behalf of the Dungarvan and Abbeyside troops and at which representatives of the local charities which stand to benefit were present. Mr. Cullinan announced that the walk would take place in Dungarvan, on Sunday April 16 over a 15 mile circuit starting in Dungarvan via Carrigrohane, Whitechurch, Ballinacorney and returning by Mount Odell to the starting point.

OPERATING FACILITIES AT DUNGARVAN HOSPITAL

In the Dail last Wednesday Mr. E. Collins (P.C.) asked the Minister for Health if it is intended to retain minor operating facilities at the District Hospital, Dungarvan.

Minister for Health (Mr. Childers): I would refer the Deputy to my reply to a similar question which he asked on 19th May, 1971, and which sets out the position at that time. Since then the South-Eastern Health Board, in order to serve quite a large area, and that the long-term needs of the district have yet to be considered by the health board, in the light of the Report of the Consultative Council on the General Hospital Services.

EASTER, WEEK

Described in the booklet "Ireland's Songs and Recitations" as a corner this week happens, appropriately, to be "Easter Week."

Who fears to speak of Easter week,
That week of famed renown,
When the boys in green went out to fight,
The foemen of the Crown,
With muskets bold and hearts of gold,
And the Countess dressed in green,
And high above the G.P.O.
The rebel flag was seen.

Will Water Purchase Field Deadline Is

The future of Dungarvan's (Jamez) Fraher Field is in the balance as a rumour in the pipeline for some time past but it has been a long time fact that negotiations have been in progress. It is believed that there is a big gap between the offer made and the price asked and this is the major problem which is being surmounted.

The Fraher Field, Dungarvan, one of the historic sites in the town, has been the subject of a long and arduous process. It is believed that there is a big gap between the offer made and the price asked and this is the major problem which is being surmounted.

THE AUGUSTI DUNGARVAN 1295-19 FIFTH INSTAL

1815-1829: RE-BIRTH AND RESTORATION. The year 1815 is well-known to every schoolboy as the year of Waterloo. It was also a significant year for the Fraternity of the Spring House, as in that year they opened their first chapel in town. Additionally, it was a modest beginning—a thatched stone-house in Church Street, converted into a temporary chapel. They continued to live at the Spring House until 1829, Fr. James Tierney, Prior, with Fr. John Wall as his assistant. One of the few relics of that period is an old worn holy-water font, inscribed 'J. Wall, 1829', which is now on the left side of the main door of the church.

In the meantime, they began to make active preparation for the building of a new church. The Fraternity of the Spring House, under the direction of Fr. James Tierney, Prior, with Fr. John Wall as his assistant, most willingly granted the Fraternity the right, as follows:

Having obtained the bishop's sanction, the Augustinian Fathers commenced without delay to collect subscriptions, and material for the intended new church. A site (now Fraternity Lane) was obtained on Clubbards Lane (now Fraternity Lane) and building was commenced in 1823. By this time, Fr. John Wall was Prior. Through his exertions and the cooperation of the people of the town, the Fraternity of the Spring House was completed in two years. However, circumstances did not permit the Fraternity to open their church immediately for public worship.

In the meantime, the building used as a temporary church had collapsed, and the Fathers were obliged to make use of an old mill on the site of the new church. (2) In a letter, dated July 18th, 1823, this side writes:—Fr. John Wall has taken the church's old brewery in the town from the

Will Waterford Co. Board Purchase Dungarvan Gaelic Field

Deadline Is May 1st

THE purchase of the historic Dungarvan Gaelic Field is the subject of a report in this issue. The purchase has been a long time in the making and it is believed that the purchase will be completed by the end of the month of May. The purchase is being made by the Waterford County Council and the Gaelic Athletic Association (G.A.A.).

The purchase is being made for the purpose of providing a permanent home for the Gaelic games in Dungarvan. The field has been used for many years and it is believed that it will be a great asset to the community.

The purchase is being made for a sum of £21,000. This sum is being raised by the County Council and the G.A.A. The purchase is being made on a long-term lease and it is believed that it will be a great asset to the community.

Co. Council Slashes Estimate By £21,000

BUT RATE STILL SOARS TO £5.92

ALTHOUGH Waterford County Council managed to slash £21,000 from the Co. Manager's estimate of their annual estimates meeting in Dungarvan last Friday the rate eventually adopted was one of £5.92 in the £. This represents a reduction of something more than 7p in the Manager's estimate but is a hefty 62p (12/5d.) of an increase over last year.

The original estimate provided for a total expenditure in the coming year of £2,324,704 and called for a rate of £5.99 in the £.

The separate rates for the various services showing the increase over last year in brackets were given as follows: Roads 147.24p (14.47p); Health 240.92p (30p); Public Assistance 16.17p (0.36p); Sanitary 47.23p (7.71p); Housing 52.27p (6.08p) and General Purposes 95.83p (10.89p).

Referring to Road Grants, the Co. Engineer, Mr. J. D. Hally, reported that while the provision made by the Department showed an increase on the current year it was still deficient insofar as the maintenance of main roads, the provision for main roads other than national primary roads represented a decreasing percentage of what he considered to be the necessary provision for maintenance.

The report added that he considered it most unreasonable that the Department should seek to make their responsibilities in this way and he saw no alternative to asking the Council for the monies to cover the works scheduled in the Road Works Scheme, if present standards were to be maintained.

ALTERED MONEY VALUES

In his explanatory report on the estimates to the members, the Co. Manager, Mr. C. A. O'Connor, stated that in considering the alterations the Council would realize that the present trend in altered money values, the increases in wages and prices and legitimate public demands for improved and extended services. "Economic and reduction in rates" the report pointed out "can only be secured by a cut back in services; this I believe would generally be contrary to the Council's general policy and progressive outlook and would not be in the long-run to the advantage of the community, either socially or in the context of the promotion of the economic development of the county."

L.F.A. DEPUTATION

As usual a deputation from the County Executive L.F.A. consisting of Mr. John Molloy, Chairman and Mr. D. J. Coghlan was introduced to the meeting by Mr. K. O'Ryan.

Mr. Molloy said that they were still very worried about the impact of the health charges on the rates and would continue to agitate to have such charges removed. Other sections of the community were beginning to wake up and were beginning to protest as the L.F.A. had been doing for years. He said that it was unconstitutional to place the health charges on the rates as everyone did not benefit from the health services provided and this meant that there were not equal rights for everyone.

Mr. Molloy submitted that it was also wrong to place main road charges on the rates and said that it was a great burden to close all the railway lines in the county as this decision had diverted all the heavy transport traffic to the roads. As a result, all over the country had been broken and all this placed a colossal burden on the ratepayers.

people resorted to the use of services which were not "holly wells" for curative purposes. According to Hansard (from non-Catholic): "The holy well, at the rear of the Union Workshop, is much frequented by people who come to Dungarvan for the benefit of the sea. Among the many old and fanciful superstitions embodied in the traditions of the peasantry of old Ireland, some of the most poetic are those connected with spring wells, which have been in vogue since time immemorial. The one to which we allude is the 'Fairs Well' in memory of the Rev. Patrick Twomey, a good priest of the Augustinian Order, who, anxious to perpetuate one of the old customs of the land, had, in the year 1860, this well cleaned out and a stone cross affixed near it. Crowds of people constantly resort to it" (7).

Fr. Twomey would, no doubt, be moved at some of the expressions used by Hansard. The waters of the well gave relief from many infirmities to those who made a pilgrimage of faith there.

The then Abbot of Mellary, Dom. Fipatrack, said of Fr. Twomey: "He was an ornament to the Church and a very learned man." He used to dress in all "bracketed" or half-ermit coat wearing an ordinary collar and tie, from which fact, says Fr. Williams, "I inferred that the fear of the priest-hunter was still in his heart." He was again Prior in 1859, and during his term of office the tower was built. After his death in 1867, a monument was raised over his grave.

BALLYSGAGGART NOTES

G.A.A.—On last Sunday week Ballysgaggart were to play Tourin in last year's League in Lismore. They went to the expense of bringing home all their players and as the referee deemed the pitch was not fit for play they were told that the pitch was unplayable. This was most annoying especially as the referee deemed the pitch was not fit for play. On Thursday of that week, the club was notified to play Mellary in Lismore in the first game of this year's League on last Sunday. The team duly turned up in Lismore, but to add to the referee and the Lismore officials claimed they knew nothing about the game so no game either that day. Now how much of this treatment is a club expected to put up with and they ask why are people losing interest in the G.A.A. It's no wonder they are.

N.A.C.A.—Congratulations to Pat Bennett who ran very well in the All-Ireland under 18 at Thurles recently. He finished 8th in a very talented field.

Near Sunday's Games—On next Sunday Ballysgaggart pitch will be the venue for two Winter League games. Tourin v. Mellary 2 p.m. Ballysgaggart v. Kilgobnet 3.15 p.m.

WEST WATERFORD FEATURED IN CURRENT ISSUE OF 'IRELAND OF THE WELCOMES'

Some of the more interesting faces of Irish life and traditions are featured in the current March/April issue of Ireland of the Welcomes (Bond Falls, 18p). Archaeologist Brendan O'Riordan traces the Viking influence on Dublin since they formed a settlement there in the ninth century. Excavations carried out by the National Museum of Ireland revealed many valuable treasures fourteen feet below street level in the Whitewater area of Dublin. Among the treasures was a hoard of 2,061 power discs in metal condition and carefully stacked in groups. It is believed that such tokens were used in taverns, and may be the origin of the name, "Whitewater".

The 1972 Festival of Music in Great Irish Houses takes place from 12 to 18 June, and Bernard Share sees the occasion as a direct continuation of a long established tradition of musical patronage in Ireland.

Gypsy writer, Juanita Casey writes of the vicissitudes of nomadic Romantics in Ireland and throughout the world.

Yachting in Dublin Bay, and a beautifully illustrated guide to Officer, South East Tourism is also featured in this issue.

SOUTH EAST SKAL GETS NEW PRESIDENT

At the annual general meeting of the Skál Club of South East Ireland held in the Ardree Hotel recently Mr. Arthur Cusack, General Manager, Green Group (Hotels) Ltd. was elected President for the coming year. A former member, Mr. Cusack was also former Secretary of the Club and he takes over office from outgoing President Mr. Maurice Gavin, Area Sales Manager, C.I.E. Other new officers are—Vice-President, Mr. Michael Flannery, Area Manager, C.I.E., Secretary, Mr. Jim Tuohy, Manager, Tramore Fisheries; Mr. Noel O'Rourke, Tourism Officer, South East Tourism is also re-elected Treasurer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DUNGARVAN'S LACK OF SOCIAL AMENITIES

Dear Editor—Through the medium of your newspaper I would like to draw attention to the lack of Social Amenities in Dungarvan. For a town of its population it must rate as one of the worst, if not the worst in the 32 counties of Ireland in relation to this problem, and the often quoted "There's nothing to do but drink" could be taken as being fully accurate.

On the question of drinking, how many decent Public houses are in the town, or to put it another way how many of them have even got a ladies toilet. When one considers that there are something in the region of 50 Pubs or 50 Licences in any town in the locality, I think it speaks for itself when the ordinary man or woman has to frequent the hotels in order that he or she might have a drink in comfort, while in practically every other town in the country one could say that hotels are normally frequented only by a certain class of people.

As regards entertainment in the Pubs, isn't it disgraceful in this day and age there is only one singing Pub in town. They've got as much in Leamyhanna.

All in all, Dungarvan hasn't even the basic forms of entertainment while other towns of its size are striving for and succeeding in getting heated swimming pools, pitch and putt courses and community centres and most of these towns may I add, could not compete with Dungarvan in relation to scenery. In Clonca we've got a beautiful beach that who in their sanity would spend a holiday there. You'd end up talking to yourself.

So Dungarvan wake up and put a finish to the "there's nothing to do but drink" saying. We're not afraid to spend our money but we'd like a chance to spend it on something else besides drink. I'd like to hear other people's opinions on this problem.

other clubs in Waterford have been paying for land for new pitches in recent times. "We are very anxious that the G.A.A. should have the pitch—but at a fair price. We would even be prepared to let the G.A.A. pay for it over a period of five or six years but the offer they made recently was just ridiculously low."

But after May 1 the property will go on the open market and then the G.A.A. will have to compete with all others. Land around here is at a premium and recently a third of an acre just behind Frabher's Field was sold for £200. The Park is now closed and will stay so. There will be cattle grazing there this summer instead of football and hurling games because it is just not possible for our family to keep it up as a G.A.A. ground.

The playing area of Frabher's Field is larger than O'Connell Park and the surface is the driest in Munster. As far as I know no game was ever called off because of weather conditions here," concluded Donal Whelan.

"So it would appear that Frabher's Field might be lost to the G.A.A. This is a case where the Central Council should provide formalities and step in to ensure that this famous field stays in the hands of the Association."

I.D.A. CHIEF TO OPEN CLONMEL EXHIBITION

Mr. Michael J. Killen, Managing Director of the Industrial Development Authority, will officially open the 2nd Annual South Tipperary Industrial Exhibition in Clonmel on Wednesday, May 10th. The Exhibition which is being run by Clonmel Junior Chamber, with the co-operation of the Tipperary (S.R.) County Development Team, will house 50 stands. Its day run at the Clonmel Showgrounds in the middle of the town, is expected to attract over 20,000 visitors. Preparations for the event are well in hand and the organizing committee are extremely pleased with the record response to date.

The success of last year's South Tipperary Industrial Exhibition is reflected in the fact that most of the firms are again participating this year.

This project which is the end product of many months of preparatory planning is expected to generate new business and thus give a financial injection to Exhibiting firms.

THE AUGUSTINIANS IN DUNGARVAN: 1295 - 1972 FIFTH INSTALLMENT.

—By Rev. T. C. Butler, O.S.A.

of Dungarvan for a chapel at £10 per annum" (3). According to Fr. Williams, it measured about 30 ft. by 15 ft., had a thatched roof, and was situated at the South corner of the present chapel-yard. He himself recalls seeing it many years later when it was repaired and slated and turned into a barn.

In length, on the Sunday within the Octave of St. Augustine, in the year 1829, the new Friary Church was officially opened for Divine worship. A letter from Rt. Rev. James Doyle, O.S.A., Bishop of Kildare & Leighlin (J.K.L.), congratulates the Prior and Provincial on their efforts. The Penal laws were now over. The "Second Spring" had arrived.

1829-1869: THE "SECOND SPRING"

The opening of the present church (in 1829) heralded the "Second Spring" for the friars in Dungarvan. Although unable to fulfil their cherished ambition to return to their original foundation in Abbeyside, they were fortunate to have acquired a site in the town itself. This was also the occasion for the Community to take up residence in the town. At a Visitation held two years previously by the Provincial, Dr. O'Connor, the following observation was made: "In consequence of the heavy expenditure and debts of the house and the necessity of living conveniently to the chapel, we recommend that the house and farm at the Spring be let as soon as possible and that the Community reside in the town" (4). A house was rented from John Kieley in Church Street and here the Friars were to live for forty years.

We are indebted to Fr. James Anderson (whom we shall treat later) for a description of Friary Street (or Clubber's Lane) as it appeared when the church was built. Writing in 1894, he was able to recall, with the aid of older members of the Community, details of the area. "It appears from the shape of the church, as well as from local tradition, that this side of Friary Lane had its line of thatched cabins in front of the church. A narrow passage led from the Lane into the church."

Fr. Martin Crane, in 1854, removed several cabins which had become unoccupied, from the church gate to the present Priory House. The new chapel had a thatched roof which crumbled in 1853, so Fr. Crane raised the wall seven feet all round and put a slate roof on the chapel. The tower, however, had not yet been built. This was built during the Priorship of Fr. Patrick Toomy in 1859 and we are told that it was fitted with a sweet-toned bell, which got cracked some time later and was replaced by another bell of the same size and with the same beautiful tone.

Successful Provincial Visitations record the urgency of building a permanent dwelling-house to replace the rented house. In 1866, for example, Dr. Stuart, Provincial, has this remark: "The Community have made an offer for some old houses near the chapel and they expect their offer will be accepted. In that case, they will have ample space for a dwelling house and also to enlarge their very good chapel." Their expectations were not yet realised, however, because in 1861 the same Dr. Stuart, on his Visitation, remarks: "The only thing wanting... is a convenient house for which there is a very good site immediately adjoining the church. The site was got from the late Marquis of Waterford at the annual rent of £5. If the house were built, three or four priests could have ample support."

Finally, we find this entry in a Community House-book of 1869: "The (Augustinian) Fathers left the house in Church Street, and took possession of a house in Main Street, near Temple Lane, belonging to Mrs. Curran, on March 25th, 1869, for which they agreed to pay the annual sum of £26. They remained here for the next three years until the new priory was completed."

TWO PEN-PICTURES:

1. Fr. Philip Crane (1747-1823)

Mention has already been made of Fr. Philip Crane, a member of the Community at the Spring. Coming from an old and respected Westford family, he bore a name which gave nine priests to the Church (5). Before coming to Dungarvan (about 1785), he had been in charge of the College of San Matarco in Merulano, Rome, a house of studies for Irish Augustinians. It was a Novitiate and house of studies from 1636 to 1715 when it was temporarily lost to the Order. Rejoined in 1739 through the influence of James III (Pretender) and his mother, it remained in Augustinian hands until taken over by the French in 1798, when they invaded Rome. Fr. Crane, having returned to San Matarco about 1789, was forced to leave Rome a second time. A contemporary said of him: "He governed the college and conducted studies with such ability and zeal that he invariably attracted to himself and the establishment the esteem and consideration of the highest dignitaries of the Church" (6). He was again appointed to Dungarvan for a short time and afterwards transferred to New Ross. His power of persuasion was such that on Sunday he used to say an early Mass in New Ross and then set forth fasting, on horseback, to Dungarvan to say a second Mass. When he was no longer necessary for him to do so, many Dungarvan people regularly covered the 45 miles to New Ross to avail of his advice as a confessor and of his reputed healing powers. He filled the office of Provincial twice, from 1807-11 and 1819-23.

2. Fr. Patrick Toomy (1799-1867): Sogair Aaron

A brief sketch can hardly do justice to one of the best loved priests of the Friary of those days. Fr. Toomy spent almost 40 years of his priestly life in Dungarvan. He was educated in Perugia, Spain and finally Rome. An accomplished linguist, he was fluent in several languages. He came here shortly after the opening of the new church and set to work to reduce the debt. He was appointed Prior for the first time in 1835 and soon became well-known as a very zealous priest and devoted confessor. He was a great source of comfort to the people of the town and district in the dark days of the Famine, when so many fell victim to the dread scourge of cholera. A strong local tradition says that while the victims of the cholera were being brought out, unhealed, from the old Workshop, he stood for hours every day at the gateway (now bricked up), blessed each corpse with water from the "Holy Well" and recited the prayers for the dead. The victims were then laid on common carts and conveyed to Reilig a'Slé where they were buried in a mass grave.

The Famine made an indelible impression on Fr. Toomy and for the remainder of his life, he gave his heart and soul to ministering to the poor and needy of the town. It was an age of simple faith when people resorted to the use of services which were not "holly wells" for curative purposes. According to Hansard (from non-Catholic): "The holy well, at the rear of the Union Workshop, is much frequented by people who come to Dungarvan for the benefit of the sea. Among the many old and fanciful superstitions embodied in the traditions of the peasantry of old Ireland, some of the most poetic are those connected with spring wells, which have been in vogue since time immemorial. The one to which we allude is the 'Fairs Well' in memory of the Rev. Patrick Twomey, a good priest of the Augustinian Order, who, anxious to perpetuate one of the old customs of the land, had, in the year 1860, this well cleaned out and a stone cross affixed near it. Crowds of people constantly resort to it" (7).

Fr. Toomy would, no doubt, be moved at some of the expressions used by Hansard. The waters of the well gave relief from many infirmities to those who made a pilgrimage of faith there.

The then Abbot of Mellary, Dom. Fipatrack, said of Fr. Twomey: "He was an ornament to the Church and a very learned man." He used to dress in all "bracketed" or half-ermit coat wearing an ordinary collar and tie, from which fact, says Fr. Williams, "I inferred that the fear of the priest-hunter was still in his heart." He was again Prior in 1859, and during his term of office the tower was built. After his death in 1867, a monument was raised over his grave.

1815-1829: RE-BIRTH AND RESTORATION

The year 1815 is well-known to every schoolboy as the year of Waterloo. It was also a significant year for the friars of the Spring house, as in that year they opened their first chapel in town. The house was a modest building—a thatched stone-house in Church Street, converted into a temporary chapel. They continued, however to live at the Spring. Fr. John Wall as his assistant. One of the few relics of that period is an old worn holy-water font, inscribed "J. Wall, 1820" still in use on the left side of the main door of the church.

In the meantime, they began to make active preparation for the building of a new church. The Bishop of the diocese, Right Rev. Dr. Walsh, when applied to for assistance for the proposed undertaking, was very obliging. The Augustinians this night, was as follows: "We approve of having and restoring a chapel in the town of Dungarvan on the part of the Rev. Augustinian Fathers." A site was obtained off Clubber's Lane (now Friary Street), and building work was begun in 1823. By this time Fr. John Wall was dead. Through his exertions and the co-operation of the people of the town and his neighbourhood, the new church was completed in two years. However, circumstances did not permit the Friars to open their church immediately for public worship.

In the meantime, the building of a temporary church had commenced and the Fathers were obliged to make use of an old building, "within a stone's throw from the site of the new church" (2). Dr. Daniel O'Connor, Provincial, who visited Fr. John Wall has taken Dillon's old brewery in the town

FOUR WINS IN FOUR MATCHES FOR DUNGARVAN: Div 2: DUNGARVAN 6; PARKVILLE 1. DUNGARVAN 4; OLBRIIDGE 2. U-14: DUNGARVAN 6; PARKVILLE 1. Division 2 - League leaders, DUNGARVAN notched their 10th consecutive victory at St. Martin's Park, Waterford on Sunday last. It was an impressive performance by the "blues" and they would have won much more convincingly but for some poor finishing by some of their strikers.

Playing against a strong wind in the first half, DUNGARVAN dominated the exchanges and led by a magnificent goal from M. Walsh at the interval. With the breeze at their backs in the second half, DUNGARVAN never looked like losing and added further goals from M. Walsh and P. Morrissey from a penalty.

On the day M. Walsh was outstanding up front but he got little support from his fellow strikers. Goals to play were never Hayes, Healy and Donnelly.

Team - M. Houltham, Kypn, Healy, J. Houltham, Donnelly, Hayes, Lennon, Morrissey, Walsh, Connors, Sheridan, 1921, Mooney also played well.

Division 3 DUNGARVAN 4; BALINROAD 2. The home side continue their recent good form with a 2 goal victory at Springmount Park last Sunday. The "blues" were by far the better team and never looked like losing.

How many goals they were 2 goals up at the interval. DUNGARVAN added two further goals after the home side at the same time conceding two, one from a penalty.

Scoring honours for the locals went to their "ace" goal post hero L. Foley, who scored twice, and L. Simms, who also scored two. M. Houltham and T. Mooney also played well.

Unanimous Agreement to Huge Creamery Merger

CASTLELYONS TO AMALGAMATE WITH WATERFORD CO-OP. By unanimous decision about 1,500 shareholders of Castlelyons Co-operative Creamery Ltd. at a special meeting held at the Top Hat Ballroom, Fermoy, last Tuesday night unanimously agreed to proposals to amalgamate with the Waterford Co-operative Society which has its head offices in DUNGARVAN.

The merger follows the most detailed talks between representatives of both concerns at which all the major bargaining issues appear to have been satisfactorily settled. A third co-operative, the South Eastern Farmers Association, Inch, Co. Wick, has also been an active participant in amalgamation talks with the Waterford Society and should now decide to follow Castlelyons by coming in also under the banner of the Waterford Co-op.

Mr. John Barry, Glenacim, Lismore, Chairman of Castlelyons Co-op presided at the meeting and addressed the shareholders at the meeting.

Mr. Stephen Randles, General Secretary, said: "The merger follows the most detailed talks between representatives of both concerns at which all the major bargaining issues appear to have been satisfactorily settled."

Provision has also been made for the continuation of the Committee of Management of the Castlelyons Co-op but only as an advisory committee for the Castlelyons Group. On the important question of finance it is intended under the proposals that the property and assets of Castlelyons will be assigned and accredited to the amalgamated society as and from the date of amalgamation which is expected to be May 1.

END OF AN ERA

This week our ship sails without its skipper and for the first time ever without the assurance of his wisdom and experience which has seen it carefully and skilfully navigated under his capable control for more than three decades.

We have suffered a grievous loss but thanks to the tradition which he established and the team spirit which he always encouraged, his wishes that the business which he was so instrumental in founding should continue to flourish after he had passed on to his eternal reward, God willing, will be fulfilled.

We shall do our utmost to continue in the best tradition and high standards which he set and if we succeed in doing this it will be our best tribute to his memory and to his philosophy while living which was always to help others where and when possible and to do injury to no one.

MINISTER SHOULD THINK AGAIN

In the British Budget introduced by Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Anthony Barber in the House of Commons last week, provision was made for the introduction of a new rate of Value Added Tax at a rate of ten per cent. But such things as food, newspapers, fuel and advertising, are exempt from the tax. This means that they will not be liable for tax.

This move by the British Chancellor should make our Finance Minister, Mr. George Colley, think again. As things stand at present VAT is to come into force in this country next November and will be imposed on books and newspapers. A tax on knowledge and information which is something which I believe is indefensible.

With so much talk about joining Britain in going into the Common Market it would not be a good idea if the Government tried to keep us on a par with our competitors in Europe. Otherwise what chance have we of keeping up if we are to start under a heavy handicap.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS

If you or I can ultimately give to the world a single volume or line or thought which will enable our fellow men and women to enjoy life a little more fully, or endure it a little more easily, then we shall not altogether have laboured in vain.

The image each of us has of himself is the product of his own other people, rightly or wrongly, have told us that we are - Our lives are shaped by those who love us, and by those who refuse to love us.

How often have I found out that we grow to maturity not by doing what we like, but by doing what we should. How true it is that not every 'should' is a compulsion and not every 'like' is high morality and true freedom. Conscious willing is found even in infants, but consciously accepted obligation is the sign of a mature man. God grant that I may not always belong to the class of infants who are continually wanting to play games differently with the rules as they are. (Fr. Karl Rahner).

Diplomacy is the art of letting someone else have your own way.

If you think too little, you are sure to talk too much.
